CHAFFEE-GETCHELL

There is Winchester interest in the marriage which took place at the Eliot Congregational Church in Roxbury Christmas night when Miss Anne Montgomery Getchell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Getchell of Dorchester, became the bride of Ensign Robert Emory Chaffee, son of Prof. and Mrs. E. Leon Chaffee of Belmont. The bridegroom's mother is the former Marie Kreutz of this town and there is further Winchester connection in the fact that the bride is the niece of Mr. and Mrs. T. Parker Clarke of Mt. Vernon street.

Rev. Charles C. Keith, pastor of the church, officiated at the 8:30 o'clock double ring ceremony and Mr. Getchell gave his daughter in marriage. The wedding music was played by the church organist, Morton E. Stedman, and the ushers were tall lighted candles and Christmas trees.

Miss Getchell, wearing a conventional white silk bridal gown with a court train and long veil, carried a white prayer book instead of flowers. She was attended only by her cousin, Miss Marjorie Clarke of Winchester, who wore a moss green dress and carried var-colored chrysanthemums.

Raymond Morgan Chaffee of Belmont, cousin of the bridegroom, was best man, and the usher corps included Norman M. Clarke of Winchester, cousin of the bride, Albert Goodwin of Lynn, Theodore Griffin of Belmont and Lieut. Herman Fahbusch of Roxbury.

A reception was held after the ceremony in the church parlors, which were also decorated in seasonal greenery.

THREE AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENTS OVER WEEK-END

The first of three automobile accidents over the past week-end was reported to the police Friday evening by David J. Murphy of 6 Ridgely street, Cambridge, who said that at 2 o'clock that afternoon his Lincoln Zephyr was stopped in a line of traffic on Church street at Common street facing east it was damaged about the rear end in a collision with a Chrysler coach, driven east on Church street by Thelma C. Pitman of 36 Mt. Pleasant street. Murphy complained of injuries to his back and said his daughter, Margaret, who was a passenger in the car sustained injuries to her shoulder.

Sunday morning at 2:23 Police Headquarters was notified of a bad accident on Cambridge street near Glen road. Officers James Farrell and John Hanlon were sent in Patrol 31 to investigate and were told that the injured had been taken to the Winchester Hospital.

At the Winchester Hospital nothing was known of any accident but a further checkup disclosed that a man injured in an automobile accident in Winchester had been admitted to the Symmes Hospital in Arlington.

Officer Farrell was told by the injured man that he had been driving a Plymouth coupe on Cambridge street, when another machine, headed south, pulled out of line and struck the Plymouth, causing it in turn to crash into a tree about 75 feet north of the intersection of Glen road. The car was completely wrecked and had to be towed to Hargrett's Garage. The injured man gave his name as William J. Sullivan of 44 Corbett street, Lowell, a private in the United States Army. He was taken to the hospital by a passing motorist, Arthur Williams of 10 Marion road, Arlington. At the hospital he was treated for lacerations of the forehead and held at the hospital for observation. Police say his license to drive expired Nov. 16.

Sunday forenoon shortly before 11:30 an Oldsmobile coupe, driven south on Washington street by Harry J. Donovan of 41 Lincoln street, was in collision near Oak street with another Oldsmobile coupe, driven by Rodrick S. Thomson of 25 Fells road. Both cars were damaged and a passenger in the Thomson machine was taken to the Winchester Hospital and treated there by Dr. Charles Rooney, later being taken home.

JOHN HERRICK

New York Concert Baritone and Radio Artist who is to be guest soloist with the Mystic Glee Club at its concert, benefitting the Winchester Hospital, at the High School Auditorium Friday evening, Jan. 9.

MYSTIC GLEE CLUB CONCERT PAST NOBLE GRANDS SERVICE CLUB

The club, after several informal appearances at local functions, gave its first formal concert last spring, being acclaimed by a large audience at the high school. In accordance with its policy of singing only for some worthy cause, that concert benefited the British War Relief Society. Next Friday evening's concert is for the benefit of the Winchester Hospital.

Musie to please all tastes is included in the program which will have as its feature number an interesting male voice arrangement of Sir Walter Scott's familiar poem, "Young Lochinvar." William Cruger will again conduct and the accompanist will be William Elmer.

As guest soloist the club is presenting John Herrick of New York, favorite radio baritone and member of the popular Revellers' Quartet. Mr. Herrick's virile voice and artistic singing are known to Winchester music lovers through a previous appearance here as soloist at the First Congregational Church. He will be heard in a group of songs carefully chosen for musical merit and popular appeal.

At his New York concert in Town Hall Mr. Herrick was hailed as one of the outstanding vocalists of today. He opened the musical season this year in New Orleans as guest soloist with that city's Symphony Orchestra, and his concert engagements this year will take him to practically every important music center in the United States and Canada. He is heard with the "Revellers" every Wednesday and Friday evenings over the Red Network of the National Broadcasting Company, and in addition to his concert singing is leading baritone soloist of Christ Church, New York.

Of him the New York Times says, "John Herrick sang with skill and insight . . . taste, intelligence and unaffected simplicity." The New York Journal writes, "We need more of John Herrick's type of native musician. Representing all that is best in Americanism, he brings dignity and intelligence to bear on a real talent. . . . He has not permitted radio technique to smother his concert stage singing. His full baritone voice is handled with sense and sound musicianship."

Mr. Herrick's success in New York has been repeated wherever he has appeared. Winchester music lovers should welcome the opportunity to hear him with the Mystic Glee Club, and a large and representative audience is expected at the high school next Friday evening.

Miss Sally Blanchard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Blanchard of Mt. Pleasant street, is reported as recovering from a severe case of whooping cough. She has been very ill for several weeks.

McLAUGHLIN AND THE SECRETARY WINNERS

The bright sunshine and absence of wind last week-end prompted Royal P. Teale, doughty president of the Palmer Beach Horse Show Association, to call a special meeting of the Association which may or may not be the last of a memorable season. Suffice it to say that the meeting was a success, the fresh air ecstatically, Royal got up steam in the new beach wagon and rounded up enough members for a forerunner, Wild Willie McLaughlin, the pride of Stowe, Roland Pridham and the Secretary responding to their president's S. O. S.

It might be said in passing that Arthur E. Butters, sometimes called the Stat of Maine champion, couldn't be reached by phone, which fact gravely prejudices his standing in the Association, one of whose rules it is to be available for play at all times when the ground is clear of snow.

President Teale arrived at the beach in fine fettle, wearing his rubber and four sweaters. In the matching for partners, he drew R. Pridham, one of the Association's better score keepers and measurers of "close ones," and play was begun, with Wild Willie and the Secretary furnishing the fun.

The first game went to Teale and Pridham, the next two to the McLaughlin-Scrivenor combination, the pride of Stowe getting in some telling licks to sink the opposition. While the Secretary had a nice lead in the fourth game, only to see Pridham come to life with several consecutive rippers that first put him and Mr. Teale back in the money and finally knocked the out at 22.

Mr. Teale then contributed two very close ones to the cause. The Secretary's first shoe went flaking, but his second was a nice ringer. It looked like the ball game until Mr. Pridham, digging about the stake, discovered that the Scrivenor's ringer had also pulled on one of the Teale close ones, giving Royal a big point and his team, a 21-22 lead.

This swat at the hands of fate so unheeded McLaughlin that he actually failed to throw a ringer and Mr. Pridham's two years were good enough to win and tie up the series at three all.

All pulled up over their success. Teale and Pridham put up a great battle in the deciding game, but class finally told and enabled McLaughlin and the Secretary to come from behind to a 21-19 lead. With every one bearing down the score mounted slowly with several ringer no counts until McLaughlin and Company led 23-22.

Mr. Teale was up and pitched with exceeding care. His third sweater, however, was not so good. A ringer but each shoe landed beside the stake, kissing. Only one around the pin could win though.

The Secretary, notoriously weak in the clutch, also gave it the old college try and to the amazement of all, himself included, and to the extreme delight of Mr. McLaughlin, dropped his first shot squarely on the stake for the series-winning points.

While the Association has met as late as New Year's Day in other years such meetings have been the exception and not the rule. Consequently it really looks as if the last champs for the current season will be McLaughlin and the Secretary.

M. C. W. G. NOTES

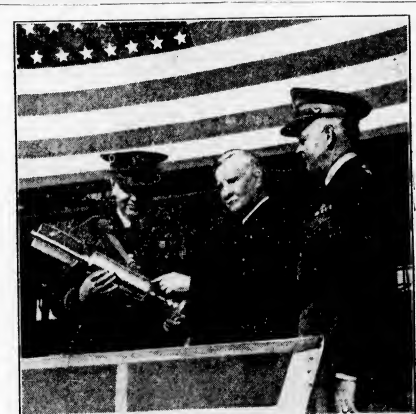

The regular meeting for January will be held on next Thursday at the home of Director Mary Carroll on Lincoln street.

The Sisters of the Good Shepherd have extended an invitation to the members to attend a concert at their house in Roxbury on Jan. 8. As a token of gratitude for the generous assistance the M. C. W. G. extends to the House of the Good Shepherd, the Nuns present this concert program.

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY

The first meeting of the Auxiliary for 1942 will be held at the Legion Home Monday evening, Jan. 5. Members are urged to make a special effort to attend these meetings for the coming year. There are so many ways that the women of this great nation may help in our civilian defense. Show your interest by attending these meetings, offering your services and doing your share to help Uncle Sam who has a big job to do. Let's all help now.

The children's Christmas party was a huge success. About 75 children were entertained and each given toys, candy and ice cream by Miss Nellie Moffett, child welfare chairman, assisted by President Mrs. Mae Dunbury, Mrs. Mary DeMorris, a veteran at this work; Mrs. Katherine Roche, Mrs. Annie Hanlon, Mrs. Nellie Foley and Mrs. Elizabeth Mitchell. Happy New Year to all.

As thousands of defense workers cheer, the one-millionth aerial fragmentation bomb produced by the Budd plant is presented to Col. D. N. Hausman (left) and Brig. Gen. B. O. Lewis, of the Army Ordnance Department, by Edward G. Budd, President of the Philadelphia firm. Although the exact rate of production of the new bombs, said to be the most deadly of their type in the world, is a closely guarded military secret, it is one of the highest in the U. S., officials revealed. The bomb is designed for use against infantry.

The dramatic poster by James Montgomery Flagg is the first war poster of the new World War. It is an appeal for a $50,000,000 American war relief fund to feed, shelter, clothe and give medical aid to American men, women and children bombed by the enemy. It is an appeal for funds to provide comforts for our American Army and Navy, and for welfare work for our troops at home and abroad, and their families on the home front. President Roosevelt asks you to give. Your dollars will serve humanity. Give through your local Red Cross Chapter.

The day we have dreaded but expected has come. The United States is at war. In this grave hour, every citizen is asking, What can I do to help in the defense of my country? To help League members answer this question, to discuss not only what we can do but what we ought to do, this war conference is called.

NEW YEAR WELCOMED AT COUNTRY CLUB
Nineteen hundred and forty-two received a warm welcome at the annual New Year Eve party of the Winchester Country Club, one of the largest crowds in recent years turning out for the dinner, dancing and games.
Supper was served at 10 o'clock, covers being laid in the club dining room for 751. Party hats and noisemakers were found at every place and the New Year was noisily welcomed as the clock struck the traditional hour of 12.
Dancing was enjoyed in the barn which was most attractively decorated, a blue cynosure studded with silver stars covering the rafters and the pillars being wound with the same starry lights. Ruby Newton's Band played, and the supper guests were augmented by some 75 additional dancers, there being many young people home from school and college in this group. Attractive compartments were given all the ladies as favors.

A BAD LOAN
Sunday evening an attendant at the Soccer Station in Iron school near the Winchester Theatre was approached by a young man who asked to borrow $45, stating that another attendant had lent him such amounts when ever he wanted them.
The youth on duty complied with the request whereupon the young man raised the amount asked for by $4, and received the money, promising to return the next day.
Strangely enough he didn't come back! The snail, but considerably wiser young attendant, his faith in human nature ruined, furnished the Police with a description of the beneficiary, who he said came to the station from the direction of the center and returned the same way.

STEEL FOR DEFENSE
All of the Massachusetts registration plates, if gathered together, will make about 500 tons of scrap steel. In this town, where the Winchester share, a bin has been placed in front of the American Legion House at 84 Washington street, next to the Lincoln street garage, for the collection of scrap steel.
On your first trip down town, after you have changed your registration plates, please drop your old plates in this bin. Any old plates you have in your garage will also receive a welcome.

RENOVATED AT WEDGEMERE STATION
The interior of the Wedgemere Station of the Boston and Maine Railroad is having a face lifting treatment and within a week or ten days will blossom forth in a new coat of paint.
We learn from one of the road's officials that after some half dozen or more coats of varnish have been ground off the walls, painters will attack the interior walls, ceiling and ticket office.
The color scheme of the interior will be three shades. The ceiling will be white, which will materially brighten up the interior from its former dingy appearance with the old varnished finish. The walls will be an egg cream color and the dado will be of light green, in keeping with the exterior which was painted through the efforts of the patrons of the station last summer.

FOUND CAR ABANDONED ON CAMBRIDGE STREET

While on duty in Patrol Car 52 last Friday night shortly before 11:30, Officers Henry Dempsey and Edward Bowler discovered a Plymouth sedan in a damaged condition, stopped against an Edison Light pole on Cambridge street south of Pond street at the entrance to Kenney's Gasoline Station.

The car was abandoned and had apparently struck a route sign and a stone wall across the street while heading south, and then had turned completely around to head north, coming to a stop against the pole where it was found. The police were unable to locate the driver anywhere in the vicinity.

A checkup disclosed the machine to be registered to Della Brooks, 118 Laurence street, Lowell, who was contacted by the local authorities through the Lowell Police. She stated that she had been driven around in the car that day by a Billerica youth, who after leaving her at home, had been ordered to garage the car. She gave the police the name and address of the driver for further investigation.

ACCIDENT AT CAMBRIDGE AND CHURCH STREETS

Two motorists were slightly injured and the cars in which they were riding were damaged at 6:30 Sunday evening when a Plymouth sedan, being driven north on Cambridge street by Edward Stepanian of 87 Lowell street, Methuen, was in collision at the intersection of Cambridge, Church and High streets with a Ford sedan, being driven south on Cambridge street by John O. Ellis of 60 Putnam street, Somerville.

Ellis told the Police that at the time of the accident as he approached the street intersection a car in front of him slowed down. He too applied his brakes and as he did so his car skidded toward the center of the road, colliding with the Plymouth.

Rachel Makarian of 10 Pleasant street, Nashua, N. H., riding in Stepanian's car, complained of injuries to her right knee. Ellis complained of injuries to his right hand.

WOULD YOU BRING SUMMER CHEER TO WINTER DAYS?

EPIPHANY ON ITS NAME DAY

Tuesday, Jan. 6, was for the parish of the Epiphany a special day. Those who founded the parish chose to name it, not for one apostle, martyr, or light-bringing saint of any age, but for an event, the manifestation of Christ to the Gentiles, the Wise Men who sensed the coming of a potent help into the turbulent world of their day, and who thought it worth while to make a long journey in order to look for that powerful helper. Last Tuesday at 2 o'clock Mrs. William Sacke conducted a party of Epiphany women and their friends about the church, explaining to them how the name and its meaning had been thought out and built into the fabric of the building, especially into the windows.

These have been gifts, memorials or thanksgiving, made at different times, but they have followed out the basic idea of the name, and have picked up suggested concepts for windows that were formed by Dr. John Suter and his helpers when the church was being planned more than 50 years ago. So there is unity in them, and they tell a serial story of how spiritual truth has come to men in widening circles, as light pulsates out from any radiant center.

Mrs. Sacke paused before the windows of plain glass to speak of what they might later portray. The founders left the thought of a window which would keep telling us that true Christianity knows nothing of narrow nationalism. Perhaps it would show the great little Italian whose passion it was to find a way of life that would glorify all men, even the poorest. Perhaps it might show the young Englishman who long ago forsook wealth and prestige in his own land to carry Christianity to tribes beyond the North Sea. He died there at their hands. But the truth he had carried lived on and the Prince of Peace overcame their war roads. It is unlikely that a window will be given until peace comes again, and who knows what widened knowledge a peace window then may show?

At their luncheon on Tuesday the Service League remembered that in early centuries the feast of the Epiphany, and not the feast of the Nativity was the time of gift giving. They gave, as usual, pennies or other coins into the box that passes from table to table to provide food for children in China, where three of our pennies will feed a child for a whole day. And, at the suggestion of Mrs. A. B. Corbelle, they sent a greeting to one who has been a leader at their Tuesday activities, Mrs. Mary Barta, now convalescent at her home after being seriously ill. Mrs. Corbelle had commanded the services of the parish hymner, Mrs. Sacke, to word the greeting which all present signed.

"There was a cheerful custom
In the days long, long ago;
That when Epiphany was near,
And the world was white with snow,
Believers went from door to door,
In friendliness to sing:
'In all who could we go to church
Gay carols would they sing.
So now in spirit we would call
Christmas at your door.
May we come in and to your hearth
Bring cheer and love before!'"

THE WHOLE WORLD IS THINKING

The last days of this week, Friday, Jan. 9, Sunday, Jan. 11 conclude the period set apart by the World Council of Churches as a week of prayer by all Christians in all lands of all nations, races, and colors. To help individuals who are joining in this prayer the American churches have through the Federal Council of Churches, suggested day by day aspects of the truth contained in the phrase, "the Living God," the theme of the whole period.

Jan. 9, Worship, "what we say and what we do when we stand together in the presence of God, and what God does with us there."

Jan. 10, a used day. "All parts of our ongoing daily life are the Lord's work."
Jan. 11, God of the Beginning and God of the End. "God's intention for man is defined by the words 'in His image, after His likeness.' He has not given it up. Beginning and end belong together, and there is no point between where God is not active."

WINTON CLUB

The Winton Club held its January meeting on Monday at the home of Mrs. W. L. Davis of Central green. A very interesting and enthusiastic audience listened to the report of the Cabaret Chairman, Mrs. Irving E. Jennings, on the progress of the Cabaret which is to be held at the Town Hall on Jan. 29, 30 and 31.

Mr. Emerson Stiles, whom many of the casts of former years will remember with pleasure, is to direct and show this year. He represents the Seydel-Stiles Entertainment Service, Inc. of New York, and with the facilities of this organization at his disposal, will without a doubt, put on an excellent performance. Mrs. Jennings reports that the numbers which have been decided upon, will be fun and bound to please every one. She enthusiastically praised the costumes, several of which she said were outstandingly attractive. The Winton Club was delighted to hear that Mrs. Fulton Brown is once more in charge of transforming the forbidding Town Hall into a hall of glamour. Her decorations will be in her inimitably amusing manner, both artistic and timely.

There will be dancing as usual this year between the acts, and the orchestra will be that of the one and only Jack Marshall, who has delighted us with his music for other shows, and who is a favorite of all dance lovers.

Mrs. James F. Dwinell, Jr., is the chairman of the ticket committee and will be glad to give any information concerning the purchase of tickets. She has Mrs. John Joy to take charge of the Saturday night tickets and Mrs. Edwin Rooney will have the sale of balcony tickets for both Friday and Saturday nights. There will be a preview, sometimes called a dress rehearsal, on Thursday night, tickets for which may be bought at the door.

Rehearsals will be in full swing by next week, and will continue unabated for the following two weeks, all leading up to the grand finale the last three days of January.

ART ASSOCIATION OFFICERS ENTERTAINED

The officers of the Winchester Art Association and exhibiting artists were graciously entertained by Mrs. George Coit and Miss Lucia Coit at their home on Hillside avenue, following the tea on Sunday.

Following a buffet supper, Mr. Roy Morse of Boston showed several reels of very beautiful colored moving picture films.

Those attending were: Miss Margaret Pearson, Mr. and Mrs. Pearson, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Morse, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Leisinger, Jr., and Mrs. William D. Barone, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Underwood, Dr. and Mrs. George Marks, Mrs. Hollis Nickerson, Miss Edith Caverly, Mr. Ralph T. Hale, Mr. and Mrs. Robinson Whittemore.

GROUP THEATRE PRESENTS THIRD EVENING IN MOVIE SERIES

Picking up its schedule where it left off just before the holidays, the Winchester Group Theatre will present a movie event on Wednesday pictures in the high school auditorium on next Wednesday evening, Jan. 11 at 8 p. m.

In co-operation with the Museum of Modern Art in New York City the Group Theatre is conducting a series of evenings on "The Development of the Motion Picture" as the main feature of its fall program of activity. With old fashioned musical accompaniment, and a choice selection of the better old-time films, the series have already proven themselves both entertaining and educational.

On next Wednesday, the evening will be devoted to only "star" pictures, and the trend toward "feature" or "super" productions. As an example, there will be a Douglas Fairbanks picture, typical of romance and adventure as it swept to popularity on the screen in the 20's.

Admission to these showings of early pictures is open to members of the Group Theatre only. However, any person interested may become a member upon paying the small annual dues. Those interested should get in touch with the Group Treasurer, J. Henry Smith, at Win. 1905.

TO PRESENT PLAY REVIEWS

Mede Hoes Lee will present a series of play reviews at the Parish Hall of the Parish of the Epiphany, Central and Church streets, on the afternoons of Jan. 30, Feb. 13 and 20, and March 6 and 20, and on the evening of April 10.

Mrs. Lee, a director of the Bishop-Lee School of the Theatre and the Nell Gwyn Summer Theatre in the Berkshires, is well known for her informative discussions and dramatic presentations of current plays. Many groups, such as the Arlington Women's Club, the Boston College Club, the Brimmer-May School, and the Charlotte Cushman Club of Boston, have comprised enthusiastic audiences for Mrs. Lee's recitals.

As in former years, the play series is being sponsored by the Tuesday Luncheon Group of the Parish of the Epiphany. Mrs. E. Craig Grainer, president of the organization has appointed Mrs. Warren Jenney and Mrs. John Lynch to have charge of the sale of tickets. Mrs. Lee is to be assisted by all members of the Tuesday Luncheon Group from whom they may be procured.

The plays to be presented will be chosen from those which are receiving enthusiastic acclaim on Broadway, such as "Candle in the Wind," "The Land is Bright," "The Spirit," and "Watch on the Rhine." The actual sequence of the plays will be announced later in the Winchester Star.

A YEAR AGO companies in the New England Power system, in outlining their policy of preparedness as a part of the country's National Defense program, placed particular emphasis upon the important part employees would play in this patriotic effort.

THIS YEAR, with eighteen or twenty men needed in defense industries to back up each fighting man in Uncle Sam's forces and with our country in a state of war against ruthless and treacherous aggressors, we have a deep satisfaction in knowing that —

1. Our employees are skillful, well-trained men and women, many of whom have spent the greater part of their lives in our service.
2. Our employees know their jobs thoroughly and have a deep sense of responsibility as to their parts in the National Defense Program.
3. The physical properties these employees operate are in good order.
4. Our employees, as soldiers of industry, have a vitally important job in supplying indispensable materials to the armed forces of our country.

As their modest contribution in an America that is united and determined, our employees dedicate their every effort to the preservation of the ideals of this great democracy!

HIGH SCHOOL BASKETBALL

Lexington Game to be Played Away

Faculty Manager Ray V. Hayward announced the first of the week that tonight's Middlesex League basketball game with Lexington High School, originally scheduled to be played here, will instead be played at Lexington.

This change was made because of a concert which is being given at the high school assembly hall tonight by the Mystic Glee Club for the benefit of the Winchester Hospital. An enthusiastic crowd of spectators in the gymnasium would surely do things of the pleasure of those trying to listen to the Gleeers upstairs. The change in place of the basketball game will result in Lexington coming to Winchester on Feb. 6, instead of Winchester playing there on that date. The shift of dates for the first game favors Lexington a bit since a home floor naturally helps most during early season when the teams haven't struck their full stride.

Following are the remaining dates:

Jan.
9—at Lexington
13—at Pynchard
16—at Reading
20—at Belmont
23—at Wakefield
27—at Woburn
30—at Stoneham

PROFESSOR SOROKIN ON "RUSSIA"

Next Harvard Club Speaker

At the next dinner meeting of the Harvard Club of Eastern Middlesex, to be held at the Winchester County Club on Wednesday, Jan. 14, at 6:30, the speaker will be one of Winchester's most distinguished residents, Prof. Pitirim A. Sorokin, chairman of the Department of Sociology at Harvard.

Born and reared in Russia, he was instructor at the University of St. Petersburg when the Russian revolution started, joining the movement headed by Alexander Kerensky, he was made Secretary of State. After the fall of that regime, he was exiled from Russia in 1923. Coming to the United States, he was made Professor of Sociology at the University of Minnesota and in 1930 came to Harvard.

Professor Sorokin's recently published book, "The Crisis of Our Times," has been termed by the New York Times as the product of "one of the great minds in this country." Familiar with the underlying purposes of the Russian revolution, a keen student of the Stalin government and economic and military conditions in Russia, Professor Sorokin will give a most informative address.

All men who have in any way been connected with Harvard are welcome at these meetings. For information, please call Carlisle Burton, Win. 2170, Arthur Harris, Win. 2193-W or A. Russell Ellis, Win. 673-LW.

Come to the Winchester County Club on Jan. 14 and give our illustrious guest a cordial welcome.

WEDGEHOLE STATION TO HOLD NATURAL FINISH

The interior of the Wedgemere Station is not to be painted after all, but will be shellacked to maintain the "antique" natural finish which was disclosed after the various coats of varnish had been sanded off. Patrons of the station, the exterior of which was painted late in the summer by funds given by the commuters, requested that the interior painting plans had been announced, that the Boston and Maine preserve the natural pine finish. As a result, orders were issued that the painting plans be canceled and the interior of the station be left as the patrons desire it.

The work is expected to be completed this week.

MEETING OF MEN'S CLUB OF FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

The next meeting of the First Congregational Church Men's Club will be held January 15 at 8 p. m. The speaker will be Mr. William S. Howe, former American Vice Consul at Hankow, China, who will speak on "The Far East Situation." This will be Ladies Night.

WINCHESTER CURLERS REACH WORCESTER CUP SEMI-FINALS

Both rinks representing the Winchester Country Club advanced to the semi-finals in competition for the Worcester Cup, the result of victories over the Boston Curling Club and the Worcester Curling and Bowling Club at Monday evening's bonspiel at the Country Club in Brookline. The Worcester Cup was presented to The Country Club by the Worcester Curling and Bowling Club for annual competition and the resulting matches are always keenly contested. The semi-final round will be played Monday evening.

Winchester's Rink 1 defeated Worcester by the overwhelming score of 30-2. Winchester's Rink 2 won from Boston's Rink 14-9. A glance at the rinks of both Boston rinks will disclose that both were largely composed of local curlers.

Following are the summaries:

Winchester Rink 1 defeated Worcester Rink 1 by the score of 30-2. Winchester Rink 2 won from Boston Rink 1 by the score of 14-9. A glance at the rinks of both Boston rinks will disclose that both were largely composed of local curlers.

GOOD NEWS FOR ADULT
BASKETBALL FANS

At a meeting of the Winchester High School A. A. Executive Board Tuesday, it was voted that a section of the bleachers seating about 50 adults would be reserved in the high school gymnasium at Friday night games in the future until the start of the first game. The first game starts at 7:30 and the gymnasium is usually well filled by that time. With a limited seating capacity in the building, it will be wise for all who wish to take advantage of this plan to be on time. Admission price for adults is 25 cents. After the Friday night home games the A. A. plans to run an informal dance for the students. Parents will be welcome at these dances. The admission to the dances is a nominal 11 cents for A. A. members and 25 cents for all others.

For the information of all who attend the high school games this winter, it is well to state that no one will be permitted to enter the gymnasium by either of the end doors, although these doors may be used as exits by those who are leaving and who do not plan to return to the gymnasium. Also the management wishes to emphasize the importance of having all spectators seated during the games as there are seats available. The cooperation of students and other spectators in this matter will be appreciated by the management.

WINCHESTER SET FOR ALL-OUT
OFFENSIVE VS LEXINGTON
HIGHS

Game to be Played at Lexington

"One game at a time" is the motto of Coach Ted Bartlett's basketball team as they surge into the 15 game stretch between now and March 6. While there has been no tendency to minimize the importance of winning the Concord game, played on Wednesday of this week, the eyes of every member of the squad have been nevertheless fixed upon the big game with Lexington tonight, the first league game of the season, and one which the Red and Black are determined to take.

It appears to make no difference to the Winchester squad and coach that Lexington has already been picked as the logical league champions by the majority of coaches. Last year, Winchester and Lexington were tied at the close of a hectic season in second place. Each team won its home game against the other. This winter Winchester is determined to get the jump on their rivals by taking Lexington on their home floor and going on from there. And they can do it, judging from the brand of ball they have already flashed during their early games. In the game against a strong Alumni team before Christmas they unveiled a real hot offensive combination that ran the more experienced graduates off their feet the second half of the game. This team is an offensive team and wastes no time carrying the ball down to scoring territory. You'll see more shooting this year than ever before. Shooting by five starters. That means baskets. Incidentally Winchester has shown already a rugged defense against clever ball handlers.

When asked about his starting lineup, Coach Bartlett grinned and confessed that as far as he could see he had nine starters on his first string squad, any one of whom was qualified to start every game. These nine are Captain Dean Derby, Bert Callahan, and Bill West at guards; Harris, Moore and Robert center; and Pete Provinzano, Donnie Drew, Paul Rallo, and Pete Tomblay at forwards. All nine of these players have already seen service this winter with the exception of Provinzano, who was late in reporting for practice because of an aggravated injury from football. Pete is now in A1 condition and should be a big factor in Winchester's offensive strength.

This game tonight was originally planned to be played at Winchester because of a conflict with the Glee Club concert to be held in the school auditorium was switched early this week to the Lexington court. Coach Bartlett admits that he would much prefer to start the season on the home court, especially against the strong Lexington five, but the general attitude of both the coach and the A. A. right now is such that all they ask is a basketball court, two baskets, good officials and a starting whistle.

HIGH SCHOOL IN AIR RAID

On Wednesday morning the students and teachers of the high school went through a carefully planned Air Raid Warning Drill after a short assembly at which Principal Wade L. Ginn gave the drill plan. The drill was for each home room group.

The drill plans are based upon home room groups for which home room teachers are directly responsible. These groups are not to be segregated in one place, but scattered to those parts of the building considered most safe. A few improvements on the first drill will be sort held before Christmas were suggested, such as the establishment of definite seating plans for each group so that teachers may more effectively control their groups and be sure that all are accounted for. Further drills are being planned.

WINCHESTER OUTCLASSED
CONCORD

Winchester High School's basketball team made it three in a row Wednesday afternoon, outclassing Concord High in the local gymnasium, 41-15. The Winchester seconds won the preliminary game, 42-16.

Coach Bartlett was disappointed that his charges were not given stiffer opposition in their first game after the vacation period. Especially with a tough opponent like Lexington looming for the locals' first Middlesex League game tonight. He did, however, get a taste of several of his second stringers' taste of varsity competition and the more seasoning these boys can get the better it will be in the harder games to come. Winchester played fast aggressive ball that pleased the unusually large crowd for an afternoon game.

The local boys led at the half, 21-6, but the Winchester boys showed their return to competition after a layoff due to a football injury by leading both teams in scoring with 11 points, throwing four floor goals and three foul baskets. Don Drew equalled Pete's floor goals with eight points and Captain Dean Derby tallied six on a brace of floor goals and two shots from free tries. LaHiff's five was Concord's high tally.

Jack Errio paced the scorers in the second team game, running up 12 points on six floor baskets.

CHRISTMAS MEETING

The Christmas meeting of the Florence Crittenton Circle took place at the home of Mrs. Harold B. Richmond on Swan road. A full program was enjoyed by everyone. After the committed reports, which included Mrs.
Cusack's report of a fine showing in the annual bazaar, Mrs. Blanchard, introduced Mrs. James McGovern, who is the new Winchester Circle representative on the board of the Home and Hospital. She told in a lively manner of the current situation in the hospital.

In an interim of music Mr. William Elmer treated the members to a delightful piano recital. This talented musician played a variety of pieces for his diversified program. Outstanding in it were the Brahms Intermezzo which was played with intelligence and restraint and as a foil to this, Mendelssohn's song "On a Capriccio" brilliantly rendered by Mr. Elmer and bringing forth the applause of his listeners.

The speaker for the afternoon was the able Dr. Norman H. Paleyford, professor of International Law at the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy. His America in a World at War was timely and objective and the ready questions which came from the interested audience gave evidence of the acute interest in such a topic.

A brief but winning song recital by Mrs. Walter Winnship accompanied by Mrs. E. Ranton Witham was enthusiastically received by the group who welcomed Mrs. Winnship as one of their own members. Her song of the little ship was delightful and particular applause greeted her Christmas lullaby to a bambino.

A festive holiday tea was expertly planned and served by Mrs. Harold Bostwick, co-chairman with Mrs.
Geoffrey Neiley of the tea committee. Members of her committee quickly served the large group who were present and the hospitable background of Mrs. Richmond's home made it a memorable afternoon.

The following list of Contagious Diseases was reported to the Board of Health for week ending Wednesday, Dec. 31:

Mr. James (Rastus) Campbell of Lebanon street is contemplating a trip to Aroostook County, Me., the first part of next week. His many friends extend to him their best wishes for a happy sojourn in the land of the Shud. But for "gosh sakes," Jim, don't get snow-bound down there—remember that long and tedious journey back to the distance call you'd get to receive Friday evening, the 16th, at the First Congregational Church Parish House.

Lieut. Edward W. O'Connell of the Police Department underwent a major operation Tuesday forenoon at the Carney Hospital in Boston. While his condition was deemed satisfactory by his physicians after the operation it was necessary to give him a blood transfusion Tuesday. On Wednesday his condition was improved and it was reported as satisfactory last night.

Twenty-five women attended the first session of the Nurses Training School for Defense Tuesday evening at the Public Library, whose charge of the school being delighted with the interest shown. There will be a meeting next week because of conflict with the big United War Fund drive meeting at the high school.

Grand Honorary Francis II. Thomas of the Order G. G. G. J. J. has kindly consented to cancel a prior engagement in Beverly and will now positively appear as scheduled, at 8 p. m. Friday, Jan. 16th in the Parish Hall of the First Congregational Church.

SELECTMEN'S NOTES

The Massachusetts Selectmen's Association has placed Winchester in class I for the best Selectmen's report and also for the best statement of revenue and expenditure.

Common victualler's license was granted to Randall's, and second-hand motor vehicles agent first class to Luckenbach Sales.

Mr. William C. Cusack of 322 M. A. Parkway presented to the Board various automobile clippings and photographs of interest to the members of Winchester, England, and these were forwarded to Mayor Griffiths.

Mr. Jean Hill, 219 Grace place, was drawn as juror to serve at the second session of the Superior Criminal Court at Cambridge, to report Feb. 10.

Winchester Tire Rationing Board
The first meeting of the board appointed by the Selectmen was held on Wednesday the 7th to pass on the legality of applications.

The following stations were approved as inspectors to pass on the condition of tires owned by the applicant:

Central Garage, 8 Winchester place.
Donlon's Auto Service, 972 Main street.
Charles L. Hagerty, 730 Main street.
Richland Service Station, 160 Cross street.
Luckenbach Motor Sales, Inc., 632 Main street.
Pike's Auto Service, 674 Main street.

Winchester Super Service, 6 Concord place.

No charge is to be made for this public service.

Additional inspectors may be approved by the Board on application of tire or automobile dealers.

Next meeting of the Board will be at its office in room 6, second floor, of the town hall on Tuesday, Jan. 13 at 7:30 p. m.

This office will be open for the distribution of application blanks and the receipt of reports from inspectors from 8:30 a. m. to 4:30 p. m.

Needless to say the present situation and the size of the town's population double up on transportation as much as possible.

There are many defense meetings being held in different parts of town and it would be no particular hardship to many attending if they were to these meetings. This also applies to school children now in the habit of taking the family car for transportation.

Eligibility classifications are particularly strict and as the Board is acting as Federal agents they are compelled to follow the classification list closely.

The office telephone is Win. 1102 and the administrative agent is George W. Franklin.

Mr. Lane told the prospective wardens that the duty to report all damage, down property and injuries in the event of air raids, and to police their districts during blackouts.

For purposes of civilian defense, Mr. Lane explained, the town has been divided into eight divisions, more or less on precinct lines, except that the town of 10,000 people is divided into 8 divisions in the center and division 8 around the reservoirs.

Divisions have been divided into sections, and sections into neighborhoods, and neighborhoods into blocks, comprising 8 to 12 homes around a neighborhood warden.

During blackouts it is a warrens in the streets and the wardens must be so covered as to be invisible. During raids wardens keep persons off the streets, control their districts and report to the district center.

Winchester's report center in the district center from Marlboro, which has a direct line connecting with the district center in the city of Boston.

When a yellow light shows in the district center that means a raid is anticipated and the center is manned.

FINE SHOW AT ART GALLERY

The Winchester Art Association has another fine show in the exhibition of oil paintings by contemporary artists running through January at the art gallery in the Public Library.

Mrs. Mar in Shames Miss Margaret Pearson, Charles Carter and R. H. (Bob) Gamble are the artists exhibiting.

A wide range of subjects is included in the show, including for the most part, portraits, landscapes, and marines.

Mr. Gamble shows several fine portraits. His Mary Perry is an unusual study of a young girl, glancing over her shoulder, the pose of the head, the warm dark coloring, the expression of the eyes and the droop of the half-open mouth being very lifelike. Other well almost expert to find pointed ears and tiny horns protruding from the glossy hair of the same artist's Boy with an Apple, there being more than a suggestion of the mythical faun about this cleanly cut youngster whose head and shoulders are framed in leafy blue sky with a background of deep blue sky.

Mr. Gamble's Woman of No Importance is an outstanding piece of portraiture that is at the same time a fine character study, the strength of the dark hair face with its iron gray hair giving the lie to the picture's title. Fruit Stand by the same artist, a large canvas, shows a boy with Latin features and coloring, clothed in faded blue dungarees, girt with a scarlet belt, a yellow jacket, and scarlet knitted cap, seated on a barrel surrounded by boxes and crates of fruit.

Shaw pictures by Mr. Hubbard never fail to arouse admiration for this artist has the faculty of painting them so that they are at the same time artistic and true to life. Such a one is Ice Harvest, showing men at work cutting and loading blocks of ice on a skiff, with rambling nondescript wooden buildings part way up an overgrown ditch hill in the background. The light and shadows on the snow and the blue green clearness of the ice are skillfully painted while the bulky figures of the men and the blanketed horse are finely drawn and well defined.

Mr. Hubbard's Sunlight and Shadows is an other fine water scene with its prosaic little frame house nestled in a stringy line under rugged hills before a water of a gray green ground glancing old between rounded snowy banks in the foreground. Spring Thaw by the same artist depicts a woman seated before a stream dashing down a rocky ledge between snow-capped, tree-lined banks, the turbulent gray water cleverly lighted where the sun's rays reach it through the trees.

Miss Pearson's penchant for painting fine interiors is well illustrated in her New England Fireside, showing a woman seated before a fireplace and the fine broad fireplace of colonial houses, surrounded by a mantel on which are brass candlesticks, plates, and a clock, the shadows of which are cast on the wall.

In lighter vein is Miss Pearson's The Echo, with its young lady in a pink dress glancing over the mantel, holding before a mirror in its cage. Seaside picnic strikes an entirely different front, and for this artist a somewhat unusual note, with its family group about their luncheon spread on the shore of an inlet, the waters of which are dotted with the sails of small craft. Perhaps most interesting from the local angle is Miss Pearson's artistic portrait of Miss Lucia Galt, a resident of Winchester.

Mrs. Sloan's large canvas, Winooski Valley, Vt., is a striking landscape, a droll with the lavish use of blues at 1 p. m., having real depth and a well done sky. Rolling Country by the same artist is another fine and simple painting on an unlined farm with a red barn and a white farmhouse in the distance.

Many will recognize Mrs. Sloan's In the Fenway with its slow moving river flowing under a heavy overcast sky, a row of trees in the foreground and hills in the distance.

F., of Massachusetts, a member and past noble grand of Resolute Rebekah Lodge of Malden, a past matron of Chrystal Chapter, O. E. S. and of Chelsea, a member of the Baptist Church at Boothbay, Me. I. O. O. F. NOTES

Bro. Arthur Cameron, D. G. M. and his Marshal, Bro. Harold Dover, with their wives, were guests of Winismere Lodge of Chelsea last Tuesday evening. The occasion marked the anniversary of the birthday of Thomas Wildey, who founded the fraternal order of Old Fellows in the United States.

On next Monday evening, Waterfield Lodge will celebrate the anniversary of the founder's birth in their lodge quarters. The highlight of the celebration will be an intralodge baseball game. It is hoped that all members of the order will be present, both to pay homage to our founder, and to enjoy a fraternal evening.

EVER victorious, "Old Ironsides" proved herself worthy of the confidence of a young and sorely beset nation. The "Constitution" and her gallant crew could be depended on.

It is our pride to be worthy of the confidence reposed in us by the people of this community. You can depend on us to render a service of quiet dignity.

WOMEN'S LEAGUE MEETS

The monthly meeting of the Women's League of the First Baptist Church in Winchester was held Jan. 8 at the church.

At noon a delicious luncheon was served under the direction of the luncheon chairman, Mrs. Frank R. Henderson.

At 1:15 p. m., the meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Roy K. Elliott.

Devotions were in charge of Mrs. Norman M. Mitchell, who spoke on, "Stewardship of the Gospel."

The monthly reports were read and accepted after which Mrs. Lymna Smith, college counselor for the church, gave a resume of her duties as counselor.

The object of having a college counselor is to keep in touch with the students of our church that are in college and also the boys in the service. She will be on duty on holidays and birthdays and to inform them of the activities in the church.

The speaker for the afternoon was Miss Ethel Wagg of Spellman College, Georgia, a school for colored girls. Miss Wagg gave a very interesting talk on the negro situation in the South after which the meeting was adjourned.

WINCHESTER IN WASHINGTON NEWS

Winchester's recent "Unmuzzed Day" which ushered in the sale of Defense Bonds and Stamps locally, was one of the feature articles in the January issue of "News Letter," the publication of the Field Organization of the Defense Savings Staff of the Treasury Department at Washington. An entire page is devoted to the local "do-in's" with reproductions of five of the pictures which appeared in the Star after the event.

LIBRARY HOURS LENGTHENED

In response to a request from the student body, the high school library will be kept open every afternoon from Monday through Friday for the use of the students half an hour longer than previously. Miss Barbara Willett, school librarian, adds that where students need even a few minutes she will be glad to make special arrangements to accommodate them.

EPIPHANY WOMEN HEAR UNITED WAR FUND SPEAKER

At their regular Tuesday meeting Jan. 13, women of Epiphany showed that they were not just parish-minded. They gave their ears and their hands to interests beyond their parish bounds. Their ears they gave very willingly to an interesting speaker, Mrs. Philip Lane, who came to speak of the United War Fund, which Winchester will next week be starting to raise. Prospective solicitors and givers heard helpful facts about the many uses of the war fund, familiar uses or new. Of equal importance was Mrs. Lane's contribution to the morale of workers and soldiers. She is confident that we are waking up to the need to determine self-sacrifice if we are to save our free world and she increased in her hopes that Winchester will succeed in its campaign to more than double its efforts.

Failure would give comfort to Hitler and all others who believe that no society is strong except a regimented society, and who despise the efforts of free men. Solicitors tucked away in their mental kit bags for use in their visits about generous givers. Millionaires, far from it. Folks like ourselves.

Well, at least we hope we are like them. In circumstances certainly, and as to generous, loyal, sacrificial Americanism, we shall know about that when our United War Fund giving is done.

It was a bargain day and Mrs. Lane gave Epiphany two songs, one in Czech and one in Russian, for good measure. Before her speech she sang a marching song of Czech-Slovak. Twenty-five years ago it was a song of a band of men who counted freedom worth all they had to give. Eastward they started, at first to get a chance to fight for freedom; eastward though they were bound for the western front of that first World War. They could not hope to get through hostile lines, armies, and frontiers if they went directly. Many died on that long march, but some really arrived and fought. And they found a flag that Hitler has torn down. But the love of freedom dies hard, and free men everywhere hope to see and save again that flag which they created.

While they listened, many of the audience worked on, folding bandages for a hospital that the United War Fund helps to support, feather-stitching baby dresses or sewing snaps on warm size 12 dresses that the dollars sent to the Red Cross will keep priding for those who need them wherever Red Cross mercy can go.

CUBS TO HAVE LIVELY PACK MEETING

Cub Pack 3, sponsored by the Men's Club of the First Congregational Church, is to have its first pack meeting of the New Year at the parish house of the church next Tuesday evening, Jan. 20 at 7 o'clock sharp. A rapid-fire schedule has been arranged to wind up the festivities by 8:15. The boys of the pack cannot attend the meeting themselves, they are urged to arrange that their son be escorted by some other parent. The Cub Committee of all responsibility is made of the parent so as to relieve the Cub Committee of all responsibility for the safe and prompt return home of the boys after the meeting. Although considerable attention will be devoted to the "business" of the Cub Scouts, including the passing of tests for their achievement, the feature of the evening will be displays of their favorite hobbies by some of the fathers, with the hopes that the boys present may be encouraged to follow where they may derive lasting pleasure throughout their lives.

Mr. F. Hernandez will summarize the development of hobbies with a few remarks from his personal observations and experiences. Those interested in Nature and the outdoors will be particularly pleased with a film on forestry, which is both beautiful and instructive, and which has been obtained through the courtesy of Mr. C. C. Miller, of the Cub Committee, who is an expert on forestry for the Federal Government.

Cub Master Pennell, as usual, will be here to direct and everywhere, sparking the meeting to a high pitch, and will have important announcements to make relative to the building of the "Boy Scouts Racers" "Pack Fair" which are to be held on Saturday afternoon, March 28. The boys and the fathers are advised to take a circle around that date on their calendars.

If any of the fathers have a hobby which they would be willing to exhibit for the benefit of the boys, please call Mr. Pennell at Win. 0183-W.

And parents, remember, these monthly pack meetings are especially held at night so that the boys and their fathers can be together. Den Mothers and the Cub Committee to help your boys to take their place as good citizens in our American way of life.

Come and co-operate. Get behind your boy.

WINCHESTER'S QUOTA $51,000

United War Fund Workers Met Tuesday Evening

"Winchester's quota in the Greater Boston United War Fund is $51,000," announced Frank A. Barrett, secretary of the directors, captains and solicitors of the Winchester Committee in the high school auditorium on Tuesday, Jan. 15. "This quota," stated Mr. Barrett, "is the highest in Winchester's history and made necessary by the emergency needs of the United Service Organizations, and the American Red Cross is a real challenge to every resident of Winchester."

The Winchester Committee of 670 members, needed to do the various jobs in raising money for the Greater Boston United War Fund was announced by Mr. Barrett as approaching a 100 per cent membership one of the first towns in Greater Boston to complete its staff. "Thanks to the willingness of Winchester people to aid a worthy cause, I am able to report to you that our committee organization is ready to function practically complete," stated Mr. Barrett in his introductory remarks. "I am proud to have Winchester people who are assisting in the conduct of the United War Fund Drive. Mr. Barrett then introduced R. H. B. Smith as a representative of the service men in World War I and the present war.

R. H. B. Smith, Commander of the Winchester Post 97, of the American Legion urged Winchester people "to be of service to the men in the service" by contributing to the United War Fund Drive. "The U. S. O.," stated Mr. Smith, "is prepared to help our soldiers, sailors and marines during the few hours of their leisure that they are away from their war duties provided we people in Winchester do our share in contributing towards the required funds."

Following Mr. Smith, James McNeill, president of the Winchester Community Chest and Associate Chairman of the Winchester Committee in charge of Special Gifts, urged all solicitors and workers in the coming campaign, which is to be held from Jan. 22 to Feb. 11, to stress to each Winchester family and neighbor the increasing size of its customary gift to the Community Fund and this year the United War Fund effort emphasizes the importance of the former Community Fund and the United Service Organizations and the United Committee for Soldiers and Sailors. "If we can follow the lead of the U. S. O.," stated Mr. McNeill, "we can come through in this campaign with flying colors."

Charles C. Cabot, Chairman of the Metropolitan Division of the United Service Organizations, and other surrounding towns, spoke of the enviable opportunity of leadership Winchester has always enjoyed among the various communities and said that war conditions were now giving Winchester another opportunity to develop its capacity for leadership and service in Greater Boston.

Mr. Cabot emphasized that, though no one enjoys asking neighbors and friends for money, if each Winchester family worker can help the vital work for the money he helps to raise, the work ceases to be a task and an opportunity for service to his community and the country.

The singing of the combined choirs of Winchester Churches, under the expert leadership of J. Albert Wilson, choirmaster and leader of the United Congregational Church was a feature of the evening program. Promptly at 8 o'clock, the choirs opened the meeting by singing "The Star Spangled Banner" and the meeting was then adjourned to the gymnasium for a simple refreshment service by the Winchester Chapter of the American Red Cross, under the direction of Mrs. Earle E. Andrews, acting chairman. She was assisted by Mrs. Joseph Wilson, Mrs. William Priest, Mrs. E. Adele Emery, Mrs. Ruth Hilton, Mrs. Walter Dickson, Mrs. Lindsay Caldwell, Mrs. Leonard Griffin, and members of the Town Hall Surgical Dressing Unit, Mrs. Dunbar Shanklin and members of her Surgical Dressing Unit, Mrs. Virgil Ghirardini, Mrs. George R. Dutton, executive secretary; Mrs. R. K. Miller, Mrs. Harry Goodwin, Mrs. Whitlaw Wright, Miss A. Natalie Jewett, Mrs. William Cusack, Mrs. Nathaniel Nichols, Mrs. Harold Fuller, Mrs. Jameson Slocum, Mrs. Angelo Ghirardini, Motor Corps, Captain and members of the corps included, Mrs. Marian Moore, Mrs. Irving Platt, and Mrs. Maryrose McDevitt.

The United War Fund moving picture, by showing the activities supported by the money to be raised in the forthcoming campaign, emphasized the necessity of raising $7,000,000 to "meet the challenge" of our community in our country at war. Allocations of this fund, as worked out by budget officials, includes this four way division of the War Fund:

Greater Boston Community Fund, $5,550,000
Greater Boston Quota, American Red Cross, 1,502,000
United Service Organizations, 320,000
Red Cross, Soldiers and Sailors Committee, 100,000

Total, $7,472,000

Having been detained at a previous meeting, Maynard Hutchinson, general chairman of the Greater Boston United War Fund, was unable to reach Winchester in time to address the audience in the auditorium, but spoke informally late in the evening. In his enthusiastic plea for support of the campaign, Mr. Hutchinson told of a foreign laborer who had come to his office offering to give the wages earned in overtime work directly to the United War Fund, and had subsequently sent a three weekly contributions—a sizeable share of his earnings. As an inspiring final thought, Mr. Hutchinson quoted the conclusion of the Declaration of Independence "We mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes, and our sacred honor."

Prior to the meeting Donald Heath, associate chairman in charge of Public Employees and School Teachers, announced the following appointments made by George W. Franklin as members of the committee soliciting the Greater Boston Quota: P. McGowan, Parker Holbrook, Frank T. Olmstead, Mary E. Gillespie, Flora A. Richardson, and Janet E. Dewar. William H. Roberts, president of the Teachers' Association, has appointed the following as members of his committee soliciting school teachers: Miss Gertrude Carmichael, Miss Zella Gordon, F. Meredith Cooper, Miss Minetta Jurgensen, Miss Lillian Salice, Miss Gladys Hornbrook, Miss Mary A. Doherty and Miss Evangeline Drury.

Additional appointments to the Secretariat and Administrative staff, under Robert B. Metcalf, associate chairman in charge of Administration, operating at Winchester Headquarters, are the following: Mrs. Warren Jenney, Mrs. Francis N. M. Jones, Mrs. Francis A. Barrett, Mr. E. W. Zimmerman, Mrs. Clarence W. Russell.

ROTARY CLUB NOTES

Four members were absent from the meeting on Jan. 15, 1942, one of whom has already made up for his absence. Yes, we have our eye on that 100 per cent mark.

It is with very much regret that we part company with one of our best liked and highly respected members. Past President George Welsch, who has been a member of the club for many years, has found it best to return to Chicago, his former home city, where he will be free from business cares in a position to recuperate at his leisure. As we accept his resignation from our club we retain the hope that in good time he may return to Winchester and resume the fellowship with us which we have so long cherished.

A new member has joined our ranks, the person of Forrest R. Cook, manager of the Winchester branch of Filene's, well known Boston department store. It is indeed a pleasure to welcome Mr. Cook to our club, and we wish to express our appreciation of his period of service as a Rotarian. We anticipate that mutual advantage in a high degree will result from his decision to become affiliated with our club.

It appears that District 196 has been making one of the best attendance records in its history, the figure being 87.29 per cent. A further advance to 90 per cent would place this district on the honor list. This advance can be accomplished by a bit of co-operation from the local clubs. We suggest that Winchester Rotarians make the effort to put their club in the 90 per cent category by avoiding the stigma of being a hand-icap to the District in the matter of attendance. A little more attention to make-ups.

The guest speaker who was to have addressed our club at the current meeting found it impossible to be present. As the person of John McLean took this opportunity to call for an open meeting for the purpose of discussing problems which have been presented at the time, it seems apparent that the club will do something definite in the near future to promote the sale of government defense bonds and stamps. This is a matter of great importance to the pursuit of the great war in which this nation is now an active participant and it is a service which can be rendered to the nation by all citizens, no matter for what reason or another, must do their fighting with home quarters as a base of operations. Our club will make an effort to help in the pursuit of the great war in which this nation is now an active participant and it is a service which can be rendered to the nation by all citizens, no matter for what reason or another, must do their fighting with home quarters as a base of operations. Percentage of attendance, Jan. 8, 87.78 per cent.

At the last meeting of the Winton Club, Mrs. Vincent Farnsworth, Jr., the president, presented still another charity worthy of our consideration, that of the Greater Boston United War Fund, which combines the work of the Community Fund, the Red Cross, the U. S. O. and the Soldiers' and Sailors' Committee. Mrs. Karl Omonson of the Speakers' Bureau, gave a very interesting talk, and showed the movie short, "The Challenge," a clear and poignant picture of the activities of these organizations as a result of which every member inwardly pledged herself to do all she could to help in this crisis.

It must not be forgotten that in past years Winton Club has not failed of its goal—to provide the entire amount of linen required at our Winchester Hospital. Besides this, the Winton Club has supplied many items of equipment and many thousands of dollars for the upkeep of the Hospital. In order for us to continue in this manner, the Winton Club urges you all to set aside one of the three nights, Jan. 29, 30 or 31, and thus accomplish two things, your contribution to the Hospital and an evening of entertainment for you and your friends.

Further committees not formally announced, are:

"OUR FRIENDS THE DUTCH"

"Our Friends, the Dutch" will be the subject of a lecture to be given by Miss Eunice Harriet Avery next Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 21, at 2:30 in the Wyman School Hall. This lecture, which is part of the series sponsored by the Winchester Smith College Club for the benefit of its scholarship fund.

The subject will be given by Mrs. E. Nelson Hawley and Mrs. Ralph E. Tibbets. Mrs. Franklin J. Lane and Mrs. Albert Haskell will be at the ticket table. Knickerbocker tickets for single admissions may be obtained at the door.

The strategy of Japan is essentially a subject of 1941 that we have over 3000 German advisors in the Japanese government," stated Miss Avery in her lecture on Japan given Wednesday evening, Jan. 14, at 2:30 in the Wyman School Hall. This lecture, which is part of the series sponsored by the Winchester Smith College Club for the benefit of its scholarship fund.

The subject will be given by Mrs. E. Nelson Hawley and Mrs. Ralph E. Tibbets. Mrs. Franklin J. Lane and Mrs. Albert Haskell will be at the ticket table. Knickerbocker tickets for single admissions may be obtained at the door.

The modern Japanese government has been patterned by the militarists, and their nine months of negotiations were spent preparing for Pearl Harbor. They are the modernized nation in Asia, with good sanitation and scientific agriculture. They are unique in the world because they have never lost a war, but have been invaded by a foreign army and never had a major revolution or fought a civil war. They would like to sponsor an anti-entertainment for the club.

The Achilles heel of Japan is her war resources, while the Achilles heel of Germany, who is our ultimate enemy, is her lack of oil. The Germans can be made to feel that Hitler can lose, and understand the declaration of the Atlantic, etc. There is a chance of the modernized Japanese people, they are independent thinkers, but her leaders. The Axis powers can mobilize 28,000,000 men between the ages of 18-35, while we have 26 million who signed the Jan. 1 treaty, can mobilize 55,000,000 men. In order to save the British Empire and the United States, Russia, China, and the Eastern Mediterranean must be held. The issue before the world now is the mastery or the fellowship of its assorted races, she concluded.

IN PERFECT force and collaboration with the United States, the Canadian armed forces have embarked upon a plan of campaign for the joint defense of North American soil. From East to West and North to South, on both sides of the border, preparations are quietly but steadily proceeding and any potential invader can expect a hot reception. Even among the peaks of the Canadian Rockies, battle practice is taking place. The photograph shows a Universal Carrier, one of Canada's sturdy, swift pieces of mechanized transport working its way through the high passes of the Rockies. These machines, which were used with great effect in Britain's North African drive against Italy, can move at 50 miles an hour over the roughest kind of ground.

Girl Scouts Cooperate

The green Girl Scout uniform and the famous Red Cross are seen to gether these days in many communities. The Girl Scouts are learning useful defense skills under the guidance of the great "merry" organization, and, in turn, are serving it well in the tasks young, active, energetic youngsters can perform.

425 WINCHESTER GIRL SCOUTS SAVE THEIR COUNTRY AND THEIR COMMUNITY

Winchester Girl Scouts truly live their third law: "A Girl Scout's duty is to be useful and to help others." Service to others is always important, but especially in war time.

Winchester Girl Scouts packed Christmas and Thanksgiving baskets, furnished clothing and toys. Brownie Scouts (the smallest Scouts from 7 to 10 years of age) made and filled turlin stockings with candy for the Christmas tree. Two sophomore Scouts gave twice a week to the Well Baby Clinic to weigh babies. Every Tuesday for the last several years, Scouts have gone to the Red Cross rooms to sew, roll bandages, and do the kinds of jobs their young and nimble fingers can do.

Since extreme pressure has been on the adults in the Red Cross rooms and in a private home where Red Cross work is done, two girls go twice a week to pick up the scraps, and sweep after the adults are through. It's a small task, but one which means a lot! Other small tasks include sorting buttons, knitting afghan squares, sewing squares together, all tedious and monotonous, but if done by girls, leave adults free for more difficult jobs of hand and machine sewing.

Thirty-four Girl Scout leaders in Winchester devote many hours to Girl Scouting. They work long and diligently to maintain normal activities for girls—winter sports, photography, dramatics, arts and crafts, a multitude of subjects covered in 80 badges of 10 program fields. Besides these "regular" activities there are special work in nutrition, and emphasis on any skills that will be useful in an emergency. These leaders prepare the girls for their places in whatever kind of a world they find themselves.

WOMEN'S REPUBLICAN CLUB

Mrs. Jos. Ryan, president of the Winchester Women's Republican Club offered an unusually varied and enjoyable program for the meeting on Wednesday at Waterfield Hall.

First, a most informing film showing the reason for and the use of the Community Fund for the year was presented by Mrs. Ryan received an unanimous approval of the members to give $35 to the Community Fund as from the Winchester Women's Republican Club.

Following that, a brief explanation of the Winchester Civilian Defense Observation Post located on Ridge street, was presented by Stafford Rogers. Women volunteers were requested for duty for four hour periods, 8 a. m. to 12 noon and 12 noon to 4 p. m. on Mondays and Fridays at this Post and any such women are requested to communicate with Mr. Rogers at once.

Then, Mrs. Robert Keeney in her usual friendly and inspiring manner presented a short review of John Gunther's "Inside Latin America," and, by relating her personal experience, prepared the audience for the delightful talk given by Alfreda Mosher. Miss Mosher, who is Cultural Institute for the Americas, is well known for her individual presentations of life and customs in other countries, and having spent the last two summers in South America based her talk on that. Her message was a philosophical and everyday picture of the people, climate and lands of South America. Through her travels and experiences, she deduced that "the things on which we can unite are more important than those that divide us." That it is more important for people to be friendly rather than to be enemies. When you are good friends, it is rather difficult to do evil to each other, rather more difficult to do good. And that the human power always longs for higher power to do the things that human power can't accomplish.

Tea was then served by Mrs. Frederick Chamberlin and her committee, consisting of Mrs. John I. Brody, Mrs. Wellington Caldwell, Mrs. Anna May Davis, Mrs. Stanley Howe, Mrs. F. S. Knight, Mrs. Ralph K. LaRose, and Mrs. Frederick Aseltine, with Mrs. Walter W. Wain and Mrs. Gustave Johnson pouring.

ANNUAL SUPPER AND TURKEY SUPPER

This year the supper will be entirely home cooked by the following very able committee headed by Mrs. S. L. Duffett and Mrs. C. H. Cunningham as co-chairman and assisted by Mrs. Earl Andrews, Mrs. T. Parker Clarke, Mrs. A. L. Dyer, Mrs. George Nardin, Mrs. F. Patterson Smith and Mrs. S. M. Andrews.

The supper will be served by members of the Wednesday Night Club under the supervision of Mrs. Donald Davis. The menu is as follows, and even the pies will be home made: Roast turkey with dressing, cranberry sauce, mashed potatoes, creamed onions, turnip, cranberry sauce, apple pie and coffee.

Reservations will close Sunday night, Jan. 18.

WINCHESTER MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION

A joint meeting of the executive board and scholarship committee was held in the conference room of the Public Library, on Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Keeney, president, presided with the following members of the Central Association present:

Mrs. Joseph Tansey, Mrs. Gustav Josephson, Miss Gertrude Lewis of the school department; Mrs. Carl Zimmerman, Mrs. William Murray, Mrs. John Chirman, Mrs. Langley Keyes, Mrs. Nell Borden, Mrs. Guy Livingstone, Mrs. Carmine Frongillo, Mrs. John Penman, Mrs. Rodney Long, Mrs. James Coor. Mrs. Keeney spoke of the necessity of every member taking her part in the Civilian Defense program, now that our country is at war. It was agreed that if a list of events pertaining to Civilian Defense education were sent to members through the various school channels, it would prove an incentive for an "all out" effort on the part of everyone. As an added inducement the Mothers' Association has been invited to attend the following series of lectures planned by the League of Women Voters and Winchester College Club at the Public Library.

Jan. 22—Vocational Guidance
Feb. 5—Trade Schools
Feb. 19—Junior Colleges and Private Schools

March 5—Pre-primary and Elementary Grades

March 19—Junior High Schools

April 2—High Schools and Recreation Center

April 19—Citizenship training in the High Schools.

A loan of $100 was voted to be taken from the scholarship fund to start sale of Defense Stamps in the schools. These will be made available to the children on regular banking days.

The great need of the Red Cross for increased aid from each and everyone was then stressed by Mrs. Keeney reminding the members that small children necessitate one's being at home during the regular meetings at the headquarters, either sewing or knitting will be delivered to the home by the Motor Corps.

A Red Cross first aid course is to be given at the Motor Corps by a qualified teacher, Mrs. Chirman reports these meetings are to be held in the morning.

Mrs. Keeney spoke briefly on the importance of maintaining a normal world for children today. Poetry and an increased interest in crafts are of much influence as a balance to the influence of the war.

All mothers were urged to answer the call of the Victory Book Drive which is now in progress in the schools. Mr. Howard presented a most enjoyable half hour showing the moving pictures he had taken at the performance of "Good Old Days."

THE WINCHESTER SKI CLUB

The Winchester Ski Club turned out in force over the week-end.

The majority of the members enjoyed local skiing Saturday afternoon and Sunday at the Unicorn Country Club in Stoneham. Alton Dunsford was very helpful in giving instructions, supplementing this was club photographer by taking moving pictures of the members present. These pictures will be shown at later club meetings.

Members present were Bob and Phoebe Low, Ted Elliott and family, the Twombly boys, Anna Lee, Mrs. D. W. Bay Peppard, Fred Whitney and several others. The ski tow group, headed by Harry Bean and including a number of juniors, met at 8 o'clock on Saturday morning and spent the day at Draut, where they report the skiing was good. Bubbles Larson reported good skiing at Cranmore, the Country Club and Horn Pond Mountain and Dick Harlow at the Winchester Country Club.

The far northern division of the Winchester Ski Club is on Saturday at Cranmore in North Conway, where they found excellent skiing in spite of the frigid weather. During the slide here also was Bronson Garner.

The Pinkham Notch gang consisting of Marty Pinkham, Fred Wier, Ted and Eva Cunningham, Harry and Stan Wood, went on through the Notch to Randolph where they spent the night at Marty Pinkham's camp. On Sunday they ran the Gulf of St. Lawrence which was well worth the climb up.

Plans for the coming week-end will again include local skiing and out-of-town ski tow skiing. For local skiing members will meet at the club room on No. 4 Black Horse terrace on Saturday at 1:30 p. m. Destination will probably be Unicorn Country Club again, but will depend upon snow and weather conditions that day. The same time and place will apply for Sunday.

For out-of-town skiing on Sunday members will meet at the club room Sunday morning at a time depending upon destination. Destination and time of meeting will be decided upon on Saturday on the basis of last minute information of snow conditions. Harry Bean as the Chief of the Ski Tow Division will have the notice of these plans at the club room at 1 p. m. on Saturday. Members may obtain information on plans by telephone by calling Harry Bean, or Richard Deane or any of the directors of the club. The next regular meeting of the club will be at the club room on Wednesday, Jan. 21 at 8 o'clock.

The Well-Balanced Diet

A well-balanced diet must consist of proteins, carbohydrates and fats, with adequate vitamins and minerals. A person engaged in mental work needs about 2,500 calories per day. The diet should contain animal protein, either eggs or meat; some cereals, as bread; fats, as butter and cream; with fruits and a variety of vegetables to furnish minerals and vitamins.

60TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE BETHANY SOCIETY

Amid decorations of red, white and blue, the Bethany Society, the cornerstone of the Second Congregational Church, celebrated its 60th anniversary on Jan. 9, 1942. Mrs. William F. Manahan, the newly elected president of the society, welcomed its many friends and the Rev. Charles L. Noyes introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Marion Rice Taylor, Mrs. Taylor, the daughter of the first president of the Bethany Society, thanked her audience back to the founding of the society 60 years ago. Certainly the good work of that devoted group of women, with no other thought than to do the Master's bidding, should inspire the present members with renewed hope and trust.

Miss Carolyn Rice of Winchester, Mrs. Elmer Huber of Wilton, N. H., and Mrs. Roy Higgins of Wilton, N. H., and Mr. and Mrs. George Bragdon of Boston were present as guests of the society. Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Ball of Northampton sent a letter expressing their regrets that they could not be present.

As usual an appreciative audience enjoyed Mrs. Bragdon's cello selections, accompanied by Mrs. Anna Loehman. His rendition of Harry Lauder's "The Ragged Dicks" who fought and won the great victory at the battle of Marston, served coffee, ice cream and cake to the guests seated at the small tables. The assembly hall, the Arthur Ball of Northampton sent a letter expressing their regrets that they could not be present.

At the close of the service, the guests joined in singing "The Star Spangled Banner" led by Mr. Bragdon.

MURPHY—BRINE

Miss Alice B. Brine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Brine of Orient street and James J. Murphy of Somerville were married in St. Mary's Church on Sunday afternoon, Jan. 12, at 2 o'clock by the pastor, Rev. John P. O'Riordan.

The bride was attired in an Alice blue travelling dress with a corsage of white orchids and was attended by Miss Elizabeth Peckley of Brookline, wearing a duobonnet dress with tulle and lace. Cornelius Murphy was best man for his brother.

After a reception for the immediate members of the families and guests at the home of Mrs. Murphy left for an extended trip to Florida. The bride, an x-ray technician for the New England Telephone & Telegraph Company, is a graduate of the Winchester High School and the Winchester Hospital Training School for Nurses. Mr. Murphy is associated with the Telephone Company as a construction superintendent.

UNIQUE WINDOW AT ELITE BARBER SHOP

Gerald Sematore, proprietor of the Elite Beauty Shop on Common street next to McCormack's Pharmacy, is showing a Defense Bond window that has attracted much attention around the center.

"Jerry" as he is better known, has taken the theme, "Remember the Main, Remember Pearl Harbor" and has on display a clever replica of the last named ill fated United States outpost with soldiers manning artillery and anti-aircraft guns on high land overlooking the ocean, on which are all sorts of naval craft, including airplane carriers with planes on their deck. Above the harbor are big bombing planes cleverly suspended from wires.

At the rear of the window above the scene is a large colored map of the Hawaiian Islands and surrounding the whole a huge red, white and blue Victory "V." Defense Bonds and Stamps are on display in the window with signs urging their purchase in aid of National Defense.

The window, which was executed by Arthur Elton of Elton's, is the first of its kind anywhere in this vicinity, so far as can be learned, and is a credit to "Jerry" and Arthur.

HIGHWAY WORKER INJURED

Andrew J. Dalton, 48, of 12 Richardson street, was painfully injured last Saturday afternoon when he was struck by an automobile while engaged in clearing snow on Main street near Chestnut street.

Mr. Dalton, a member of the Highway Department, told the police he was riding on the back of a tractor plow, driven by Fred Gouvanne of 81 Chestnut street, which had stopped just north of Chestnut street and was about to make a left turn into Lincolnshire way.

Mr. Dalton stepped from the back of the tractor and as he did so he was struck by a Buick sedan, owned by the J. W. Greer Co. of Cambridge and driven by Charles M. Greer of 372 Highland avenue.

Mrs. Greer was driving north on Main street and told the police that approaching traffic did not give her much room and she was unable to avoid striking Mr. Dalton. She took him to the office of Dr. McManus and after an examination took him to his home.

On Sunday Mr. Dalton was taken to the Winchester Hospital where X-rays disclosed three fractured ribs as well as contusions and abrasions of the right cheek and right leg.

STOLEN POORBOX RECOVERED

Mondra forenoon the Police were notified that a metal box containing money had been found on the grounds of a vacant house on Mt. Vernon street.

Officer John Dolan, who went to investigate found the box to be a church poorbox which investigation disclosed had been stolen early Saturday evening from inside the entrance to the lower church at St. Mary's on Washington street. It had been broken open by striking it against some stonework on the grounds where it was found.

Whether the thieves took any money from the box is not known. A small sum in coins was found with the box and both were returned to the church authorities.

John A. Volpe of 65 Highland avenue, Winchester, treasurer and general manager of Grande & Volpe, Inc., builders in Malden, announces the award to his firm of a contract by the Emergency Operations Unit of the Public Buildings Administration for the erection of the "Devencrest" School.

The school is a part of the Defense Public Works program designed to accommodate the children of non-commissioned officers of the Army, with completion scheduled for 100 days.

Construction has already begun on the project, which has six classrooms and a community room, and is of wood construction.

Mr. Volpe's firm is also completing a large construction project at the Winchester, N. H., Air Corps Station for the U. S. Army Engineers.

DANGEROUS PROWLER

Sunday morning at 6:15 Police Headquarters was notified of prowlers at a home on Highland View avenue. Occupants of the house could plainly hear some one in their dwelling. If the Police hurried, they could catch the intruder red handed.

Patrolmen Robert Elliott and William Callahan went to investigate and were enough they too could hear some one moving about in one of the rooms. Ready for instant action the guardians of the law suddenly threw open the door and went in. They found the intruder to be a mouse caught in a trap which in its efforts to escape it was dragging about the floor. No arrests were made.

MYSTIC GLEE CLUB

Chorus and John Herrick Acclaimed

The Mystic Glee Club, a male chorus of 24 voices conducted by William Cruzer, with William Elmer as accompanist, opened its second season with a concert last Friday evening in the high school auditorium, presenting the following program: French, Psalm 130; Baldwin, arr. of The Sleigh; Moniuszko, The Cossack; The Reapers' Song (Bohemian Folk Song); Hammond, Lochmader; Group of College Songs; Bulard, Winter Song; Cornell, Alibi; Mater; Williams, Harvardiana; Hamilton, Lord Jeffrey Amherst; Vallee of Yale; Chiffonpoof Song; Chadwick, Pack Clouds Away; MacGillivray, Shadrack; and Maunder, Border Ballad. The guest soloist, John Herrick, acclamation, sang Lullaby, Boia Enais; Verdi, "Credo" from Otello; Muletto, Song of the Open Road; Sacco, Never the Nightingale; Quilter, When I-Elmer; and the Quilt; Shaw, Moon; and Elmer, Benick Warren, White Horses of the Sea. A friendly and most appreciative audience of good men and women, who were singing quite well enough to hold their own to their listeners. They deserve the support they seek from local music lovers, and if the response of their audience at the high school can be taken as an index, they will get their support in increasing measure.

The applause, hearty from the start, grew as the concert progressed until the final number. The second half of the program seemed to have more appeal than the first and enjoyed the wholehearted approval of the college group, Chadwick's delightfully melodic little song, the humorous "Shadrack" and Maunder's especially effective fashion. One should not, however, overlook the sprightly "Sleigh" of the first half, which the club managed commendably, nor The Cossack, which was as well sung as anything on the program, the men achieving a nicely sustained legato with a fine soft tone which retained its fidelity to pitch without the piano. A word of praise is also due the club for attempting a selection of the length and difficulty of Hammond's "Lochmader" without the aid of a piano. The performance of this number would very probably have been improved had the singers recourse to the words and music.

That it was not without them is a tribute to the club's alert faithfulness to rehearsals, willingness to work, and finally to Mr. Cruzer's leadership. Carl Wood, bass, and Stephen Harwood, tenor, contributed particularly to this selection with well sung incidental solos. Though the club shows an ever increasing ability to cope with the more difficult classical scores as evidenced by its performance of the opening Psalm, it is in the lighter music that it makes its greatest appeal. The audience warmly applauded the college songs which the men sang with real gusto and actually demanded an encore after "Shadrack" which was sung and "clowned" in a well done, characteristically sprightly negro style that was both tuneful and entertaining. The audience tried hard for a repeat, but Mr. Cruzer chose instead to do the popular "Shorty Bread" of last Spring's concert. When the applause continued, he sang with the club the novelty number, "Quiet," which was anything but quiet.

A commendable improvement was apparent in the club's performance Friday evening over its initial effort last Spring. The balance was better, and the chorus more responsive to its leader's requests for variation in tempo and volume. The lower voices still predominate, but the tenors sang with an improved quality that was generally agreeable and very praiseworthy in the Russian song by Moniuszko and Chadwick's "Pack Clouds Away."

In both these numbers the club showed increased ability to meet the test of music demanding restraint and expression.

Mr. Cruzer conducted with an easy authority that nevertheless kept his singers well in hand. He evidently means much to the chorus and his popularity with the audience evidenced itself in the applause that greeted his every appearance upon the platform. Mr. Elmer, too, as accompanist, made his contribution to the successful performance and after playing the showy treble of the four-hand accompaniment to the Reapers' Song, he called upon Mr. Cruzer to take a well deserved bow with the assisting pianist, Mrs. Althea Steele.

New Arrivals have brought to Winchester a finer voice than Mr. Herrick, nor one more artistically well. Even in scale from its highest to its lowest register, it is a voice of equal times equal to the demands of its owner, a voice that is well placed and of beautiful quality with no lack of timbre or virility. A manly voice in forthright manly fashion would well describe John Herrick's singing, and the songs he sang were well chosen, sufficiently varied and beautifully done. Equally at home in the somber "Credo" of the operatic villain lingo, the rollicking Song of the Open Road, and the flowing style of Shaw's "Moon" and the virile White Horses of the Sea, Mr. Herrick proved his musicianship by the ease with which he accommodated himself to this widely divergent music. The beauty of his high voice was especially apparent in Sacco's Never the Nightingale, which he sang with effortless ease, and the audience was

CHALLENGE FOR WINCHESTER

It is for such as these, snapped by the camera man in a Community Fund hospital, that the Greater Boston United War Fund will make its appeal for $7,000,000 from Jan. 22 to Feb. 11 ... (1) to maintain the day-by-day services of the 215 Community Fund hospitals, health and social service agencies which protect the people of Greater Boston; (2) to enable the American Red Cross to carry emergency aid to the fighting forces and war-devastated areas; (3) to provide recreation for men in uniform through the USO and the Soldiers and Sailors Committee.

Here in Winchester the number of people served last year by Community Fund agencies alone include:

128 ward admissions to hospitals
589 receiving other health services
211 having family service and relief
38 aged and handicapped
21 children
1,188 in neighborhood and youth centers

loth to part with him after his final number.

As an encore after his first group Mr. Herrick sang the unfamiliar "French Me Not of Musty Rules" from Comus by Dr. Arne. After his second group he sang with the Glee Club the ever popular "Stout Hearted Men" from the New Moon by Sigismund Romberg. In response to sustained applause, in which the Glee Club joined, he returned and sang to the club this time, Easthorne Martin's song "Ballad of the Home."

It is hard to avoid superlatives in writing of the accompaniments provided for Mr. Herrick by Earl Weidner. It must suffice to say they were always helpful, technically complete and brilliant without being obtrusive. After the final number of the second group Mr. Herrick graciously insisted that Mr. Weidner join him in acknowledging the applause which was obviously intended to include his playing.

Preceding the concert the club sang the "Star Spangled Banner," the audience standing and joining the chorists under Mr. Cruzer's direction.

Following are the officers and members of the Glee Club:
President: Roland B. Greeley
Secretary: John L. Turner
Treasurer: William Elmer

BOMB ON CLARK STREET

Last Friday evening a resident of Clark street called Policeman Lebert Elliott to her home to take away a bomb which one of her children had found in a neighboring rubbish pile. The bomb, according to the Police, was of the toy variety and quite harmless, but the mother of the child who found it maintained that another youngster living near by had been burned about the face when a similar bomb had exploded while he was playing with it.

EIGHT NEW RED CROSS INSTRUCTORS FOR FIRST AID CLASSES

When the call for help is sounded, Winchester is always prompt to respond—and last week was no exception. When the Red Cross announced that, due to the scarcity of First Aid Instructors in this part of the country, a special Executive was being sent on to conduct an intensive two-hour course for instructors, eight members of Sergeant Harold's advanced course were willing to carry the torch for Winchester.

Despite the sub zero weather, dangerous driving conditions, and the fact that the classes were conducted at the Waltham Hospital, the Winchester group completed the course with perfect attendance, and with ratings which were a great credit to Sergeant Harold's instructor.

The new Instructors are: Miss William R. Cole, Miss Emily E. Greene, Mrs. Charles J. Harwood, Mrs. Gordon May, Mrs. Alfred L. McKenzie, Mrs. Paul W. Walton, Mr. Frank Weaver, Mr. Edward B. Woodbury

We telephone people deserve some of the credit, no doubt — the way we've sold people on telephoning, all these years. But now success proves a boomerang... the War program service that champion talkers are a problem. You see, switchboards can handle only so much conversations at a time — and materials for building switchboards are on the priorities list!

If anyone had told us, a year ago, that we'd ever reach the point of suggesting that people cut down — No, we can't say it, even now! (Or have we?)

BOY SCOUTS

BOY SCOUT NOTES

Felland Council Boy Scout Exposition — 1942

Each year for a decade, Felland Council has conducted an Exposition during Boy Scout week, which enables the public to see for themselves the various agencies in co-ordinating their activities, and displays what Scouts are able to accomplish through demonstrations and practical showmanship. This year, the Exposition will be held in the Roberts Junior High School, in Medford. The date is Feb. 7, afternoon and evening.

The Roberts Junior High School is an ideal place for the Exposition. Booths on Cubbing, for the boys between the ages of 9 to 12, will take the whole of the gymnasium. Most of the other booths will be in the location of the present cafeteria. The pageantry and programming of the events, will take place in the auditorium of the school. There is plenty of parking space.

There is a very effective Committee at work on the many details connected with the performance of such a large undertaking involving the opportunity for display when Scouts are involved. For this is the number of registrations in Felland Council. Many Committee meetings have already been held, and many more will have to be held as the details become clear. The principle which will be displayed particularly on one of Scouting in all its details. From the Cub right through tenderfoot, second class, first class, various merit badges, and finally the Eagle, prize of all Boy Scouts.

For the third time, Mr. Lester Haddock has been drafted to handle the job. For he is who has the responsibility of being general chairman. It was Chairman Haddock's idea that Scouting in all its phases be the theme of the Exposition. By means of many, many displays, it is hoped to demonstrate effectively the whole evolution of a Boy Scout. Chairman Haddock has appointed additional Committee men as follows:

Decorations: Richard Fredericks.
Finance: Lucius Groves and Troop 4 Committee.
Floor: Captain Ralph A. Stevens.
Hall Arrangements: John Stevenson.
Program: Clarence L. Thompson.
Prizes and Awards: Dr. Roger F. Eitz.
Refreshments: George Neilson.
Special Features: Dr. Guy Sweeney.
Telecasts: Gilbert H. Tanpley and Troop 5 Committee.

SONS OF ITALY NOTES

The Winchester Men's Lodge had a busy December. On the 21st it held its annual Christmas party for children at the Lincoln School, at which 150 children were entertained with talking cartoons, a set of four tableaux depicting the Birth of Christ, and Santa Claus (ably enacted by Frank Battilo) who gave each child a gift together with a box of chocolates and a cluster of lollipops. After the refreshments were done with a happy group of youngsters racing home to open the gift given them by Santa.

On the 16th a testimonial banquet was tendered the Lodge's soft ball team. The team won the Winchester Soft Ball League championship for 1941, and quite a number was present at the Sons of Italy Hall. The boys were each presented with an initial automatic pencil as a gift from the Men's Lodge and the Ladies' Lodge gave each member of the team a monogrammed leather wallet. John A. Volpe, president of the Men's Lodge, acted as toastmaster.

At the 25th the Men's Lodge was represented at the district meeting of the Grand Council in Medford by Angelo T. Tofani, Venerable John A. Volpe, Fr. Angelo Mata, and Carmine Frongillo. This district is made up of the lodges in Medford, Malden, Arlington, Woburn and Winchester.

At meeting of the Supreme Council held in Philadelphia on Dec. 20, the new ritual and song which were made by Dr. A. L. Maletti were accepted and is to be used throughout the country as the standard ritual for the Order Sons of Italy in America.

MAPLE LEAF GROUP

In a letter from Mr. Coverdale, president of the Maple Leaf Fund, Inc., to Mrs. Holbrook Lowell, chairman of the Winchester Group, we are told that we must "Carry on our end, there is still great need for all that we can do. Some members may wish to devote all or part of their time to domestic relief, but in the name of suffering humanity, please do not relax your efforts."

Our slogan is therefore, "Carry on as Usual." Accompanying Mr. Coverdale's letter was the following message from the President's Committee on War Relief, Washington, D. C., dated Dec. 11.

The state of war now existing between the United States and the Axis countries does not alter the desirability of endeavoring to meet the urgent relief requirements of foreign countries associated with the United States in the war effort. Mr. Joseph E. Davies, Chairman of the President's Committee on War Relief Agencies, said this week. However, such efforts should not be duplicative or duplicate the program of the Red Cross or other American agencies in their domestic relief and welfare efforts. There should also be full cooperation with the Red Cross in its foreign relief activities and with the program of aid under Lend-Lease which, as announced by the President, is continuing.

Mr. Davies states that the Committee has received a large number of inquiries from foreign relief agencies as to whether their activities should be continued. It is the Committee's view that the American people will want not only to meet their own needs, but also to continue to help meet the urgent needs of countries associated with them in the common cause.

There has been much duplication of effort, Mr. Davies said, and the Committee has endeavored, with increasing success, to bring the support of the various agencies in co-ordinating their activities. Recent events intensify the need for complete co-ordination and the Committee requests that no foreign war relief agency undertake further activity without first consulting the Committee to assure that the assistance proposed is not already being rendered through the Red Cross, the Lend-Lease Administration, or other agency. It is the view of the Committee, according to Mr. Davies, that the responsibility for the elimination of duplication and waste should be undertaken on a voluntary basis by the relief agencies themselves in consultation with the Committee.

Mr. Davies also expressed the view of the Committee that, for the time being at least, foreign war relief funds for the armed forces should be kept distinct from domestic relief work, which is being carried on by the Red Cross, the United Service Organizations and other existing agencies. It was recommended in the Committee's report to the President that domestic relief and welfare activities for the armed forces should be centralized through the Red Cross and the United Service Organizations. Foreign relief agencies should therefore refrain from making appeals for domestic relief and should not attempt to combine domestic work with foreign activities.

VICTORY BOOK WEEK TO BE ENJOYED NEXT WEEK

What was your favorite book this year? Well somewhere in the armed forces of our country there is a young man whose tastes exactly coincide with yours—why not let him enjoy that good book of yours? How about it? The Victory Book Campaign, sponsored by the American Library Association, the American Red Cross and the United Service Organizations, asks ten million good books for U. S. O. houses, Army "Dayrooms," ships, naval bases, etc. Men on leave, in out hours, depend on the books they have placed in their U. S. O. house, for their leisure-time reading.

Miss Corinne Mead, Librarian of our Library, is General Director of the local committee, aided by Miss A. Natalie Jewett as general chairman and Mr. Cedric Seager as chairman of publicity. They have placed book collection boxes in the 14 most convenient locations in Winchester. If for any reason you are unable to deliver your books to the nearest box, please phone Rev. George Hale Reed, chairman of transportation, or Mrs. Gordon Mann, either of whom will make arrangements for the collection of your books.

P. S. Why don't you put your name and address in the box and the boys will be so interested to know "who gave what."

CIVILIAN DEFENSE BLACKOUT ORDER

In order to carry out the provisions of Governor Saltonstall's Executive Order No. 3, Chairman Harold S. Fuller has appointed the following blackout officials for Winchester: Director, James W. Blackham; Deputies, William J. Sparshatt, Jr., Marshall V. Symmes.

This is the Executive Order No. 3.

January 8, 1942

Whereas, I, LEVERETT SALTONSTALL, Governor of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, issued on the 29th day of December, 1941, with the advice and consent of the Council, a proclamation setting forth a state of emergency pursuant to the provisions of Acts of 1941, chapter 719, Part II, section 1 (a), and

Whereas, on the thirty-first day of December, 1941, by executive order No. 1, I confirmed the creation of the Massachusetts Committee on Public Safety made by me on August 23, 1940, and the appointment of its members heretofore made by me, and by virtue of said executive order No. 1, I conferred certain powers and duties on said committee; and

Whereas, while it is not now deemed necessary permanently to blackout all lights, but whereas the safety of life and property may from time to time depend upon a temporary, but complete, blackout:

Now, therefore, I, LEVERETT SALTONSTALL, Governor of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, acting under the provisions of said Acts of 1941, chapter 719, by virtue of the authority conferred upon me by the said act and of all other authority vested in me, do hereby issue this order for the purpose of making and promulgating orders, rules and regulations concerning blackouts and air raid alarms to take effect forthwith:

1) The signal for a blackout shall be the air raid alarm or the extinguishment of the street lights, whichever occurs first. The "all clear" signal shall be the signal for the end of the blackout.

2) Upon the signal for a blackout or at sunset, if that occurs during an air raid alarm, the occupants of all premises or parts of premises, public and private, shall extinguish all lights or darken the premises so that no light is visible from the outside.

3) The managers, superintendents or persons in control of hotels, apartments, office buildings and all other places of public occupancy and use shall extinguish all the lights, whether in public places or in tenants' rooms, on the signal for a blackout.

4) Lights may be left on in rooms which have previously been equipped for use during a blackout in such manner that no light whatsoever shall be visible from the outside. The windows and such other openings of rooms or places shall be covered with heavy draperies, curtains, heavy paper, board or black obscuration paint, so that no light may be visible from the outside. Skylights shall be specially obscured on the outside to prevent reflections and air raid alarms shall be specially protected from the inside to prevent injury from falling glass.

5) Provisions shall be made by occupants for the extinguishment, immediately on the giving of a blackout signal, of any lights left burning in premises not occupied at night.

6) All outside lights, including lights for work being done in the open, shall be extinguished immediately on the giving of the signal for a blackout.

7) All outside activity which involves fire, or in any way creates or displays a source of light, shall cease between sunset and sunrise and such fire or lights shall be extinguished unless arrangements are made by the person in control thereof satisfactory to the Massachusetts Committee on Public Safety, so that such fire or lights shall be extinguished immediately upon the giving of the signal for a blackout.

8) Hospitals, first aid stations and emergency posts shall be immediately equipped for blackout pursuant to instructions now or hereafter issued by the medical division of the Massachusetts Committee on Public Safety.

9) Smoking or lighting matches outdoors during a blackout is forbidden.

10) Flashlights of very low intensity and directed downward may be used. Recent tests and experience have shown that for any outside light white lights are preferable to blue lights of the same intensity.

11) Until further order, rule or regulation all illuminated signs, flood lighting, store window lighting or any other display lighting visible from the street shall be extinguished from sunset to sunrise, unless the owner or person in control thereof has made arrangements satisfactory to the Massachusetts Committee on Public Safety, whereby such lights shall be turned off immediately when the signal for a blackout is given.

12) No vehicle shall be operated on any street or way, public or private, after sunset and before sunrise, during a blackout, except an air raid alarm, except an emergency vehicle for which a special license shall have been granted by the Registrar of Motor Vehicles after the said vehicle has been inspected and approved for blackout operation by the Registrar of Motor Vehicles, and such inspection and approval by a sticker placed in a prominent position on the vehicle at the time of inspection and bearing the following inscription:

"Approved for Blackout Operation Massachusetts Committee on Public Safety"

Such vehicles so approved and so identified shall also display such other information as may be deemed necessary by the Massachusetts Committee on Public Safety for identification and authenticity. Arrangements to issue such special licenses, stickers, and other identification shall be made as soon as practicable by the Registrar of Motor Vehicles and by the Massachusetts Committee on Public Safety. Until such arrangements shall have been made, the police or military authorities shall have discretion to permit only such vehicles as they deem necessary for the services essential to civilian defense, or for the preservation of life and property, to operate with dimmed lights during a blackout or to operate after the giving of an air raid alarm.

The foregoing shall not apply to vehicles of the armed forces of the United States, to police vehicles, police vehicles, ambulances, or vehicles operated by the United States Post Office department, but such vehicles shall be equipped for blackout operation.

13) When the blackout signal is given, the operators of vehicles other than emergency vehicles and those specified in paragraph 12 above shall immediately cease the movement of their vehicles, and drive to the side of the road or curb at the first opportunity, and stop. The operators of vehicles shall extinguish the lights thereon and seek shelter if available. The operators of such vehicles shall not park at intersections, hydrants, police stations, fire stations, hospitals, emergency stations or other places specified by the Massachusetts Committee on Public Safety. If practical, the operators of such vehicles shall drive the same entirely off the traveled portions of the road or highway. Vehicles already parked at the curb, in parking places or garages shall be left where they are unless ordered or permitted to be moved by the police or military authorities.

14) The operating management of railroads shall arrange for movement of railroad traffic during a blackout, complying in so far as practical with the orders and regulations herein set forth, or in such other manner as may be approved by the Massachusetts Committee on Public Safety. Railroad stations, buildings and other railroad structures shall be governed by the orders, rules and regulations covering buildings as herein set forth, subject to such modifications as are deemed necessary, and may be approved by the Massachusetts Committee on Public Safety.

15) When the signal for a blackout is given, all street lighting shall be extinguished as rapidly as possible without interrupting the electric, gas, water, fire power and other similar services supplied to the locality.

16) When the signal for a blackout is given, all traffic signals, fixed and approved by the Massachusetts Department of Public Works, shall be extinguished.

17) The intensity of all fire and police signal lights shall be reduced as far as practicable and such lights shall be shielded in such a manner that no light is visible above the horizontal.

18) The authority under which work is being done on any street or highway or other outside place shall protect any excavation or obstruction made in connection therewith, with an adequate white marker, properly shielded lights or a watchman.

19) The Massachusetts Committee on Public Safety shall, subject to my approval, make such additional rules and regulations for blackouts and air raid warnings as may be necessary to effect the proper and immediate compliance with the orders, rules and regulations herein set forth.

20) The Massachusetts Committee on Public Safety may authorize a reasonable variation from the orders, rules and regulations herein set forth whenever in its opinion the public welfare, safety or convenience may be promoted thereby.

Given at the Executive Chamber in Boston, this eighth day of January, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and forty-two, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and sixty-sixth.

EN KA STREET FAIR COMING

Get out your calendar. Jot down May 23 as the date of the eighth annual En Ka Street Fair. To coin our own word, En Ka will stage a "Fun-fair" under the capable direction of Mrs. Thomas M. Righter, Jr., chairman of the Ways and Means Committee.

A manager's meeting was held at Mrs. Righter's home and preliminary plans are now in full swing. This year the Town Hall grounds will be transformed into scenes from Nursery rhyme books and fun and frolic will be the order of the day. The booths, bright with color and design, will be named for appropriate nursery story characters. Both managers and their able assistants complete the picture dressed in costumes portraying the Mother Goose family.

Mrs. Righter's general committee consists of Mrs. Vincent Clarke, Mrs. C. G. Perce, Jr., Mrs. Alvin M. Litchfield, Mrs. Leslie A. Tucker, and Mrs. Vaughan Harmon.

Mrs. Warren Shoemaker is in charge of the prize drawing, since December and better this year. $500 Treasure Chest! $100 Defense Bond! Two passes to Winchester Theatre for one year, each week! One baby stroller for one year at Mary Spaulding's Book Shop!

Miss Dorothy Hall and her committee have been sewing since December making attractive aprons, luncheon sets, dirndl skirts, and many more fascinating gifts. Her booth will be called Curly socks but her committee has much to do besides "sit on a cushion and sew a time."

BRITISH WAR RELIEF

Winchester Unit

Are you eye-minded? Will a movie picture of a real fire and real fighters fighting them make you suffer what to do when Hitler's bombers start in to see whether New England's nerves are as stout and steady as the nerves of Old England? If so, you will have a chance next Wednesday, Jan. 21, at 12 o'clock, to see such a picture at the monthly Dutch treat luncheon of the Greater Boston British War Relief Society at the Statler Hotel. The picture was made as a horrifying and thrilling spectacle by a film company expert in pointing up and heightening drama; it was made by the British government to make people better prepared to do the right thing in the right way with split-second promptness if their city or village is chosen for attack by the fury of Axis war-lords.

The speaker accompanying the film will be a member of the London Fire Force, Mr. Edgar L. Kirby. He has been through more than 300 air attacks that Hitler has launched against Britain. He will speak expertly and practically.

The meeting will be interesting to anyone, not just to those who are taking responsibility for our protection against fire when air war comes our way.

W. C. T. U. HEALTH DEPT.

From "Women Torchbearers"

Its methods include the extensive use of well-chosen literature, health lectures, health demonstrations, the use of the public press for the dissemination of the truths of health, and health meetings held in the local unions throughout the land. It stresses the various features of public hygiene, personal hygiene, and mental hygiene, as general and local conditions demand. Its principles are indicated in the following physical decaulog:

1. Thou shalt eat for health. Thou shalt not stuff thy stomach.
2. Thou shalt drink plenty of pure water. Most men eat too much, but drink too little.
3. Thou shalt work, but thou shalt not overwork.
4. Thou shalt obtain sufficient sleep, but thou shalt not be found a sluggard.
5. Thou shalt recreate, but thou shalt not dissipate.
6. Thou shalt dress healthfully; thy body shall be well protected, but no part exposed.
7. Thou shalt practice deep breathing, for thy lungs are thy body's ventilators.
8. Thou shalt bathe frequently, for thus thou keepest active the million pores of thy skin.
9. Thou shalt covet the sunshine. It is God's great life-giving force.
10. Thou shalt not worry, for the paths of worry lead but to the grave.

In 1917, for the first time in its history, Harvard University gave graduates and undergraduates during Commencement Week, freedom from champagne and cocktails. This patriotic act made strong sentiment for the protection of the boys in camp. Other colleges took similar action.

It is said that about a third of our population suffer from malnutrition. It is God's great life-giving force. He has anything to do with it, and the false ideas the brewers are stressing that "beer is food?" It is—poisonous food!

FREDERICK WILLIAM ASELTINE

Frederick William Aseltine of 7 Cabot street, president of the Hill Welch Furniture Company of Lynn, and a widely known resident of Winchester for more than 30 years, died suddenly Monday, Jan. 19, of an acute heart attack, while attending a furniture convention in New York.

Mr. Aseltine was the son of William Henry, and Eliza Jane (Chadwick) Aseltine. He was born March 24, 1879 in Kingston, Ont., was educated in the public schools there and at Limestone Business College in Kingston.

In 1901 he entered the furniture business, joining the furniture department of R. H. White Company in Boston. The next year he went to New York to become associated with the furniture department of R. H. Macy & Company where he remained until 1904.

At that time he returned to Boston and was associated with the Paine Furniture Company until 1922 when he became president of the Hill Welch Furniture Company in Lynn, a position he held until his death.

Mr. Aseltine was widely known in furniture circles. He was a director of the National Retail Furniture Association and the General Furniture Association, and an officer of the New England Retail Furniture Association and vice president of the Home Furnishings Association of Massachusetts. In Lynn he was a director of the Chamber of Commerce, a member and past president of the Lions Club, and prominent in Red Cross and community fund activities. He also served on the board of trustees of the Forest Hills General Hospital, was a member of Mystic Valley Lodge, A. O. U. W., and of the Winchester, a member of the former Calumet Club, taking an active part in club affairs in the days when the club was the social center of the town. As a young man he pitched on several semi-professional baseball teams and he retained his keen interest in the game throughout his lifetime. Fishing was another sport in which he took an active interest, and he was a regular attendant at the Fishermen's Sunday School held at the First Congregational Church. He came to Winchester about 33 years ago, and had since made his home here.

On April 12, 1933, Mr. Aseltine married Grace B. Moore, who survives, with a son, F. William Aseltine, Jr., three daughters, Mrs. Herbert Todd Wadsworth of Winchester, Mrs. Norman William Strickland of Waban and Mrs. Frederick W. Watts, Jr., of Boston; two grandchildren, Suzanne Grace Wadsworth and Norman William Strickland, Jr.; a sister, Mrs. Alfred Smith of Ontario; and three brothers, Alverton H. A Tribute
The passing of Fred Aseltine will sadden all who knew his friendly, vital personality, who had felt the hearty grasp of his hand and warmed to his cheery smile. Devoted to his family and occupied with business cares, he was never too busy to be of service, his kindness and willingness to assist, with his happy disposition, endearing him to all with whom he came in contact. To all, we will be long remembered by those with whom he shared his evident joy in life.

Mr. Baldwin, who recently completed a three-year term as a member of the Board, was re-elected without opposition.

The election took place at the annual meeting of the Club, held in its clubrooms at the Boston Garden Club, unlike many private clubs at the present time, finished its fiscal year in excellent financial shape with a substantial balance of cash on hand. WAKEFIELD HERE TONIGHT
Wakefield meets Wakefield tonight on its home floor in a Middlesex League basketball game that will break the third place tie in which the locals and the visitors are now involved. Each school has won one and lost two.

A defeat for either will just about put the loser out of the championship running so both will go "all out" for this one, and both are better than their record.

Wakefield, contained by its all around star, Larry Bartnick, has a veteran lineup in Bartnick, all league forward last year, Don Fletcher, regular guard, Henry O'Neil, center, and Joe Sardella, forward, both letter players, and John Smith, a second team player.

Coaching the visitors is Lucien Colucci, Medford High and Amherst graduate, who has replaced Homer Shellenberger, now in the Navy. Colucci played regular forward on the first basketball team coached by Ted Bartlett, Winchester mentor, at Kents Hill in 1932, a team incidentally that won the State tourney at University of Maine.

Naturally each coach will be gunning for the other, and "Bart's" chances for a win haven't been better by the probability that Bert Callanan, veteran guard, won't be able to play because of Grippe.

WINCHESTER WON FROM READING

Took First League Victory, 33-22

Winchester High won its first Middlesex League game of the current season last Friday evening at Reading, defeating Reading High, 33-22. The Winchester seconds won their preliminary game, 25-13.

The going was close the first quarter but Winchester held the edge, 7-5, and led at the half, 18-13. The second half was all Winchester with the local boys running up their five point half time lead to 11 points at the final gun.

Pete Provinzano again paced the scorers with six floor goals and a foul basket for 13 points. Fitzgerald of Reading was only a single basket behind Peter, having 11 points. Anderson, Reading center, had 10, and Bert Callanan, local guard, seven.

The floor of the Reading gymnasium was very slippery and the local players seemed more affected by the treacherous footing than the home club.

Jack Errico led both teams in the second team game, tossing six goals from scrimmage for 12 points.

SENDS REGARDS TO OLD FRIENDS

We received our annual letter this week from Robert J. McGuinity of Grand Blanc, Mich. "Bob", who is well remembered by many old-timers, always writes when he renews his Star subscription, and again asks us to pass on his best regards to his old friends. He has worked for many years in the Pontiac plant, and writes that he is now waiting the changing over of this plant for defense production, as no more cars will be made after Jan. 31. Some idea of the size of a new tank plant being built near "Bob's" home can be imagined when he writes it would reach from the corner to Swanton street across Black Ball Pond (now Shore road field) to Washington street. He asks the Star to tell his friends that he cannot say at this time when he will make his customary visit to Winchester in the spring or not.

Billfolda at the Star Office.

WINCHESTER LED BY THE COUNTRY CLUB IN CURLING FINAL

In one of the most spectacular curling matches seen hereabouts in many a day The Country Club's No. 1 rink, skipped by Lucius Hill, nosed out the Winchester Country Club's No. 1 rink, skipped by C. F. LeRoy, 14-13, in the Worcester Cup final Tuesday evening at The Country Club.

Curling devotees, of whom there was a goodly number present, were kept at a high pitch of excitement throughout the match which saw the lead see-saw back and forth, first Winchester leading, and then The Country Club being in the van.

The rinks curled 14 ends and at the 10th end Winchester picked up four points to take the lead. The Country Club soon evened the count and going into the 14th end the rinks were tied at 13 all. The finish was to the high degree spectacular, involving two corking shots, one of which was successful and the other just missing.

On his last stone Lucius Hill made a marvelous shot, drawing through a port in front of the house to the button on an out-turn. Winchester skip, "Charley" LeRoy, Winchester skip, had only one shot possible on his last stone, a tricky out-turn through a port to win his own stone and come to his opponent's stone on the button. "Charley" made a great try, missing the difficult shot by only a fraction of an inch and thereby losing the match instead of winning it.

Winchester was, however, great in defeat, the local curlers showing fine form and the sweaters sweating beautifully. The ice was fast and had a tremendous "bend".

In the big gallery that warmly applauded both rinks were Mr. and Mrs. Harold V. Farnsworth and their daughter, Mrs. Percy Goodale; James Spring, skip of the Boston Curling Club, E. Y. Neill and Robert F. "Bob" Guild, Winchester members of the Boston Curling Club. Before the match the Winchester curlers and The Country Club rink were dinner guests of Lucius Hill at the Country Club. Following is the match summary:

BELMONT GIRLS TRIPPED WINCHESTER

Winchester High girls' basketball team lost a close and exciting game to the Belmont High girls' team, 13-9, in a game played at Belmont, 13-9. Winchester High seconds outclassed the Belmont seconds, 26-10.

The varsity game was close all the way and very fast. Belmont led at the quarter, 3-2 and had a 7-4 advantage at half time. At the end of the third quarter, however, the winners had extended their lead a bit, the score being 9-5.

Belmont presented an especially strong defense, holding Winchester to but two goals from the floor. The locals were without Shirley Falson, high scorer against Lexington, and her absence from the lineup undoubtedly hurt their chances.

Miss Millan, Belmont's starting center forward, had to retire from the game during the first quarter when she landed hard on her ankle after a shot at the basket and sustained a bad sprain.

"Eddie" Dwyer paced the victorious second team against Belmont, cageing five floor goals for 10 points to head the scoring parade of the afternoon.

PLACED IN TRI MEET

Elbert Smith, former Winchester High tennis player who has been showing plenty of promise as a track performer since making his debut at the annual meet, finished third behind Al Hillman, sensational Bowdoin sophomore, and Bill Carroll, veteran Northeastern runner in the mile run at the triangular meet among Bates Bowdoin and Northeastern last Saturday at Lewiston, Me. The time was 4:40.32. Smith was a Bates dependable last fall in cross country and a year ago ran middle distances on the Bobcat freshman track team.

WINTON CLUB

Rehearsals are now well under way at the Country Club for the annual Winton Club show, the traditional big social event of Winchester society. In spite of having had less than two weeks of training, the large group of enthusiastic amateurs is already amazingly well grouped in the latest dance steps and newest popular tunes. The show this year will be almost exclusively dancing and singing, in one or two novelty comedy sketches, all directed by Mr. Emerson Stiles, in close co-operation with this year's Chairman, Mrs. Irving Jennings. Mrs. Jennings has been closely allied with former productions of the Winton Club, and thus knows intimately every working detail so necessary for the success of an amateur show.

We are particularly fortunate this year in having the services of the Mystic Glee Club, an organization of men already well known in Winchester for the last two years. Their performance at the High School this winter was a memorable experience to all who heard them. Hor. Chase and their admirers will be delighted to hear that they will once again present the popular "Shadrack".

The peppy group, last-topping tappers, most of whom are familiar to Winton Club patrons are cast in two novelty tap numbers. Members of this popular group are Hor. Chase, Ruth Burdick, Ruth Delcker, Virginia Dickey, Dorothy Ghirardini, Betty Mitchell, Priscilla Neill and Kiki Sullivan.

Winton Club is never complete without its drill—and this year we have one, but it is a little more than a drill, for the girls are going to improve it with a few extra dancing steps. The number is called "A Hunting We Will Go," and the girls will be very gay and dashing in their colorful riding habits.

There are two "boy and girl" numbers—one called the "Rose in His Lapel" to be executed by Barbara Bonve, Ruth Burdick, Hor. Chase, Willard Grush, Priscilla Danforth, Leonard Lawson, William Burr, Edith Flynn, Roger Flynn, Edna Ryan, David Bonney, Bonney Wilson, Ray Manger, Mary Worthen, and John Plummer. The Barn Dance, which will bring back nostalgic memories to many of the audience, is also slated to fill the hall with laughter and gaiety and provide an entertaining surprise at its completion. Those taking part in the Barn Dance are: Hor. Chase, Willard Grush, Priscilla Danforth, Leonard Lawson, William Burr, Edith Flynn, Roger Flynn, Edna Ryan, David Bonney, Bonney Wilson, Ray Manger, Mary Worthen, and John Plummer.

"We Gotta Have Music" is the plea of this group of girls, and the girls are: Barbara Bond, Priscilla Danforth, Edith Flynn, Dorothy Puffer, Marjorie Rice, Jane Wilson, and Mary Worthen.

While all this rehearsing is transpiring, smooth-running committees have been filled and are being coached in their duties, too. One not part of the show is the committee of Aggie Vendors. For Friday night, Anne Cole and Priscilla Plagg will hawk their wares, and on Saturday night, Mary Worthen and Edna Ryan will provide smokes for the audience. High School boys who will usher in the balcony are Neil Clark, John Easton, and John Symmes, and John Tarbell, Jr.

The Company commissioned officers shot the full 30 shots in the indoor qualification course and 1st Lieutenant Kingman Cas of Winchester qualified for sharp shooter's rating.

Student Council Takes Over Waste Paper Project

With an informative message to each home room group by the Home Room Representative for Thursday, Jan. 22, the Student Council formally and in a business-like manner assumed responsibility for the successful conduct of the Waste Paper Campaign inaugurated a special assembly before Christmas.

The purposes of the campaign will remain the same:
1. To collect paper which is necessary to national defense and to prevent future paper shortages.
2. To raise money for the school band.

The plan of the Student Council is as follows:
1. Each room undertakes to fill a daily and a weekly quota ranging from 100 to 180 pounds of paper per week, depending on the size of the home room.

2. All paper will be taken care of by home room student checkers.
3. A volunteer motor corps of students who have cars available will make collections of any large supplies of paper whenever notified.
4. The success of this campaign will depend largely on voluntary work. The committee in charge of the campaign will appreciate any help from the townspeople who may have supplies of waste paper to dispose of. A phone call, Win. 0649, to the Waste Paper committee will bring a car to any address in town with volunteer student collectors.

With 14 out of 21 home rooms banking 100 net over the high school students deposited $161.62 to their savings account on Tuesday, Jan. 20. All but 13 students in the school made a deposit.

BELMONT SET BACK WINCHESTER

Belmont High gave Winchester its second setback in three Middlesex League starts Tuesday afternoon in the local gymnasium, 30-20. Winchester seconds won the preliminary game, 31-16.

Winchester's inability to shoot effectively lost the ball game, the local boys making only five of 47 shots at the hoop effective. Pete Provinzano got four of the five local floor goals and sank three additional baskets from scrimmage while bringing a car to any address in town with volunteer student collectors.

Belmont had a 6-3 advantage at the quarter and a 12-7 lead at the half, extending its margin as the game progressed.
Coach Bartlett was disappointed at his charges' shooting. The locals had an effective offense which was constantly working the ball in scoring position, but the local boys just couldn't make their shots count.

BATTLE MAP OF THE PACIFIC

Latest Effort by Ernest Dudley Chase Very Timely

The Star acknowledges with sincere thanks the receipt of a hand-drawn "Battle Map of the Pacific," the work of Mr. Ernest Dudley Chase of Lakeview terrace, president of the Rustrack Greeting Card Company, who is also an artist by vocation and an accomplished photographer and all around good citizen.

Mr. Chase's latest artistic effort is fully in keeping with the other fine maps he has produced and is especially timely with all eyes focussed anxiously on the efforts of the Allies to turn the tide of the Japanese in the Pacific.

The map is 19x25, printed on India stock and similar to the maps of Winchester, with which Mr. Chase has around the corner of the Rustrack Greeting Card Company, who is also an artist by vocation and an accomplished photographer and all around good citizen.

The map is so drawn as to make apparent the great distances the United States has to dispatch its armed forces to its Pacific bases and gives new significance to names and date lines now figuring in the far eastern news. The Star is particularly happy to have it.

NEW HIGH SCHOOL TEACHER POSSESSES UNUSUAL BACKGROUND

Miss Helen Skornik, recently appointed to teach Miss Florence E. White of the High School Commercial Department, brings to her new position not only excellent preparation and a wealth of experience, but an extremely unusual background.

Miss Skornik was born in Lawrence, when she was only a year old she went with her mother to Europe. That was in 1914, and the World War caught up with them in Lithuania.

Before the then-advancing German Army, they fled into Russia as far as Minsk, only to have the German Army, overrun the country. Mrs. Skornik and her daughter lived under German occupation until the peace treaty between the two countries was finally signed.

Miss Skornik retains some vague recollections of the Russian Revolution which followed the War. A boundary dispute between Russia and Poland prevented Mr. Skornik from returning for the return of his family to America. And it wasn't until 1922 that they were able to return to this country.

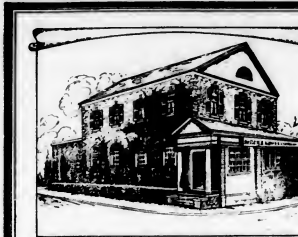

At the age of 9, unable to speak English, Helen Skornik started in the first grade. Her educational progress was rapid and exceptional. She graduated from Salem High School and the State Teacher's College at Storrs, Conn. in addition to considerable teaching in public evening schools.

Miss Skornik possesses a pleasant friendly personality, is an excellent teacher and a keen student of public school education.

HOW TO PROTECT ANIMALS IN RAIDS

General Directions for Care of Animals

1. Keep calm. Panic may be fatal to you and your animal.
2. Keep animals under control. This is the owner's responsibility.
3. Observe strictly all fire prevention orders.
4. Learn to use first-aid on injured animals.
5. Handle carefully when in great pain. Use heavy gauntlet gloves or wrap in a blanket so that the animal cannot bite. Keep face away from injured animal's head.
6. Handle gently when bones are broken. Keep animal on uninjured side and improvise splints.
7. Stop bleeding by pressure. Use a snug bandage or a tourniquet. Do not leave a tourniquet on for more than 20 minutes at a time.
8. Treat burns promptly. Cover with tannic acid jelly or strong cold tea.
9. Do not probe for deeply imbedded foreign bodies.
10. After the all-clear signal, when the occasion warrants consult your veterinarian.

Control of Horses on the Streets

1. Keep your horse under control.
2. When an air raid alarm sounds drive to the right-hand curb or to an empty lot.
3. Set the brakes of your vehicle.
4. Look the front and rear wheels with chain or strong ropes.
5. Unbitch your horse.
6. Tie the horse securely to rear of your vehicle, using nine-foot tie-rope snapped around neck and through hitching post.
7. Tie rope should be enough to permit head to reach the ground.
8. Leave bit in horse's mouth.
9. Put on feed bag containing grain.

Tying horses to police and fire-signal boxes, hydrants, lamp-posts, traffic signs, etc., is strictly prohibited.

Control of Horses in the Stables

1. Be prepared for proper action against fires, particularly from incendiary bombs.
2. Use quick release devices to insure rapid evacuation of horses and cattle from a burning building.
3. Keep runways clear of all vehicles and other obstructions.
4. Blindfold horses during the emergency.
5. Observe all instructions issued by wardens of the Public Safety Committee. Have pails of water and sand always in readiness. Keep surplus straw and grain off the stable floor.
6. Provide for day and night watchmen, well-drilled in precautionary measures, to be on duty at all times.
7. Away from cities, during raids, horses and cattle should be kept in open fields, weather permitting. For winter, if possible, an open corral with shed accommodations should be provided for the use of animals accustomed to being continually housed.

Dogs

Note—Dogs will not be permitted in public air-raid shelters.

1. License or identification tags should be worn at all times—license tags are best.
2. Keep all dogs under strict control—this means yard dogs chained; and house dogs confined to one room.
3. Do not under any circumstances turn dogs loose.

Exercise your dog near home.

4. Take dogs with you to private shelters—in basement or wherever shelter is located.
5. Keep dogs restrained by a leash. This will protect your dog.
6. Keep drinking water available.
7. Provide a small supply of prepared food for emergency feeding.
8. Treatment of dogs for fear: mild cases, use sodium bromide. (Small dogs two grains; medium-sized dogs five grains; large dogs 10-15 grains.) Repeat dose if not quiet within an hour or two.
9. Severe cases, use nematicidal capsules. Dosage, one capsule to each eight pounds of body weight will induce sleep if given on empty stomach. Nematicidal may be obtained through a prescription from your veterinarian.

Cats

Note—Cats will not be permitted in public air-raid shelters: 1. Use collar and harnesses with identification plates, not only during air raids, but during the war emergency.

2. Confine cats to one room and do not permit to wander. They are timid and grow panicky when any unusual noise occurs.
3. If cat collars are out of reach, seek safety, and after "all clear" signal, contact local animal welfare organization.

Treatment in mild cases of fear, a one and one-half grain tablet of anyval given by mouth to an eight-pound cat will induce sleep and take.

4. Take cats with you to private shelters—in basement or wherever shelter is located.
5. Provide sturdy baskets or carriers for cats. Do this also for dogs.
6. Meet sanitary needs by a box of ashes, sand, sawdust, earth or cut-up newspapers.
7. Keep drinking water available.
8. Provide small supply of canned meat or fish for emergency feeding.

Caged Birds

1. Provide small wooden box cage for canaries. For parrots and other large birds, use sturdy wicker basket of proportionate size.
2. Remove to safest room in building.
3. Cover cage.
4. Particular attention should be given to properly ventilated coverings for protection from weather extremes.

ESPIONAGE AND COUNTER-ESPIONAGE

The Parish Players of the First Congregational Church will present the famous melodrama, "The Man Who Stayed at Home," by Lechmere Worrall and J. E. Harold Terry, in the Little Theatre Beneath a Spire on Friday and Saturday evenings, Feb. 6 and 7. This is the premiere of this thrilling play of the British Secret Service versus the Nazi Espionage agents. It takes place at a seaside resort on the south coast of England. The emotional tension runs high as the plot deals with German submarines, dive bombers, and Nazi spies. The leading role is that of an agent in the British Intelligence Service. He cannot divulge his identity and this adds complications and misunderstandings, even between himself and his fiancée, which are not cleaned up till the drop of the final curtain. It is a realistic picture of England at war, but nevertheless full of delightful comedy mixed in with thrills.

This play, in its revised version, will shortly be produced on Broadway. They are told by competent authorities. There is every indication that it will run the gamut of the summer theatres. It is of universal appeal, and any one who has not seen it must not miss this opportunity to see it, and those who have seen the old version will surely want to see the new.

CUB PACK 3 HOBBY NIGHT COMPLETE SUCCESS

From the invocation by Dr. Chidley at 7 o'clock sharp until lights out at 8:30, 60 Cubs with nearly as many parents and friends enjoyed the "Hobby Night" of Pack 3 at the First Congregational Church with something doing every minute.

Mr. Harold Aler, director of public safety and head of Civilian Defense in Winchester, opened with a few words of advice on how the Cubs could help their parents and teachers, and smaller brothers and sisters, when and if a blackout or air-raid might come. He also suggested that they continue to collect papers, magazines and other waste materials needed for defense purposes. That the boys understood his advice was manifest from the many earnest and busy hands that were put to work on the tables.

Mr. Fuller, Cubmaster, turned a note to this theme by suggesting that the boys bring as many books as possible to their den mothers which could be sent to the libraries that are being made available for the soldiers and sailors.

At this point the boys were temporarily dismissed to visit the display tables where hobby crafts were on display. These included many finely carved images, plaques, and other items of interest. The boys were then asked to bring as many books as possible to their den mothers which could be sent to the libraries that are being made available for the soldiers and sailors.

After the boys had been seated again, Cub Chairman Marshall R. Phil introduced as the special hobby guest of the evening Mr. John Black, director of Industrial Arts in Water, town, and President of the Model Yacht Racing Association of America.

Mr. Black, who is a member of the Budget Bureau and a member of the United War Fund, spoke of the importance of the hobby crafts in the war effort.

UNITED WAR FUND NEEDS SUPPORT

Recognizing that the success of the United War Fund Campaign is vital to the community and the nation, all churches in Winchester observed United War Fund Sunday on Jan. 18. In the sermon at each of the churches a plea was made for support of the United War Fund by the citizens of Winchester.

Through the assistance of the Winchester Boy Scouts, pamphlets telling the reasons why we must all give to the United War Fund were distributed to the congregations. Additional copies of this pamphlet are available at the Winchester headquarters in the Locatelli Building.

"Winchester's Committee of the Greater Boston United War Fund, is now over 100 percent enrolled," stated Francis A. Barrett, chairman, as the United War Fund Campaign began. "Members of the Winchester group which now totals over 670 people will call at every Winchester residence during the period Jan. 22 to Feb. 11 to ask for generous contribution to the United War Fund."

The quota for Winchester is $51,000, a substantial increase over last year necessitated by the addition of the war needs of the American Red Cross, the United Service Organizations, and the Greater Boston Committee for Soldiers and Sailors. To the regular Community Fund to reach Winchester's quota of $51,000, all Winchester families must realize that the United War Fund gives us an opportunity as an individual to meet the great challenging responsibilities that war brings to all of us.

Giving dollars to the United War Fund is our chance to strike a powerful blow for victory. To give as usual will not be enough to meet the quota of $51,000 that the Greater Boston United War Fund is counting upon Winchester to contribute.

SEVEN REASONS WHY...

Community Fund Agencies in the Greater Boston United War Fund Need Your Generous Support in 1942

Hospitals must be maintained in war time at peak efficiency in case of disaster or epidemic.

The community's health must be held at highest level to withstand economic and emotional strain of the times.

Settlements in crowded districts are more than ever needed as a refuge to whole families seeking release from tension.

Family agencies have more calls for aid than in many years. Temporary help and counsel will be increasingly needed during 1942, owing to change and adjustment in jobs.

Boys' and girls' work must be relaxed in wartime, lest Britain's mistake which resulted in alarmingly increased delinquency be repeated.

Day nurseries, already full, are turning away children whose mothers must work.

Handicapped and crippled must still be given a chance to earn their living—trained, if possible, for defense production.

A. R. P. SCHOOL LEARNED OF INCENDIARIES AND BLACKOUTS

Despite Monday evening's heavy storm the Lincoln School was crowded for the regular session of the A. R. P. School in which there are now over 300 enrolled. Samuel M. Graves conducted the session, Mrs. T. Grafton Abbott, director of the Women's School making an announcement of interest to her members.

Lecturers were James W. Blackham who spoke on "Blackouts" and Donald Kitchen who spoke on "Incendiary Bombs."

In his introduction Mr. Blackham explained that the term "blackout" is often misunderstood as being a temporary darkening of lights when an air raid is momentarily expected and the signals have been given. It is a constant condition which must be in effect from sunset to sunrise, every night, just as long as the enemy has a base, or bases within bombing range.

The purpose of a blackout is to hamper the bomber pilots as much as possible in locating the objectives which they are trying to bomb. To achieve a blackout must be complete over large areas, since the light from one electric light bulb can be seen from a plane 15 miles and the normal illumination of a city for over 100 miles, which can be covered in a plane in about 20 minutes.

To illustrate the necessity for having no light at all, Mr. Blackham told how after repeatedly failing to damage Sandhurst Royal Military College, the West Point of England, Germany, the Luftwaffe was able to score a hit on one of the dormitories where carelessness had left a light on in a single room with the curtain pulled back, causing damage and the loss of several lives resulted.

Blackout regulations will cause inconvenience, expense and some sacrifice, but it is the only necessary way to minimize as far as possible destruction of life and property from air raids. Civilian Defense authorities believe that citizens should co-operate in every way to make blackouts effective, and those in charge of local Civilian Defense agencies are confident the citizens of Winchester will be no exception.

Mr. Blackham covered the subject of blackouts completely, enumerating what should be done out for effective protection from air raids and enumerating in detail how best to make dwellings and other buildings conform with the strict Defense requirements. Insofar as possible he advised his hearers to use their ingenuity and materials on hand for blackout purposes, giving many helpful hints as to how best to make a building safe from the possibility of assisting an enemy air man to locate an important target.

Following the lecture, Mr. Kitchen discussed incendiary bombing completely, stating that most authorities agree that this type of bombing is the most likely to be encountered here.

High explosive bombs are very heavy and cannot be carried as long distances as the light incendiaries which weigh about four pounds.

Describing their appearance, chemistry and reaction, Mr. Kitchen warned that a dwelling is proof against bombing so everyone, air raid wardens and civilians should know something about bombs and how to handle them.

Mr. Kitchen also discussed incendiary bombs and garden hose with spray nozzles in combating incendiaries and told of the necessity of riding high during air raids, since incendiary bombs are often dropped from high altitudes. Knowledge of bombs, their action and how to combat them goes far to prevent panic during air raids which is always more dangerous than the explosives.

At the conclusion of Mr. Kitchen's address a lively discussion took place, in which the instructor and members of the audience joined. Chairman Reveley H. B. Smith of the Protection Division finally terminated the discussion with the announcement that on Feb. 2 a film would be shown at the school emphasizing and substantiating the points made by Mr. Kitchen during his lecture.

POLICE AID DEFENSE

Sergeant Joseph Derro, treasurer of the Greater Boston United War Fund, announced, bought for the Association last Friday, five $1,000 Defense Bonds, from Assistant Treasurer Ralph W. Hatch of the Winchester Savings Bank.

CAR SKIDDED OVER EMBANKMENT AT GINN FIELD

Passing motorists notified the Police last Saturday night that a car was abandoned near the Bacon street exit of Ginn's Field. Sergeant Joseph Derro and Officer Jones, Hanton went to investigate and found a Chrysler sedan which had apparently skidded from the road and slid down the embankment onto the field.

While they were examining the car the owner, George L. Connolly of 15 Oakland avenue, Arlington, arrived and corroborated the officers' opinion, stating that he had been driving south when his car skidded over the embankment.

It was impossible to get the car up the incline on its own power and the services of a wrecker were needed to get it out onto Bacon street. Sergeant Derro refused to permit Connolly to drive the machine to Headquarters, taking it there himself. The car was held at Headquarters until Connolly's son arrived to drive it home.

TWENTY-NINE GIRL SCOUTS TAKING FIRST AID

Twenty-nine Girl Scouts are working hard for their Junior Red Cross Certificate at the Recreation Center every Monday. Mrs. Theresa Mann is the instructor, and she reports that the girls are very earnest and enthusiastic about the course.

Representatives of the Girl Scouts are from Captain Oliver's troop: Betty Engstrom, Ruth Marie McCarthy, Virginia Oliver, Anne Pennington, Barbara Smith, Anne Swidler, Anne Thompson, Suzanne Wolf.

Twenty-nine members are from the eighth grade of Captain Symmes Elementary School: Dorothy Byrd, Marilyn Campbell, Dorothy G. Dyer, Patricia Eberle, Jennie Lou Eberle, Norma Farrar, Marjorie Johnston, Lillian Lillian, McGrail, Eleanor Partridge, Jane Raine, Anna Rallo, Patricia Recoal, Joan Robinson, Patricia Root, Marjorie Tabor, Myrna Zamanakos, Janet Zinn.

FIRE FIGHTING DEMONSTRATION NEXT WEEK'S A. R. P. SCHOOL

Chairman Reveley H. B. Smith of the Protection Division of the Civilian Defense Committee announced that at Monday's session of the A. R. P. School at the Lincoln School there will be a demonstration of fire extinguishers as a description of various type of fire extinguishing given by the Winchester Fire Department. Chief Fire Marshal Lillian McGrail, Eleanor Partridge, Jane Raine, Anna Rallo, Patricia Recoal, Joan Robinson, Patricia Root, Marjorie Tabor, Myrna Zamanakos, Janet Zinn.

At the next Monday's session will consider the subject of high explosive bombs with Donald Kitchen as the lecturer.

CRITTENTON SEWING MEETING

Mrs. Dorothy Hall of Harrington road opened her delightful playroom to the sewing activities of the Florence Crittenton Circle on Tuesday, Jan. 20.

An active group of workers responded to the call of Mrs. Woodford Wilcox, sewing chairman and before the day was over 42 small garments were completed, a becoming name for the equipment of the Florence Crittenton Hospital in Boston.

At noon the sewers gathered at the dining table for a box lunch, a delicious dessert and coffee served by the hostess.

Mrs. Wilcox was happy to note that in spite of extra calls for defense work the seamstresses were able to complete the quota of garments for the day.

WINCHESTER BOYS INDUCTED

Two Winchester boys, Thaddeus Carson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vermer T. Carson of 6 Elmwood street, and Mrs. Harrison M. Raine, Jr. of 89 Church street, left the Selective Service office at Fort Devens, accompanied by four Stoneham boys.

Billfold at the Star Office.

BOY SCOUT NEWS
Boy Scout Exposition, Roberts Junior High School, Feb. 7
The Boy Scout Troops in Fellowship Council are bustling with activity this winter. With the demands made on them for waste paper collections, preparations for their part in Defense activities finds them at their busy time of the year with plenty to do. In addition to current requirements, each Troop is preparing for the biggest Scout Exposition in Medford the Council has ever staged. It may be difficult to find sufficient time, but it will be done, just the same as other activities have to be carried out even under duress.

Chairman Lester Haddock tells us that the Committees are all at work, busy as bees. One of the hard jobs is that of one Clarence Thompson's, for he has charge of the program to be put on in the school auditorium.

Many troops will have their own special part of a show. Mixed with these activities will be the first try-outs of various rally events, with the final coming in the evening. One of the big thrills everyone always gets is to see fire made without matches. This will be through contests on the stage. Some will do it with flint and steel. Others will make the fire by friction. Both are interesting.

But you should not think the stage portion of the program is all there is to it. To visit the booths about 60 of them in all, furnished by Cubs, Sea Scouts and Land Scouts, is to go in to a maze of activity and excitement for there you will see hundreds of boys trying to show you what has been accomplished as typified by certain patrols. Chairman Haddock whose son became an Eagle Scout, is anxious to show to the public through demonstrations, the various stages a boy goes through before he has earned the rank of Eagle. For such things have the boys been at work for weeks.

The Little Cubs, boys between the ages of 9-12 are looking forward to a busy time at the Exposition for they have been given the exclusive right to the gym to demonstrate their activities. The Camp Fellowship movies, showing that Camp in all its attractiveness, will be in continuous operation. All are invited to see them.

TWO INJURED AS CARS COLLIDE
Two persons were injured Sunday evening shortly after 7 o'clock when a LaSalle sedan driven by Charles A. Doherty of 10 Auburn street, Woburn, was in collision at the intersection of Mt. Vernon street and Highland avenue with a Ford sedan, driven by Carolyn C. Thompson of 26 Highland avenue.

According to the Police the LaSalle was headed east on Mt. Vernon street and the Ford, south on Highland avenue.

Both cars were damaged and two passengers in the Ford, Mrs. C. W. Thompson of 26 Highland avenue and Miss Lee Snyder of 1200 Massachusetts avenue, Cambridge, complained of injuries. They were taken to the nearby office of Dr. Robert L. Emery, who treated Mrs. Thompson for the bruised and cut knee, and Miss Snyder for a cut over the right eye.

RODGERS' THRONE TREMBLES

Top Teams Falter

Reeling under a vicious attack by the Branley Brigade, Captain William Rodgers and his gallant crew managed to cling to their precarious perch at the peak of the Teachers' Bowling League only because Captain Al Pennell and his runner-ups were subjected to no less devastating an assault by Colonel Grindle's third story artists.

As a matter of fact, when the cannonading was all over and casualties were tallied, it was discovered that the Rodgers outfit were more firmly ensconced in first place than ever before, three points separating them from their nearest challengers.

However, there is not too much gaiety in the Rodgers camp due to the fact that there are at least three instead of one team within easy shell-range of their foe.

It is now known that they can be beat! There should be some dramatic developments within the next two or three weeks of fact.

Capt. Otis Leary, sothpaw, hardworking captain of Team 3 rolled the high score on Monday, Jan. 19, with a 277. Right at his heels were E. M. Smith with 276 and Al Pennell, with 274.

Politics continue quiet in Winchester with no rush of candidates for town office at the March election despite the fact that the final date for filing nomination papers is Thursday, Jan. 29.

Two new candidates have taken out papers since last week's Star, Madeleine S. Rooney of 12 Sheffield Road, running for the Board of Public Welfare, and Prof. Neil H. Borden of 150 Highland Avenue, for the School Committee.

Professor Borden is a professor of business management at Harvard where he has been a member of the faculty of the Graduate School of Business Administration for 20 years. His wife is the former Esther Page, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Page of Everett avenue.

Paraphrasing if some one has told you that a shrewd cringing, were, to say the least, realistic. The very essence of quenching dignity, yet a personification of the shrewish wife, Guenevere, is the former.

Heralded well in advance of her entrance as the grasping sister of King Lear, Morgan Le Fay swept all before her, almost succeeding in the complete overthrow of the court. Here Betty Anne Elliott called upon all of woman's wit to enuff the two-faced Merlin in the depths of intrigue, to confound the flower of knighthood, and to ensnare the erstwhile exuberant Hank Bennett. First she bewitched him, then she turned a villainous traitress, Fay, as she was called by the Yank, shifted her tactics incessantly. Chosen for a difficult character portrayal, Betty Anne rose to meet the challenge with the poise of a veteran.

As the rather romantic counterpart of a schoolboy's pal, Clarence, by John Maynard, more than fulfilled our expectations. Apparently unhinged at all important joints for the occasion, he cavorted on and around the stage, a perfect juvenile knight, a page of history (pun intended). Handling the difficult dialogue with enthusiasm, John seemed to revel in his chores. His spats with Elaine, his lessons with Hank, his unpeppering of the malicious Merlin, were all taken in stride.

Parker Symmes as Arthur gave a good account of himself, being most convincing as a weakling king, rather than the glum, morose Arthur of the legend. Handling the kingly dignity with the right degree of stiffness, he was called upon to make the momentous decisions of the day with the full accord of his advisers. A good voice, used sparingly, made Parker's acting most satisfactory.

The two knights, Sir Lancelot and Sir Sagamore, portrayed by Robert Ryford and Sidney Blanchard, had various duties to perform. The tremendous strength of the mythical Lancelot was well shown on the occasions when the great knight lifted the hapless Hank off his feet with a tight grasp on the shoulder. Sir Sagamore was longer on the stage and by bursting into song on a couple of occasions. Only Sidney Blanchard could have done so well in those important parts. Captivated by the charms of Elaine, he played a good romantic knight.

Probably the most incongruous touch was added by the appearance of Lancelot, clad in knightly mantle and a football helmet. The realistic touch was almost tragic as he aimed his flying tackle at the surprised Merlin, making even the football sound Quiet, naive, Sandy added a chapter on his account. First furnishing lovely scenery for the court, she later bloomed into an effective, if inefficient, secretary for Hank. In her fits of benevolence over her captive mistress, she was touchingly feminine. Only the absence of space curtailed further pleasures.

Appearing only in the prologue and epilogue of this rather long play were Adelaide Partridge as Mrs. Bennett, and Virginia Straghan as Marion Bennett, Hank's sister. Virginia was effective as kid sister nuisance, with vocal chords that raised the roof on more than one occasion. Adelaide had a straight "mum" part to play and as such looked and acted the part. It is rare that one of school age can be so utterly convincing as an adult.

Strait jacketed as they were, it is difficult to point out particular items. Suffice it to say there was nothing lacking and they committed themselves well indeed.

Many departments and many teachers contributed to this year's production. Mr. Leary and his shop forces made the scenery. The Misses Goodrich and Keller designed and constructed the costumes. Special mention should be made of the mural conceived and executed by the aspiring young artist, Genaro Grogan, who made the costumes a conspicuous place on the stage in all of the scenes and drew many silent gasps of acclaim.

Frank Horan was chairman of the play committee that included seniors Joanne Beranzer, Natalie Cox, Daniel McNally, William Orr, Brenda Bennett, and Richard Dods. Juniors Paul Blake, Suzanne Burr, David Connors, John Eaton, Margaret Fitzgerald, Crosby Grindle, and Jean Stillman. Barbara Dods was prompter; Jennie Beranzer and Joan Stillman collected the properties; and William Orr, Sam Reynolds, and Edw. V. Wetherill manned the stage and operated the lights.

Miss Virginia Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hart Taylor of East street, Melrose, formerly of Winchester, and Donald Jay Linnell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton W. Linnell of Lincoln, were married Saturday afternoon, Jan. 24, at Trinity Episcopal Church in Melrose. The pastor, Rev. Warren C. Herrick, performed the informal candlelight service at 4 o'clock, and the wedding music was sung by the church choir with Robert Nordstrom as soloist. The bride wore a blue crepe dress with a white sash and a white orchid corsage. The groom wore a dress of rose crepe with matching hat and a corsage of spring flowers. The ceremony and reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, the honor maid and best man assisting in receiving. "Cornflower," a full-blooded Indian girl from the Mohawk Indian Trading Post in Concord will appear in costume and speak and sing in her native tongue. There will be an exhibit of North American and Mexican Indian handicrafts and curios and all Fortnightly members having any such articles are invited to bring them to display. The afternoon will close with a tea and a social hour.

In response to repeated requests Fortnightly's Spanish and Russian classes are now being organized. If there is a sufficient number of applicants classes will be held in the morning, afternoon and evening to suit your convenience. For further information call Mrs. George A. Dutton (Win. 2191), or Mrs. Gordon Mann (Win. 0165).

Through a very fortunate circumstance the Fortnightly is able now to sponsor classes in Spanish under the direction of Senor Eduardo Rivera. The only expense will be the cost of the textbook. The minimum number for such a class is 20 to 25. If registration for the Fortnightly is below that figure opportunity to join will be given to non-Fortnightly members. For details call Mrs. Gordon Mann (Win. 0165).

Miss Dorothy Adlow, well known art critic of the Christian Science Monitor is to be the guest speaker. Miss Adlow has chosen for her subject, "The Artist in the Modern World."

Mrs. Raymond Dickman and Mrs. J. W. Nickerson are to be the hostesses for the afternoon and the pourers for the tea will be Mrs. Lyle K. Bush and Miss Edna M. Hatch.

Cause of Snoring

When a person snores loudly, seems to struggle himself in his snoring and sounds as if he is dying in his sleep, it is no sign of subconscious mental activity or worrying at all, doctors say. Snoring is usually due to partial stoppage of the nasal passages or to sleeping with the mouth open, says Pearson's London Weekly. It may or may not disturb one's rest. It is most common in people who work outdoors and most prevalent in winter.

GUILD OF THE INFANT SAVIOUR
Winchester Chapter

An executive meeting of the board will be held on Thursday, Feb. 5, at Lyceum Hall. As heretofore announced these meetings will be held promptly at 2 o'clock and every board member is earnestly requested to attend.

The work of the Guild, that of taking care of needy mothers and babies is sometimes recognized in unexpected quarters. It is indeed gratifying to our many workers to hear of a particularly destitute case which occurred recently. At one of our large hospital triplets were born to a mother who could afford very little in the way of a layette for one baby, let alone three. The Guild was notified and came to the rescue with layettes of warm suitable clothing complete to the last detail. The doctor in charge, a noted obstetrician, was impressed by the beauty and suitability of the little garments. On learning of their origin, complimented the Guild for the truly worthy cause in which we are engaged.

President Mrs. Michael Hintian greeted a large gathering of members at the regular sewing meeting on last Tuesday. Tea was served by our new chairman of hospitality, Mrs. John T. Lerron. She was assisted by the following hostesses: Mrs. Katherine Doyle, Mrs. William Hevey, Mrs. John Doherty, Mrs. Frederick Patton, Poursers were Mrs. George Morrissey and Mrs. John O'Leary.

WAS BROTHER OF JAMES S. MURRAY

Francis H. Murray, well known leather manufacturer who died Saturday morning, Jan. 24, at his home, 21 Eaton avenue, Woburn, was the brother of James S. Murray of 97 Mystic Valley Parkway. Both were members of the Murray Leather Company with another brother, William H. Murray of Melrose.

The late Mr. Murray was a native of Woburn, the son of the late ex-Mayor Hugh D. and Delia F. Murray. He was educated at the Woburn schools and at Burdette College, entering his father's tannery as a young man and being experienced in both the management and production departments of the business.

Mr. Murray was a director of the Woburn Co-operative Bank and a member of Woburn Lodge of Elks. Besides his brothers in Winchester and Melrose he leaves his wife, three sons, two daughters, five sisters and seven grandchildren.

The funeral was held from the late residence Monday morning with solemn high mass of requiem at St. Anthony's Church, North Woburn. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery.

AN APPRECIATION
By Asa M. Parker

The following tribute to a former Winchester minister, written by a fellow townsman, appeared in the January issue of "Advance." Since many residents warmly remember the late Rev. D. Augustine Newton, for many years pastor of our First Congregational Church, and also recall Mr. Asa M. Parker, the Star is reprinting the article.

The Rev. D. Augustine Newton who passed away recently in his old home in Westboro, Mass., at the age of 84, came to the pastorate of the First Congregational Church in Winchester, Mass., in 1889 when the writer of this appreciation was a boy of 13 and for the next 20 years during his active pastorate there and through all the years since, Mr. Newton has been his pastor, whatever the changes in location of both our lives. Uniting with the church at the age of 14 with a large company of contemporaries, youth, the influence of the pastor was faithfully and constructively felt in all our lives. He was always present at the Christian Endeavor meetings, an encourager of youth in their development into active Christian leadership. His preaching made an indelible impression on the mind of a growing boy. Contrary to the teaching of modern religious educational psychologists, the dignified but earnest sermons, preached from manuscript, well thought out, tolerant, liberally conservative in theology, always coming to a climactic appeal for commitment of life to Christ, were so deeply and truly felt that they were youthful minds and hearts. There was no catering to children or young people. In those days still, children came to church with their parents and sat through the service. But here there through the veil which covers so much of the spoken word in our memories, occasional sermon themes or bits of sermons, break through and remain as spiritual experiences. Never to be forgotten is a sermon preached under the pressure of moral protest against the terrible Turkish atrocities to the Armenians at that time. A series of sermons from Jeremiah stand out with illuminating power, but most of all a series on the great Christian doctrines met a need, particularly an exposition of the doctrine of the Trinity which put a boy's thought on a firm foundation.

An eternal debt of gratitude must be acknowledged for the formative guidance in Christian convictions given during those teen age years from the pulpit of the Winchester church. Three young men of that period eventually found themselves in the Christian ministry, Edward Bradford Robinson now in the 40th year of his remarkable ministry at Grace Church, Holyoke, Rev. Sidney Bruce Snow, now president of the Meadville (Unitarian) Theological School at the University of Chicago, and the writer. In 1903 the new Young People's Missionary Movement effort to establish classes for mission study led the writer to start a class in the Winchester church. To his dismay, for he felt quite inadequate to instruct the pastor, Mr. and Mrs. Newton came regularly. But no more gracious nor interested members of such a class could be found. That experience was a turning point which led to all the later developments toward the work of the ministry. When the time came for ordination at Somersworth, N. H., in 1910, it was Mr. Newton who made the heartfelt ordaining prayer. And when 20 years later as Secretary of Missionary Promotion in the Massachusetts Congregational Conference and Missionary Society, the writer had occasion to teach a mission study class for six consecutive weeks in the Westboro, Mass., church where Mr. and Mrs. Newton were then living, again they were faithful attendants in the class led by one of their "boys." As long as Mr. Newton was able to attend the meetings of the Boston Congregational Club where his presence was a benediction to those who had been blessed by his ministry. He was truly a great pastoral preacher and friend, and his spiritual sons and daughters "rise up and call him blessed."

WINCHESTER AT STONEHAM TONIGHT

While Lexington and Belmont are battling for first place in the Middlesex Basketball League tonight, Winchester High will hop over to Stoneham for a game that it must win to retain its outside chance for the league title.

Stoneham has won one and lost three in league competition, but the boys from the hockey town have proved very troublesome for every team they have faced, including both Belmont and Lexington. They will be no sinecure for Winchester tonight and can well upset the apparent if the locals don't play ball.

Winchester's chief trouble has been its inability to shoot effectively. Coach Bartlett's charges, with the exception of the Woburn game, have yet to be outclassed and have controlled the ball full as well as their opponents. If they can get them tonight, they should win. If they're missing, any chance can happen.

CASS ON CARNIVAL COMMITTEE

Donald C. Cass, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kingman P. Cass of 55 Yale street, is a member of the general committee making plans for the annual Winter Carnival at Tilton Junior College to be held Feb. 6, 7 and 8. He is a freshman at the Junior College.

Highlights in the social events scheduled for the week-end include tea dances and the Carnival Ball on Saturday evening when a queen will be chosen. Athletic events planned for Saturday include a hockey game and ski meet. On Friday evening a basketball game will take place. Cass is also a member of the committee arranging for the tea dance.

TOURISTS' CLUB REUNION

The Tourists' Club, a Winchester organization, whose propensity for long or short trips arranged at a moment's notice has been humorously tallied by the marriage of several of its members, held a reunion last week Thursday evening.

Dinner was enjoyed at a Boston hotel and at the conclusion of the repast a pleasant hour was spent recalling many of the better trips to distant points, during some of which the Tourists travelled "high" (inside and outside) and during all of which excellent time was made considering the distance covered and the nature of the transportation employed.

Among the more pretentious excursions were the feature trip to the Cleary World's Fair, a trip to Washington, two trips to Montreal and one to Annapolis, Md. Regrets were expressed over the Tourists' failure to go through with the proposed trip to the B. C. Sugar Bowl game a year ago, and tentative plans discussed for a new trip to take place in the not too distant future.

Following the discussion period the Tourists looked about the city a bit and finally visited a night club. In the party were Dexter W. Mobbs of Woburn, Bruce Colpas of Jamaica Plain, Thomas C. Hammond of Arlington, recently enlisted in the Royal Canadian Air Force, Robert W. Smith of Greenwood and Charles J. Dolan and R. Sheldon Hamilton of Winchester. A charter member of the Tourists, who incidentally often provided transportation for trips in the organization's formative days, Roger W. Thwing, of this town, was unable to be present.

EPIPHANY MEN'S CLUB

At the next meeting of the Epiphany Men's Club, to be held in the parish house Thursday evening, Feb. 5, at 8 o'clock, the speaker will be Joshua Whatmough, professor of Commerce at Harvard University. Professor Whatmough is a fellow townsman and his subject, "Education in a Democracy," is of timely interest.

A discussion will follow the address, and refreshments will be served.

WOBURN 30-WINCHESTER 18

Errico's Basket Gave Seconds Win

Woburn High beat Winchester, 30-18, in a basketball game at Woburn Tuesday afternoon, proving just a bit too good all around for the local boys. The Winchester seconds continued their unbeaten string by edging the Woburn seconds in the preliminary game, 26-24.

They play a lot of basketball in the city and the fact was apparent in the performance of the Orange and Black clad youngsters who are relaxed out there on the court with plenty of savvy that includes a knowledge of the little inside tricks of the game that you only pick up by experience.

The Tanners shot much better than the local boys and the chief reason their score wasn't larger was the stout defense waged by big "Billy" West who played his best game of the season for Winchester, being very effective in the scrambles for the ball off the backboard.

Woburn led at the quarter, 5-4, and had a 13-6 advantage at the half. While the local boys bettered their offensive showing after the intermission, Woburn also improved its scoring ratio and was never in any danger.

The second team game was a humdinger all the way with Woburn leading by a hard to overcome 11-5 lead at the quarter.

Winchester led at the quarter, 8-2, was ahead at the half, 14-8, and had a 19-16 advantage at the three-quarters mark. The Tanners finally tied things up with less than a minute remaining, but with seconds to go Jack Errico, who tallied 15 points for the high score of the afternoon, sank his seventh goal to give the game to Winchester.

WINCHESTER EDGED WAKEFIELD

32-30 Thriller Kept Locals in Title Fight

In one of the most exciting and closely contested basketball games seen in the local gymnasium for many a day, Winchester High edged Wakefield High, 32-30, last Friday evening to retain its mathematical chance for the Middlesex League championship. The contest practically put Wakefield out of the title fight.

It looked like certain for Winchester at the half, the locals being on the short end of an 18-12 count as the teams left the floor with Wakefield very much in the driver's seat.

With the resumption of play Winchester carried the play to the visitors and outscored Wakefield two to one in the third quarter which ended 22-22, still in the Wakefield's favor.

For several minutes neither team could break the ice, and the going got pretty rugged, finally getting pretty much evened. In an effort to quiet things down the arbiters commenced to use their whistles even more zealously than had been the case earlier in the game, with the result that three Wakefield boys, Joseph Sordella and Henry O'Neill, forwards, and Don Pelletier, veteran guard, went out on personal fouls.

The loss of O'Neill and Sordella hamstrung Wakefield's offense, but it really was most damaging. Up to his departure from the game Don had held Pete Provinzano to a single basket. As he left the court Peter got going and sank two baskets, with his own foul shot called on Captain Derby's second foul from scrimmage, put the locals out in front, Rallo adding a shot from a free try to give Winchester a 32-25 lead with about a minute to play.

Manning's goal from scrimmage closed the gap to a single basket and the yell of the cheering section were literally raising the roof as a double foul was called on both teams. Neither team counted on this great opportunity and you couldn't hear yourself think as the centers jumped for the ball at mid-air.

Wakefield strove desperately to tie the score and Winchester held on grimly to protect its single goal lead.

The local boys succeeded in stalling the visitor's last bid, the final horn finding them in front by two points.

Pete Twombly's all around play sparked the locals during the last critical minutes and Captain Derby's shooting in the clutch was also a deciding factor.

Between the halves of the first team game the Tanners continued their winning way by turning back the Wakefield jay-vees, 24-15. Gordon McGovern's six points was the high score for both teams.

WINCHESTER SKI CLUB

The Winchester Ski Club, due to the lack of snow and generally poor conditions any place nearer than the Green Mountains of Vermont, gave up all plans for skiing this last weekend, and instead made good use of the time, the mild weather and the bare ground to clear a hillside in Winchester which will provide an ideal spot for local skiing when snow again arrives.

The members who participated in the work on Saturday and Sunday were Alton Dunsford, Marty Pinkham, Phil and Bob Twombly, Bob Low, Harry Wood and Fred Whitney.

The hill was cleared in such a way as to avoid having a wide open bare slope. Enough of the natural growth of bushes and trees were left so as to provide interest and character for controlled skiing. The area cleared was groomed and smoothed so as to make skiing safely possible on a minimum of snow.

The hill is now ready for skiing whenever a snow arrives. A little more work however will make it possible to extend the trail further up to the top of the hill so as to increase considerably the length and interest of the run. This work will be continued on the coming Saturday. Members who can participate in this work this weekend are requested to phone Fred Whitney on Saturday morning.

Last Friday night some of the members took advantage of an opportunity to see once again Hannes Schneider's "Ski-Chase" at the Unitarian Church, here in Winchester. The superb skiing in this picture is now almost a classic, still provides a great thrill for all lovers of the sport.

For plans for the coming week-end members should call their precinct director, on Friday night or Saturday morning.

The next regular club meeting will be held at the club room on Wednesday, Feb. 4, at 8 o'clock. Moving pictures taken during the last few weeks of club members skiing will be shown in connection with the instruction program.

GIRL SCOUTS

GIRL SCOUT NOTES

The Leaders' Association meeting was held Wednesday, Jan. 28, at Girl Scout Headquarters. Present were Mrs. Bailey, president; Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Tapley, Mrs. Morrison, Mrs. Tracy and Mrs. Meigs. Following the short business meeting conducted by Mrs. Bailey, Mrs. J. E. Campbell, chairman of the program committee, gave an interesting outline of plans in progress for the Girl Scout Rally to be held in March.

Mrs. Sherman, director then took over the meeting and discussed the badge work that would help in the defense program. She showed how many activities there are that the Girl Scout program has always stressed, that now are being used in this emergency.

Interpersed in her talk, she demonstrated the making of miniature first aid kits, exceedingly practical for all the tiny clinics, also candle stands to be used when electricity is shut off and paper bags to be made from newspapers.

Many of these things can be found in the Girl Scout handbook, but need to be brought to our direct attention in relationship to the present day needs.

Troops 12 and 13 are working hard on their first aid badges. While too young for the official Red Cross certificate, they are making an excellent start. Mrs. Gilbert Tapley and Mrs. Franklin Lane are instructing Troop 12 and Mrs. Paul Elliott and Mrs. Wm. More are in charge of Troop 13, Mrs. Bailey's troop.

WINCHESTER JUNIOR DANCES

Senior and Junior girls, under the leadership of Mrs. Bailey and Miss Dorothea Richardson were successfully replaced by the girls as ushers at the Leap Year-Ski dance at the Winchester Country Club last Saturday night. A large group of young people dressed in winter sports costumes enjoyed the unusual party to the full.

The ushers assisting the committee were: Miss Shirley Brackett, Miss Jane Coulson, Miss Betsy Drake, Miss Janet Eaton, Miss Alice Parker, Miss Marion Philbrook, Miss Roberta Ray, Miss Sally Sherburne and Miss Betty Ann Wright. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Holmes and Mr. and Mrs. Warren Maynard were the hosts and hostesses.

We told you a while ago that we would give our Social Security figures for last year. By that we mean the tax this office was called upon to pay. Let us forget, we hire eight people and get our security social otherwise. This office paid out for the benefit of the undernourished, underprivileged and neglected two-thirds of one of the way we work for us, the tidy sum of $851.29. That's what it costs a really little plant to do business today. Since the price of the Star cannot be lowered, we can some products, this really constitutes a tax. We have not included the $62.00 we paid out for new stairs. These also constitute a benefit, although we have not found out for whom yet.

Pearl Harbor is a considerable way behind us, and what a success in reaching of facts and omissions can accomplish is, in our mind, negligible. That someone was to blame is unquestioned. Exactly who it was is left to history. The investigating committee feels it was an army and a navy officer. That it was not one of our leading politicians is refreshing. It has always been a mystery to us how a politician can be elected to office and immediately become an expert in any or every line of endeavor. From housing fires, to directing an army or navy, or guiding a nation, their expert judgment and ability cannot be questioned. The man who has made a profession of the job is the pupil who often learns to his sorrow that his teacher has still a lot to learn. However, this thought may be, the blame for Pearl Harbor seems to have been accurately placed, and none of our great political leaders are involved. Now are the ladies to have rubber for their grilles?

A. F. L. PAYS C. I. O. WORKER TO QUIT, ENDS STRIKE

Fall River, Jan. 26.—One of the strangest agreements in union history today ended a five-day strike that had halted production of war orders at the plant of the Berkshire Fine Spinning Associates.

Under terms of the settlement, the American Federation of Textile Operatives, A. F. L., will pay $35 weekly to Rudolph Simonin, a C. I. O. knottier, provided he remains away from work.

Simonin was the only issue involved in the strike. He formerly belonged to the A. F. L. but went over to the Textile Workers Union of America, C. I. O., after the A. F. L. knottiers' union had fined him $10 for doing too much work.

More than 200 A. F. L. knottiers, loom-fixers and slanders quit work last Tuesday, refusing to work with Simonin, and their without halted production in the entire plant, which employs 2500.—[Boston Herald]

OBSERVATION POST COMMENTS

What the Boys Think About While on the Job

To the Editor of the Star:
While on duty at the Observation Post, I recently noticed on the walls several poems and statements which I thought might be of general interest. I am enclosing a statement which you may desire to publish in your paper.

Very truly yours,
E. C. Filler
17 Chestnut street

Apparently the high elevation of the Winchester Observation Post and the patriotic fervor of the attendants has caused a burst of poetry in spite of the sub-zero temperatures. The following are some of the writings appearing on the inner walls of the building which protects the workers:

Slug a slug of freedom,
For freedom must remain.
Do your duty by your country,
By restoring every plane.

So, sing a song of freedom,
And sing it loud and strong.
We are going to beat the Axis,
Though the fight be hard and long.

Keep 'em rolling,
Keep 'em flying,
Keep democracy from dying.

Don't assume that noise is a train.
Go and look, it might be a plane.
Put the Japs off the map.

Beware of the Rising Sun and the Crooked Cross.

Leave your old license plates at the Legion House. Your number may be on some used against the Axis.

Please be on the alert,
Remember Pearl Harbor.

There was a girl
Who changed her name
To Pearl Harbor,
But, still nobly Remembered her.

Don't shoot till it moves,
It may be a WFA worker.

Do not call Washington on the phone.
Why? Because he's deaf.

Stop the 'Japs'
From reaching the top
Beat the 'Hun'
For all he's done.

When you're talking to a stranger,
That your voice
It might be a Jap.

You can listen best outside.
Check up frequently.

Why can't the Germans cut down trees?
Because Hitler's got hold of all the Axis.

Why does Hitler change his socks three times a day?
He smells defeat.

The Japs are running—
Like the silk stockings.
They used to send over here.

Do you like the idea of the Japs being here?
Soon they'll learn, that we're not a worm.

To be specific,
Not to Pacific.
Not to be specific,
But, we also like the Atlantic.

Remember Pearl Harbor,
So don't start the ladder.
Hearings and hearings buying—
Send prices sky-highing.

There is plenty of food for all,
Don't be grasping and small.

GOOD OLD U. S. A.

Here's a poem about the Japanese. The dishonest cowards that leave no peace.

One can see our planes, guns, and tanks.
We'll show those Japs with their sneaky pranks.

"Remember Pearl Harbor"—that's our call.
So buy defense bonds and let's not stall.

The U. S. A. is the "Land of the Free."
So let those Japs start something and they'll soon see.

People are doing their part everywhere.
For the U. S. A. fights on land, sea, and in the air.

The above poem is an original one written by Ernest Clark, Jr., the 11 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest W. Clark of Western street, Winchester. Ernest is a pupil in the first grade at the Lincoln School, and is only one of the many pupils who is doing his part for defense.

This poem is the result of the inspiration that Ernest got while listening to a radio program on defense and it is an excellent example of the spirit shown by all of the children of Winchester.

Make your Valentines ahead. Make-up boxes now on sale at Wilson the Stationer, Star Building.

ROTARY CLUB NOTES

Two members were absent from the meeting of Jan. 29.
"Among those present" we had no difficulty in distinguishing our Harry Benson, now identified with the United States Naval Reserve. It is always a pleasure to welcome Harry, the officer the better, and it is particularly gratifying to observe his loyalty to Rotary.

Aram Modian did the honors as song leader today and he certainly got results. Also pianist Jim McGrath was at the station. We certainly miss him when he is not able to be with us.

The club is in receipt of a handsome miniature flag from Rev. R. S. Jones, president of the Rotary Club of Winchester and District, England. This flag, beautifully embroidered with the seal of old Winchester and having a miniature of the town of Winchester in the center, is the work of President Jones. "To make sure that we shall have some kind of representation among you," A handsome and most acceptable token indeed and one that we shall be proud to retain. It will be remembered that Rev. Mr. Jones visited this town some two years since and at that time preached from the pulpit of the First Congregational Church.

Rotary is preparing for the 37th anniversary of its founding, which falls on Feb. 23, 1942. Past Harris, founder and President Emeritus of Rotary International, is still alive and active in Rotary. Our own club celebrates the 15th anniversary of its organization next April.

Guest speaker at our current meeting was Mr. Thomas Hart who has gained for himself much favorable comment as an impersonator of George Washington. Mr. Hart has a personality well fitted for his role, his apparel faithfully reproduces the dress of the period of Washington and his speech and presence adequately interpret the manners of American history. The impersonation was in the form of an interview, with Mrs. Hart taking the part of a representative of the press seeking to know the written and spoken words of Washington skillfully combined and delivered with the courtly grace characteristic of the best 18th century social circles. Coming at it does at this difficult period when America is constrained to recall and reaffirm the basic principles of which it continues as a nation, we feel sure that Mr. Hart's presentation constitutes a significant service in maintaining Americans true to the patriotic ideals of their forefathers.

Next week John F. Sullivan, Medford Rotarian and District Manager of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company, will exhibit before the club motion picture film recently released by his company. This film, representing as it does the magnificent efforts of the telephone organization in extending its service to meet the exceptional demands of the present crisis, is of intense interest to us all. The meeting of Feb. 5 should be fully as well attended as that of Jan. 29.

Percentage of attendance, Jan. 22, 81.08 per cent.

WINCHESTER MAPLE LEAF GROUP

In an earlier report it was stated that blankets at the rate of 7000 month were being shipped overseas. Letters here have been received on this side from those needy ones fortunate enough to have received them. The following is one received by Mrs. Albert K. Comins of Highland avenue, Winchester.

Mrs. J. Ogilvie,
229 Hilltown
Dundee, Scotland

Dear Friend:

Maybe I am doing wrong in writing to you, and you will also be wondering how I ever got your address. Well I will try to explain to you: well to begin with, I am expecting a baby and I went to the British relief fund, and they let me have a fine big warm blanket for my baby's crib. I got your name on a label, and I just had to sit down and write you a letter to show you how grateful I am for the grand way that you people are helping us, so I do hope that you won't be angry at me for writing to you, so I will close now thanking you once again.

Gratefully,
Mrs. J. Ogilvie

NEW BRAZIL AIRPORTS TO BE AVAILABLE FOR TRANSATLANTIC AIRPLANE FERRY SERVICE

Announcement of the warplane ferrying service from North America to British ports in West Africa by way of South America comes shortly after President Vargas of Brazil authorized the construction and improvement of airports at eight seaboard cities. These ports are quite evenly spaced from north of the Amazon River southward across Brazil's "bulge."

The new airfields will provide facilities for land planes where seaplanes have operated almost exclusively, points out a bulletin from the National Geographic Society. Of the eight cities selected for the new and expanded air terminal development, five have twin names: Salvador (Bahia), Recife (Pernambuco), Fortaleza (Ceara), Belem (Para), Montenegro (Amapa). The others are Macao, Natal, and Sao Luiz do Maranhao.

All of the cities except Montenegro are capitals of states of Brazil.

Ships Have "Sweethearts"
Ships as well as sailors have a "sweetheart" in nearly every port, says Collier's Weekly. Known as the ship's husband, the "sweetheart" is the gentleman whip, as a representative of the owners, attending to the provisioning, repairing, entering and clearing of the vessel while it is in port.

W. C. T. U. NOTES

A very interesting article in the Christian Science Monitor for June 28 tells us that "Religion Wins Large or Rise in Army Planes." "Through-out the Army camps church services are being exceedingly well attended," it says in a report on the work of the General Commission on Army and Navy Chaplains furnished by Rev. S. Arthur Devan, director of the Commission, the official co-operative agency representing the evangelistic churches, to strengthen ties between chaplains and their churches, and also between the churches and the Government in spiritual matters.

"The Government," Dr. Devan emphasized, "is acutely conscious of its responsibility to return millions of young men to their homes strengthened, rather than injured, in their spiritual and moral life."

"From every part of the country come reports that a much larger proportion of soldiers are attending services than in civilian life. They are looking for guidance and something to steady them." It is the objective that each Army chaplain shall become the personal friend and constructive counselor of the soldier in his charge.

Dr. Devan said that ground had been broken for the first of 634 new chapels to be built in the Army camps, each to cost $30,000, the design to remind the men of the characteristic village church. These chapels will be used by chaplains of all faiths, for religious services. Bible classes, prayer meetings, religious forums, and offices for personal counsel, weddings, and religious functions generally.

Fresh Water in Jamaica

Unlike some of the islands in other parts of the West Indies, Jamaica is plentifully supplied with fresh water. The Spanish term from which the name Jamaica is derived is "Island of Springs," and fresh water springs abound throughout the island.

GIRL TELEGRAPH MESSENGER

Due to the vast National Defense effort being so many young men, the telegraph companies are finding it difficult to procure messenger boys. In All City New Jersey, one of the telegraph companies, the first of a group of girls called the "Purple Heart Girls," 19 a native Atlantic City girl, says she "likes the outdoor work much better than her previous indoor job." She says she has taken off an excess ten pounds, because of her fatigues, she has been given the "Purple Heart" section and wears an "Atlantic City" medal.

It is now doubly hard to locate a telegraph messenger.

"You and your dog will be cared for during the busy Sonny" says Dr. Francis H. Rowley, of the Massachusetts Committee on Public Safety, showing released the newly released rules and regulations for air raid animal care to John J. Conroy, and his pet dog "Skipper." John Conroy is ten years old and is a sixth grade pupil at the Mission School, Roxbury.

SHOULD BUY BONDS WITH CURRENT SAVINGS

Tremendous increases in the sale of defense bonds since the country went to war are reported by the Savings Banks Association of Massachusetts. Sales of Series E defense bonds by the savings banks of the state during December were $6,386,916, contrasted with $1,441,643 in the preceding month, according to Harrison G. Taylor, president of the Association. The total sale of all forms of defense bonds and stamps by the savings banks during December was more than $7,000,000.

Mr. Taylor stated that every savings bank in the Commonwealth was an agency for the sale of defense bonds and was co-operating wholeheartedly in the Government's program. He emphasized, however, that the Government wished the purchase of bonds from current earnings rather than from withdrawals from savings accounts.

"Many people," he said, "in their patriotic desire to aid the Defense Bond campaign have not realized that the Treasury wishes to attract new savings from the weekly pay envelope or salary check. They have drawn on their savings account for their defense bond purchases and thus defeated the real purpose of the campaign."

"The withdrawal of savings deposits may result simply in the sale of holdings of Government bonds and savings institution to provide cash reserves. Thus, savings so transferred are merely switched from one kind of Government bond to another and the Government's program of savings does not gain by the transfer."

"The deposits in savings banks," he said, "are already at work; 37 per cent of them are now invested in Government bonds and practically all the balance in railroad, public utilities and real estate mortgages—all of which are important in the defense effort. Secretary Morgenthau recognizes this situation and asks for the purchase of bonds and stocks for the purchase of bonds and stocks rather than past savings."

The huge increase in the sale of defense bonds during December, Mr. Taylor stated, is proof that the people of Massachusetts are quick to respond to the national emergency. "What is needed now and for many months to come," he said, "is the will to make sacrifices, to work and save. Everyone should budget their earnings so that they can buy a defense bond or stamp every day. Many savings banks have established Defense Bond Clubs to assist their customers to save weekly for the purchase of defense bonds."

VICTORY BOOK DRIVE UNUSUALLY SUCCESSFUL HERE

Your books, Mr. and Mrs. Winchester, are already on the march, one thousand strong along the road to victory, right up to the front line of defense, so sit back and smile, and fan that nice warm glow in your heart, not into a gentle fire of content, but rather into a raging torch of books and more books, to equal the great good your previous donations have done for the entertainment of our country's brave defenders.

The first call on Winchester's supply was from the Navy, when a fine young officer came out to see what was available. His delight at the variety, the quality and the splendid condition of our books increased with each carton opened, and the size of his request broadened in scope with each new book discovered. His first request was for books in the light fiction class, augmented by books on grammar, and current events, or contemporary history. But, when he spied a splendid book on water color sketching, he laughed with glee as he claimed it, saying, "Oh, our Mess Sergeant is a great amateur painter—he'll simply eat this one up." Another on camera technique appeared, and he annexed that too, for "We've got a number of amateur photographers in our gang, and this should be the answer to their leisure-time needs," he insisted.

So to the brave lads in our Navy went 250 of Winchester's best, with our love and our best wishes for happy landings and a speedy and victorious return. And to one of our important nearby forts, go another 600 diversified volumes, through the generosity of Mr. Joseph M. Donahue, who puts the welfare of our armed forces above the material value of four otherwise perfect tires, and has graciously offered to deliver the neatly packed cartons.

To you, Mr. and Mrs. Winchester, we are happy to deliver at having done your bit by donating a book—and to you who have not yet got around to bringing yours down—requests for books are being made ahead! Have you any idea of the great amount of physical labor required to sort, grade and pack 1000 books? Well, it is a job that Mr. J. Girard Chandler, 2d, Mrs. John Chipman and Mrs. Frederick Snyder, who toiled laboriously all day Monday, and Mr. W. J. Frothingham, Miss Mend, it is quite a job! To the and to the other members of the sorting committee, goes a great deal of credit for a difficult job and an intricate one. Their concern is that but one of the many put forth by the women of America, which go unheralded, and almost unknown, but which will reap an exceptional reward when the last story of the war is told.

This, dear Mr. and Mrs. Winchester, is the personal case history of your first thousand—let's have another thousand or more, and the story of their road to glory will make just as good reading.

A. R. P. SCHOOL LEARNED OF FIRE CONTROL

Lt. David J. Meskell of the Fire Department, liaison officer between the regular and the Auxiliary Fire Departments, lectured at a Monday evening session of the A. R. P. School in the Lincoln School auditorium, at which members of the Auxiliary fire fighting force were guests. Besides the session of the A. R. P. School, in his lecture, explained that fires are extinguished by cooling, by excluding the air and by a combination of both methods.

The Auxiliary fire fighting force was the oldest method of fire extinguishment and was in the greatest cooling agency available in large quantities. It is most effective in quelling fires and is the most effective agent for use in extinguishing fire burning materials such as wood, paper and cloth.

Air exclusion works on the principle that it is necessary to support combustion, so that if it is possible to exclude air, or the oxygen in the air, from flames they will subside. Air exclusion is obtained by mechanical means such as covers for kettles or blankets, or by covering the fire with a blanket of inert gas that will not burn. Burning oil, fats and gases that do not leave embers are best handled in this manner.

Extinguishers used extensively by fire departments now, is a combination of the cover and inert system, forming a blanket of foam, filled with water and carbon dioxide gas. Fires fall into three classes: A, fires in ordinary combustible materials where the quenching and cooling is necessary; B, fires in flammable liquids, gases, oils, greases and solvents; C, fires in electrical equipment, where the use of a non-conducting extinguishing agent is necessary. Dry chemical extinguishers using a specially treated bicarbonate of soda in dry powder form, expelled from the extinguisher by a compressed inert gas such as carbon dioxide, are effective as non-conductors of electricity and also as agents to combat fires in flammable liquids in vats, pools or on floors.

Besides his general classification, Lt. Meskell explained in detail the use of extinguishing agents, such as standard fire pails, pump-tank extinguishers, carbon dioxide extinguishers and pails, which incidentally can be used effectively to extinguish fires in magnesium, sodium, aluminum and dry chemical extinguishers, carbon dioxide hand extinguishers, vaporizing liquid extinguishers (nyrene), soda and sawdust, and G-I, a newly developed extinguishing powder for use on magnesium, aluminum, sodium and similar metal fires, which is also effective in combating incendiary bombs, (though the thermite portion of the bomb can not be extinguished) and the G-I non-abrasive for use on machinery.

Lt. Meskell warned his hearers that extinguishers must be kept in workable condition, must be recharged regularly and must be used according to manufacturer's directions. He warned that certain types of extinguishers generating carbon tetrachloride vapor should be used as directed since this gas has an asphyxiating effect and if subjected to high temperatures decomposes and forms toxic gases such as hydrochloric acid and phosgene. These are sufficiently irritating so that they are easily apparent, but extinguishers employing them should be used with caution and never in confined spaces where ventilation is poor and from which the operator can not make a prompt exit.

In addition to his lecture Lt. Meskell demonstrated the use of the stirrup pump and pump cans, showed the "Mast-R" coupling to put on a hot or cold water faucet, with or without threads, and showed extinguishers using soda and acid, foam, carbon tetrachloride and carbon dioxide. He was assisted by Chief Bronson Garner of the Auxiliary Fire Department.

Mr. Kitchen explained fully the various types of high explosive bombs now in use, adding the interesting information that there isn't much that can be done about them.

Samuel M. Graves, director of the men's school, presided and introduced Chairman R. H. B. Smith of the Production Division who described and diagrammed a new shovel for handling incendiaries, being manufactured in Canada, which it is hoped will be available here. Chairman Harold S. Fuller of the Defense Committee spoke briefly about the responsible criticism of the local defense effort, and Chief Air Raid Warden F. J. Lane announced the change in dates for the mock air raid from Feb. 8 to Feb. 22. Mrs. Alexander Macdonald announced three new First Aid courses for women.

STEVENSON READS VETS

Frederick C. Stevenson of 99 Hemingway street has been elected president of Aberona Post, 3719, Veterans of Foreign Wars, to fill the vacancy caused by the recent death of Comdr. John J. Regan.

Commander Stevenson was in the Army during World War I, seeing service overseas as Corporal with the 8th Army Corps Mobile Veterinary Detachment. He was engaged at St. Mihiel, on the Verdun front on the other side of Ponta-Mousson.

The Well-Balanced Diet
A well-balanced diet must consist of proteins, carbohydrates and fats, with adequate vitamins and minerals. A person engaged in mental work needs about 2,500 calories per day. The diet should contain animal protein, either eggs or meat; some cereals, as bread; fats, as butter and cream; with fruits and a variety of vegetables to furnish minerals and vitamins.

CHANGES IN REQUIREMENTS FOR FLYING CADETS

Mr. Robert A. Johnson of 83 Washington street, who is in charge of enlistment of flying cadets for Winchester and Stoneham announces that a new Army Aviation Cadet Headquarters has been set up at the South Armory, Irvington street, Boston. Mr. Johnson will be glad to give further information concerning enlistment to any Winchester or Stoneham boys, and calls special attention to the changes in requirements explained in full below.

Three major changes feature the new requirements. One concerns the age limits which are now 18 to 26 years, inclusive. For the first time, a qualified man may be commissioned in the Air Corps as young as 18 years old. Formerly no one could apply for Aviation Cadet Training until he had reached his 20th birthday, and no one could be commissioned until he had reached his 21st birthday.

A second major change involves educational requirements. Under the new plan, there are no formal educational requirements. Instead, each applicant takes a special intelligence and aptitude test, designed to determine the candidate's ability to learn flying and allied subjects necessary to an Air Corps officer. This is an examination of 150 questions, of which an applicant must answer 90 correctly to be successful.

The third change is in the elimination of delay in appointment by giving the examining board wide powers. The boards themselves, now examine the man, list him if he qualifies, and send him direct to start his training.

As before, an Aviation Cadet receives $75 a month during his training in addition to his food, lodging, clothing, medical and dental care, and $10,000 in life insurance. After 35 weeks of training, he is commissioned, and goes on active duty at $245.50 a month, with a $500 bonus for each year of active duty.

A BOND A MONTH!

The Winchester Men's Lodge, Sons of Italy in America, has voted to buy $500 worth more of Defense Bonds and to purchase a bond a month for the duration. A fine example indeed.

The Star has a limited number of Ernest Dudley Chase's fine "Battle Map of the Pacific," a must for those who really want to follow the news. Don't confuse these with ordinary maps. 50 cents while they last.

C. C. C. BOYS WANTED

An opportunity to join the C. C. C. will again be afforded the youth of Winchester during February. Those interested should apply immediately to Mr. Rudolf W. Jordan, Local Selecting Agent at the Town Hall. Eligibility requirements: applicants must have reached their 17th birthday and not be over 26½, single, citizens of the United States, unemployed and in need of employment. They will receive $30 a month and maintenance.

The C. C. C. has been called "A Builder of Men" and justly deserves that title. Statistics show that were it not for C. C. C. training and physical build-up, thousands and thousands of young men now in the Army and Navy would have been rejected when they volunteered or were called for Selective Service. We are told that 80 per cent of the young men who were formerly connected with the C. C. C. passed the physical examination for service as compared with 40 per cent who had never been in the C. C. C. As well as being built up physically, young men became accustomed to group life away from home, taught self-reliance and specimen skills. C. C. C. training has put them six to eight months ahead of other volunteers or selectees in their adjustment to camp life and enabled them to be advanced much faster. In the defense industry thousands of C. C. C. trained men are doing valuable work. They are in great demand and are holding key positions due to their training which has prepared them for so many fields which are of vital importance at this time.

Young men who have not qualified for the armed forces would do well to look into the advisability of joining the C. C. C. where they would be doing their part in National Defense as well as building themselves up physically and securing work training.

Vice President: Howard Ambrose. Secretary: Edward D. Fitzgerald.

Treasurer: Lieut. David J. Meskell. Directors: Thomas Davidson, Neil Kerrigan, Homer Kileoyne, Walter Carrthers.

Auditors: Lieut. Ray Hancocm, Robert McKee, Herbert S. Mullen.

UNITED WAR FUND DRIVE GAINS MOMENTUM

Gathering increasing momentum, the Greater Boston United War Fund campaign, built on unity of purpose and determination for victory, rolled on today toward its war-time goal of $7,600,000.

With one week gone in the three-week campaign, the people of Winchester and 44 other metropolitan communities found that patriotic citizens everywhere were responding as never before to this emergency challenge.

"We're one-third of the way along in this campaign, and Metropolitan's army is doing a grand job, but we must not let up," Charles C. Cabot, division chairman, warned.

"On every one of us rests the greatest of responsibilities—to show those who need our help both at home and in the services far from home that we are backing them up to the best of our ability."

"We who cannot fight can work and give. This is Metropolitan Boston's greatest united war effort. Our objects are to remain on the alert for the next two weeks. Only this way will we win on February 11th."

It is pointed out once again that the Greater Boston United War Fund carries the four-in-one responsibility of meeting four separate challenges: (1) the year-round needs of the 215 Community Fund hospitals, health and social service agencies; (2) the war-time needs of the American Red Cross at the front; (3) the call of the U. S. O. for funds to provide for men in service wherever they may be; (4) the local needs of the Soldiers and Sailors Committee to extend hospitalities to service men stationed in or about Boston.

Referring to Community Fund services, Francis A. Barrett, chairman for Winchester, cited these percentages which show the proportion of people living in the Greater Boston area, outside the City of Boston, who were helped by Community Fund Agencies last year:

Sixty-six per cent of the patients in Community Fund hospitals . . . 76 per cent of the mothers and infants in maternity homes . . . 50 per cent of the patients in convalescent homes . . . 60 per cent of the people in homes for the aged . . . 50 per cent of the children served by child-placing agencies . . . 54 per cent of the young people enrolled in youth agencies.

To the Little Woman who misread the Timetable

... AND WAITED A LONG TIME FOR A TRAIN

This is a message to those thousands of women who have only recently begun to use the train. For you, riding the train is a novel experience. Some of you tell us it's like eating olives—it takes time to appreciate the merits.

As a new rider, you found advantages in train travel over other forms of transportation, and you found disadvantages, too!

Let's take a look at this timetable difficulty. No use laughing it off. It's a pain in the neck for a lot of people. Thousands of dollars have been spent trying to simplify timetables, but really they are not much different from reading a recipe, after you understand them. We run a lot of trains in the course of 24 hours, and they go to a lot of places. Timetables are arranged so that everybody can find the right train at the time he or she wants.

Of course we have the small simplified timetables showing the service to and from one particular place as well as the large complete system-wide timetable.

But if you have any difficulty, don't forget there's a friendly B and M employee only too glad to help you. Ask your local Station Agent or check with the conductor. Any B and M employee will be glad to help you look up your train.

Heckwith is hereby informed that telephone users make 117,544 calling errors every 24 hours in the New England area this company serves. It takes 21 seconds to correct each error, on the average. That's 2,468,424 seconds... 41,140 minutes... 685 hours needlessly used every day. Enough operator-time and switchboard-time to serve an entire city the size of Manchester, N. H. Moral: Use the telephone directory — call numbers carefully — save vital time for vital activities.

WINCHESTER GARDEN CLUB

Mrs. Reginald Robinson was hostess to the club on Thursday, Jan. 22, at her home 48 Wildwood street. Desert luncheon was served at 1:30 p. m. The table decoration was a shallow aquamarine flower container with clear aqua color glass rocks forming a holder for trailing ivy. The president, Miss Mary Alice Fitch, presided at the business meeting.

Miss Fitch read a letter from the Field Director, Miss McDonald of Fort Devens, thanking the Club for their part in the Christmas decorations.

Garden Club federation dates were given as follows: Tuesday, Feb. 10, 11, at Horticultural Hall. Prof. E. Pfeiffer will lecture on Bio-dynamics. Mr. Richardson Wright on "The combination of vegetable and flower gardens." Mrs. Irving Wright on "Small Gardens" and there will be a lecture on flower arrangements.

The program committee has also arranged for four outstanding speakers to lecture on the "Various Phases of Gardening."

Miss Fitch read a letter from Mrs. Ethel Newhall, program chairman of the Greater Lynn Garden Club, giving the following dates of interest to club members.

Jan. 15, 2:30, "Developing Little Gardens and Little Spots in Large Gardens" by Mrs. Irving Wright, Chestnut Hill.

March 26, 2:30, "Design in the Small Garden" by Mr. John Parker, director Lothrop School of Landscaping, Groton. Place, Central Congregational Church, Broad street.

The spring flower show at Horticultural Hall in Boston this year will be held the week of March 16 to 21.

Miss Wyman spoke of the Victory Book drive under the auspices of the Library Association, the U. S. O. and the American Red Cross, and urged members to contribute at least one worth while book not more than five years old.

Mr. Odell, president of the New England Gladiolus Society was the speaker of the afternoon. His subject, "Gladioli." One hundred and seventeen beautifully colored slides were shown and a short history of each species given. Among the most colorful were "Festa Garbo," "Shirley Temple" and "Mother McCree."

A color chart arranged by Mr. Eugene Fisher, artist and botanist of Sharon was shown and explained by Mr. Odell. This is used for ordering and judging.

WINCHESTER HAIR DRESSER CONVENTION SPEAKER

James T. Guiliano, proprietor of the Hollywood Beauty Studio at 574 Main street, was one of the lecturers at the annual convention of the Massachusetts Unit of the National Association of Cosmetologists, held this week in Boston at the Hotel Statler. Mr. James as he is known to patrons of his studio lectured on proper hair styles and make-up for individual faces and types of personality. Hair dressers and cosmetologists from all over Massachusetts and throughout New England attended the convention which this year was greatly interested in what the manufacturers of cosmetics and toiletries had to offer in the way of substitute products for those which war production is taking off the market.

MISS AVERY TO SPEAK ON "FRANCE: DE GAULLE AND VICHY"

"France: de Gaulle and Vichy" is the subject of the lecture to be given by Miss Eunice Harriet Avery next Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 4 at 2:30 in the Wyman School Hall. This is the seventh in the popular "Today as History" series sponsored by the Winchester Smith College Club for the benefit of its scholarship fund.

The speakers will be Mrs. Benjamin T. Marshall, Jr. and Mrs. Roger Flynn. Mrs. Friedman Lane and Mrs. Albert Haskell will be at the ticket table. Single admissions may be obtained at the door.

"In losing control of the Pacific, our way of life has already changed," declared Miss Avery in her lecture on Jan. 21. "The United States Since Dec. 7, 1941." The originally scheduled lecture on the Dutch was postponed to a later date, in order to review the situation in our own country. We have lost the civilization built on rubber; the tempo and content of our education have been changed. Industries are being distributed over the country to take up the slack in labor and also lessen the dangers of bombing. We face rationing, rising taxes, and some inflation. All this was brought about in approximately two hours at Pearl Harbor.

As soon as America faces the fact that she can lose this war, it is inevitable that France will win. Des. 7, according to the speaker, is evidence that we have been losing for the past three years. The difference between defeat and victory now is a quantity and time. Fortunately the United States is the one nation in the world that has "majored" in hurrying; we started 1941 with 184,000 factories and now have 187,000. The cost of victory program in 1942 will be 56 billions, which, reduced to a more comprehensible figure, would mean the spending of $256 per month during the entire Christian era! We are asked to invest one billion dollars per month in defense bonds; last year we spent six billions per month on gold.

The psychology now is to fight and win victory and security. Isolationism is permanently dead. America faces tremendous challenges but victory can be attained by determination and co-operation.

BOY SCOUT NOTES
Tenth Annual Exposition and Show
Feb. 7

The zero hour for the big annual exposition and show is about to come. The biggest event in Fellsland Council, when all the Cubs, Land Scouts and Sea Scouts get together to demonstrate a multitude of events. The big feature, naturally, is for the many booths, when each troop tries hard to have a better booth than some other troop. Then there are contests when all the boys get worked up to fever heat of enthusiasm for their entering team, hoping he will win, and cheering to that end. Just so no one will feel there is any staleness to the program, there is a miscellaneous grouping of stage presentations, some musical, some comical, some educational.

In the afternoon, guests will observe moving pictures of the 1941 Camp Fellsland season. Contests will be in evidence all of the time.

Everyone is always tense in the evening, because the finals come at that time, and the announcements of the winners are made.

One of the loveliest parts of the evening program is the presentation of Eagle badges, the highest rank in Scouting, and the envy of all Scouts. This year there will be several to be presented. Always, and being 1942, note is procured to make the award. After this, the judges will make the final decisions.

Robert E. Etz is chief judge and has as assistants four students from Tufts College, former Scouts, and a young man, a former Scout who comes from California, as the fifth judge. There will be the amazing of colors, the Scout oath and laws, and bang the tenth Scout Exposition will have become history.

Tenth Anniversary of Troop 7

The tenth anniversary of Troop 7 was celebrated Monday night, Jan. 19, in the social hall of the First Baptist Church. The hall was decorated with flags. Scout emblems blue and gold streamers and the troop colors, also were present.

Robert Quine the troop bugler sounded the mess call at 6:30 p. m. The tables were quickly filled and two extra tables had to be set up to accommodate the crowd.

John Casler, Scoutmaster was master of ceremonies. He called on Senior patrol leader Addison Augusta to present the colors.

Mr. James J. Quinn, Superintendent of the Unitarian Church and president of Fellsland Council, presiding was introduced. He spoke briefly on the history of the troop and complimented the leaders on their success.

Mr. Edward Nelson, Scout Executive of Fellsland Council gave an interesting and inspiring hour of the troop committee on the fine work they are doing.

Mr. Rushton commended the Scout committee on the fine work they are doing.

Commander R. M. Rush was on the program as a speaker, was unable to be present as his services were required at the Navy Yard.

Mr. Franklin Lane, chief air raid warden was called on to introduce the speaker of the evening, Dr. Paul A. Warren, Biologist of Tufts College. He gave a most interesting talk on Youth and Defense.

Two young musicians, Edmund Ganther, violinist and Albert Banville, pianist, both Boy Scouts from Peabody played two numbers.

Hungarian Dance No. 5 by Brahms and Intermezzo Russe by Franke. They belong to the Yassa Shepard Orchestra of Salem and the Symphonic Orchestra of Lynn.

Mr. Wadsworth Hight showed pictures of the Scout activities taken at Lone Pine Point on Lake Winnepesaukee and Antrim, N. H.

Fourteen efficient Girl Scouts all in uniform under the direction of their Captain, Mrs. William L. Davis and her assistant, Miss Constance Lane waited on the tables.

Troop 7 made a good record during 1941, having passed 203 tests during 36 meetings, 14 new boys have satisfactorily passed tenderfoot requirements; 12 of them being Cubs.

They are preparing a project for the annual Exposition. The Boy Scout Trail to citizenship teams are being organized to take part in all of the events at the Exposition to be held in Medford, Feb. 7.

The Scouts of Troop 7 are to be commended on the way they conducted themselves during the ceremony.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE WINCHESTER RED CROSS FOR 1941

The recording secretary of the Winchester Chapter, American Red Cross, submits to the chairman, executive board, and town members an annual report of activities during the past year.

In addition to the annual meeting, six board meetings and two executive committee meetings have been held. The Disaster, Preparedness and Relief Committee, of which Malcolm D. Bennett was chairman, reported that during the past year this group has rehabilitated three Winchester families suffering from the loss of their homes, furnishings and personal effects by the result of fire. Sub-committee chairman have completed intricate and detailed surveys, making it possible to meet any emergency, relative to responsibility, inflicted by an act of war. Twelve stretchers have been constructed to be used in Red Cross emergency volunteer ambulances. This committee has been fortunate and believes the community, privileged to have the co-ordination and untiring efforts of Mr. Harold S. Fuller, chairman of the Winchester Civilian Defense Committee.

Mr. Pennell reported that under the competent instruction of Miss Barker Goodrich and Sergeant Harold of the Winchester Police force, 309 have passed the Standard First Aid course. From these, eight have gone on to become advanced students and still further to be certified as instructors, so that we now have at our service 10 teachers of First Aid.

The women of Winchester have responded magnificently according to Mrs. Mildred Dodge, chairman of production. Nine thousand two hundred and eighty six garments were sewed and 2900 knitted. Two hundred and twenty women have worked at the rooms sewing, giving 836 1/2 hours of service, not to mention groups of Red Cross volunteers, throughout the town who have also worked faithfully. The Chapter is proud of its renovated work room with new floor, new window shades, and freshly painted walls. The Chapter has confidence in the continued efforts of its workers and so plans to take on an even larger spring quota.

Mrs. R. K. Miller, Jr., chairman of Hospital Service, reported that the Gray Lady Committee collected about 300 veterans at the Bedford Hospital in weekly visits distributing candy, flowers, cards, and magazines. At Christmas time they helped handicapped men write Christmas cards and assisted in the distribution of Christmas cards and magazines. At Christmas time they helped handicapped men write Christmas cards and assisted in the distribution of Christmas cards and magazines.

A set of By-Laws for the Winchester Chapter, drawn up by a committee consisting of Mrs. Earle E. Andrews, Mrs. Ruth Hilton, and Mrs. Nathaniel Nichols were adopted at the annual meeting.

The Chapter felt themselves most fortunate to have obtained the services of Mr. Elliott F. Cameron as chairman for the coming year. This is a record of achievement for which our townpeople can well be proud and one which again places our Chapter high on the National Red Cross list for accomplished services.

The directors of the Chapter are deeply appreciative of the financial aid and many hours of service so loyally and generously given by workers in every branch. Without such support this fine record could not have been achieved.

The Red Cross Chapter wishes to thank each and every man and woman who has contributed to our work this year. Respectfully submitted, Eugenia L. Caldwell, Recording Secretary

The people of Winchester have again responded most generously to the Roll Call. Mr. George R. Carter, our Roll Call Chairman, reports a total of $5,699.41 received and a total membership of 3163. This has been one of our most successful Roll Calls and much credit is due Mr. Carter's untiring efforts.

WINTON CLUB CABARET

Colorful Show Pleased Large Audiences

Posters and Gym Skit Features

Winchester went to the Winton Club show last Friday and Saturday evenings, laying aside defense activities, war worries, business cares and fretting over tires and sugar, to gain a welcome respite at this annual frolic in the town hall.

Both evenings gay groups trooped to the hall from private dinner parties about town to gather about the colorful tables, exchanging greetings with friends at adjacent tables or across the hall, regaling themselves with refreshment, listening to the music from attractive flower vendors and smokers from pet cigarette girls, dancing between numbers to toe-tickling music couched from Marshall's orchestra by genial Lou Bonick and in between times chuckling and gloating over the clever "personality posters" painted for the show by the Fulton Brown, chairman of the decorations committee.

These posters deserve a special line of two. Of large size, depicting personages in the public eye and favorite Disney characters, they were ranged along the balcony rails for all to enjoy and regret their coming down as they were being pulled by E. B. "Tat" Badger to swell the Winton Club coffers, some bringing as high as $10.

Among those in posters were Sanford Butts, Walker Jones, E. B. Badger, Ted Cunningham and Harvard Mann. Other winners were Dr. George Mann, Walter Butler, Vincent Farnsworth, Jr., Lowell Smith and Mrs. Norman Barrett of West Medford.

It wouldn't be Winton Club show without the flower and cigarette girls, and those working the cabaret this year seemed especially attractive. Flower girls in evening gowns were Francis, Mary Butler, Janice Dexter, Janet Eaton, Ann Jennings, Louise Kelley, Cynthia Newton, Dorothea Richardson, Betty Roberts, Saturday, Ann Crowley, Betty Drake, Jane Kimball, Alice George Neely, Alice Parker and Carolyn Stuart.

Clad in conventional night club fashion, in short slim black dresses and wide white aprons, the cigarette girls were Anne Cole and Priscilla Flagge on Friday, Marion Davis and Rebecca Farnsworth, Saturday.

The ever popular refreshment bar had an entirely new feature this year in its dispensers, four Harvard boys, garbed as an impersonating pair, Marx Brothers, served and staged comedians, who served patrons with wine cracks and clowning that included chasing one of the pretty cigarette girls through the hall and across the stage.

As Lou Bonick raised his short baton to start the show and Master of Ceremonies, the Winton Club, which preceded the cabaret a commotion broke out in the south balcony where two truculent figures (Jack Eaton and Al Pennell) armed with a pop gun showed defiance and threats upon the M. C. As they left the balcony to come to close grips with Ted a strident voice was raised in the north balcony where Mul and Louise Olivier had put in an appearance with the former expressing vehement dislike for the seats accorded them by the management.

This little by-play got the show away to a good start and as the curtain parted the Mystic Glee Club lined up with duffie bags and overnight kits to sing the rollicking, "We're in the Draft," a number that started on the stage and was concluded on the floor where a majority of the club indulged in some of the best singing while the theme song was sung by a quartet who remained before the footlights.

Following the club, the curtain again parted to reveal a group of eight men, eight women and eight children, eight of whom were the firm who interrupted their knitting long enough to sing a humorous parody on the Glee Club song which included a snappy salute.

Running onto the floor from the gloom at either side of the stage entrance, eight snappy little numbers in yellow jiggerbug costumes with blue hats tapped out a rapid fire routine to the tune, "On With the Show." A number that nepped up the tempo and was warmly received. Followed by a diverting bit on the stage in which Ray Mauger, Jr., and Budge Bump came to fight, after trying to "make" Frances Nichols, when Getty Snow as Maizelle Zaza, Maizelle Zaza, thought their thoughts as she tripped past them across the boards.

Clad in abbreviated black and silver costumes with John Fredericks hats and carrying his green hat boxes, eight attractive mannequins appeared before a crushed silver drop to offer a rapid-fire dance that included plenty of high kicking, the crowd was quick to appreciate.

WINCHESTER CADET IN MIAMI PLANE CRASH

Rufus Clark Bailed Out, Other Pilot Dead

Cadet Rufus C. Clark of this town, in training for his Naval Aviation wings at Miami, Fla., had a narrow escape from death Sunday when the plane he was piloting collided on a training flight near Miami with another, piloted by Cadet John Francis McCullough, 24, of North Weymouth, Cadet McCullough was killed, but Cadet Clark managed to extricate himself from his wrecked plane and parachute to safety.

He was badly shaken up in landing and it was at first thought that serious consequences might develop. The commandant at Miami talked with his mother, Mrs. Robert S. Clark of 24 Stevens street, by telephone, and at first advised her to go to Miami at once. Mrs. Clark was making arrangements to fly to Miami Monday when a second and much more reassuring report was received and a subsequent telephone conversation with her son convinced Mrs. Clark that the young cadet informed his mother that he was quite all right and was to resume flying at once, precluding any possibility of injury. Cadet Clark is a graduate of Winchester High School and cut short his junior year at Bowdoin College last April to enlist in the Naval Aviation Corps. He took his Navy's specialty planes and at Quantico and Jacksonville, Fla., being assigned to Miami about two weeks ago. He is scheduled to receive his commission in a month.

At the Naval Air Station in Miami, in six weeks of advanced training, Cadet Clark will learn how to pilot the Navy's speedy war planes and from the decks of aircraft carriers. When that phase of his work is successfully completed, the former Bowdoin College student will be awarded the Navy's coveted "Wings of Gold" and will be commissioned an Ensign in the Naval Reserve.

W. ALLAN WILDE TALKS TO SENIOR AND JUNIOR BOYS

On Thursday morning at 8:20, W. Allan Wilde, chairman of the Selective Service Board of Winchester and Stoneham, addressed the boys of the two upper classes of Winchester High School, preliminary to his address by Principal Wade L. Grindle, who emphasized the fact that every boy in the group must be asking himself: (1) How is the war going to affect me? (2) What are my obligations toward it? (3) How can I best help?

Mr. Wilde pointed out the fact that he was not speaking in the official capacity of his office but rather as a citizen of the town, whose position made it his duty to say something worthwhile to boys of high school age during this emergency.

His first point was an urgent request that Winchester High School boys should not rush in to enlist in some branch of the service before completing the school year. He went on to develop the importance of at least a high school education as preparation for effective service. Now is the time, he said, for boys of high school age to prepare by self-instruction, by group activities for effective service when called to duty.

Mr. Wilde gave this point real significance by suggesting specific points for study in the group training in close order drill, motor and mechanics training, and particular attention to advancing in mathematics.

Physical fitness, with special emphasis on care of the teeth was stressed as of great importance to young men who expect to enter any service branch.

At the end of his address Mr. Wilde answered several pertinent questions by members of the audience. There was no doubt in the minds of those present that education and more education of a practical sort is of primary importance to every boy who expects to render effective service to his country within the next few years.

A marriage union in the history of Winchester nuptials was that of Miss Jean E. McKenzie, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Wilfred L. McKenzie of Black Horse terrace, who was married to Ensign Cecil L. Webber, U.S. N. R., on Friday, Jan. 30, in San Francisco, Cal., with her pastor, Rev. Howard J. Chidley, D. D., of the First Congregational Church, taking part in the ceremony over the telephone from Pinehurst, N. C., where he was enjoying a few days' rest after conducting his annual course of lectures at North Carolina College for Negroes in Durham. Completing the telephonic ring, Dr. and Mrs. McKenzie listened to the service over the telephone at their home with the bridegroom's parents, Dr. and Mrs. E. S. Webber, who came on to Winchester from their home in Belfast, Me. Dr. McKenzie gave his daughter in marriage, his voice being carried by phone across the continent.

The marriage took place at the San Francisco home of Comdr. George H. Babin, executive officer of the vessel on which Ensign Webber is serving. Both officers were on their leave from active duty. Dr. Chidley read the introduction to the ceremony which was performed by Chaplain Howard Dyer, U. S. N.

Ensign Webber and his bride will make their home for the present at 808 Leavenworth street, San Francisco, Cal. The bride is widely known among Winchester's young people. She was graduated from Winchester High School in 1931 and is now a member of Young Ladies in Toronto, Canada, and studied modern languages at the University of Toronto.

CONAHAY-PERRY

At a candlelight ceremony in Ripley Memorial Chapel of the First Congregational Church, Saturday evening, Jan. 31, Miss Doris Louise Perry, daughter of Mrs. Betty Alden Perry of 361 Main street, became the bride of John Conahay of 100 Main street, both of whom are sons of Mr. and Mrs. R. Conahay. Rev. R. Mitchell Rush-ton, pastor of the First Baptist Church, performed the marriage ceremony. The bride's music was played by J. Albert Wilson, organist and choirmaster of the First Congregational Church.

Miss Perry was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Raymond A. Alden. She wore an embroidered dress of white wool and carried an old-fashioned bouquet of orchids and white sweet peas. Her maid and flower attendant was Miss Jane Canine, who wore a light blue crepe dress and carried a bouquet of salmon-colored sweet peas. Leigh Harris of Quantico was Mr. Conahay's best man.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the home of the bride's mother where a buffet wedding supper was served. Mrs. Perry wore a gown of blue crepe with a corsage of carnations.

Mr. Conahay and his bride are to make their home in Millbury. The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School. Mr. Conahay is a graduate of Wentworth Institute and studied electrical engineering at Northeastern University. He is associated with the Industrial Business Machines Company in Worcester.

TOWN BORROWS AT LOW RATE

The Town Treasurer of Winchester reports that, with the approval of the Board of Selectmen, he accepted bids Monday contemplating a loan of $100,000 to the town in anticipation of tax revenues, said loan to mature Nov. 16, 1942.

The successful bidder was the Merchants National Bank of Boston. The loan is at a rate of interest of one per cent, at which this money is borrowed, reflects the high regard in which the Town is held by financial institutions.

Because of the war the rate is higher than the cost of last year's borrowing, but it is the lowest rate of which any town in the Commonwealth has borrowed so far in 1942 and it is even slightly lower than the rate at which the County of Middlesex borrowed last week. This is the first credit to the town by the Middlesex County even once in the matter of money rates you are going some.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Edward Greene of Highland avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Eleanor Greene, to Mr. Herbert W. Smith of Chicago, Ill.

WARDENS MAKING NEIGHBORHOOD CALLS

Many air raid wardens have commenced their "check-up" calls, asking householders to answer questions of importance to those charged with conducting the civilian defense program. All householders are urged to give the wardens their full cooperation.

OUTSTANDING SESSION OF A. R. P. SCHOOL

Monday evening's session of the A. R. P. School was in every sense outstanding. The subjects considered were: size and general layout of the town's water system; interesting highlights of which were the facts that the town's reservoirs are not natural ponds, but are formed by dams and therefore controllable, that all but two areas on the East and West Sides are served by gravity; that the town is taking half its daily water supply, 500,000 gallons from its own side wells, that there are 64 miles of water pipe and 63 miles of sewer pipe in the town's 65 miles of streets, and that the town's water supply is well below normal due to the driest year in the department's history.

Describing the newly organized Department of Public Works, functioning under the Civilian Defense staff, with himself as chairman, Town Engineer William C. Sanderson, gave a report on the department's work in the care of the town's water system. Supt. Harry Dotten in charge of water and sewer mains, and Supt. Thomas McKenney in charge of Parks, Mr. Sanderson told the town's water supply is well below normal due to the driest year in the department's history.

While Mr. Sanderson stated that the town's water supply is ample to care for the town's needs, he experienced, he warned that the indiscriminate use of pumps about town can very easily overload certain parts of the water system. As a consequence his department is co-ordinating matters with the Fire Department and Auxiliary Fire Department to guard against this development. Arrangements are also being completed for several pumping points on the Abenona River as a relief to the town's water supply.

G. L. Langford, representing the Arlington Gas Light Company, opened his remarks with the assertion that local residents need not fear dire consequences if the town's gas holder at the Highlands is hit by a bomb. Gas holders are explosion proof because of their construction. They are fireproof because they are made of steel, and any incendiary bomb which might pierce the outer shell would be smothered for want of oxygen.

Joseph F. Sibby of 1037 Main street, a resident of Winchester for more than 20 years and a veteran of the first World War, died Saturday morning, Jan. 31, at the Marine Hospital in Brighton, after a brief illness with pneumonia. Mr. Sibby was born 44 years ago in New Haven, Conn. During the first World War he served in the Army and saw service overseas. He came to Winchester after being discharged from the Army in 1918 and made his home here. He first was employed as a painter. He was well known in local sportsmen's circles, was a member of the Woburn Sportsman's Association and a former member of the King Cyrus Lodge of American Legion. Surviving are several brothers and sisters.

The funeral was held Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock at his sister, Miss Grace Sibby, 39 Lilac street, New Haven, Conn. High mass of requiem was celebrated in St. Mary's Church, that city. Burial was in New Haven.

WINCHESTER LAGS IN DRIVE

Nineteen thousand more dollars must be given or pledged between now and Feb. 11, if Winchester is to meet its quota of $51,000 in the Greater Boston War Fund Drive. Reaching this quota—the highest in Winchester's history—is a "must" job which requires all Winchester citizens to dig into their pockets, and to contribute not just "more" than was given last year, but "double" the giving of last year.

Speaking before a recent Dutch Treat Report Luncheon of the Greater Boston United War Fund, Richard P. Allen, vice-chairman of the Insular and Foreign Services of the Red Cross, warned that unless all Americans put their whole heart into winning this war they may be overcome. Recently returned from two years in Europe, Allen said he did not believe that we realize what we are up against. The German Army is tremendously powerful; its morale is very high. We must not believe that we are up against it. The German Army is tremendously powerful; its morale is very high. We must not believe that we are up against it.

"To us war will touch every man, woman and child. We must get together and be deadly serious about it. Otherwise, we are not going to return to what we call our civilization." Winchester's war effort in our war effort could be in Winchester after the Greater Boston United War Fund met its $7,000,000 goal. The war effort could be in Winchester after the Greater Boston United War Fund met its $7,000,000 goal.

In commenting on the progress of the United War Fund to date, Francis A. Barrett, chairman for Winchester, issued the following statement: "Failure in these war times to meet this goal is letting down the soldiers, sailors and marines, the Red Cross workers and others who are carrying a burden of national sacrifice immeasurably greater than the gift of money to the United War Fund."

Wallace Prescott Palmer of Kenwin road, for many years a resident of Winchester, died Tuesday morning, Feb. 3, after a protracted illness. Mr. Palmer was the son of Abram Prescott and Helen Sargent (Taylor) Palmer. He was born April 14, 1856, in Roxbury, Me., but came to Winchester as a boy of 12 years, and lived here for the remainder of his life, subsequently graduating from Brown University in the class of 1878.

For several years Mr. Palmer was superintendent of the Merimee Chemical works in North Abenona. Later he was for 20 years associated with White, Son & Co., Boston wholesale dealers in fancy leathers. He was a member of the King Cyrus Lodge of Masons in Stoneham and was actively interested in the First Baptist Church, serving there for many years as a deacon. He first lived on Highland avenue near Mt. Vernon street, and later on Forest street, his last home being on Kenwin road.

On May 16, 1925, Mr. Palmer married Stanley Wilbur, daughter of Stanley Wilbur and member of one of Winchester's old line families. She died in 1925. Surviving are two sons, Guy F. Palmer of Chicago, and Howard S. Palmer of Stoneham; a daughter, Mrs. Helen Palmer Macdonald of this town; eight grandchildren; and a great-grandchild.

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at the Kelley & Hawes Funeral Chapel with Rev. R. Mitchell Rush-ton, pastor of the First Baptist Church, and a former pastor, Rev. Henry E. Dodge of Melrose, officiating. Interment was in the Palmer family lot in Willowood Cemetery.

LEGION TO PRESENT FLAG TO

During the Sunday Services at the First Congregational Church, the Winchester Post of the American Legion will present a new flag to Cub Pack 3 which is sponsored by the Men's Club of the Church. This is in recognition of Boy Scout Week which is being observed throughout the nation. All Cub Packs have been asked to share in this celebration which marks the 22d birthday of the Scout family.

Most of the 60 Cubs have planned to be present. They have been drilled by Cub Master Pennell to carry out their part of the ceremony "on their own" as Commander R. H. B. Smith and Chaplain Vincent Clark make the presentation assisted by a Color Guard from the Legion.

In connection with this flag presentation, it is interesting to know that when on June 14, 1777, the American Congress officially adopted our first flag consisting of 13 stripes, alternate red and white, with a union of 13 stars, white on a blue field, representing a new constellation. George Washington said of it: "We take the stars from heaven, the red from our mother country, separating it by white stripes, thus showing that we have separated from her, and the white stripes shall go down to posterity representing liberty."

In designing the flag there was much discussion as to the arrangement of the stars in the field of blue. It was thought at one time that a new stripe as well as a new star should be added for each new state admitted to the Union and consequently upon the admission of Vermont and Kentucky as states, Congress enacted that after May 1, 1795, the flag should consist of 15 stripes, alternate red and white; and that the union be 15 stars, white in a field of blue.

However, the impracticability of adding a stripe for each state was apparent as other states began to be admitted; therefore, on April 14, 1818, Congress passed an act which finally fixed the flag of our country to be 13 horizontal stripes, alternate red and white; and that one star be added to the union of the flag for every state.

WYMAN SCHOOL FATHER'S NIGHT

"Next to Saving Our Country"

A capacity audience crowded the Wyman School Assembly Hall to hear Dr. Randolph Smith of the Beaver Country Day School speak on "Today's Challenge: American Education" on the occasion of the Mothers' Association annual "Fathers' Night" this Wednesday, Feb. 4. In a memorable address Dr. Smith spoke of the present dangers besetting parents in their part of their children's education. We must fight, he told us, against indifference and selfishness and hold fast to the feeling of belonging and of being responsible. We must be calm and so add to the children's feeling of security. We must not instill hates and intolerances on the children's minds so that when peace comes they can go ahead without prejudice. "The greatest service," said Dr. Smith, "that young people can do is to do their own jobs as well as they can and save their parents as much as they can."

A danger which Dr. Smith especially stressed comes from those who feel that with expenses mounting in every direction school expenses can be diminished by cutting out what they believe are non-essentials. These so-called "non-essentials," physical education, music, handicrafts, the arts, etc., are really more important than ever. "Not less of these," said Dr. Smith, "but more." It is up to the parents to see that these things are not cut out and even more it is up to the parents to see to it that education gets better and better, that changes are made so that more and more it will be true that our children are getting the best education possible. "Next to saving our country, the proper education of our young people is our most important task."

At the opening of the meeting Mrs. Langley Keyes, president, graciously welcomed the large audience. She announced the annual Fashion Show, held each year for the benefit of the scholarship fund. The date for it this year is March 11.

Before the meeting the social committee, with Mrs. Maxwell McCreary as chairman, served coffee in the Kindergarten Room and afterward the parents had the opportunity to visit the class rooms which the teachers had kindly arranged to leave open for them and to see some of the children's work.

LEXINGTON HERE TONIGHT
Winchester Faces Crucial Game With Minuteboys

Lexington comes to Winchester tonight for the big basketball game of the local boys' home season, the game they must win to retain their outside chance for the Middlesex League championship.

The Minuteboys are leading the circuit with a perfect record of five wins, including a 24-18 victory over Winchester in the first league game of the season. A veteran club with a lot more height than Winchester can muster makes the visitors' favorite to repeat tonight, but Coach Ted Bartlett is conceding nothing and points to the fact that his charges outplayed Lexington in the second half of their previous game, scoring 11 points while holding the victors to 1.

Playing on their home court tonight, with their backs against the wall, the local side will be tougher than they were in the season's opener at Lexington. Unfortunately for their chances they will be without the services of big rugged Billy West for this steadily improving guard will not be available against the Minuteboys.

The biggest crowd of the season is expected tonight, and a whole section of seats will be reserved for adults until game time, 7:30.

WINCHESTER WON FROM CHELMSFORD

Winchester High beat Chelmsford High in basketball at Winchester Tuesday afternoon, 27-15. The local seconds also winning, 36-20.

Beating Chelmsford decisively was quite a feather in Winchester's cap for the visitors were finalists in Class B at the Tech tournament last year and have a team of six footers this year, with a record of seven wins in eight games, exclusive of Winchester.

Paced by Zabierek and Clayton, big veterans of last year's club, the visitors led at the quarter, 6-4, and trailed by a point at the half, 9-10. With the resumption of play Winchester speeded up and controlled play, holding Chelmsford scoreless throughout the third quarter and allowing but a brace of floor goals and a basket in the final period.

Meanwhile Coach Bartlett's charges were running up 17 points with Pete Twombly and Cant. Dean Derby starting. The local mentor used a different lineup against Chelmsford, having Mooney line up as a forward with Twombly at center, shifting to their regular positions on offense. Moore starred for the seconds, rolling up 13 points. Following is the varsity summary:

WINCHESTER 27—STONEHAM 25
Losers' Rally Falls Short in Rough Game

Winchester High retained its mathematical chance for the Middlesex League basketball championship by edging Stoneham High at Stoneham, 27-25, in a game that was a bit more than rugged in spots. There is bound to be more or less contact in Stoneham's small gymnasium and last Friday's game was no exception. Stoneham continued to prove very troublesome for the league contenders and had it not been for a big early game lead, would have won from Winchester.

Captain Dean Derby got Winchester away in the lead with a goal from scrimmage, and two more floor goals by big Bill West widened the gap, before a single point was scored by the forwards.

The locals ran up a 20-12 lead at half time, and fortunate they were to have this eight point advantage, for the second half was all Stoneham. Pete Twombly got Winchester's only floor goal during the second half, scoring three goals from free tries for good measure. Foul shots by Captain Derby and Don Drew brought the local total to seven points for the half. Stoneham, paced by right guard Bridgeman was picking up 13. Eleven of the 13 came in the final quarter and

STUDENT MINISTER AT METCALF UNION

Rev. Irving Murray, recently appointed as Unitarian Minister to Students in Boston, will be the speaker at the Metcalf Union at its special noon meeting on Sunday at the Unitarian Church. Mr. Murray graduated only a few years ago from the Theological School and became minister of the Channing Unitarian Church in Newton. His work with students was so outstanding that he was asked to give up his parish work and devote his whole time to working with young people. He participated in the Youth Rally here in November at the Unitarian Church when the Hon. Sanford Bates was the principal speaker. The young people feel very fortunate to have him as a guest again and all young people who are interested are invited to hear Mr. Murray at 12 noon next Sunday.

WINCHESTER WOMEN UNITE

On Friday, Feb. 20, at 2:30 o'clock, women of Winchester will hold an united service at the Unitarian Church. In this service women here will unite with women all over the world.

The program for the service has been prepared in the United States, but the three women who planned it know intimately, painfully, and still hopelessly, life as women live in other lands. The chairman was formerly a teacher in Gilling College, China. Teachers and students that she knew there walked 2,000 miles to China's western mountains, to keep Gilling's life of learning and faith from being put out by the invaders. With her, in preparing the program, have been a French woman and a German woman, both refugees in America. The French woman has had no word from her family in France for over a year. The son of the German woman is in a concentration camp in Hitler's Germany. Before they escaped to America, the German woman was herself imprisoned in a concentration camp, and her husband in another. These women have undergone the suffering for one of the freedoms that are determined shall not perish from the earth, the freedom to worship God who is above the state. Their faith has been beaten out under the anvil of discouragements and dangers. They know in whom they have believed.

The leader in the Winchester service will be Mrs. Paul Harmon Chapman.

THOMAS B. HANLON

Thomas B. Hanlon of 7 Highland Avenue, Lexington, formerly of this town, died Monday, Feb. 2, at the Symmes Hospital in Arlington.

Mr. Hanlon made his home in Winchester for about 10 years before going to Lexington. He was born in Boston April 30, 1871 and was for more than 30 years in the railway mail service, being last employed on the Boston and Albany Railroad, from which he retired August 14, 1933. He was a member of Fr. John B. DeValles Council, K. of C. of Dorchester.

The funeral was held Thursday morning with requiem high mass in St. Mary's Church at 9 o'clock. Interment was in Wildwood Cemetery.

WINCHESTER THRIFT SHOP SPONSORS UNIQUE ATTRACTION

A miniature wedding in all its beauty and dignity is to be given under the auspices of the Thrift Shop at the First Baptist Church Saturday, March 4. The annual Donation Day of the Thrift Shop is an event which the people of Winchester look forward to and this year's program will surpass all others.

JUNIOR RED CROSS COLLECTS CARDS

During the month of January the High School Junior Red Cross conducted a drive for used playing cards for the soldiers. Under the direction of home room representatives the school collected 104 packs of cards which were placed at the disposal of the proper authorities. Miss Mary Mackenzie of the high school faculty has been chosen as the new Junior Red Cross faculty supervisor.

CEDRIC SEAGER TO SPEAK TO WINCHESTER WOMEN'S REPUBLICAN CLUB

Cedric Seager, writer, traveler and expert on Balkan affairs, is to be the guest speaker at the February meeting of the Winchester Women's Republican Club, on Wednesday Feb. 11. Four generations of Mr. Seager's family have lived in Turkey, he himself, having been born there and spending more than 30 years in that country of many wars and revolutions. Mr. Seager's subject, "Turkey and the War Conflict," is indeed timely since Turkey holds such a key position in this World War conflict, with the Bosphorus and Dardanelles of such tremendous significance to both sides. Mr. Seager had the unique experience of being one of the few eye-witnesses of the flight of Turkey's last Sultan. He was in Turkey during the Kemal Revolution and he saw Turkey pass almost overnight from medievalism to modernity under the guidance of that most colorful of recent dictators, Ataturk, and in his lecture Mr. Seager highlights the drama as well as the humor of this astonishing revolution; bringing you up to date, on a revolution that is too little known.

Mrs. Joseph A. Ryan, president of the Winchester Women's Republican Club, is delighted to be able to present Cedric Seager, and cordially invites friends and interested ones to come and enjoy him whose thorough knowledge of the country thoroughly qualifies him to speak with authority about Turkey's past, present and future.

FORTNIGHTLY MAKES GIFT

The Winchester Fortnightly has made a very generous gift to the Greater Boston United War Fund. The officers of the Fortnightly, as well as the members, felt very strongly that the United War Fund should receive its support. The officers of the Fortnightly are: Mrs. Clifton S. Hall, president; Mrs. George A. Dutton, first vice president; Mrs. Kingman P. Cass, second vice president; Mrs. Eugene Peppard, corresponding secretary; Mrs. William E. Priest, recording secretary; and Mrs. Stanley Howe, treasurer.

The motives of the Fortnightly in making this contribution to the United War Fund are beautifully expressed by Mrs. Edward S. Winn, the Fortnightly publicity chairman, as follows:

"Philanthropy has always played a major role in the interests of the Winchester Fortnightly. With the prospects of possible emergency during this winter, the Fortnightly sponsored a 'telephone bridge' in November, the proceeds from which might be used for any needed philanthropy. Consequently, the Fortnightly was very glad to be able to vote at its January meeting, to give $100 to the Winchester fund of the Greater Boston United War Fund."

This skit provided an ideal built-up for the feature drill number, this year stream-lined to avoid any military note and include a bit of dancing that proved popular. Picked up by spotlights, the girls danced onto the floor to the tune of "A-Hunting We Will Go," looking very special in their scarlet coats, white breeches, black riding boots and hats. Dancing the opening and closing parts of the number, the girls did some precision marching in between that won the plaudits of the onlookers who found the spectacle of pretty girls, colorful costumes and intricate evolutions very pleasing. Nor should we forget a special word for Babs Pennell who led the closing "Pony Boy" dance movement and swung her hunting crop so dexterously.

From the sublime to the ridiculous was the following stage diversion, showing Bob Jackson, a fugitive from a ski tow, in "It's a Long Pull." Bob was all decked out in a suit of those things that the tactful ad writers describe as "musts" under ski togs and while the orchestra played "The Volga Boatman" pulled manfully on long rope, only to find that he was actually hauling himself about the stage.

"Rose in His Lapel" was a colorful dance number done by eight attractive girls in pink evening gowns, trimmed with rose to match their picture hats, who pinned roses upon the coats of their masculine partners, immaculate in tails.

Contrasting the lissom grace of this number was "Playtime for Mom," an hilarious comedy sketch that stole the show without half trying. Winton frequenters have seen nothing funnier in years than this burlesque gymnastic skit done by the well-known matrons, clad in non-descript gym costumes of the gay nineties era, under the leadership of Carol Howe. Putting plenty of vim into their work, these gals gave the audience a real run for its money from their caustic, then, marching and aesthetic dancing, to their riotous ending, during which the leader lost certain essentials of her costume. All were good but Esther Clark as "flower-petal" and Elsie Flag as the languid deadpan were outstanding, the latter winning this reviewer's nod for the best thing in the show.

Intermission followed the stalwart mothers and during the wait dancing was enjoyed and the lucky numbers drawn. Winners were Willard Hruskell of Belmont (Thursday) and John B. Cecil (Friday) and Dr. Richard Norton of Newton (Saturday).

Perhaps the loveliest number in the show was that opening the second act, "Dancing Silhouettes," presented by ten pretty girls in white evening gowns with orchid underskirts that showed when they kicked and twirled and having white parasols and white birds at a saucy angle in their hair. Sidney Blanchard, Jr., was the singer who introduced their dance in a pleasing deep baritone voice, and the solo dancer was attractive Nancy England.

Poking a bit of fun at the Winchester Hospital which has long been benefited by Winton's mirth making prodivities, Leonore Gamage rose from her stretcher to inquire the time of her operation, only to find three men, clad in professional white, were painters, not surgeons.

Budge Bump and Priscilla Danforth put on a clever bit of pantomime in "The 5th House from the Corner," being assisted by eight peppy girls in red and black costumes with red gloves, who came from behind colored doors to dance an intricate routine on stage. Special mention should be made of the spectacular costume worn by Miss Danforth in this act.

The Cut-in, a diversionist, found Willard Grush confounding Leonore Gamage by dancing off with Al Pennell after cutting in on their waltz. This was especially popular at the dress rehearsal Thursday when many of Al's "little pupils" were in the audience.

Returning to the stage the Mystic Glee Club sang the hit song of their recent concert, "Shadrack," with the addition of long sheets as costumes and an assortment of ancient headgear. A gorgeous backdrop depicting the fiery furnace made this number spectacular, and as an encore Bill Cruger sang, "Ever So Quiet," a novelty number that the club aided effectively in making anything but soothing!

No show is much better than its finale, and this year's cabaret ended on an especially festive note with the colorful barn dance, done by a big group of boys and girls in appropriate rural costumes, the boys in yellow and blue overalls and the girls in yellow and blue checkered gingham dresses and sunbonnets.

Starting in a bale of hay on the stage, the dancers trouped down the steps to the floor where with Ted Whittemore, in boots and side whiskers, calling they went through their paces, heels and toes, swinging their partners, all hands around and the rest. Adding to the merriment, at the conclusion of the number, the dancers ran to the audience and selected partners at random, those chosen going to it manfully.

Returning to the stage the boys hoisted the girls up "piggy-back" and all waved adieu to the applauding audience as the final curtain came together.

No review of the show would be at all complete without a word of special praise for the chairman of the cabaret committee, Mrs. Irving E. Jennings. No cabaret has been put on under such trying conditions as those encountered this year when the war has made such alterations in every one's lives and activities.

That the show was a success is a tribute to Mrs. Jennings' vision, energy, capacity for hard work, good nature and infinite tact. With the assistance of her committee members so that the cast need not give up defense activities or household chores and attending to all the multitudinous little details that go to make up a successful performance.

And orchids should go to the cast who found extra time for arduous rehearsing in addition to defense and household or business duties, none of which was sacrificed. Interest like this is bound to get results.

Especially good looking this year were the costumes, and as no costume is better than its fit, praise is due Mrs. Lowell Smith who was in charge of this important department. Nor should the work of the program committee, headed by Mrs. Earle Spencer, be forgotten. These girls worked hard to produce an attractive and money-making book.

Any praise for the show traces back to Director Emerson J. Stiles, who personally supervised every detail of production and is alone responsible for the success of the performance. Even more than usual the committee and cast seemed appreciative of his efforts and cooperation. A final word for the lighting which was by the Capron Lighting Co., under the direction of a Winchester boy, Bob Higgins.

WINCHESTER ART ASSOCIATION

The Winchester Art Association opened its 20th Century Painting exhibit in the Public Library Gallery on Sunday.

Miss Dorothy Alloway, art critic of the Christian Science Monitor was the guest speaker of the afternoon. Her subject, "The Artist in the Modern World" was most interesting for Miss Alloway's choice of words was inexhaustible and her descriptions and summaries beautifully presented.

20TH CENTURY ART AT LIBRARY

The Winchester Art Association is showing a collection of 20th Century paintings at the gallery in the pub-

While the trend of the pictures is modern, no one will interpret the matter in making the round of the equanimity and several pictures of which they can approve without reservation.

Such a one is the portrait in oils of John Avery by William F. Draper, a strongly painted study of a young man in dark clothes before a deep maroon background. The whole pose, the drape of the clothes and the po-

graphic. Much more broadly painted

WINCHESTER RATIONING BOARD

The local board received a visit from one of the State Inspectors during the week who was checking up on the administration and records of the board and which he found satisfactory.

At the meeting on Feb. 11, one application was denied on account of ineligibility and the application of John M. Murray, M. D., 9 Sheffield street, was granted in part, i. e. for one tire.

New Federal forms were received from the State Board on which report violations of tire rationing regulations.

There are real teeth in this law and it is a serious Federal offense to violate its provisions, and there are plenty of supervisors and agents to enforce it. They have been receiving covering automobiles purchased previously to Jan. 1, deliveries on which had been frozen, and some restriction on removal, and these are covered by the file at the city hall.

Everyone is interested in the proposed sugar rationing, no information having been received as yet on the part of the city. The rationing of sugar and much to be read about it in the papers.

Second-hands yet been received outside of newspapers, as to the rationing of second-hand and retrograde tires, but it is the opinion of the Board that this is definitely on the way.

The rationing of new automobiles will be covered by offices in the County seat of each county, and Middlesex County, and the Board of the Cambridge Rationing Board, No. 5, City Hall Cambridge, John M. Whelan, Administrator.

There are some blanks here as yet been received. The only part that the local board will take in this

The Winchester Public School will not close on Monday, Feb. 16, for the purpose of releasing teachers for registration of draftees.

WAS FORMER GATE-TENDER HERE

The funeral of James Aylward, 75, known to many in Winchester as a former second shift gate-tender in the days of the old manually operated railroad gates in the center, was held Monday morning with solemn requiem high mass in St. Francis de Sales Church in Charlestown. Burial was in Holy Ghost Cemetery, Malden. Mr. Aylward, who made his home at 16 Belmont street in Charlestown, died last week in the Holy Ghost Hospital in Cambridge after a three weeks' illness. He had lived in Charlestown for 55 years, and was for many years employed by the Boston and Maine Railroad, both as a clerk and crossing tender. Quiet and unassuming, but of a friendly disposition, he was well liked by all who knew him here.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Catherine (Mooney) Aylward, by four sons, District Chief Michael J. Aylward of the Bowdoin Square sector of the Boston Fire Department, Richard F. Aylward, B. F. D., of East Boston, attached to the Fire Prevention Department; William J. Aylward of Engine 36, B. F. D., and Thomas L. Aylward of Wrentham member, 1, the State Department of Agriculture; also two daughters, Miss Mary C. Aylward of the Boston Public Library and Mrs. Michael Cotter of Revere.

WAS FATHER OF MRS. COOK

Funeral services for John E. Hopkinson of Reading, retired Boston and Maine conductor, were held yesterday afternoon at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Guy B. Cook, 3 Green street, with Rev. Payson Pierce, pastor of the Reading Congregational Church, officiating. Interment was in Willowood Cemetery, Wilmington.

Mr. Hopkinson died Sunday, Feb. 8, of an acute heart attack at St. Petersburg, Fla., where he was spending the winter. Previous to his retirement about 25 years ago Mr. Hopkinson was for 47 years a conductor on the Portland Division of the B. & M. He was 80 years old and a native of Lowell.

Besides Mrs. Cook, he is survived by a granddaughter, Mrs. Warren Seyfert of Wellesley Hills.

WALTER I. PLUMMER

Walter I. Plummer, a former resident of Winchester, died Jan. 23, in Berkeley, Calif. After the funeral the remains were cremated at Piedmont, Calif., and brought East for interment in Willowood Cemetery.

Mr. Plummer was born May 30, 1869, in Boston, the son of David, and Julia (Hathaway) Plummer. He came to Winchester about 1900 and on Aug. 16 of that year married Nettie L. Wilson of Roxbury. They lived at 17 Mystic avenue until 1910 when they went to Seattle, Wash. During his residence here Mr. Plummer was employed as clerk at the Winchester Postoffice and was a member of William Parkman Lodge of Masons. He is survived by a son.

WINCHESTER OBSERVERS AT- TENDED WORCESTER MEETING

Chief Observer Stafford Rogers and Assistant Chief Observer John H. McCarthy of the Winchester station attended the meeting of the Massachusetts Chief Observers of the Ground Observation System of the United States Army at the Worcester Legion Home on Sunday.

They learned at the meeting that Army officers are much pleased with the way in which Legion Posts generally have taken hold of this much needed defense organization and made it a smooth-running efficient unit under Army regulations. They also learned that the efficient operation of Army observation posts by civilians is relieving many airplanes from this duty, thus either saving gasoline or making the planes available for more important duty. Again civilian volunteers are relieving the Army of the necessity of using its own personnel for observation duty, thus making a large number of men available for strictly military activity. As the result of the excellence with which civilian observers have carried out their assignments the Army has been able to divert a whole division of soldiers for duty in combat areas.

Air observers were told at the meeting that they can consider themselves in active air defense work under the Army and in the event of an air raid they should do nothing but stay at their posts and keep information about planes going into Army Headquarters.

Chief Observer Rogers, in talking to the Star about Sunday's meeting, quoted a statement of Lieut. Ralph T. Millette, aide to Brigadier General John A. McDonnell of Mitchell Field, N. Y., who said:

"Anyone who thinks we can't be bombed might remember what happened at Pearl Harbor. Japanese planes came 6000 miles to reach Hawaii, and the Germans have but 3000 miles to come to reach this shore. Hitler has already decided whether we will be bombed and we don't know what his decision is."

There are 10,000 observation posts stretching from Maine to Florida, with a civilian personnel of 10,000 observers. In Massachusetts alone there are 228 stations. Commander Rogers stated that some observers are cheerfully covering as high as 10 miles each way to and from their stations, and that the numbers serving in the small areas where there is much less population to draw from are proportionally much higher than in the larger places, including Winchester.

M. S. P. C. A. AUXILIARY

Animal lovers who have wondered what to do about their pets during a possible air raid may have their questions answered on Wednesday evening, Feb. 18, at 8 o'clock at the Winchester Public Library.

Under the auspices of the Winchester Auxiliary of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, Dr. E. F. Schroeder chief of staff of the Angell Memorial Animal Hospital, will speak on "The Care of Animals During Air Raids."

No one is better qualified to speak on this subject than Dr. Schroeder and he is at present organizing and directing classes in first aid to animals.

There will be no charge for admission to this meeting and all who are interested are cordially invited to attend.

WINCHESTER THRIFT SHOP SPONSORS UNIQUE ATTRACTION

A miniature wedding in all its beauty and dignity is to be given under the auspices of the Thrift Shop at the First Baptist Church Saturday, March 14. The annual Donation Day of the Thrift Shop is an event which the people of Winchester look forward to and this year's program will surpass all others.

SALTMARSH FIRST MEMBER OF BUSHNELL'S STAFF IN SERVICE

First member of Atty. Gen. Robert T. Bushnell's staff to be called to active duty in the armed forces of the United States, Asst. Atty. Gen. Sherman W. Saltmarsh of 192 Highland avenue, last Saturday assumed his new duties at the Navy's liaison officer for Massachusetts in Selective Service. A reserve officer with the rank of lieutenant, he was assigned by the Bureau of Navigation, and will be located at 38 Chauncy street, Boston.

On the day the United States entered World War I, April 6, 1917, Mr. Saltmarsh enlisted in the Navy as a seaman, second class. Later that year he was commissioned an ensign and until September 1919, served as an executive officer and section commander in the First Naval District. He specialized as a navigator and made 10 round trips to European ports. He held a merchant marine third mate's license (unlimited), and since the last war has continued as an officer in the Naval Reserve.

A native of Everett, Mr. Saltmarsh was born 49 years ago, son of George Abbott and Mrs. Gertrude (Soule) Saltmarsh. He is a graduate of the Winchester public schools and Dartmouth College, class of 1914, where he was an outstanding member of the track squad. He attended Harvard Law School two and a half years but left in 1917 to enlist in the Navy. Admitted to the Massachusetts Bar in March, he has since been actively engaged in the practice of law in State and Federal courts with an office at 18 Tremont street, Boston.

In 1924 Mr. Saltmarsh married Dorothy Daniels of Salem. They have one child, Sherman W. Jr., 13 years old.

Mr. Saltmarsh was appointed an Assistant Attorney when Mr. Bushnell took office, January, 1931, serving legal services as an Assistant Attorney General since the time we took office. I have never had the slightest concern as to the manner in which the legal interest of the Commonwealth would be handled that I have assigned to you. You have done perfectly splendid work and have won the respect of your associates, including myself.

Mr. Saltmarsh is a member of the Naval Order of the United States, Executive Office, and a charter member of Winchester Post, American Legion, the Middlesex Bar Association, Law Society of Massachusetts, the American Association and Harvard Law School Association. He is a member of the Advisory Draft Board, Winchester-Newton, and a former town meeting member.

TO HOLD MEMORIAL EXHIBITION OF PAINTINGS BY NELLY LITTLEHALE MURPHY

Winchester friends of the late Nelly Littlehale Murphy, and of her husband, the eminent artist, Herman Dudley Murphy, a former resident of this town, will be interested in the memorial exhibition of water colors by Mrs. Murphy which the Guild of Boston Artists is holding for two weeks, commencing Tuesday, Feb. 17, in the galleries at 162 Newbury street in Boston. The private view will be held Monday afternoon with tea from 4 to 6.

Mrs. Murphy's work has appeared on several occasions in local exhibitions sponsored by the Winchester Art Association, one complete exhibition being devoted to her paintings and those of her husband. She was a member of many art societies and is represented in the permanent collection of the Boston Museum of Fine Arts, the California Palace of the Legion of Honor and the Stockton Museum of Art.

Mrs. Murphy's work was distinguished by a fine sense of pattern or rhythm, by freedom and precision of drawing of foliage, trees and flower forms. She painted directly, with little or no preliminary drawing, no corrections or change of the first intention, but always with the power to visualize the completed work upon the paper from the very beginning. Rarely have flowers been painted with greater charm in arrangement, and mastery of the technique of water color.

DEFEND YOUR HEALTH

DOES YOUR FAMILY GET THE BENEFIT OF THE VITAMINS YOU PAY FOR?

It isn't enough just to buy vitamin-rich foods, you want these nutritive elements to reach the family table unimpaired by improper cooking. With a modern gas range you can cook vegetables at low temperatures with little water added — conserving food values, plus natural coloring and flavor. And meats, roasted at low temperatures in the accurately controlled oven of today's gas range, retain their healthful juices and mineral salts. Gas cooking saves time, work, food and fuel.

ST. MARY'S RED CROSS UNIT

St. Mary's has now organized a second Red Cross Unit which meets every Wednesday from 10:30-4:30 at the Knights of Columbus Hall. This day is devoted mostly to sewing machine work and all ladies are urged to co-operate by giving a few hours to the cause and particularly in lending their sewing machines, the latter being most important. They may be brought in the morning and taken back in the afternoon. Ladies please come and help the Red Cross speed up the production of very much needed clothes not only for oppressed nations but for our own people.

The sewing in St. Mary's Library will continue as usual every Monday from 2-5. The tremendous amount of hand sewing done there by the ladies and the speed with which it is done is really the cause of our branching out. We must have enough stitching to keep them busy.

Please communicate with Mrs. George Manning at Win. 2552, at St. Mary's Library, or the Knights of Columbus Hall and offer the use of your machine.

DR. CHIDLEY TO PREACH SPE-CIAL SERMON ON WAR

"God Is Marching On"

Next Sunday morning at the First Congregational Church Dr. Chidley will preach a special sermon on the war, "God Is Marching On," in which he will endeavor to prove why, from the testimony of history, Germany, Italy and Japan cannot win the present war.

The public is invited.

LENT BEGINS

Church attendance is increasing nationwide. Prayer and worship halls are being revitalized. Church membership is acquiring new importance. The Bible is being read so widely that supplies can scarcely be obtained at dealers' shelves. A new importance attaches to church support.

Spiritual reawakening is deepening.
Fundamentally a church is a fellowship—an fellowship of all kinds of people, good and bad, wise and simple, the weak and the vacillating as well as the faithful and strong. It is a fellowship in which many different kinds of people are brought together.

Cares and problems may lay heavily upon you, or the intense strains of these fateful days may seem to be more than you can stand.

The world is very much with you as you come to worship, but the quiet and beauty of the sanctuary bring a stillness to your troubled spirit.

Hymns and prayers speak to you of the faith of the ages. The great symbols of the church give you their rich messages of eternal truth. Peace comes to your heart. Your mind opens to God's words of life as they come from the scriptures and the pulpit. God becomes very real to you, and with Him come His gifts of deeper insight into life's meaning, removed faith in the possibilities for good, and fresh strength and courage for the days ahead. You are a braver, finer man because of worshipping in some church.

The churches of Winchester invite you to their individual services, and to the special Lenten Services announced elsewhere in this paper.

Boston and Maine Ad in The Star Wins Award

At the annual dinner of the Annual Advertising Awards, held at the Starlight Roof of the Waldorf Astoria Hotel in New York, the Boston and Maine Railroad was awarded national recognition of its 1941 advertising campaign in newspapers. The particular ad which carried the most weight with the jury making the award, it was learned, was the frank discussion of its faults with its patrons last winter which appeared in The Star headed "That's a Hell of a Way to Run a Railroad."

It marked the first time an individual railroad has ever been awarded a citation in the nation-wide competition for its efforts in newspaper advertising. Herbert L. Baldwin of Winchester (left) is shown accepting Certificate of Merit from F. C. Kendall, (center), Executive Secretary of the Administrative Board of the National Advertising Awards, while Richard P. Holland of Weston, (right), Vice President of Harbor Cabot and Company, the Boston and Maine's Advertising Counsel, looks on.

PUBLIC RELATIONS DIVISION CIVILIAN DEFENSE COMMITTEE

The Winchester Blackout Committee has issued an appeal to all townspeople to extinguish every light in their houses before going out for the evening. The Committee points out that in the event of an air raid or a test blackout the wardens for each sector would have to effect an entrance to extinguish such lights.

The Blackout Committee is composed of James Blackham, Chairman; a former Selectman, and Marshall Symmes and William Spears, members of the present Board of Selectmen. At a recent meeting the Committee announced that the Boston and Maine Railroad had agreed to permit the air raid warden in each district to extinguish the station lights, while in the event of a real blackout signal lights will be so adjusted as to conform to regulations.

The Chief of Police will be responsible for the main traffic and street lights in the center and specified wardens will be made responsible in other districts.

MUSIC GARDEN

The annual meeting of the Music Garden was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. Parker Clarke, Mr. Vernon street, Monday evening, Feb. 9.

BRITISH WAR RELIEF

Winchester Unit

The speaker at the Dutch Treat luncheon of the British War Relief Society at the Stater Hotel, Thursday, Feb. 10, 11:45 a.m. was the well known English author and journalist, Sir Philip Gibbs. He became known in the first World War for his brilliant reporting. In addition to the address a 10 minute film will be shown, "The Seeds of Victory."

There will be a special menu for the occasion presenting that traditional British steak and kidney pie. We Americans have solved the problem of mass production and distribution of our omnipresent dessert for big public occasions.

The central workroom had company Wednesday at the coffee hour. By invitation a dozen little dresses came over from the workroom of the First Congregational Church on their way to the Red Cross, for which they were made. They were the result of some adventurous salvaging. The electric cutter, cutting masses of cloth to definite patterns, unavoidably has pieces fall off. They have always turned to some use. Mrs. George F. Nardin saw in them material that might make dresses if they were hand cut and individually made so that they could be cut to fit the cloth, as the old saying goes. The Red Cross bade her good speed in the enterprise; other women joined her in the work, and about 60 girls' wool dresses, ranging in size from 2 to 14 are coming out of the scrap.

At the British War Relief workroom women who could well appreciate how ingenious and adventurous Mrs. Nardin had been in her cutting and designing, for they had made pretty blouses out of such small pieces of cloth that only ingenious twisting and turning could have out them. They viewed and approved the modish little creations with knowledge and eyes. They knew how gaily adventurous a woman's imagination had to be in order to see a part little circular skirt out of mere slivers of two and smart tucked sleeves out of a pile of collars. The Epiphany workroom enjoyed the done visitors.

MANY FROM PERKINS INSTITUTE ENJOYED LOCAL SHOW

A large delegation from Perkins Institute for the Blind attended and keenly enjoyed a special performance of "The Man Who Stayed at Home" given for their benefit Wednesday evening by the Parish Players of the First Congregational Church in the Little Theatre.

For some time the Players have been inviting the blind from Perkins to the usual dress rehearsals of their shows on the Thursday evenings before the regular performances. The number wanting to see the shows has increased so much that it is now necessary to have an extra performance to accommodate all who want to attend, and the regular dress rehearsals are also well patronized.

Four youths from summer theatres were on hand last week to see the Players revival of "The Man Who Stayed at Home," revised by their director, Francis Hart, and owned by the Cape Playhouse at Dennis, with which Mr. Hart is associated. Already an application for performance rights has been received.

Four occupants of two automobiles were injured Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in a collision which took place at the dangerous junction of Highland avenue with Mt. Vernon street and the Parkway.

According to the Police a Pontiac sedan, driven by Brendan L. Hoyt of 30 Washington street, while headed south on Highland avenue, was in collision with a Ford sedan, driven by Fred C. Ellis of 131 Walnut street, Woburn, who was crossing Highland avenue to enter Mt. Vernon street.

The force of the collision tipped the Ford over on its side but it was able to go away under its own power. The Pontiac was taken away and both drivers sustained leg injuries.

Riding in the Ford were Madeleine Facotto of 22 Humes road, Dorchester, and her sister, Mary, both of whom were treated at the nearby office of Dr. R. L. Emery for cuts about the head and legs.

ABOUT JAPAN

On Tuesday, Feb. 10, Rev. Kenneth Viail of the Society of St. John the Evangelist, was the speaker at the luncheon hour of the Epiphany Church Service League. As recently as 1940 he was living in Japan, and he spoke of that country. He invited his hearers to determine the content of his informal talk by asking before he began the questions they would like to have considered. They asked of Kagawa and the significance of the co-operatives in Japan, and they put the pertinent question: Is the present arrangement of Japan definitely anti-Christian?

Father Viail's answer was that the Western source from which Christianity had come into Japan made it unacceptable to those who would draw a sharp line between East and West, but there is no persecution of Christians. The demand that Christian churches in Japan unite did not come from a desire to destroy them, but from the bureaucratic habit of mind. When Japan recognized the equality of Shintoism and Buddhism as three established religions, it wanted each to be so organized that it could be dealt with neatly and efficiently in the state. One responsible head was desired. Japan asked the 27 divisions of Buddhism to unite for the same administrative reason.

When they set up a puppet state in Manchoukuo, the rulers of Japan needed a religion which would help cement the people into one unit. Shintoism, being a native religion, could not be given to another people; so overtures were made to Christian leaders, to see whether Christianity would let itself become the official religion of the state. Christianity refused the overture.

In slum settlements and in cooperative hospitals and other activities Christian ideas and ways are at work in Japan, known to the West chiefly in connection with Kagawa. In these, Christianity is seen in the individualistic aspect, which is ungenial to the Japanese concept of human life, and shows a satisfying solidarity. James Young, an American journalist in Japan, has said that Christianity would prove the principle by which the Japan of the near future would crystallize.

Since one person in 200 in Japan is now an adherent of Christianity, such a forecast startled some hearers. How can so small a number govern a whole nation? What will non-Christian neighbors see in Christians that will make them count the Christian way the way of real life? The life that is successfully satisfying to man? What will wipe out the blocking effect of nominal Western Christians that Japanese have seen living selfishly and divisively? Christianity in the Japanese churches free from the blocking merely nominal Christian? Are they again, in pattern of life and in power to live out the pattern, such Christians as nineteen hundred years ago did "turn the world upside down" and furnish a disintegrating world with a new hope and a new order?

FOUR INJURED IN COLLISION

Four occupants of two automobiles were injured Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in a collision which took place at the dangerous junction of Highland avenue with Mt. Vernon street and the Parkway.

According to the Police a Pontiac sedan, driven by Brendan L. Hoyt of 30 Washington street, while headed south on Highland avenue, was in collision with a Ford sedan, driven by Fred C. Ellis of 131 Walnut street, Woburn, who was crossing Highland avenue to enter Mt. Vernon street.

AUXILIARY POLICE TO RECEIVE EQUIPMENT AND OATH OF OFFICE

We are indeed fortunate in having a group of male citizens who after giving some serious consideration to the war and its possible effects on the population and property in Winchester, have done something about it. They are the Auxiliary Police operating under the office of Civilian Defense.

For the past two months some 100 men have been attending meetings, lectures, demonstrations and drills in the Town Hall.

On Friday evening, Feb. 13, they will receive some of their regular equipment and on Friday evening, Feb. 20, with simple ceremony in the Town Hall they will take the oath of office and receive their badges.

Under the able tutelage of Major Hale Summer of Harvard University they have gained valuable knowledge of First Aid, Riot Control, Civilian control and property protection during incendiary and gas bomb raids and Traffic control under war conditions.

Officer W. Palmer of the local police has given freely of his time in instructing the men in the performance of many regular and some of the unusual duties of a police officer.

For practical experience and conditioning some of the men will spend at least one evening a week with a regular police officer on his beat, thus familiarizing himself with the performance of such duties. This will continue until each man has had the opportunity to cover each regular route in town. Some of the cold nights just passed have proved the sincerity of these men.

Traffic control maps of the entire town have been prepared with definite posts assigned to each man to instruct the men in the emergency is declared. A control center and report station has been prepared in the local Police Station.

An indoor rifle range is also being prepared where members will be instructed in the use of firearms and will qualify as experts.

The co-operation received from Police Chief William Rogers and his entire force has been a real source of encouragement to these men, some of whom have been the recipients of such affection, says a townspeople who still think "it can't happen here."

Again we say Winchester is indeed fortunate to have Auxiliary Police who realize "after it has happened is too late to prepare."

A THRILLING RIDE

That's what Leroy Hatfield of Cross County, Lancaster, N. H., had early Tuesday morning until the paper train was stopped in Winchester center and he was taken from the steps of one of the paper cars, to which he was clinging.

The 21 year old young man told Officer Robert Elliott that he was going home on the train and had his first job, which he showed to corroborate his story. He arrived at the North Station in Boston just as the train was pulling out, and not wanting to get left, he ran alongside and jumped on the ladder-like steps of the paper car, clinging to the rounds all the way from Boston to Winchester.

A tower man noticed Hatfield clinging to the steps and signalled ahead to stop the train, also notifying the Police. Officer Elliott, satisfied that Hatfield was telling the truth, put him in charge of the conductor, who suggested that the young man finish his ride north in one of the regular passenger coaches. Hatfield acquiesced with alacrity.

BETTER HOMES GARDEN CLUB

Mr. Alexander I. Heimlich will give an illustrated lecture on "Ornamental Trees and Shrubs" at the Better Homes Garden Club on Friday, Feb. 20 at 7:45 p. m. in the Art Room of the Winchester Public Library.

Mr. Heimlich, well known for garden design in this town, received his first job in the Boston office of the Flower Show in 1936 and has won one every year since. This year he is forcing about one third of the material that will be used in the coming Spring show.

Tickets for this will be available at the usual reduction through the club.

FINAL SESSION OF A. R. P. SCHOOL MONDAY

Reveley H. B. Smith has announced that the final session of the current A. R. P. School will be held next Monday evening, Feb. 16, in the Lincoln School Hall. Most of the session will be devoted to answering questions about subjects which may not be clear in the minds of those who have been taking the course. The various instructors will be present and the program will be conducted along the lines of an "Information Please" quiz with Samuel M. Graves, director of the Men's School in charge.

Mr. Smith expects to have for this session a film taken at Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7, and there will be another film, also of special interest to air raid wardens.

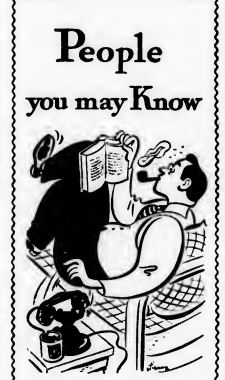

The A. R. P. School Examination will be held Friday evening, Feb. 20, at 7:30, at the Winchester High School, but it will be necessary to postpone awarding certificates until the closing of the First Aid Class which will be shortly after March 10.

In response to many demands, Mr. Smith has succeeded in securing a graduation speaker Mr. Victor Coen, British Barrister from London, now lecturing in this country under the auspices of the Massachusetts Department of Public Safety.

Learn to Love Their Kups

In Persia, Turkey and other Asiatic countries, whole families sometimes spend many years in weaving a fine rug and come to regard it with such affection, says a writer in Collier's Weekly, that they often sew a note on the rug, asking future owners to be kind to it.

CASUAL DROPPIT hasn't got the hang of efficient telephone usage—or else he doesn't give a bang! Look at his receiver. Chances are he won't discover he's disconnected and missing calls until a telephone crew comes around investigating.

This little slip occurs 1365 times a day in our territory. Telephone trouble-hunters spend 368 hours correcting it—every day. Not to mention the hours used up by operators buzzing instruments that don't respond... And the switchboard equipment diverted from efficient use!

We take it in our stride, ordinarily. But with Defense severely taxing telephone facilities, and with materials for expansion extremely tight, we simply must salvage some of those lost hours.

So, if you know anyone like Mr. Droppit...

From "The Union Signal," Jan. 24—Light Line Unions Must Continue. There was never more need of the World's W. C. T. U. than now. Friendship between nations is the only way of outmouthing war. The liquor question is a vital one in every country, conservation of resources should preclude the use of materials for making liquor, and conservation of man-power is of utmost importance.

Except for Latvia and Estonia, where the Russian government disbanded all organizations and possibly in France, from which no word has come since the government fell, the work is going on. A letter from the treasurer of the organization says: "I am very happy to be able to say that our work is going on practically as usual in spite of altered conditions. However, we are not able to send any funds out of the country, and that is why you have not received any money from us for some time."

While a number of countries cannot send money out, so far our government has not stopped us from sending money, except to belligerent countries. Money to China and to Switzerland must be sent by cable, but all the South American countries and the countries of the British Empire receive United States funds.

Our budget for 1942 includes appropriations to Brazil, Burma, China, Costa Rica, Guatemala, Dominican Republic, Egypt, India, Iraq, Jamaica, Mexico, Palestine, West Indies, possibly Peru and Korea.

Mrs. Loretta Hyman is in Egypt and has the Near East, including Palestine, under her supervision. Mrs. Irvine Rivera in the West Indies and Mrs. Mary Egbert in Guatemala are both on half time for the World's W. C. T. U.

If the Light Lines should fail to function there would be no possibility of helping these countries, especially since many of the other countries cannot send money out. It would be a calamity to let our work lapse, both for the immediate need of temperance instruction and because of difficulty in building up the organization in the future.

It's Fun to Wish

Yes, there is fun in wishing—but it's better to be sure—to plan for success—to prepare for it—to make it certain. It's easy to save for it too—the Co-operative Bank way.

"SO THIS IS WINCHESTER"

On Halloween ghosts and witches come to life, but Feb. 27, Old Winchester lives again.

On that evening, at 8:15, in the high school auditorium, the Fortnightly is present "So This is Winchester" for the benefit of its philanthropy fund.

"So This is Winchester" is a fantasy of action and song, based on facts and legends of Old Winchester, compiled by Mrs. Henry K. Fitts, a club member.

Here you will see come to life various important happenings in the history of the town. Beginning with the period before the advent of the white man, successive episodes will portray the purchase of the land from the Indians, the building of the first bridge across the Abenajona River, the worship of the late 17th century, the Indian Wars, the close of the Revolution, the social life of the early 18th century, and the naming of the town. Every effort is being made to have these episodes historically correct and dramatically attractive.

In a presentation of this sort costume is important, and Fortnightly members are busy at work under the professional guidance of Mrs. Alyce K. McFadden, costumeur, who is a member of the staff of the Leland Powers School of the Theatre and the Repertory Theatre. Busy fingers and whirling machines are fast transforming bolts of cloth into authentic costumes of the various periods.

Mrs. Clifton S. Hall, president of the Fortnightly, is general chairman. She is assisted by her daughter, Miss Mary Elizabeth Hall, by Mrs. Mary Ranton Witham and Mrs. Paul D. Bowler, directors, and by the following committee chairmen: dancing, Mrs. Dana J. Kelly; costumes, Mrs. J. Stewart Chaffee and Mrs. Paul G. Eberle; properties, Mrs. Marshall W. Symmes; programs, Mrs. Carl J. Stittenger; publicity, Mrs. Edward S. Winn; and candy, Miss Louise J. Bancroft. Mrs. Raymond Merrill, Mrs. Earl Andrews, Mrs. Ralph M. Sparks and Mrs. Stanley D. Howe are in charge of tickets.

The Fortnightly Glee Club has a generous share in the production, and that ought to be sufficient recommendation for anyone, for they have an enviable and well deserved reputation. Directed by Mrs. Mary Ranton Witham, they appear in all but one scene, singing selections especially appropriate for each period. Some also have speaking parts.

Members of the Glee Club participating are Mrs. Harold E. Berquist, Mrs. Leon D. Hughes, Mrs. John Fritzel, Mrs. Herbert S. Gardner, Mrs. Leonard O. Erikson, Mrs. Alan R. MacLeod, Mrs. Dorothy Stangroom, Mrs. Blanche S. Barnard, Mrs. William C. Hultgren, Mrs. James A. Riley, Mrs. Walter W. Winship, Mrs. Gordon S. Bird, Mrs. Henry K. Fitts, Mrs. Paul H. Howard, Mrs. Dana J. Kelly, Mrs. George H. Lochman, Mrs. Whitelaw Wright, Mrs. Alfred W. Drew and Mrs. Aline Fournier.

Many of the men of the town are co-operating to make this a dramatic success. Among them are Mr. Charles Carter, Mr. Harris Richardson, Mr. Marshall Symmes, Mr. Roland Carter, Mr. Dana J. Kelly, Mr. Raymond Graham, Mr. Frederick Taylor, Mr. Robert Jewel, Mr. T. Parker Clarke, Mr. J. Stewart Chaffee, Mr. Francis Thomas, Mr. Neil Dow, Mr. Gordon S. Bird, Mr. Clifford Cunningham and Mr. Simon J. Trust. Mr. Kendall Johnson of Woburn.

The very younger set is also contributing to the performance, and we find Miss June Hoffer, Miss Sharon James Haggerty, William T. Shoemaker, Neil H. Borden, Jr., John Fudge and Edward Fudge in the cast.

The proceeds, as has already been intimated, go for philanthropic work, practically all of it here in town. Last year appropriations from this fund were made to work for the physically handicapped, to our own community service fund (for needs that may arise among our own townpeople), to the Fortnightly Scholarship Fund, to help work among war veterans, to the Red Cross, and to help in supplying a mobile kitchen for England's houseless.

Those who are familiar with the history of Winchester will enjoy seeing it brought to life again, and those who are unfamiliar will find it instructive and entertaining.

Those Stanley D. Howe, 24 Symmes road, (Win. 0208-R) or any member of the Fortnightly will be glad to give you any further information about the production.

So we hope you'll all come—We know you'll be glad—And count it among The good times you have had.

WINS AND AD WRITING CONTEST
Mr. Dean Duncan of the Winchester Co-operative Bank was one of the winners of the ad writing contest which was sponsored by the Boston Chapter No. 59 of the American Savings and Loan Institute.

Mr. Duncan received the award at the conference of the Institute which was held at the Hotel Kenmore on Saturday, Feb. 7.

The prizes were awarded by Mr. C. L. Blackburn, assistant treasurer of the Mattapan Co-operative Bank.

AVIATION NIGHT FOR CUB PACK 3

At the regular monthly meeting of Cub Pack 3, to be held on next Tuesday evening, Feb. 17, at 7 o'clock, the discussion and entertainment will center around the subject of model airplanes. The Scouts of Winchester are invited to attend and many are co-operating in the occasion.

The interested parents of the Cubs will care there as usual thus taking advantage of the fact that these meetings are held in the evening for their particular benefit. In this connection, it might be mentioned that one of the principal objects of the theory of Cubbing is to promote and stimulate a closer association between fathers and sons.

Everyone coming is warned that the meeting begins at the stroke of 7 so that it may be finished in time to enable the boys to get to their homes by 8:30. Any parents of Cubs who find themselves unable to attend are again requested to arrange for some other parent to assume the responsibility of the safe conduct of their son on the return trip home.

Aside from the exhibition of model airplanes, an especial feature will be a sound, short movie lent for the occasion by the army. It shows the life of a recruit in the Air Corps from the time of his enlistment to the time when he is a pilot.

The meeting is very timely because the U. S. Navy Bureau of Aeronautics is preparing a program for the youths of the nation to build 500,000 aircraft models, 10,000 each of 50 types of fighting planes, for immediate and continuous use in the training of naval combat forces for aircraft recognition and range estimation in gunnery work. It is expected that full information will be sent from Washington in time to be explained at the meeting.

Den 1, Mrs. Chase's den, challenges Mrs. McDavitt's den, Den 2, to a game of "Steel the Bacon." Mr. Alvin Litchfield is preparing an aviation quiz game with a fine model airplane to be the prize for the lucky winner.

WINCHESTER HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Rev. Laurence L. Barber of Arlington was the speaker at the winter meeting of the Winchester Historical Society, held on Feb. 5 in the Historical Room at the Library.

During the business meeting, Miss Josie Hamilton, chairman of the Gifts Committee, exhibited as gifts received since November, a large framed portrait of Colonel Samuel B. White, a very prominent resident of the town near the close of a long career of old-fashioned clothing presented by Mrs. Watkins, a number of programs of the Winchester Literary Society between 1860 and 1870 and the records of the Shu Shu Gah Club, which flourished here about 40 years ago.

The president announced the appointment of the Nominating Committee, Mr. Edward B. Ladd, Chairman, Mrs. J. A. Laraway and Miss Louise Bancroft.

The president also read an invitation to the society by the Committee of Safety Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, to attend an illustrated lecture by Dr. Charles Tozier at the Library on March 16.

It is always a pleasure to hear Mr. Barber, who has spoken before the society before, and whose subject was "Life in the Colonial Home."

He began by showing two large photographs of his home in East Haverhill, whose he wrote Snowbound, one of the exterior in winter and the other of the large kitchen with its fireplace, saying that this kitchen was a typical example of the colonial home. Six generations of the Whittears had lived in this home—stead before the poet Mr. Barber quoted several passages from Snowbound most effectively during his talk.

Particular emphasis was laid on the fact that life in the colonial home was very independent, as the family raised everything needed in the way of food and clothing. The family was self-sufficient, whereas we are the most dependent group the world has ever known. They lived from a month to three months ahead of their needs, whereas we live a few hours ahead of the home.

Mr. Barber also spoke of the salt bowl which stood on colonial tables, saying Harvard has a very fine one. This bowl marked the distinction between the ordinary and the elite; the faculty always sat above the table, the students below. In the home the head of the family and the guests sat above the salt bowl, the children below it.

This was a most instructive and interesting talk, and it was too bad the rain might have prevented more of the members from hearing it.

MARINE MUSEUM GETS ROMKEY MODEL

Mr. Joseph F. Romkey of Stone avowedly known contractor and builder, has presented to the Marine Museum at the Old State House the half-model, which he made, of the Canadian fishing schooner, Blue-nose, which raced the American boat, Gertrude L. Thebaud, in 1938.

Though a resident of Winchester for close to half a century, Mr. Romkey was born in La Havo, N. S., and as a youth went fishing on that proving ground of sailors, the Grand Banks, where he gained first hand knowledge of and a love for fishing schooners. He gave up the sea when he came to Boston and learned the carpenter's trade which he has since followed. A master of his trade and a finished workman, he has built many fine houses in and around Winchester which testify to his skill and attention to detail.

Although particularly interested in ship models, his skill is not confined to that phase of woodworking alone. His home contains many fine examples of his handiwork. There are tables, bookcases, a spinet desk, two knee-hole desks, a Martha Washington cabinet and a several shelf clock and a mahogany bed.

In the front hall stands a beautiful mahogany grandfather's clock of the same period and very similar to one in the Museum of Fine Arts. In another room is a grandfather's clock which he himself designed. This is complete with wooden works of his own making, and is an accurate timekeeper.

His basement workshop contains many half-models of various sizes, depicting a variety of schooner types. The Blue-nose is made to a quarter-inch scale, with exceeding care as to design and measurements. Mr. Romkey visited the Blue-nose when she was in Boston and Gloucester and made several trips to Lunenburg, N. S., where she was built.

"So Now You Jack up the Fares!"

("YOU'RE JUST A BUNCH OF BANDITS AFTER ALL")

Yes, now all our passenger customers (except service men on furlough) are paying 10% more. It's not pleasant news. We realize a lot of people these days have to count their pennies.

A lot of you are eyeing us reproachfully. Let's talk about it.

Keeping a Jump Ahead of the Sheriff

For several years, you'll recall, the Railroads haven't been enjoying especially good times. The Boston and Maine wasn't many jumps ahead of the sheriff when a lot of our bondholders in New England and elsewhere rallied around and helped us reorganize our financial structure. This made it possible for us to have our property in good shape when the war came along.

4,000 More Boys and Gals at Work

It's plain to see that today our first job is moving guns and tanks and ammunition and fighting men. The Railroads of this country right now are building 1,000 more locomotives and 125,000 more freight cars. These cost something. Then, too, it's costing us 25% more today than three years ago just to keep passenger cars in safe running condition.

Another thing is that we have about 4,000 more employees than we did three years ago. We need them to handle the increased business and to give you good service. Our total number of employees right now is 15,491.

"AND ME WITH NO TIRES AND A CAR THAT'S DYING FAST—HOW COME?"

We pay 13% More—or Else

Late last year the proper public authorities decreed that Railroad wages should be increased. This increase had to be paid—or else.

Our bill for increased wages alone this year will be upwards of $3,600,000. Our probable revenue increase from the 10% in passenger fares will be about $800,000. We must get an increase in freight rates to help make up the difference. Incidentally, our total bill for wages in 1941 was $26,009,776.54.

Not a Scheme to Smack You Down

This fare increase, by the way, wasn't thought up after Pearl Harbor or after we found out that tires and automobiles were going to become scarcer and scarcer. When the Railroads petitioned for this increase in fare we knew (regardless of the most optimistic viewpoint as to increases in business) we just couldn't continue to operate on the old basis.

A Railroad has no mysterious way of getting money. It's just like any other business or for that matter just like your personal household. You can't spend more than you take in (and stay out of court or away from bankruptcy.)

So Here Is the Answer to "How Come?"

Your tire shortage, therefore, had nothing to do with the reasons for this increase and we feel very sure that our good friends and customers will realize this after they know the facts. Our "household" expenses have been and are increasing, the same as yours.

So you see we didn't jack up the fares just because we are "a bunch of bandits." We jacked them up because we had to do something to be able to pay increased wages and to pay increased expenses if we wanted to keep the Railroad running. At this time of all times in our country's history, THE RAILROADS MUST NOT FAIL.

Perhaps this is "A H-I of a Way to Run a Railroad"—

BUT—the Railroad HATES to run BOSTON and MAINE

CANDIDATES MEETING!

Sponsored by the Winchester League of Women Voters

On Tuesday evening, Feb. 24 in the high school auditorium at 8 p. m. Winchester Voters are going to have an opportunity they have long wished for, chance to see and hear all the candidates seeking office in the coming town election. Mr. Joseph W. Worthen will preside and each candidate has been invited to speak briefly. A question period will follow and a large attendance is expected.

There are four important contests: Town Treasurer with four candidates; Collector of Taxes with four candidates; School Committee with two candidates for two vacancies; and for Constables, four candidates for three offices.

The Winchester League of Women Voters has submitted a questionnaire to each candidate. Copies of the questions and answers will be given to each person attending the meeting.

Our town officers are truly representative if all the voters cast their ballots. Democracy is becoming dearer as we actually are fighting for our privilege to enjoy it. To vote is not only your right but your duty. Come to the Candidates' Meeting and inform yourself, then VOTE intelligently.

Half Winchester Aliens STILL UNREGISTERED

Half of Winchester's so-called enemy aliens, Japanese, German and Italian, have as yet failed to register as required by law, according to Postmaster Vincent C. Ambrose. All enemy aliens must register on or before Feb. 28 or face possible internment in a military camp. In Winchester the place to register is the Postoffice.

REV. RUSHTON IMPROVED

Rev. R. Mitchell Rushton, pastor of the First Baptist Church, who was taken to the New England Baptist Hospital last week, is getting along nicely. He will have to remain in the hospital another two weeks but his condition is considered very satisfactory.

NEIL H. BORDEN
CANDIDATE FOR SCHOOL COMMITTEE

To the Citizens of Winchester:

I have been requested by some of my neighbors to run for the School Committee. I now ask your votes at the election on March 2. In this letter I seek to give answers to those questions by which you may determine whether I am worthy of your support.

First are the questions of my interest in the schools and of my willingness to give the time and effort required of a good school committee member. My answer is that to me personally the schools are the most important part of town administration for the next 10 years. I have three children in the schools, the youngest of whom will complete his high school work until 1951. I want my children to be educated in public schools, but I want assurance that the schools have as high standards as are to be found in any New England community.

My interest is such that I am not only willing but anxious to offer my time to try to achieve this objective. If elected I will give the time and effort necessary for the task.

Next is the question whether my capacities and experience fit me for the office I seek. In answer to this query I can but recite my record in the light of the chief duties of a school committee member, which are: (1) to lay down the educational policies to be carried out in the schools; (2) to make sure that these policies are effectively carried out; and (3) to see that the teachers and administrators employed are the best obtainable at the salary schedule authorized by the town.

In the past I have administered the school budget in the efficient administration of the school.

The fact that my life has been spent in educational work gives me background for studying and determining educational policies and for seeing that they are carried out. For the past 20 years I have been a member of the Board of the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration, where I am now a professor. During six of these years I have had administrative experience as Assistant Dean, President of the Harvard Business School, and as Dean of the Harvard Business School.

In the matter of business background, my training and teaching have been in the field of business administration. I have served as consultant to business firms. I have in the past administered the budget of the institution with which I am associated.

I have also had some experience in the position of a town officer. I served as Director for Precinct 2 in the Community Fund drives in 1941 and 1942. I also served as Chairman of the Planning Board and as a Town Meeting Member in Lexington.

As for my views on the selection of teachers, I feel that citizens must guard zealously against patronage entering our school system, as it has in some nearby communities. In a town such as Winchester, teachers should be employed solely on the basis of merit, i.e., upon capacity and experience. I should strive to see that they were so selected. No one is looking to me for any favors. I seek no political preferment.

I do not pretend to know the answers to many detailed questions regarding the administration of Winchester schools or what are their greatest immediate needs. Such views cannot fairly be held until one has had opportunity for careful and detailed study of the problems. On the other hand, I believe I would bring to the position an open mind, experience in crystallizing issues, in seeking facts bearing upon those issues, and common sense in weighing facts to find proper and fair solutions to the problems.

On the basis of my willingness to give the necessary time and effort to the position, my experience and background, and my interest in the welfare of our public schools, which is shared by most of you, I respectfully seek your support on March 2.

"MEASLES"

There are a moderate number of cases of Measles throughout the town.

The parents, particularly those with children of school age, can be of great assistance to the Board of Health and School Department by keeping all children having a fever, cold, or cough, or who are isolated at home and by consulting their family physician.

It is only by the early detection and isolation of susceptible individuals that epidemics can be controlled. The Board of Health wishes to call to the attention of all parents their legal responsibility, if there is a attending physician, to report any contagious diseases to the Board of Health immediately.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES

Candidate for TREASURER

To the Voters of Winchester:

In announcing my candidacy for the position of Town Treasurer, I feel that you are entitled to know my reasons for seeking the office as well as my qualifications for it.

I was an applicant for appointment when Dr. Nutter retired last August, because I have long desired to cease traveling away from home and work again in Winchester. I did for 14 years prior to 1930. Compensation is not a factor.

I believe that I am the best fitted candidate for the contest and submit my qualifications for your consideration and your votes.

Like my parents, I was born in Cambridge, and attended its public schools. My education includes Rindge Tech, Cambridge Commonwealth College and Northeastern University. At the latter, I specialized in municipal management and for 18 years held important positions in Cambridge, Needham and Winchester. In Needham I was town engineer and highway superintendent, and in Winchester, superintendent of streets and compensation agent for seven years. I am well informed on municipal law and finance, have been a Town Meeting member ever since the system started, and have recently served as a consultant for the State.

I am an accountant and industrial engineer for the last 15 years. I have been on the staff of a well known firm of public accountants whose head resides in Winchester.

I was chosen to be treasurer of a Massachusetts corporation in reorganization and my three years' work as such received the approval of the Federal Court.

I have lived for 27 years, am married and have two children. Like all other property owners, I am vitally interested in all matters affecting the best interests of the whole town.

Sincerely,
T. Parker Clarke,

REGISTERED 1553

857 Prospective Drafttees from Winchester

A total of 1553 men, 20 to 45, registered for military service through the Winchester-Stoneham Selective Service Board, 161, last Sunday and Monday. Of those registered, 857 were from Winchester and 696 from Stoneham. In both towns a majority registered on Sunday. Winchester registrants on that day numbered 611 while 480 signed in Stoneham. Monday's figures were Winchester, 240; and Stoneham, 216.

Several fathers and sons registered together and there were a great number of veterans of the First World War, several of whom must have given furloughs ages when they signed up in 1917.

A high light of the Winchester registration was that of an Italian who registered during the other war in Italy the same day, Feb. 15, 25 years ago. He served in the Italian army in that war, receiving a silver award.

Volunteer registrars who served in Winchester and to whom the Selective Service Board is greatly indebted, include:

One of the brightest lights in Winchester's diadem of gallant souls has been forever dimmed in the passing of Mary Davis, a charming and gentle, friendly spirit warmed the atmosphere of every gathering honored by her presence. It is just utterly impossible to think of Mary as gone forever—but our great grief may be somewhat assuaged by the feeling that

Death is only an old door
Set in a garden wall
On quiet hushes it gives, at dusk,
When the threshold call.

Along the hushes are green leaves,
Within, the light lies still.
And every weary and willing feet
Go over that sill.

There is nothing to trouble any heart,
Nothing to hurt at all.
Death is only a door
In an old garden wall.

and it helps to think of Mary as, having stepped forth free from her burden of suffering, peeping over the sill of that beautiful, peaceful garden—to enjoy that peace and happiness forever after. Surely the garden will be even more lovely, with Mary as part of it. Ave atque vale, Mary!

FAIR EXCHANGE?

Ralph Luongo of Medford, proprietor of a bakery at 63 Swanton street, wasn't so sure the exchange had been a fair one when he arrived at Police Headquarters last Saturday night at 10:45.

He told the authorities that his truck driver, a Woburn man, had been on the road since 6:30 that morning delivering bread between Boston and Framingham. When he left Winchester his truck had been equipped with Fiske multiple 6 ply tires on the front wheels. When he returned Luongo claimed the same wheels carried one Lee and one Seiberling tire, both being much older than the Fiskes. The driver, professed to know nothing about the matter.

Luongo appealed to the Police for advice and was told to seek a complaint in the District Court at Woburn.

The Star has a limited number of Ernest Dudley Chase's fine "Battle Map of the Pacific," a must for those who really want to follow the news. Don't confuse these with ordinary maps. 50 cents while they last.

DALEY-TEDESCO

The marriage of Miss Kathryn Mary Tedesco, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tedesco of Main street, Woburn, an Bernard L. Daley of Sylvester avenue, son of Mr. Joseph Daley of Woburn, took place Sunday afternoon, Feb. 15, at 3 o'clock in the Immaculate Conception Church with the pastor, Rev. Fr. Joseph F. Fitzsimons, officiating. Mrs. Mae Callahan McGinn, organist, played the bridal music.

Miss Tedesco was given in marriage by her father. She wore a princess style wedding gown of white slipper satin, having a fitted bodice, trimmed with Alenon lace, long leg o' mutton sleeves and a rounded train. Her long tulle veil was caught to a coronet of orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of gardenias centered with an orchid.

Her honor maid was Miss Emma H. Annessi of Woburn, who wore a gown of sky blue tulle with a coronet of blue flowers and short matching veil. Her bouquet was of mixed spring flowers.

Miss Nicolette Ferrario of Haverhill, Miss Teresa Molea of Winchester and Miss Rose Fucarelli of Woburn were bridesmaids, and there were two junior bridesmaids, Miss Lillian Tedesco of Woburn, sister of the bride and Miss Mary Lou McKeering of Woburn.

The bridesmaids wore dresses of tulle with matching coronets, veils and carried colonial bouquets tied with colored ribbons. The junior bridesmaids wore frocks of blue tulle with period bonnets and carried ribbon tied nosegays of sweet peas and violets.

John Clausim of Woburn was Mr. Daley's best man, and the ushers were Donald Boiarie of Arlington, Frank Mathews and John Simons, both of Winchester.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents where a catered wedding supper was served. Upon their return from a wedding trip by motor to New York, Mr. Daley and his bride will make their home at 107½ Main street in Woburn.

RALSTON-HORN

At the Church of the Epiphany on Saturday afternoon, Feb. 14, Miss Marjorie Ralston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordo H. Horn of Windham street, became the bride of George L. Ralston of Governor's avenue and the late Mr. Ralston. The pastor of the church, Rev. Dwight W. Hatley, read the marriage service at 4 o'clock and the bride music was played by Mrs. Arthur Bateman Corbelle of this town.

Miss Horn was given in marriage by her father and attended by her sister, Miss Ruth Horn. Hartley Ralston of Winchester was his brother's best man.

The bride wore a navy blue sheer street length dress with a white hat and a corsage of white roses. Her hair was styled in blue. The honor maid wore an aqua street length dress with navy hat and accessories and a corsage of sweet peas.

After the ceremony, Mr. Ralston and his bride left to spend their honeymoon in New York. Upon their return they will make their home at 43 York terrace, Medford.

Both the bride and bridegroom graduated from Winchester High School, and Mr. Ralston attended Wentworth Institute. He is in the employ of the J. H. Winn & Son watch-hand manufacturers, of this town.

GUILD OF THE INFANT SAVIOUR

At the next regular meeting of the Chapter on Tuesday, Feb. 24, President Mrs. Michael Hintlian invites all members to attend a Silver Tea.

We are very happy to announce that we have engaged as speaker at this meeting, Mrs. Dorothy V. Stangroom, lecturer and air warden of Birmingham, England.

Mrs. Stangroom, an American citizen, is well qualified to speak on her subject, "England at War." Having spent three years in civilian defense work at Coventry and Birmingham, her experiences are actual personal ones. While stationed at these cities, she had charge of evacuation of children. She also had charge of feeding as many as 800 children. When one thinks of this work alone, on war time rations, without butter, eggs, etc., one realizes the tremendous task it must have been.

After suffering every privation and hardship, Mrs. Stangroom succeeded in bringing her four fatherless children to this country. They came over in October 1941 aboard a transport with special escort, and found refuge here in Winchester.

From all indications the rummage sale held on Thursday was a grand success. Many thanks to Mrs. John Doherty and her fine committee. Reports on the sale will be heard at the meeting on Tuesday.

Many of our members are busily engaged in active work of civilian defense. Some are knitting for the Red Cross, others are taking first aid, nursing, Motor Corps, etc. Those who are willing to give part time to any one of these branches, should report to President Mrs. Hintlian or Secretary Mrs. Vian.

There will be sewing on next Tuesday as usual, followed by the lecture and tea.

Mr. Dana M. Cotton, guidance director for the State of Maine and formerly guidance director at Winchester High School, was in town Tuesday, visiting friends and regaling them with stories absorbed from the French Canadian "habitants" of the Maine backwoods. He is soon to go to Washington for a conference dealing with the possibility of using COC Camps this summer to train youths for special duty in the Army and Navy.

LENTINE-DeBENEDICTIS

A marriage of Winchester interest took place at St. Joseph's Church in Medford on Saturday, Feb. 14, when Miss Lillian Olivia DeBenedictis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael DeBenedictis, became the bride of Albert Frank Lentine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore Lentine of Swanton street. Rev. Fr. O'Callahan, S. J., of Boston College read the service at 4 o'clock in an attractive setting of white gladioli.

Miss DeBenedictis was given in marriage by her father. She wore a princess style gown of white satin with a full skirt and orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of sweet peas centered with an orchid.

Miss Vera DeBenedictis was maid of honor, wearing a yellow marquisette dress with matching ostrich hat and carrying pink roses with blue iris. The bridesmaids wore dresses of green marquisette with yellow ostrich hats and carried talisman roses with sweet peas. They were Miss Louise Guarente and Miss Florio Novelle of Winchester, Miss Betty Lentine of Winchester and Miss Regina Lentine of Arlington.

Albert DeBenedictis was Mr. Lentine's best man and the usher corps comprised Arthur Novelle and Paul Stanton of Medford, Paul Lentine of Winchester and Mario Lentine of Woburn.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the Women's Republican Club on Beacon street in Boston. The parents of both the bride and bridegroom assisted in receiving. At its conclusion Mr. Lentine and his bride left to spend their honeymoon in Miami, Fla.

The bride is a graduate of Medford High School and Boston University. Mr. Lentine graduated from Winchester High School, New Hampshire preparatory School and from Boston College in the class of 1939. He was one of the finest football players developed at Winchester High School in recent years, played three years of varsity football at Boston College and has coached since graduation at Winchester High School, Bates and Springfield College.

DOANE-BLACKSTOCK

The marriage of Miss Marjorie Alice Blackstock of 1018 Massachusetts avenue, Cambridge, niece of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Murray of Lowell, to Aubrey William Doane, son of Mrs. Helen F. Doane of 90 Dunster lane, took place Saturday evening, Feb. 14, in the ladies' parlors of the First Congregational Church in Arlington. Rev. John Nicol Mark, pastor, performed the double ceremony at 8 o'clock, and the wedding music was played by Howard D. Wilson of Winchester. The parlors were attractively decorated with white gladioli and white snapdragons.

Miss Blackstock was given in marriage by her uncle. She wore a princess style gown of white satin with a lace yoke and finger-tip veil caught to a coronet of seed pearls. Her flowers were gardenias and freesia arranged in a shower bouquet.

The bride's matron of honor and only attendant was Mrs. Helen Doane Anderson of Baltimore, Md. She wore a light blue tulle dress with a circle of blue tulle arranged with a coronet of fresh flowers and carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses. Eric G. Johnson of Malden was Mr. Doane's best man.

A reception was held immediately after the ceremony, at which the bride's uncle and aunt assisted in receiving with the mother of the bridegroom and the bride attendants.

Upon their return from a honeymoon in New York, Mr. Doane, who is employed at the General Electric plant in Lynn, will make his home with his bride at 90 Dunster lane.

Well, they have now figured out that only 68 strikes were pulled off during the month of January. How they were distributed or whether this number constitutes the entire total, we would not know. It seems, however, as though our social gains are being maintained and the undernourished, underprivileged, downtrodden two-thirds are being adequately promoted. How some strikes, threatened but not yet decided upon, will be disposed of is in question. We read that fear is expressed in official quarters that the 300-million dollar appropriation for auto workers during the change-over period necessary for defense conversion, is threatened with defeat—which we suppose will be a blow to our social gains, and we note with satisfaction the idea to keep defense industries working on Sundays and holidays—probably with double time wages. Well—if our social gains are maintained, both by unions and by pensions for our Congress, we wonder who will be left to pay for it. Apparently if the trend continues, no one will be left to pay for it. It is a question even now if what we have in social gains can be paid for. We don't care particularly whether we remain in business or not, what with all the difficulties and petty inconveniences we have to meet from our Washington rulers. We don't want to starve. Aside from that security we have no objection to wearing our old clothes, giving up all use of our auto, curtailing our heat or any of the rest of it—but we had rather see 300-million dollars appropriated for officers' quarters at our military camps than given idle automobile workers, and the idea of maintaining our social gains and holding our political ground as presented in the war-time period seems lacking the spirit we imagined necessary for an all-out war time effort on the part of everyone. There was more than met the eye in Paul Mallon's column in the Boston Herald yesterday when he reported the retort made by a WPB dollar-a-year man, taken to task for not co-operating with the political administration: "What do I care, I'm a Republican. The only reason I am here is to help win the war, not the November election."

UNION OFFICIALS CAN BE DEFERRED IN DRAFT, RULING

National Selective Service headquarters has disclosed it has sent a memorandum to local boards stating that representatives and officials of labor unions and government labor liaison men were among those who could be deferred as essential to national war production. [Boston Globe.]

THIS IS ONE OF THE NAVAL TRADITIONS WHICH CAUSES SO MANY FINE YOUNG MEN TO VOLUNTEER FOR OUR NAVY OR MARINE CORPS TODAY AND MAKES CIVILIANS RESOLUTE IN THEIR SHARE IN NATIONAL DEFENSE.

To the Editor of the Star:
Once again the STAR has been of great value in bringing to a successful conclusion a public spirited endeavor in Winchester.
To you and your entire staff, the Winchester Committee of the Greater Boston United War Fund expresses its thanks for the co-operative and effective work of the STAR in helping Winchester to exceed its quota of $51,000.
Sincerely yours,

WINCHESTER MAY BE GRATIFIED

Feb. 17, 1942
To the Editor of the Star:
When the United War Fund went over the top, it marked an outstanding victory for all the cities and towns of Greater Boston.
It proved without a doubt that there is a Greater Boston and that its 2,000,000 citizens not only accept their civic and national responsibilities but, with determination and stout purpose, do something about them.
Winchester may well be gratified with its tremendous response of this war-time challenge. Under the leadership of Francis A. Barrett your people put forth a whole-hearted effort, they worked hard and gave generously, often at real sacrifice. The successful termination of our campaign should give each and every one of them a feeling of real personal satisfaction.
To you as editor of the Winchester Star, I wish to extend special thanks for your splendid co-operation. You must find great satisfaction in having helped achieve so heart-warming and inspiring a victory.
Sincerely yours,
Maynard Hutchinson,
General Chairman

THE QUESTION ANSWERED

To the Editor of the Star:
We all had a good laugh at the "Information Please" session of the A. R. P. School when the following question was put to the instructors, "Is it necessary for one to study aesthetic dancing to be an air warden?"
Here is the perfect answer taken from an editorial in this week's Boston Herald:
"Civilian defense is not a recreation of accelerating the arrival of the more abundant life. It is a stern, life-and-death business, which requires as much skill in organization and administration as preparation for a battle. Activities which in themselves are to be commended may do positive harm because they are untimely and out of place, are misdirected and give an appearance of playfulness and social uplift to a stern, vital undertaking."
We know the anonymous propounder of the above question was contributing a bit of hilarity to what was to some extent a session of deep thought, but the editorial says so much in a few words it is worth at least this much repetition.
Yours sincerely,
R. H. Smith

BOOKS FOR THE ARMED FORCES

To the Editor of the Star:
In the increasing turmoil of war news from east and west, from near us on the Atlantic, from afar on the Pacific, from Asia, from Africa, from Europe, the current news in this nation to secure by gift, ten million books for the armed forces may seem too trivial a matter to engage our serious attention.
This letter is written in the hope of dispelling any such feeling. While it is true that the citizens of Winchester have responded liberally to the book campaign to the extent of about 3000 volumes, they would respond still more liberally if they only realized the dire need.

A naval officer, who has been for months and is today on active service far from our shores, has come twice to our public library for books for his men and he has not gone away empty-handed. He knows the need.
Rear Admiral Andros, commander of the eastern sea frontier, in an appeal for the Victory Book Campaign, says, "Some form of diversion and mental relaxation for men who are regularly four hours on watch and four hours off is absolutely necessary to an efficient fighting force." He knows the need.
Men and boys from Winchester, our own sons, nurses in the armed forces, our own daughters, will need and use the books which may be donated, a nation's gift.
Our armed forces are spreading all over the world, far from home and friends. We at home cannot do very much to aid and comfort and encourage these, our defenders of the nation. We can give. If you have enjoyed a particular book, sailors and soldiers will enjoy it too. It may bring pleasure to hundreds of lonely, bored boys.
My appeal to you, citizens of Winchester, is to search your shelves again, and to give to those who are making it possible for us to have books at all, not merely the books you may not want, but also the books that you value. In so doing, you will be making a contribution to the morale of our armed forces, and at the same time, satisfying your inward desire to help the cause of national existence.
Let us, therefore, give of our libraries not sparingly, but rather freely, generously.

DEBUTANTE DOES HER BIT

THERE are no "play-girls" among Canadian debutantes these days. All young Canadian women are in war-work of some kind, many of them in industry. Typical of the debutante class is Miss Joan Holland of Montreal. Prominent in the social life of the younger set in that city, she gets out of bed at 6:30 o'clock each work-day morning and an hour later reports for duty in the shell-case manufacturing plant where she joins her fellow-workers, men and women, making, inspecting and stamping shell cases for beleaguered Britain. Canada is turning out ammunition of various types at the rate of millions of rounds per year.

POLICE AMBULANCE BUSY

Yesterday forenoon and early afternoon proved especially busy for the Police Ambulance when it was called for its answered five calls for the Police Ambulance within two hours.
Those taken to the hospital included Mrs. Robert W. Power of Vine street, Mrs. La Taylor of 4 Dix terrace, Mrs. Sarah Ferris of 4 Orient street, Mrs. Dominic Errico of 39 Loring avenue and Miss Eunice Swain of 55 Auburn street, West Medford.
Mrs. Dover sustained a broken hip in a fall at her home, and Mrs. Ferris also was thought to have broken her hip in a fall in the yard at her home. Mrs. Taylor broke her ankle when she fell as she was stepping from the sidewalk on Dix street. Both Mr. Errico and Miss Swain, the latter, 92 years old were ill with pneumonia.

ROTARY CLUB NOTES

Seven members were absent from the meeting of Feb. 19, one of whom had already made up for his absence. District Rotarians are expressing their regrets and congratulations because of the resignation of Paul W. Kieser, Secretary of the Rotary Club of Boston; regrets because Boston and its District will lose the services of an able and popular official; congratulations to Paul because of his elevation to a responsible position in the Secretariat of Rotary International.
Here is a pertinent suggestion from our Dick (Dr. Richard W.) Sheehy to the effect that those stalwart Winchester Rotarians who so manfully exert themselves during the club luncheon period, thereby substantially enriching the vital fluid, should, at the times when their services are needed, present themselves at the Winchester Hospital where they will be deprived, each of one pint of his good blood, painlessly and with neatness and despatch. Are you listening, boys?
James J. Quinn, chairman of our International Service Committee, attended the meeting of the District International Service Committee at the Boston City Club on Friday, Feb. 13 and reported proceedings at our current meeting. Special guests at the District meeting were several young men and women from foreign countries who have Rotary relatives. We learn that some 20 countries were represented and that the affair was most enjoyable and helpful in the way of cultivating international friendship and respect.
The Winchester League of Women Voters announces that it will hold an open meeting at the high school auditorium on Tuesday evening, Feb. 24 at which time candidates for election to town offices will be invited to speak on municipal affairs.
This club will celebrate the 15th anniversary of its organization on April 5, 1927 and the meeting of April 9 has been designated for special observation of that important event. At that time we shall invite all resident Winchester Rotarians who are affiliated with other clubs to meet with us and Vice President John is preparing some very special entertainment for the occasion. Please put a conspicuous ring around that date on your calendar.
Another open meeting this week and we listened to some very plain talk on the part of certain members who, through the years, have made themselves familiar with the objects of Rotary and are acquainted with the manner in which we as a club have measured up to those objects. This discussion, we are sure has had a most salutary effect and will keep us alive to our duties as Rotarians and good citizens in this dark period when our country and the world in general seeks to preserve the privileges so perilously won through the centuries.
Next week our Harry Winn will show some of his beautiful motion pictures taken last year during his trip to Alaska and way stations. And now Alaska is surely in the limelight. Come one, come all on Feb. 26.

WINCHESTER CIVILIAN DEFENSE

OFFICIAL BULLETIN

Winchester's first test of its widespread A. R. P. organization will take place Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, according to an announcement by Director of Public Safety Harold S. Fuller. At that time, and for the next hour and a half, hundreds of members of the organization will be "alerted," including the air-raid wardens, the auxiliary police and fire forces, and the Medical Aid and Public Service Divisions.

The Report Center, now in its new quarters in the basement of the Police Station, will be fully manned, and over its telephone lines will come reports of more than 100 "incidents" from various sections of the town. The appropriate services to deal with each of the "incidents" will be dispatched by representatives working under the direction of Chief Warden Franklin J. Lane. Typical incidents will include damage from incendiary and high-explosive bombs, slight and serious fires, minor and serious injuries, to residents, damage to highways, gas and water mains, and to electric and telephone wires.

Visitors to the town on Sunday afternoon will be warned of the test by auxiliary police at each of the important highway approaches, and will be cautioned to drive with unusual care while the test is on. Local residents can co-operate by remaining off the streets during the test.

In the Log Book
A ship's log-book is the ship's diary, notes a writer in London Abers Magazine. It is entered the rate of progress according to the log, hence its name, and all other particulars of the ship's course. In it also are entered all details of misdemeanors committed on board, with the culprit's name and the punishment meted out. From this we get the expression, "to log a man," used in the sense of to fine him.

MINIATURE WEDDING PAGEANT

Donation Day Feature

The outstanding event on the church calendar for the Baptist Church is the Donation Day for the Winchester Thrift Shop which is to be held on March 15, at 4 o'clock. Mrs. C. A. Burnham, general chairman, and Mrs. E. H. Garrison and Mrs. Gretchen Butler, assistant chairmen.

A miniature wedding pageant is to be presented at the church by the small children. The atmosphere and beauty of a real church wedding will be preserved and the wedding reception will follow in the church parlors.

A cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend the affair and to bring with them a substantial donation for the Thrift Shop. The shop is entirely dependent on the voluntary offerings of its friends. The need is great and a generous donation will be much appreciated.

VICTORY CLUB TO START AT WINCHESTER SAVINGS BANK

Victory Clubs have been established by the mutual savings banks of the state as a new war-time service, operating on the same principles as the popular Christmas Clubs, members of the Victory Club will deposit a certain amount each week in the bank until enough money has been saved to buy a Defense Savings Bond. The bank then issues the bonds in the name of the depositor.

Most Victory Clubs provide for payments of $1, $2, $3 or $5 a week. Every member of the Victory Club will receive a button showing that he is saving every pay day for Defense Bonds.

Pointing out that the Victory Clubs make it possible for the average man or woman to buy Defense Savings Bonds with savings from their weekly wages, Harrison G. Taylor, President of the Savings Banks Association of Massachusetts, stated that the Government desires the purchase of Defense Bonds from weekly wages rather than from savings already accumulated as savings deposits.

"The war," he said, "must be financed as far as possible from the present earnings of the people, not from past savings which are already invested. Of the deposits in Massachusetts mutual savings banks about 20 per cent are now invested in Government bonds and practically all new deposits are being invested either in Government bonds or homes available to defense workers. Any substantial withdrawal of savings deposits from the purchase of Defense Bonds would simply result in the sale of Government bonds by the banks. The net result would simply be a switch from one type of Government bond to another and there would be no gain in the Government treasury."

"The savings banks of the state," he stated, "have co-operated with the Government in the sale of Defense Bonds since the start of the campaign. They may at no time be of any service which will make it possible for everyone to buy bonds the patriotic way with savings from their weekly earnings."

WOMEN'S LODGE BUYS MORE BONDS

The Winchester Women's Lodge of the Order of Sons of Italy in America has created a Defense Savings Club which will permit the purchase of defense bonds from time to time. On last Friday evening a successful penny sale was conducted which led to the Bond Fund and this time the Lodge purchased another Defense Bond.

CABOT TO HEAD UNITED WAR FUND CAMPAIGN

Announcement that Charles C. Cabot of Dover, chairman of the Metropolitan Division in the successful $7,600,000 Greater Boston United War Fund campaign, will succeed Maynard Hutchinson, as general chairman was received with wide interest throughout the 46 cities and towns affiliated with the fund.

Mr. Cabot who is known to thousands in the metropolitan area proved himself the top in the recent campaign for the nation's first United War Fund.

"We citizens of Greater Boston who have not the privilege of serving in the front lines have won the first round of the battle that only we can carry on. The second round of that battle is already opening, and I know that once again, as always in the past, we will win this one and those to follow."

A member of the Boston law firm of Ropes, Gray, Best, Coolidge and Briggs, Cabot gave the successful $7,600,000 Greater Boston United War Fund campaign, will succeed Maynard Hutchinson, as general chairman was received with wide interest throughout the 46 cities and towns affiliated with the fund.

Mr. Cabot is president of the Boston Dispensary and trustee of Massachusetts Memorial Hospitals, both community fund agencies. Also he is president of Milton Academy and on the executive committee of the Governor's Committee on Public Safety.

He was graduated from Harvard University in 1922 and from Harvard Law School three years later. During World War I he served in the Marine Corps.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD

In response to numerous inquiries, R. R. Guthrie, chief of the Textiles, Clothing and Leather Goods Branch, explained today the official position of the War Production Board on the question of women knitting sweaters for soldiers and sailors.

"The War Production Board," said Mr. Guthrie, "does want women to knit sweaters where absolutely needed by the Armed Forces and where the commanding officers ask for the supplies."

"It is our opinion that the average soldier and sailor is adequately clothed by the Government and doesn't need additional clothing. However, there are exceptions where additional clothing is such an exception. They can make good use of additional clothing. The same may be true of soldiers sent into the field on long campaigns."

"On the whole, we don't want a broad wave of knitting that will consume millions of pounds of wool that is needed for more essential purposes. This is the system we have set up with the Red Cross. When a commanding officer desires such additional clothing as sweaters, he will apply to the Red Cross, the Red Cross will then arrange for the sweaters to be knitted."

"In this way, every sweater knitted will serve a purpose and there will be no waste of material, to say nothing of the labor of some patriotic woman. We welcome the co-operation of women in knitting for the Armed Forces the things they need, after the commanding officers have informed the Red Cross of these needs."

WINCHESTER RATIONING BOARD

In view of changes which go into effect on Thursday the 19th, the Board set forward its meeting from Wednesday to Tuesday night in order to take action on as many applications as possible before further changes and restrictions went into effect. The following certificates were issued:

C. H. Symmes and Company, 747 Main Street, two truck tires 700x20 and two passenger car tires 600x20 obsolete. Two passenger car tires, 600x20 obsolete.

Gawak K. Richardson, 31 Forest Circle, four passenger car tires, obsolete. Three passenger car tires, obsolete.

Everett Hambley, 751 Main Street, five passenger car tires, obsolete; 5 passenger car tires, obsolete; 2 passenger car tires, obsolete.

Francis O. P. Carlson, 45 M. V. Parkway, two passenger car tires, obsolete, two passenger car tires, obsolete.

The Board received on Feb. 19 REVISED rationing regulations which will affect retreading and recapping of tires and the "retreaded" tires. New forms have been supplied to this office to meet the new regulations. A summary of the important changes is as follows:

There will be two sets of quotas, each divided into passenger car and truck sizes. One will be the quota for NEW tires and tubes, and the other for RETREADED TIRES (which means retreading or recapping service on the applicant's old tires or purchase or retread or recapped tires).

Winchester quotas for retreaded or recapped truck tires is four for the balance of February. No quota has yet been received for retreaded passenger car tires.

Two separate eligibility classifications are set up. One, which is for NEW tires and tubes is known as List A and is substantially similar to the old classification.

The other, which is for RETREADED tires, is known as List B, and is substantially similar to the old passenger car uses and a "retread" classification for certain truck uses.

Under certain circumstances, List B vehicles will receive certificates for retreaded tires. First, if a passenger car is qualified for new tires under List A but that quota is exhausted, the applicant MAY apply for retreaded tires within the retreaded passenger tire quota.

This provision, of course, cannot go into effect until a retreaded tire quota is established. If a truck or other vehicle except a passenger car is qualified under List A, and its old tires can be retreaded, the applicant must accept a certificate for retreading service on his old tires within that quota.

On obsolete NEW tires, vehicles must come within the eligibility classification relating to passenger cars, in Lists A or B. These obsolete tires may be used only on passenger cars. There is no change in obsolete sizes, and no quota is set up for them. There is no provision for obtaining obsolete new tubes. This new obsolete tire regulation went into effect Feb. 19.

The total number of tires available for each eligible vehicle will add to not more than one spare, even if this means taking tires of ineligible vehicles owned or under control of the applicant. If an applicant has a vehicle with tires on an ineligible vehicle that will fit the eligible vehicle, he must use them on the eligible vehicle before he can obtain a certificate.

No transfer of retreaded or recapped tires can be made after Wednesday, Feb. 18, without certificates issued by local boards. THIS IS AN IMPERATIVE PROVISION. It applies not only to purchase of such tires, but also to tires which were left with dealers or retreading firms for retreading or recapping services. The owner may receive back any old car cases if no new rubber has been applied to them. If rubber has been applied, in whole or in part, they will be turned in to the hands of the dealers or retreaders after Feb. 18. The owners will have to make financial adjustments with the dealers or retreaders.

Local boards may not issue certificates for transfer or retreaded or recapped tires except to applicants who establish eligibility under the Revised Regulations and until the retreaded quotas have been established. The Board has received no official news on the sugar situation.

Billiards an Old Game

The Encyclopedia Britannica says that billiards: "Whatever its origin, and whatever the manner in which it was originally played, it is certain that it was known in the time of Shakespeare, who makes Cleopatra, in the absence of Antony, invite her attendant to join in the pastime—'Let us to billiards: Come, Charmian.'—'Antony and Cleopatra' act II scene 5."

Many Animals Discovered
Many wild animals suffer from diseases similar in effect to the common distemper of dogs. Two forms of this disease at times have been serious impediments in fox farming. Billiards, widely putative as rabbit fever is known to occur in a great many wild animals, including the ground squirrel, muskrat, coyote, cat, foxes, sheep and even in certain game birds.

FIGHTING APPEAL

A parcel of 250 books arrived recently at an army camp. Because the need for books is great they were immediately unpacked and placed on shelves already prepared. Before evening the shelves were bare.

To every one of us the story comes as a challenge. We ask ourselves daily what more we can do to further the war effort. We pay our taxes with a grateful grin. Tough—but what if there's a job to be done and the American way of finishing a job is the all-out way. So what next?

The answer is as close to hand as the nearest book-shelf. If you have ten books of comparatively recent vintage which you have enjoyed reading, give nine of them to the soldiers, sailors and airmen who are out there making it ever going to tell you what you may or may not read.

Keep one. As a selfish that is otherwise bare it will be your certificate of merit, a silent witness to the nine others who have been sent out to serve a splendid cause.

At a conservative estimate those other nine books will be read by 450 fighting men. Could modern fiction—the emphasis is not on the classics—Private Hicks from the sticks after wading knee deep in mud all day, is not interested in Herodotus could modern fiction be put to better use than this?

There's your answer. Act now. To our shame it must be said that the appeal recently launched for ten million books for fighting men has not met with an adequate response. Many people in Winchester have been over-whelmingly generous in their contribution to mention some and not others, but approximately 250 books from Mr. Howe of the Winslow Press and a very few from other sources.

Miss Mary Spaulding call for a public expression of gratitude. Some individuals have given 50 books and more. Some have given none.

Well, see you, but I'm not interested in "all this modern stuff." I haven't got anything more recent than Tolstoy and Dickens, Dickens, Tolstoy and Dickens Cooper?

Over Twist is all right and so are Anna Karenina and The Last of the Mohicans. Fine stuff. They kept General Grant busy during a night. Keep them, brother, and read them again. They'll improve your mind. But, to be sure, Private Hicks wouldn't touch any of them with a ten-foot pole.

Even so, you can do something. One dollar will buy four books which are meat and drink to Private Hicks. Or, if you'll let me know, I will help Private Hicks send him into a better job than he had before all this mess started, once he has twisted Hitler and Hirohito into knots.

Put that dollar into an envelope and send it to Miss Mead at our own library here in Winchester. She is the local director of the drive and you can bet your shirt she will know what to do with it.

It's all made very easy for you. Many clubs in town are co-operating. Wherever you find a book poster on display you can leave your books for collection. In any one of the banks, for instance, At the Winchester Star office. With your Spaulding at the Winslow Press. For those on the west side, in the Parish Hall of the Church of the Epiphany. At the Library at the end of the town, or at your own telephone. You can call the Library at Win. 1106 or the Rev. George H. Reed at Win. 2444 and some member of the transportation committee will attend to the rest.

Winchester is a book town. This is a cause which we are particularly qualified to serve. Let's give until it hurts.

Pupil of Eye Not Black
The round opening in the center of the eye (called the pupil) is really not black at all, as it appears, but is absolutely without color, asserts a writer in Pearson's London Weekly. The reason it looks black is that you look through it into the dark chamber of the eye. It is just like looking into a dark room through an open doorway. The doorway is not black; neither is the pupil of the eye. The eye is like a camera, and the pupil like the shutter that opens into the camera. A round muscle, the iris, surrounds the pupil and opens and closes it to regulate the amount of light entering the eye.

THE CCC NOW ON A WAR BASIS

Mrs. Laurette C. Bresnahan, State Selecting Agent for the CCC, announced: From now on the CCC offers technical training for young men to contribute substantially to the successful execution of the war efforts of the United States. There will be two main divisions to the work and training program of the Corps. One to aid in war construction, the other to protect and develop natural resources of the nation.

The United States rapidly becoming the granary as well as the arsenal of the Democracies, an even greater importance must also be given to the huge areas of land replanted to commercially valuable trees and the hundreds of thousands of acres of forest which enrollees have saved from devastation by fire, insects and tree-destroying diseases.

Young men who have not qualified for the CCC are urged to look into the advisability of joining the CCC where they would be doing their part in National Defense through the CCC.

The CCC has been called "A Builder of Men" and results have shown it justly deserves that title. Hundreds of thousands of young men who without CCC training at the critical period of their lives, might have remained national liabilities, were ready to take on a limited national emergency in May 1940, to utilize their training in industry or in the Army, Navy and Marine Corps.

Men who had received CCC training were welcomed by the War Department when it came time to form the new armies and thousands of former enrollees found quick promotion upon induction. Army officers have said that the men taken from the ranks of former CCC enrollees were the nucleus of their new Selective Service camps. CCC trained cooks were in so great demand by the army that the western CCC camps were virtually denuded of trained specialists in this line.

Single, unemployed young men, citizens of the United States, between the ages of 17 and 23½ are eligible. Applicants do not have to represent relief families to qualify for enrollment. Young men interested in this work should contact their local Selecting Agent, Mr. Ruloff W. Jordan, Town Hall, Winchester.

BRITISH WAR RELIEF

Winchester Unit

The newly interest at the central work room Wednesday was furnished by Troop 5 of Winchester Girl Scouts. They had sent in utility bags for children who must spend the night in an air raid shelter.

The bags were of cheerful flowered chintz, patterned with little flowers. They had decorated them with large fragments of blossoms that never were. They drew up in a business-like way with red ribbons, tapes, and on the outside they were all alike. But there conformity ended and individual taste and judgment had a chance. The Scouts who shopped for the bags and packed them agreed on the fundamentals for a child that is suddenly homeless. All supplied the essentials for a bed-time or an early morning scrubbing up, wash cloth, soap, tooth brush, tooth paste, and comb. They thought also about the likelihood of small cuts or scratches in a bombed area and so they put in small roll of bandage material and iodine. Remembering rents, and mishaps to clothes, they put in needles and thread. Each Scout thought of a utility bag as another put in a thimble; a third remembered safety pins; another a nail file.

But a bag stopped with just what a child would need in order to be clean and tidy. On a night in an air raid shelter one would need things for passing an amusing hour, wash each Scout used her own head. A bag of marbles, a little bunch of balloons, crayons, a pad of colored paper, a package of clay, jackstones, these were sent. One bag had a small book, an inspired choice, for it would stand so many re-readings, it would help comfort a very little brother's sister, and it stretched the horizon of the imagination wide. The book to be sent over was "Around the World with Children and Dogs."

Boston was the source of course, represented by a Boston bull terrier, and America had also an Alaskan malamute and a Mexican chihuahua. Around the world and in the world, a setter, Scottie, French poodle, German shepherd, Holland pup, Swiss St. Bernard, Dalmatian from the Balkans, a Japanese spaniel, and Chinese Chow.

All the senders remembered that a message to somebody would come high on the list of needed things and all put in a note.

It is plain that when a Scout says "utility" she means utility. It means that the troop oriented firmly on the idea of utility, and it stretched the utility into the luxury class and who wanted to include a small bottle of perfume. When every cubic inch in a ship's hold is precious, useful has no mean use.

Troop 5 is directed by Mrs. Harold Farnsworth, captain, and Mrs. Richard Johnson has assisted her.

BOYS PICKED UP AFTER THEFT OF TOOLS

A 14 year old Medford boy and an 11 year old boy from Somerville were questioned at police headquarters Monday evening after two youngsters had been seen running from the rear of a tool shed at a house in process of construction on Grove street.

The boys were picked up at the Winchester Theatre where they were found loitering around cars in the parking lot by Sergeant Marshall Goodnow. They were taken to headquarters by the police and while being questioned there the Grove street episode was discussed.

The description of the boys seen running away from the tool shed fitted the youngsters at headquarters and after further questioning they admitted having entered the tool shed which they said was not locked and taking three hammers, two pairs of pliers, a saw, and a wrench. They said they had thrown away the hammers near the house where the tool shed was located and had hidden the pliers and saw along the railroad tracks. All the tools were subsequently recovered by the police, the pliers and wrench being hidden near the B & M bicycle track at Winchester station.

One of the boys had a pair of gloves which he had taken from Gorman's Department Store at Ball Square in Somerville. The Somerville authorities were notified, and the boys turned over to their fathers.

AN EPIPHANY NOON HOUR

"A journalist develops cat's whiskers." That was the picturesque way in which a guest of the Epiphany Service League Tuesday, Feb. 17, expressed the special awareness which a newspaper develops: awareness of trends and opportunities in the general life of the time. Just now men's bewilderment creates an opportunity. As long as a man is driving briskly along a road in complete ignorance of what is ahead, he will not ask anyone whether it is the right road to his destination nor what kind of a road it is beyond the next hill and whether his car can make it. A lot of Americans used to be like that. Now they have thoughtfully bewilderment. Can it be useful? If they use it creatively. In the hope that the Rev. William S. Packer, editorial writer on a Boston daily, came to the Service League on Tuesday with an invitation to a forum hour each Sunday afternoon in March.

The group will re-examine the social implications of Christianity. It will meet in the parish library at 4 o'clock. It will include both men and women. It will end strictly at 4:50. Its purpose will not be just to receive opinions, but to give them. It is a group of people's best thinking. The series will look at pressing contemporary affairs in the light of principles that did turn out to be sound, and down and that Christians hold to be valid for all times. The first meeting will be at 4 o'clock, March 1.

Realizing that one who is sewing for the Red Cross on Tuesday knows the kinds of work available, Mrs. Harry Goodwin, who is in charge of Epiphany Red Cross sewing, arranged, at a moment's notice, what the impromptu master of ceremonies called a Red Cross fashion show. Models of the finished garments were carried through the room by a table to table. The Tuesday workroom would like more workers. The purpose of the little parade was not to dress another woman has made, but to make some additional woman think "Here is something I can do." Each Tuesday there are sewing tables, and Red Cross materials at the parish hall. The group is not limited to women of the parish. Any woman who finds Epiphany a convenient place to work is heartily welcome.

A gift from last week's sneaker was followed with lively interest. Father Viall had heard a request for buttons and had said that his house might help out the Red Cross in that way. As it happened, he had come into his possession and he foresaw no way in which most of them could play an active part in a monastery, a play lot of buttons in all sorts of colors. A letter last week presented them a box full of the Epiphany workroom. And when a half dozen little red and red dresses went over to the parish hall, they carried the surprising legend, "Buttons by the Society of St. John the Evangelist."

Salvaging can be fun and so nice and neighborly. You have heard how important the historians consider the cracker-barrel and the village store to have been in making up the New England mind in former times of grave crisis. On Tuesday one saw the names rest hour and the Service League luncheon tables taking on a bit of the same function. A rumor flitted into the conversation. Oh, yes, about sugar. A rumor that in Washington sugar could be had in five-pound lots, plenty of it. But that rumor ran into trouble right away. It met a known fact. Just across the table sat a woman who knew. A letter last week from her sister who lives in Washington had ended with "I must go out now over to the little sugar and that may well take some time." So that rumor bit the dust, and no one was gladder to have it killed by a fact than the person who had removed the hearsay. In every truly friendly circle a tiny portion of our present uneasy American mind can be shaped up to more confidence and a more hope of solving our grave problems.

DR. MAIETTA WAS SPEAKER

President Mrs. Lucy Marullari of the Columbus Ladies' Society, introduced Dr. Volpe, who in turn, presented Dr. Maietta, who gave a short illuminating talk on the educational work being done in the control of cancer.

WEEK-END MOTOR ACCIDENTS

The first of several automobile accidents reported to the Police over the past week-end took place at 2:15 Saturday morning when an International Harvester truck was in collision with a Dodge sedan on Cambridge street about 200 feet south of Pond street. According to the Police, the truck, owned by Raymond Thompson of Main street, Derby, Vt., and driven by Dale Francis Powers of Newburyport, Vt., was headed south on Cambridge street, while the Dodge, driven by William S. Newman of 9 Thornton street, was headed north. Powers told Patrolman James E. Farrell that he fell asleep while driving and his machine struck the left front of the truck, and after disabling it, including the blowing of a rear tire, glided on its left side, and, smashing off two cement posts at the side of the street, finally coming to a stop in a gully. The Dodge was also disabled and both machines were towed away. Neither driver nor three passengers in the Dodge were injured. The driver of the truck complained of injuries to his head.

Saturday afternoon at 1:45 an automobile, driven by Arthur B. Bartlett of Maple avenue, Atkinson, N. H., was in collision with a Buick sedan, 115 Myrtle Valley Parkway, was in collision with an automobile driven by Dorothy E. Barnard of 80 Walnut street, who was attempting to drive up that street. A child riding in the Barnard car received a bumped head.

Sunday at 1:40 a. m. a Chevrolet sedan and a Chevrolet coupe met head on at the intersection of Cambridge, Church and High streets. Both cars were badly damaged and several persons, including Mrs. Henry D. Bennett and Clarence Dunbury, upon their arrival at the scene of the accident, found the two machines locked together in the street intersection, but the Chevrolet had been removed to the hospital. At the coupe driver Dunbury found a pocketbook containing $87.37, an overnight case and other personal effects which were taken to Headquarters. Both machines were removed by the Central Garage wrecker.

While at the Winchester Hospital officer Edward F. Bowler learned that the Chevrolet coupe was being driven north on Cambridge street by Nathan J. Newman of Sanders street. Newman said that at a point just south of Church street the Chevrolet sedan, in passing over the hump at High and Church streets, suddenly swerved to the left and struck his car. The operator of the sedan, Michael W. Porter of 3 Chauncy street, Cambridge, claimed that the sedan cut him off.

Newman received cuts on the chin, tongue and right hand and bruises about the left knee and right side. Riding with him was Anita Newman of 109 Sanford avenue, Lowell, who had extensive lacerations about the face and head and a probable fracture of the left ankle. They were taken to a hospital at 102 W. Merritt of 102 Willowood street.

Porter had several lacerations about the right knee and lacerations of the face. He was taken to the hospital by Richard H. Shannon of Lexington. All the injured were treated by Dr. Charles Rooney and Anita Newman was held for further observation.

Sunday night at 11:30 Daniel O'Leary, Jr., of 16 Kendall street, came to Headquarters reporting that two youths whom he was giving a ride home in his machine had been struck and injured by another car on Main street near Stowell road. A housing O'Leary was picked up by Joseph Rosato, 17, of 7 Emerson street and Salvatore DeToso, 17, of Olive street, in Medford, and was bringing them to Winchester when his car got a flat tire near Stowell road. While he was fixing it Rosato and DeToso were standing at the rear of the left side of the machine when the rear end of a moving car skidded and struck them, knocking them down.

The owner and operator of the car, an Oldsmobile, reported to the Station, giving his name as Guy A. Marchesi of 642 Millbury street, Worcester. He was accompanied by Kenneth A. Rosato, 27, Bryant street, Woburn. Both denied striking the boys. Rosato and DeToso had abrasions about the legs and ankles.

WEEK-END FIRES

The first of several fires over the past week-end took place at 2:28 Friday afternoon, a grass fire on Woodside road. At 7:24 Friday evening Box 35 came in for an oil burner fire in the basement of Marchesi's Barber Shop at 68 Swanton street. The damage was chiefly from smoke, which filled the cellar.

Saturday morning at 5:38 the department was called to the residence of Mr. Paul E. Avery, 19 Shoshoni street, where a leak which developed in the compressor of a refrigeration unit was permitting the escape of gas. At 6:38 the same morning Chief Michael Kane of Woburn telephoned for a piece of apparatus to cover in during a bad fire in that city. Engine 2 responded.

Saturday afternoon at 12:36 there was a grass fire at the rear of the home of Mrs. M. C. Ambrose on Vine street, and Sunday afternoon, at 5:38 a tree stump was discovered burning near the home of Mr. George Cooper, 33 Willowood street.

HOLIDAY DANCE AT METCALF HALL FEB. 26

I. O. O. F. NEWS

Association Hall was the scene on last Sunday night of an enthusiastic gathering of Odd Fellows. The occasion was a visitation of members from Eastern Star Lodge of East Boston, including our Deputy McBurnie, P. M. McBurnie, who was so present and made several timely remarks. Two baseball games were played by scores of 4-3 and 5-5. A splendid collation served under the direction of Brother Cameron brought the evening to a suitable closing.

Before the regular meeting of the evening, a hectic pool game was played by two teams of Waterfield Lodge members: Bros. Mitchell, R. Dover, Ripley and Blaisdell versus Ward, H. Dover, Goodnow and Cameron. The former team claimed the victory, but the final shot by Mitchell on which his team claimed to win, was protested long and loudly by the so-called losing team. No doubt many challenges will grow out of this match.

Winning members of Chelsea will be the next guests of Waterfield Lodge. They come to visit on March 9 when another ball game will be played and the Odd Fellows will show their new motion pictures. If you are an Odd Fellow, come down any Monday night. Waterfield Lodge will be glad to see and welcome you.

Bugbee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bugbee of 22 Symmes road; Jack and Richard Moriarty, sons of Mr. and Mrs. J. Moriarty of 20 Sheffield road; Elliott Hersey, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Hersey of 29 Woodside road; and David and Clarke Staples, sons of Dr. and Mrs. Clarke Staples of Myopia Hill road.

BANK EMPLOYEES BUY BONDS

The Winchester National Bank announces that its officers and employees have enrolled 100 per cent in the United States Treasury Department's payroll deduction plan for buying Defense Savings Bonds.

Mr. Leslie J. Scott, Cashier of the Bank, states that this is in continuation of the Bank's policy of close co-operation with the Treasury Department in the sale of United States Defense Savings Bonds. The Bonds are on sale at the Bank and of course the Bank makes no charge for this service.

How to Distinguish Nationality of Aircraft

Civilian air raid spotters will have no difficulty distinguishing Axis planes from those of the United States if they memorize the markings illustrated above. American and British planes have designs of red, white and blue. Axis planes are easily spotted through the familiar black swastika of Germany, the round red rising sun emblem of Japan and the Roman fasces insignia borne by Italian planes.

SMITH APPOINTED COLLEGE AIR WARDEN

Elbert Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Smith, 319 Highland avenue, has been appointed an air warden for his dormitory at Bates College where he is a sophomore. It has been announced by Norman Ross, College Bursar and chief air warden for the campus. Classes in air raid precautions and first aid are now under way as part of the Bates Civilian Defense program.

Smith was graduated from Winchester High in 1940. While there he was active in sports, earning a letter in tennis, and was a member of the orchestra, the choral society, and the dramatic club.

At Bates he is prominent in sports, having earned numerals in both track and cross country his freshman year and captaining the latter and started a letter in cross country this fall. He is a member of the band, the choral society, and the literary club, and is active in dramatics.

CHRISTINE E. GREENE
CANDIDATE FOR SCHOOL COMMITTEE

To the Voters of Winchester:

For many years the Winchester School Committee has consisted of four men and two women. With the expiration of Mrs. Spaulding's term, one of the women's places on the Committee is to be filled at the coming election. Christine E. Greene (Mrs. Charles E.) of 329 Highland Avenue is the only woman candidate. A vote for Mrs. Greene is a vote to keep the mothers represented. She is particularly qualified to understand the mothers' point of view, since her four daughters have gone through the Winchester schools and entered college directly from our high school, and her two sons are now pupils in the public schools.

Mrs. Greene has been a resident of Winchester for 25 years. During this time, her activities have been closely associated with her children's interests. Her education has been of vital importance to her, and she has always been friendly and co-operative in her relations with their teachers. Mrs. Greene was for two years President of the Central Board of the Mothers' Association, and was for some time a member of the Girl Scout Council. At present she is President of the Mt. Holyoke College Club of Boston.

In addition to a background of demonstrated interest and experience, Mrs. Greene has personal qualifications that make her an outstanding candidate for the School Committee. She has an open mind, sound judgment, a proven capacity for work and responsibility, and independence of thought and action. If elected she will make it her business to visit the schools, know the teachers, secure first-hand information on any problems that may exist or may arise, and do all in her power to see that the Winchester school system holds to its high standard of education and is flexible enough to meet the challenging needs of today.

We, the undersigned voters of Winchester, therefore endorse Christine E. Greene for the School Committee and urge you to vote for her at the election next Monday, March 2. Marguerite B. Baker, Elliott F. Cameron, Rex T. Crandall, Frank E. Crawford, Dorothy O. Farnsworth, Arthur S. Harris, Mary E. Hickey, Clara W. Hucks, Frederick M. Ives, Jr., Mildred L. Jordan, Sigrid M. NEIL H. BORDEN
COMMITTEE

We the undersigned voters endorse Neil H. Borden as candidate for the School Committee.

We believe that his record commends him to voters for this important position. An excellent background for appraising questions of educational and administrative policy is provided by a life work in teaching and administration. For the past twenty years he has been a member of the Faculty of the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration, where he has had not only teaching and research experience, but also administrative experience as Assistant Dean. He has also had public school experience as a high school principal. As a professor of business administration, and as a business consultant he has ample basis for dealing with the school budget.

In addition, in town affairs, he has served as town meeting member and as Director for Precinct 2 of the Community Fund drives of 1941 and 1942. Formerly he was Chairman of the Planning Board in Lexington. We believe that he will carry to the School Committee an open mind and a demonstrated ability in dealing capably with educational problems. OBSERVED 90TH BIRTHDAY

On Wednesday of this week, Mrs. Angeline M. Caverly of 9 Wildwood street celebrated her 90th birthday. Beginning with the holiday week-end she received a steady succession of calls and birthday cards, which reached its climax on Wednesday in a bunch of 90 beautiful roses. To each was attached a card from one of her many friends or relatives.

In the evening 15 members of the family gathered for a buffet supper, with a birthday cake lighted by 90 candles, and afterward there were motion pictures of some of her grand children and great grandchildren who live out of town.

Mrs. Caverly is in good health and retains her deep interest in all that goes on. She takes particular pleasure in the fact that all of her five daughters live in Winchester and are in daily contact with her.

ANNOUNCE ENGAGEMENT OF MISS MUREL CARR

Mr. and Mrs. James Henry Carr of Highland avenue, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Muriel Blakeney Carr, to Mr. Charles Edward Herlihy of Jamaica Plain and the late Mr. Herlihy.

Miss Carr was graduated from Winchester High School and from Radcliffe College. Mr. Herlihy received his degree from Harvard.

TO THE VOTERS OF WINCHESTER

The undersigned take pleasure in endorsing the candidacy of Mr. Ralph Davis Joslin for the office of Town Treasurer at the next town election. He is a graduate of the Winchester High School, of Harvard College and of the Bentley School of Accounting. He has been engaged in public accounting for the past fourteen years and is associated with a well known firm of public accountants.

WINCHESTER BOY'S PAINTING CHOSEN

"Anti-Aircraft Batteries Near Defense Plant," a watercolor painting by James F. MacDonnell of 1 Lincoln road, Woburn, former Winchester boy and son of Mrs. Margaret MacDonnell of 31 Forest street, has been purchased by the Section of Fine Arts, O. E. M., of the United States Government, and is now on exhibition at the National Art Gallery in Washington.

Mr. MacDonnell was one of several hundred artists to submit paintings on the above subject and the fact that his study was chosen by Government experts speaks highly for his work. After three weeks at the gallery in Washington the picture will be exhibited in many places throughout the country.

Mr. MacDonnell was born and educated in Winchester and is a graduate of the Massachusetts Normal Art School.

Miss Katherine Meserve and Miss Glenn Juvenal are Winchester pupils participating in the coming exhibition of interpretive dancing to be given in the Weston Town Hall by Chapel Hill School.

FORMER TREASURER ENDORSES MR. CLARKE

Feb. 23, 1942

To the Editor of the Star:

There are some Winchester voters who are inquiring about the selection of a Town Treasurer at next Monday's election.

With 17 years' experience in that important office, I feel that I am well qualified to give the answer.

I urge the election of T. Parker Clarke, who is the only candidate who was specifically educated for town administration. He is the only candidate with many years of practical experience in various branches of it, and who is regarded as an authority on municipal management and accounting.

He has also had considerable experience as a business executive, including three years' trusteeship of a corporation where his work was approved by a Federal Court.

His moral qualifications are above honest criticism, and I know that he has an unusually fine record of 27 years of civic and personal services freely rendered to many organizations and individuals representing all walks of life in Winchester.

The voters of this Town will have no regrets if they will elect T. Parker Clarke to be Town Treasurer.

Yours very truly,
Dr. Harrie V. Nutter
Retired Town Treasurer

Many Animals Suffer
Many wild animals suffer from diseases similar in effect to the common distemper of dogs. Two forms of this disease at times have been serious impediments in fox farming. Tularemia, widely publicized as rabbit fever, is known to occur in a great many wild animals, including the ground squirrel, muskrat, coyote, cat, foxes, sheep and even in certain game birds. —Literary Digest.

WINCHESTER LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

Candidates' Meeting Very Enlightening

If every voter in Winchester could have attended the candidates' meeting held in the high school auditorium on Tuesday evening, they would have gone home knowing for whom they wished to vote and why. To see them, hear them, and at the same time read their qualifications, gave everyone fortunate enough to attend a clear idea of the best fitted person for the office each is seeking.

Mrs. Malcolm Nichols, president of the Winchester League outlined briefly the aims and convictions of the League of Women Voters in war-time and stressed the importance of maintaining efficient and good government in cities and towns when the nation is at war. It is at such times when local problems are often forgotten in the face of headlines of national events. For these reasons the League of Women Voters in Winchester made it possible for the candidates for all the town-wide offices to appear on a non-partisan, impartial platform. Mrs. Nichols then introduced Mr. Joseph W. Worthen, who presided.

In an informal and gracious manner Mr. Worthen called upon the candidates to speak to the audience. In general the candidates outlined briefly the duties of the respective offices and each spoke of his or her training, experience and background. A lively half-hour question period followed. Many pertinent and some pertinent questions were asked. As was natural most of the questions were directed to the candidates for the School Committee and Town Treasurer as these seemed to be the most hotly contested offices.

The committee in charge of arranging for this meeting was composed of Mrs. William C. Cusack, Mrs. William E. Spaulding, Mrs. Theodore Browne, Mrs. Philip Johnson, Mrs. H. Kelson Moore, Jr., Mrs. Earl G. Carrier, Mrs. N. Robert Voorhis.

The members of this committee have already received numerous requests that a candidate meeting be given an annual event.

UNUSUAL FIRE TUESDAY

Winchester had a most unusual fire Tuesday forenoon when oil which had gathered on the surface of the mill pond below the dam, and having been blown high into the air with a dense black smoke that made it difficult to see the high school from Mt. Vernon street made a striking picture, against which a crew from Engine 4 battled to prevent trees about the pond and the rustic bridge at the rear of the town hall from being consumed.

It is thought that oil flowed onto the mill pond through a surface drain and was set afire by boys who had been around the pond just before the fire was discovered. Town officials told the drains about the fire as a precaution. There was no damage done by the fire as a precaution.

Besides this alarm there was another at 3:38 in the afternoon for a grass and brush fire on Water Department land off Ardley road. Several of the town's evergreen trees were lost in this fire. Two minutes after this fire came in there was an alarm for a brush fire on the old Brooks estate off North Gateway.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

In furtherance of the League's Educational policy on next Thursday morning, March 5 in the Winchester Public Library at 10 o'clock the department of Government and Education, Mrs. Lester Van Atta, chairman, will present Miss Gertrude Lewis, supervisor of the primary grades. Miss Lewis will speak on "Promotion of Primary and Elementary Pupils in War-time." This will be of special interest to all mothers as Miss Lewis will particularly stress the effect of the growth of the ups and a cooperative spirit in the home on the children. Anyone interested is invited to attend.

It was discovered Tuesday forenoon that the house of Miss Katherine O'Connor on White street had been entered, in the absence of the owner, and ransacked from attic to cellar. Access was gained by breaking the glass over the catch on a rear window. As far as could be ascertained by Miss O'Connor nothing of value was taken.

CONGRESSIONAL MEDAL OF HONOR

This, the highest decoration awarded by the U. S. Government, can be given to any officer or enlisted man of the United States Army who shall "in action involving actual conflict with an enemy distinguish himself conspicuously by his gallantry and intrepidity at the risk of his life, above and beyond the call to duty." It was first authorized by act of Congress in 1862, and presented to the name of "Congress"; hence the frequent allusion to it as the "Congressional Medal."

The present design was adopted in 1904. A bronze five-pointed star, surrounded by a laurel wreath in green enamel, suspended by two links from a ribbon bearing the inscription "Valor," and surmounted by an eagle. In the center of the star is the head of Minerva surrounded by the inscription "United States of America." Each ray of the star bears an oak leaf in green enamel. On the reverse of the medal is engraved the name of the recipient. It may be worn with a neck band. The ribbon is of light blue watered silk. Midway

Spring flowers provided an attractive setting for the ceremony which was performed at 4 o'clock by the Rev. Charles C. Wilson, rector of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church in Cohasset.

Miss Damon, wearing a yellow gown with brown orchids, was given in marriage by her father. Her only attendant was Miss Nancy Whitney of West Mefford who wore sea blue with gardenias. Burgess P. A reception was held immediately after the ceremony, at which the mothers of both the bride and bridegroom assisted in receiving.

A great time is promised all who attend.

"Man-Power" of a Nation

"Man-Power" of a nation really refers to the number of men available for service in time of war, says London Answers Magazine. We arrive at it by taking the total population and estimating how many of these are men between certain ages—say eighteen and forty-five. From the figure this gives, we must deduct a certain proportion of workless of all kinds. The remainder left may then be called the "man-power" of the nation. Speaking broadly, a nation can put ten per cent of its population in the field. That is its man-power.

WINCHESTER'S AIR RAID TEST SUCCESSFUL

More Than 1000 C. D. Workers Responded to "Alert"

A "most successful test" was the opinion of local defense officials after Sunday's "alert" in Winchester. More than 1000 members of the defense organization, including the wardens, auxiliary police and fire forces, utility services, medical aid and first aid workers and the entire personnel of the Report Center, turned out for the drill and did their work promptly and well, according to Director of Public Safety Harold S. Fuller.

Promptly at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon, on receipt of the "alert" signal, Franklin J. Lane, Chief Air Raid Warden, rang the special line to Beggs and Cobb's tannery and ordered the public warning sounded on the factory whistle. As the first blast sounded, front doors all over the town flew open as defense workers hurried to their posts. Colored arm bands identified the air raid wardens and white cross belts, shiny new badges and night sticks the auxiliary police force.

For the following hour and a half, more than 100 "incidents" were attributed throughout the town by W. Allan Wilde and Leo F. Garvey, and their assistants, and shortly after 3 o'clock the first call to the Report Center came in. From then on, the four telephone lines were kept busy as damage was reported from every section of the town. An observer who did not realize that a test was going on would have been sure the town was undergoing a "Coventry" blitz. The basement of the Police Station, where the Report Center is located, was a hive of smooth activity as all sorts of rescue and repair services were dispatched.

In the Wyman and the Lincoln Schools, the Medical Aid Division, under its director, Dr. Richard W. Sheehy, had established depots for first aid and for the dispatch of ambulances. The equipment, under Chief David H. DeCourcy and Auxiliary Chief David J. Meskel, was stationed at four points in the town, and was manned both by regular and auxiliary forces.

The test, according to Mr. Fuller, was carried out primarily to see if the overall plan for action in an emergency was correct. While numerous small details appeared to call for correction, it was obvious that the plan was a workable one and that the training of the organization had been good.

SIDE LIGHTS ON THE AIR-RAID TEST

Visitors to the town on Sunday afternoon expressed surprise at the complete coverage of all traffic intersections by the Auxiliary Police. It appeared that every street corner had one or two wardens on duty also.

The thousand people who took part in the test included, according to one estimator, about one man out of every three able-bodied men in the town. And a large number of women also braved the cold to take up their wardens' posts, to join the first-aid parties, and to carry on various other parts of the test.

A few wardens had some really puzzling situations to solve. One woman, standing in front of a neighbor's home, discovered an "incident" indicating that the house had just been destroyed by a high explosive bomb. Should she run inside and report the fact by telephone, or should she assume that, having just been hit by a bomb, she was under no obligation to act further? She finally decided to telephone.

The auxiliary police force was a formidable-looking bunch, even including those who were wearing only one overcoat. The white Sam Brown belts, the badges, and the night sticks gave a real touch of authority to them.

Chief Warden Franklin J. Lane, presiding at the Report Center and Mrs. Lane serving at the incoming telephone board were duly impressed when word came in of the "bombing" of the town. The women's defense force, both the regular and the night sticks gave a real touch of authority to them.

At the Police Headquarters, Chief "Bill" Rogers and his regular force had a busy afternoon. Squad cars were coming and going continually on assignments, and "Jim" Donaghy needed a dozen hands to answer the switchboard, the call boxes, and the fire equipment, under Chief David H. DeCourcy and Auxiliary Chief David J. Meskel, was stationed at four points in the town, and was manned both by regular and auxiliary forces.

The test, according to Mr. Fuller, was carried out primarily to see if the overall plan for action in an emergency was correct. While numerous small details appeared to call for correction, it was obvious that the plan was a workable one and that the training of the organization had been good.

Reports from the telephone office, where "Charlie" Farnum was on duty, showed that residents of the town heeded the warning not to use their telephones during an "alert." Despite numerous warden's calls, too many to go on duty, a few out of sheer curiosity.

Touring the town to make a check on all the posts were Mr. Fuller and other members of his organization, including Frederick B. Craven, "Reve" Smith, Donald Heath, Elliott Cameron, "Al" Litchfield. They were well satisfied with what they saw.

WINCHESTER WON FROM WAKEFIELD

In a rough Middlesex League basketball game at Wakefield last Friday evening, Winchester High School defeated Wakefield High, 38-31. The Winchester seconds, 34-22, to keep their undefeated record intact.

In the variety game, Winchester led at the quarter, 14-11, and was only able to extend its lead a single point at the half, being in front at that point, 23-19. During the second half, the local boys, paced by Pete Provinzano, gradually widened the gap to win going away. Provinzano had a real field day, scoring 8 points on eight floor baskets and two shots from free tries. Captain Dean Derby, too, broke into the double figures with four floor goals and two foul baskets for 10 points. O'Neill's nine was tops for Wakefield.

As the game went along the going got pretty rugged and finally flamed into a couple of fist exchanges, the second of which brought several members of both teams into action.

HIGH SCHOOL COACH GIVEN PRESENT

Frank Provinzano, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pietro Provinzano of Florence street, former Winchester High and B. U. student stars who left Tuesday to commence military duty at Fort Devens, was presented before he went with a handsome pen and pencil set by the members of the Winchester High School basketball team, which he has been coaching during the current season.

"Frankie" has proven very popular with the members of his team and has plotted them through an unbeaten campaign which still has a single game to go. His players will be running for this final game with high spirits, for tonight is perhaps the best gift they can give their coach, now serving Uncle Sam.

Needless to say Frankie will be availing the outcome of the game with interest. He was a three letter athlete while at Winchester High, ranking with the best football players at the school since the last war. He continued his athletic success at Wilbraham Academy, also winning the personality award which is considered the highest honor obtainable there.

At Boston University he has played three years of varsity football. He would have been graduated in June.

WINCHESTER SKI CLUB

The Winchester Ski Club found good skiing this past weekend with 45 miles of Winchester at Ashby Alps, Ashby. On Saturday the unseasonably cold weather kept the snow on the tow rope at concrete hardness, but by Monday this had been scraped off by hundreds of steel edges to a smooth frozen granular surface with a good sprinkling of sugar snow to provide good running. The bright sunshine and moderate temperature provided ideal weather.

A regular club meeting was held this week Wednesday, Feb. 25 at the club room for the purpose of discussing the future plans of the club. Members both present and former who have not yet sent in their replies to the questionnaire recently sent out are requested to do so before March 1. Any member who has not yet received this notice should get in touch at once with Alton Dunsford, 57 Yale street.

FOUR CONTESTS ON MONDAY'S BALLOT

Chief Interest in Contests for School Committee and Treasurer

Although Monday's ballot for town election lists four contests, only those for School Committee and Treasurer have aroused much of any interest, and generally speaking the electorate seems apathetic to the entire election.

Whether sufficient interest can be stirred up between now and Monday to get out a representative vote is a question. With no contest for a selectman this year it is doubly a question, despite the School Committee fight which has been more healthy to have him selected by the electorate rather than taken with no choice.

Those who contended that the three year term for Selectman would increase the interest in and candidates for this office can not justify their claims thus far. This year marks the second time since the one year term was actually abolished in 1938 that a candidate has been placed on the Board without opposition.

Theodore W. Monroe, present Chairman of the Finance Committee, will be elected without contest on Monday. It is no reflection upon his desirability as a candidate to say that it would be more healthy to have him selected by the electorate rather than taken with no choice.

Another office for which there is no contest this year, also several years of real political strife, is that of Assessor, where the veteran Harry T. Winn, former Chairman of the board, is unopposed. Clarence P. Whorf, who would be more healthy to have him selected by the electorate rather than taken with no choice.

These of course do not exhaust the places on the ballot where no contests occur, but they are the chief offices where competition for election is likely to be encountered. Town Clerk Mabel W. Stinson habitually has no opposition.

In this year's contest for School Committee Christine E. Greene, 329 Highland avenue, Mt. Holyoke graduate and former president of the Winchester Mothers' Association, is one of the candidates for the two vacancies, the others being J. Joseph Tansey of 19 Canal street, Norwich graduate and teacher-coach at Wentworth Institute, and Prof. Neil H. Borden of 150 Highland avenue, Harvard Business School faculty member and former assistant dean. Seldom have three better qualified candidates presented themselves and seldom, because of general lack of interest in the election has it been more difficult to accurately judge the probabilities.

The contest for Treasurer finds James C. McCormick of 44 Wedgemere avenue, present treasurer through appointment by the Selectmen, and Harry V. Nutter last August, seeking election and being opposed by Ralph D. Joslin, of 14 W. Wadsworth street, accountant and Adjutant of Winchester Post, A. L. T. Parker Clarke of 123 Mt. Vernon street, industrial engineer and former Superintendent of Streets, and by Thomas E. Fallon of 14 Highland avenue, former Selectman and local milk dealer. Interest in this contest has increased considerably the last few weeks and many judges of local politics believe the final result will be close.

A three cornered fight has developed in the contest for collector of Taxes with three candidates seeking re-election, Nathaniel M. Nichols of 29 Crescent road being opposed by Margaret M. Lilley of 5 Myrtle street, former Deputy Tax Collector in the local office, and by John P. Griffin of 25 Nelson street, local merchant and C. P. A.

Interest in this contest and in that for Constables has been particularly keen. The three present Constables, Gleason W. Ryerson of 15 Stevens street, Edward F. Maguire of 285 Washington street, and Michael J. Foley of 780 Main street, are being opposed by Frederick J. Larson of 58 Vine street, who has sought this office in the past.

GIRL SCOUT NOTES

The program committee is working long and hard to make this year's Rally a big event. It marks the 30th anniversary of Girl Scouting in this country, and the 25th anniversary of Girl Scouting in Winchester. All Girl Scouts, Council, Leaders and assistants, troop committees, anyone who has been in Scouting, and anyone who is interested, is invited to come. Since it is a birthday, we will naturally be complete with a birthday cake. And the shortest Browne will have the privilege of lighting it. Remember the date, March 12, Thursday, high school auditorium, 7 p. m.

Billboards at the Star Office.

Defense Director Harold S. Fuller has appointed Raymond S. Leary, Director of the Conservation Division. This is a new position in the Civilian Defense Organization, but nevertheless an important one. Many activities will be included in the work of this department such as conservation of waste material under the direction of Otis W. Leary with John L. Munro, serving as one of his deputies, specializing in the conservation of paper. Selectman James A. Cullen is in charge of the conservation of fire wood, and Mrs. J. Waldo Bond is responsible for nutrition from the conservation viewpoint. Other sub-division chairmen will be appointed as soon as the need for them is apparent. Education of the public is the keynote of this division.

There will be a practice blackout in Winchester within two weeks and all citizens of the town are hereby warned to make proper preparations for this at once. The exact date and time will be announced in next Friday's Star.

STAMPS. Foreign and United States, for collections. Single stamps and sets. At the Star Office.

From John 1:24, 25: "Then came the Jews from about him, and said unto him, How long dost thou make us to doubt? If thou be the Christ, thou shalt answer them. Jesus answered them, I told you, and ye believed not; the voice I said, in my Father's name, they bear witness of me."

WINCHESTER HOLDS ITS LINK

Friday afternoon, Feb. 20, Winchester women forged their link in the world-wide chain of faith and commitment which the Women's World Day of Prayer had for hours been creating.
The first group of Christian women on whom the sun of Feb. 20 rose was in the Pacific on the Fiji Islands. The last prayer of the day was said hours after the Winchester service, in another Pacific Island, off the coast of Alaska, 30 miles from the Arctic Circle, 30 miles east of the date line, where passengers on a westward-bound ship skip a day and having gone to sleep in today, wake, not into tomorrow but into the day after tomorrow.

Just as the wave of women's meetings covered all geographically, ignoring barriers of nation, language, and race, so did the prayers uttered transcend all these barriers and the barrier of centuries as well. Prayers used came from a Friends' Meeting house in England, from a German of the 16th century, from a Roman who was a bishop of North Africa in the 4th from an Italian of the 13th, from Jews of more than 2000 years ago, and from men and women of our own day. Yet, persistent in spite of defects, postponements, and discouragements, is the human aspiration for peace and righteousness. Invincible, though outwardly overwhelmed and undone, is the hope that "they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruning-hooks; nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more." Even when war has been forced upon us and lovers of peace must fight, the belief in peace as the will of God and the will of man's good future does not die.

Peace among men as the service proclaimed it was more than the sin-cility of aims and arrangements between governments. It was justice and good will permeating the whole of life, pervading and ruling a whole of life, "commonplace routine from morning till night."
At the beginning of the service,
Rev. Paul Harmon Chapman spoke of the "Forgotten Key." From men and women united in New England's intellectual yesterday he drew out the meaning of prayer—not magical, not exceptional; but natural and most practical whenever a man makes it a steadfast attitude and habit. Out of such a habit and attitude comes a power which Louise May Alcott could readily distinguish from the eloquence which she had gone to hear in a noted Boston clergyman; a certitude which she could see was more than just a man's opinion.

Mrs. Paul Harmon Chapman led the service and women representing different Winchester congregations took part. The New Hope Baptist Church had been asked to put into the service the note of the negro spiritual, and this was beautifully provided by Mrs. Bessie Earle Jones, who sang the very moving spiritual,
"I didn't hear nobody pray."

For the use of some women whose state of health would not permit them to come to the united service at the Unitarian Church, copies of the program were taken to the Winchester Home for the Aged that they might there unite in the world movement.

EPIPHANY MEN'S CLUB
The Epiphany Men's Club will hold its next regular meeting Thursday evening, March 5, at 7:45 in the club hall. The speaker will be Rev.
Herbert L. Johnson, rector of Grace Church, Everett, who will speak on "Religion in the Home." Discussion will follow and refreshments will be served.

Lenten Thoughts

"RENEWING OUR STRENGTH"

Rev. Roger E. Makepeace

A travel picture fixed in my memory from the village of Chamony, huddled at the foot of Mount Blanc, in its towering majesty. The picture is a bronze group of two figures. One is a traveller equipped for the climb; the other is an Alpine guide. With uplifted finger he directs the gaze of the stranger to the glistening summit of the snow-crowned peaks.
The Christian is a mountain climber. His path is ever onward and upward, but he does not climb alone. By his side is always One who knows the way and who will not let him forget the glory of the ascent. In this divine fellowship he receives his courage and strength. The goal is difficult but not impossible.
"He giveth power to the faint; and to them that have no might he increaseth strength."
They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength" (Isaiah).

in remembrance of the Rev. Herbert
W. Boyd, late of Bridgewater, Mass.
Speaking as a long-time friend, Dr.
Bell outlined compactly Mr. Boyd's active ministry of over forty years, ascribing to his upbringing as the son of a New England minister many of his notable qualities. His ability in presenting the vital truth of Christ's gospel, which he always preached with radiance and conviction, his devotion to all that builds up a good community, his faith and courage; all these combined to make his character and life one which may be well summarized as luminous. Excerpts from the letters of personal friends and professional groups confirmed this testimony, best embodied, perhaps, in the all inclusive words of a brother minister: "Many have said of him, There is a man of God. He has the spirit of Christ."

MR. PACKER HAVING GOSPEL CLASS

Rev. William S. Packer, clergyman, journalist, park commissioner and tennis savant, is discussing "Social Teachings of the Gospel" each Sunday afternoon during March in the library of the Epiphany Church, commencing at 4 o'clock.
Mr. Packer feels that the social teaching of religion is not often emphasized. His handling of the subject is sure to be interesting and the entire program will take not more than 50 minutes each Sunday. General discussion will follow Mr. Packer's remarks and any one is welcome to attend.

"SMILES THAT CHASE AWAY THE TEAR DROPS"

These heart-warming smiles of the U. S. Marine, little Community Fund patient with her nurse and dolly and Red Cross volunteer nurse's aide express the appreciation of thousands upon thousands who will be aided by the Greater Boston United War Fund, thanks to the generous support of the people of Winchester.

Many a heartache will be lightened . . . little bodies will be healed . . . strong characters will be built . . . desolate civilians comforted . . . and in the armed forces, unending cheer will brighten the long way because of the success of the United War Fund's four-fold appeal for Community Fund agencies, Red Cross, USO and the local Soldiers and Sailors Committee.

THRIFT SHOP DONATION DAY

Each year the people of Winchester and the neighboring towns look forward to Donation Day as a red letter day of the season. This year will be no exception for the Miniature Wedding Pageant to be presented at the First Baptist Church on Saturday afternoon, March 14, is outstanding in east and presentation. The small children of the town will make up the wedding party and many other children in costume will be the wedding guests—formally ushered to their seats by tiny ushers. The wedding reception will follow in the church parlors.

The Thrift Shop has become an established institution in Winchester, having given ten years of service for the Baptist Church and the people of the town. The Shop has continued to do for others during depression days and is still carrying on during "war days." The work is entirely dependent on the voluntary gifts of the people. Furniture, clothing, household goods, in fact anything not needed in your home will be called for, taken to the Shop, and sold for a small amount to someone who would otherwise have to go without.

Many people of Winchester depend upon the Thrift Shop for shoes for their small children, warm clothing for the new babies, overcoats for the frail men and everyday clothing for the whole family. If you were to visit the shop and see the eager faces of the careworn mothers when they find warm things for the home—or the disappointed expressions of the children when there is nothing to help in their need—you would continue to divide your giving for the needy—at home—as well as the needy abroad.

Remember Donation Day is the one day in each year we ask for special contributions to carry on the work of the Winchester Thrift Shop.

PUBLIC WORKS ORGANIZATION FUNCTIONED SMOOTHLY IN A. R. TEST

Winchester's recently created Emergency Public Works Organization, a branch of the Town's Civilian Defense setup, including the Municipal Water, Sewer, Highway, Tree and Park Departments, functioned perfectly in its first real tryout during the mock air raid "alert" of last Sunday afternoon. Following the raid signal about 80 men, who are members of the departments above listed, responded immediately, manning 22 trucks and carrying out their assignments with a smooth efficiency that won the commendation of Mr. Edmund C. Sanderson, chairman of the Water and Sewer Board, who organized the Emergency Public Works for the local Civilian Defense Committee.

Since little has been said about this particular branch of Winchester's Civilian Defense organization, a brief description of its makeup and functions may prove of interest.

The Public Works Department has its headquarters in the Water and Sewer Building at the Town Yard on Lake street. A special telephone line connects it with the Defense Report Center in the basement of the Police Station. Four regular outside telephone lines are also available.

The duty of this Emergency Department is to care for the water, sewer, street, and tree damages caused by an air raid. There are five small trucks with crews to shut off water and survey the damage which is to be repaired by the larger trucks equipped with tools and manned by Town employees. There is also one truck patrolling the reservoirs and two others, the pumping stations. These trucks are equipped with radios.

The Water Department maintains an emergency line which is covered 24 hours a day. On notice from the District Report Center, which is situated in Malden, the Police Department calls on this emergency line and notifies the man answering that there is an air raid in prospect. He, in turn, notifies by telephone all heads of departments connected with the Winchester Public Works to report at once to Headquarters. The Public Works Report Center wardens are also notified at this time. All men of the departments respond on the air raid signal, which is given on the fire whistle. In this department, is also the Rescue Squad which uses Highway trucks.

Mr. Sanderson is the head of the Public Works organization. Assisting is Town Engineer, Superintendent of Streets, and Tree Warden, Parker Holbrook; Superintendent of the Park Department, Thomas McGowan; and Superintendent of the Water and Sewer Department, Harry W. Dotlen. Each one of these men is to handle the damage for his department. The clerks in the departments receive and transmit orders from the Report Center.

TEA TO FOLLOW AVERY LECTURE

Mrs. Robert A. Drake and Mrs. Maxwell Fish are co-sponsors of the tea to be given by the Winchester Smith College Club, following the lecture on "Australia, India and Aviation" by Miss Eunice Harriet Avery, next Wednesday afternoon, March 11, at 2:30 p. m. in the Wyman School Hall. This is the final afternoon lecture in the Today as History series sponsored by the club for the benefit of its scholarship fund.

The ushers for this occasion will be Mrs. Harold Farnsworth, Mrs. Merion Grush and Mrs. James May. Those present at the lecture are cordially invited to attend the tea for Miss Avery. Subscribers are urged to bring guests and thus use up their spare punches, if any, at Wednesday's lecture as the punch system does not apply to the concluding lecture of the series which will be given on Friday evening, March 20 at 8:30 by Prof. Hans Kohn of Smith College at the high school auditorium. The course ticket is valid for only one admission at that time. Tickets for Professor Kohn's lecture entitled "Chances of Victory" will be on sale at the lecture Wednesday for 75c plus 10 per cent Federal tax. Mrs. F. J. Lane and Mrs. A. A. Haskell will be at the ticket table.

The great tragedy in Europe today is that the Germans are taking the youth of their occupied territories and giving them a good time in "youth camps," and incidentally instilling in them the Nazi philosophy. He declared Miss Avery in her lecture on the Dutch and the Chinese on Feb. 18. The essence of democracy is spiritual value for only on this basis can the individual be known as color, race or creed. Both the Chinese and the Dutch in the Netherlands Indies in their heroic struggle have out against the Nazi philosophy.

Following the democratic pattern, the Dutch are a peaceful, freedom loving people, racially very tolerant, and very interested in politics. They have intermarried with the natives in the Indies, and the mixed children are regarded as European; while in the Philippines the mixed children of the Spanish and native parents are considered native. Thus the Filipino has developed an independence and political mania. The Japs have exorted the Malaysians to join up with the "co-prosperity sphere of Japan" but the latter would prefer to be in the hands of the whites. The situation in India is similar to that in all Nazi occupied territory—namely, the low calorie diet, no labor unions, German radios and newspapers, and complete subjugation. In spite of this, however, the Dutch cling to their independent minds. Dutch factories are being moved to Bohemia, Moravia and Germany; farms are to be organized in Poland by 10,000 Dutch farmers. All grazing land and the famous bulb soil of the Netherlands is to be plowed under to raise grain.

China is estimated to have two million dead and sixty million refugees in their war, are following a program of resistance and reconstruction. Their aim is to drive out the invader and modernize China. The peasant is the courageous backbone of the Chinese army in spite of the incredible hardships he must face. It is a unified effort to defeat the enemy and therefore cannot fail.

Every nation that gives its best in this common cause wins the right to respect and a voice in the planning of the peace after this is over, concluded the speaker.

Lambs Only One Year

Lambs never live longer than a year—then they become sheep! One reason why lambs sell for good prices is that there is little waste meat on them. "Hothouse lamb" is the lamb born late in the fall and marketed in the winter. All lambs marketed between spring and fall are called "spring lamb."

BRITISH WAR RELIEF

Winchester Unit

Twenty-five Winchester women went in to the Dutch treat luncheon, Thursday, Feb. 19, to hear the news and to hear that eminent war correspondent and man of letters, Sir Philip Gribbas. Introducing him, Mr. Stuart East said there had been no better war correspondent since that master of the art, Caius Julius Caesar. He praised Sir Philip's books, particularly "Blood Relations," for its power to evaluate wisely complicated and conflicting relations.

These were characteristic questions asked by Americans.

Why is Britain not invading the continent?

What about India?

What about Ireland?

Before Pearl Harbor we never asked any questions about Japan. If the question was raised we pool-poohed the idea that Japan would make war against us. History was repeating itself. For a second time an English-speaking people was to be so proud of peace, so bent on peace, that an aggressor people found it unready.

Before Pearl Harbor the Americans met were eager to aid those fighting against Axis conquest and tyranny; determined to give all short of an expeditionary force. To his surprise, in the 30 states he visited, he did not find isolationists. He went about in the Middle West and found one there. One called him by telephone in San Francisco; a woman, who did not turn for discussion and bade him go speedily back to his England.

After Pearl Harbor there was of course a change in the American mind about when our men would do their full part in saving the world for free men.

For nine months after Dunkirk, under continual bombardment, British soldiers had to build up lost war munitions and materials and supply not only the British Isles but distant lines. Though outnumbered in planes five to one, British airmen had kept the Nazis from the mastery of the air that Hitler had declared he would have, and the skill and courage of British seamen had kept from him the control of the channel which he also expected to have in order to make his boasted speedy end to all those who still fought for freedom.

If this Briton thinks the Unit-1 States has made or is making mistakes, he gave no sign of it. He set a perfect example of what he expressed as imperatively needed by all people of the Allied nations—to keep free of bitterness and blame of each other. What divides us serves well our common enemies.

War Relief units have made and sent Sir Philip bore strong testimony.

Mr. Robert Mortimore gave again the ways welcome news, always warmly cheered, that what we send is arriving. Is everything distributed directly in England? No, some of our warm garments go into service even more promptly, they clothe gallant seamen of torpedoed merchant ships who have lost everything when the ship went down and who will be going gallantly right out to sea again as soon as a ship sails from our Boston harbor.

There is still war for hand knitting. Remitts for the goodly company of Winchester knitters still come and are welcome. Mrs. Marion Waugh counted on the finished articles that came in last Wednesday morning, 31 of them.

Used clothing and practical shoes are always wanted. On Wednesday they will be received at Eoinnagh parish hall at other times at 47 Church street by Mrs. Freil Cameron.

Prunes and Plums

All prunes are plums, though not all plums do for prunes. A prune may be any variety of plum which can be successfully cured without removing the pit. Only those varieties which have a large proportion of solids are considered good prunes. In some kinds of plums a fermentation occurs around the pit in the process of drying.

However, from a physical geographical point of view, Europe and Asia as one great land mass, Eurasia, though politically they are separate continents. The great land mass around the South pole is generally considered a separate continent, Antarctica.

Workers Set Defense Stamp Sales Record

THESE pretty factory workers at the Timken Roller Bearing Co. at Canton, Ohio, played an important role in the sale of $36,000 worth of Defense Stamps in a four-day campaign conducted recently by the Timken Co. in Canton—a city of 130,000 people.

Dressed in snappy red-and-white-and-blue costumes and christened "The Timkenettes," the girls sold stamps on the street, delivered them by taxi to residential districts, sold them in downtown office buildings, distributed 15,000 paper pop guns advertising the stamp sales and engaged in numerous publicity stunts in behalf of sales.

The sale of stamps prior to the Timken campaign had amounted to less than $250 a day in Canton.

The Timkenettes are regularly engaged in the manufacture of bearings for tanks, airplanes, guns and other war equipment.

WINCHESTER CONTRACTOR COMPLETES POST OFFICE GARAGE

John A. Volpe of 65 Highland avenue, treasurer of Grande & Volpe, builders, of Malden, was one of the speakers at the dedication banquet commemorating the completion of the U. S. Post Office Garage at South Boston on Saturday evening, Feb. 21.

The building just completed by Mr. Volpe's firm has a total floor area of 215,000 sq. ft., and was built to provide federally-owned facilities to replace leased facilities of the Post Office Department.

The new building will serve as a central repair unit for the repair and repairing of 725 government-owned mail trucks assigned to New England Post Offices, including the Boston Postal District fleet of 294 trucks.

Construction operations commenced in November of 1940, and the building will be placed in operation March first under the direction of John A. McMahon, superintendent of motor vehicles' service. Among the other speakers at the banquet were Congressman John McCormack and Congressman Thomas Elliott, all of whom spoke in high terms of the superior quality of the new building.

WEEK-END FIRES

The first call for the Fire Department over the holiday week-end came at 1:56 Saturday afternoon when a gasoline tank overturned at the Swanston street Gas Station. The firemen flushed away the accumulation of gasoline to prevent possible fire or explosion.

Sunday at 8:02 a. m. Fireman Alexander MacKenzie on a day off, notified the Central Station that smoke was issuing from Purdie's Pharmacy at Swanston and Washington streets.

The men found upon arrival that an oil burner had flooded and that a serious situation was in the making. At 1:50 p. m. on Sunday there was a dump fire at the rear of the home of Mrs. Thomas Connolly on Clark street.

Monday at 10:43 there was a grass fire on Middlesex street, and at 12:09 a grass fire was reported at the Metropolitan Sewer Yard off Cross street, a fence having been set afire there. At 4:13 there was a brush fire on Horn Pond Mountain at the rear of Dr. Nemes Baghdoyan's residence, and at 5:50 there was a brush fire on Russell's Hill in the north end.

"SO THIS IS WINCHESTER" GIVEN TONIGHT

The culmination of weeks of careful planning and preparation will be reached in the high school auditorium at 8:15 tonight when the Fostering present "So This is Winchester," its historical pageant in aid of its philanthropy fund.

Through a regrettable oversight the name of Mrs. James A. Oullen was omitted from the list of Glee Club members.

The costume worn by "Cornflower," the full-blooded Indian girl who takes the part of Squaw Sacorn, has an interesting history. "Cornflower," whose real name is "Tulawawheyo," comes from New Mexico, and this costume which she will wear has been in her family for 200 years. The pale yellow face portions of it was obtained by dyeing the material with goldenrod. The secret of such dyeing is no longer known.

We are very sure you will enjoy seeing and hearing her and the many others who are contributing time and talent to making this one of the most enjoyable and worthwhile evenings presented in Winchester for some time.

UNHURT AS CAR TURNED OVER

Eugene G. Slotta of 302 Smith street, Cranston, R. I., now living in Cambridge, escaped injury Monday evening at 8:30 when the Studebaker coupe he was driving north on Highland avenue tipped over near Lawson road.

According to the Police the car skidded on some sand on the east side of Highland avenue, and when Slotta applied his brakes, tipped over on its left side. Slotta was alone in the car and escaped injury. The machine was damaged about the left side, but was able to leave the scene of the accident under its own power.

BICYCLE RACKS AT STATION MOVED INSIDE

The bicycle parking rack at the Winchester Station where patrons of the railroad may park their bicycles without charge and which has been considerably used since the Boston and Maine made the first installation of these racks at Winchester, was moved inside the waiting room of the station this week.

It was first installed out of doors between the southern end of the station and the signal tower, but patrons complained that there was no protection from the weather. In its new location, the rack will be under cover and will also be under the supervision of station employees insofar as possible. It was pointed out, however, that the railroad assumes no responsibility for bicycles while they are parked in the station, and patrons must still supply their own locks and chains to protect their bicycles, while in the rack.

The indoor installation necessitated a change in the arrangement of the waiting room, but the seating capacity was not changed, inasmuch as the seats available for patrons were simply rearranged.

SONS OF THE AMERICAN LEGION

Squadron 97 of Winchester Post, American Legion, held a very successful Middlesex County Whist Party Feb. 25, in the Legion Home. Many attended from out-of-town, some of whom were County Commander and Mrs. Rooney of Malden, County Chairman and Mrs. Ralphs of Woburn as well as Chairman and Mrs. Morrison of Malden, Chairman and Mrs. McKenzie of Stoneham, Chairman Doherty of Woburn, Chairman Joslin of Winchester and Mrs. Joslin, President of the Middlesex County Sons Associates. The Association took care of the prizes and refreshments. The Squadron is able to realize a good sum from this party. The next party of this kind is to be held in Malden, March 23. It is hoped this will be well attended.

The next regular meeting of the Squadron 97 is tonight at 7:30.

M. S. P. C. A. AUXILIARY

At the Public Library last Wednesday evening Dr. E. F. Schroeder, Chief of Staff of the Angell Memorial Hospital, addressed the members and friends of the Winchester Chapter M. S. P. C. A.

Dr. Schroeder told of the work being done at the hospital and showed slides during the progress that has been made by veterinary science during the past few years.

With regard to protection of animals during raids, Dr. Schroeder spoke particularly about the necessity of keeping calm. A frightened animal may show signs of unfriendliness when approached by a stranger but may be reassured if spoken to in a calm voice. If, however, that fails to allay its fears the animal should be covered gently with a blanket or coat as the darkness gives a sense of security.

Following are some general directions for care of any animals during air raids. Specific instructions for care of dogs, cats, horses and caged birds will follow in later articles.

1. Keep your animal. Panic may be fatal to you and your animal.
2. Keep animals under control. This is owner's responsibility.
3. Observe strictly all fire prevention orders.
4. Learn to use first aid on injured animals.
5. Handle carefully when in great pain. Use heavy gauntlet gloves or wrap in blanket so the animal cannot bite or claw. Keep face away from injured animal's head.
6. Handle gently when bones are broken. Keep animal on uninjured side and improvise splints.
7. Stop bleeding by pressure. Use a snug bandage or a tourniquet. Do not leave tourniquet on for more than 20 minutes at a time.
8. Treat burns promptly. Cover with tannic acid jelly or strong cold tea.
9. Do not probe for deeply imbedded foreign bodies.
10. After the all-clear signal when the occasion warrants, consult your veterinarian.

Arthur Brier, who is in charge of the Winchester Animal Shelter at 432 Washington street, demonstrated an efficient first-aid kit which he has made and equipped. In it are splints, bandages, medicine and everything necessary for the immediate and temporary relief of an injured or panicked animal. Mr. Brier is a member of the Winchester Auxiliary Police and will be in charge of animal casualties during air raids.

During the month of January, 22 animals were cared for at the Winchester Shelter. These were ten cats, six Guinea pigs, five dogs and one bird. Four complaints were investigated.

BREAK AT LOCAL GARAGE

Last Sunday forenoon the Police were notified of a break at the Super Service Garage on Converse place. Patrolman D. Irving Reardon, who went to investigate, found that access had been gained by throwing a stone through a window leading into a small inner room off the northeast corner of the building.

The drawers of the desk in the office had been pulled open and ransacked, and the cash register had been opened. A sum of money had been taken, but the amount could not be immediately determined.

The break was discovered by Eugene Barry of 834 Main street, a garage employee, and was believed to have been made between 1 o'clock and 9:15 o'clock Sunday morning.

FLORENCE CRITTON MEETING

A meeting of the Florence Critton Circle took place on Thursday afternoon, Feb. 19 at the home of Mrs. Harold H. Blanchard, 32 Calumet road.

The Rev. Mr. Roger Makepeace of the Methodist Church opened the meeting with a prayer. Dr. Richard Clarke gave a short but interesting and valuable paper on "Control of Cancer," in conjunction with the state wide campaign for prevention of this disease.

There were reports from various committee chairmen. . . . Mrs. William Morton, representing the membership committee, Mrs. Woodford Wilcox, the sewing committee and Mrs. J. Herbert Waite the social service committee.

Mrs. Percy Bugbee, chairman of ways and means, outlined plans for the annual luncheon bridge which will take place on Wednesday, March 25 at the Parish House of the Unitarian Church in Winchester. Mrs. Frank Lin Lane is the able ticket chairman for this affair.

The speaker for the afternoon was Miss Elizabeth Jackson of Jay's Temple place, who gave a fascinating account of what may be expected on the fashion front, and included excellent suggestions for planning of clothes for long wear, because of restricted incomes.

Mrs. William Casack spoke briefly as representative of the League of Women Voters, urging each one to exercise her privilege of voting at the coming town election.

The music program was of its usual high quality. It was planned by Mrs. G. Lindroff Witham and Mrs. Walter Winslow of the music committee.

Miss Louise Allman of Wakefield, an accomplished violinist, played several numbers with Mrs. Witham at the piano. Her program consisted of the "Andante" from Mendelssohn's Violin concerto, "Ballade" by Albert Spaulding, "Cradle Song" Schubert.

This variety of selection gave full scope to Miss Allman's technique and the enthusiastic response which greeted her performance was a tribute to her talents.

Mrs. Blanchard, president, announced that a new member had been added to the board in the person of Mrs. Kingman Cass of Yale street, who has become chairman of defense activities. The Circle will help in providing transportation to the Air-Raid Spotting Station.

The meeting then adjourned for a delightful tea served by Mrs. Geo. Frey Neiley and Mrs. Harold Bostwick, co-chairmen of the hospitality committee.

They were assisted by Mrs. William A. Everett, Mrs. Alger Buntin, Mrs. Raymond C. Dexter, Mrs. Raymond Dickman, Mrs. Warren Hersey and Mrs. A. Kirby Snell.

Fourteen tea and coffee were Mrs. A. Allen Kimball and Mrs. John G. Penniman, vice presidents.

WINCHESTER ART ASSOCIATION

The March exhibit of the Winchester Art Association will open Sunday, March 1 at the 4 o'clock meeting for members at the public library.

The exhibition is of original paintings and drawings, which were made for book illustrations and national advertisements, under the direction of Mr. Forest Orr. Here the observer may see the process of illustration from drawing to the published plate.

The exhibition includes work by some very well known illustrators, lent through the courtesy of various Boston publishers and advertising agencies.

Also on the gallery walls are to be displayed a few pieces of students' work from Boston art schools.

The speaker of the afternoon will be David McCord, poet, writer, critic, and secretary of the Harvard Fund Council since 1925.

Tea will be poured by Mrs. Fulton Brown and Miss Mary Studley.

LARGE SHIPMENT OF BOOKS TO SERVICE MEN

Last week's shipment of books from the Winchester Public Library to service men totalled 840 volumes, and there are some 600 more waiting to be sorted. Books received thus far have been very desirable and have included a wide variety of subjects such as books on art and technical subjects. All service men are by no means satisfied with simple fiction, though probably the greatest demand is for books of an entertaining type.

Those shipped last week were sorted and rated by the local sorting committee, headed by Mrs. Edwin S. Rooney and including Mrs. J. Gerard Chandler and Mrs. John Chipman. Transportation was furnished by the Kelley & Hawes Express Company as its contribution to the "Books for Service Men" movement.

The need for books for the boys and girls in service can not be over emphasized. All who have books they can donate may leave them at the library or at any of the depositories around the center. If this can not be done, phone Miss Corinne Mead at the library and arrangements will be made to call for them.

GUESTS AT BROOKS SCHOOL

Three Winchester girls, Miss Norma Paradis of Prince avenue, a Legis College girl; Miss Janice Mortensen, also of Prince avenue, and Miss Barbara Regan of High street were guests last weekend at the winter house-party held at Brooks School in North Andover.

Miss Paradis was the guest of Mr. Rogers Boylan of Winthrop. Miss Mortensen was the guest of Mr. Rolfe Weyer of Cleveland, Ohio, and Miss Regan was the guest of Mr. Arnold Coggeswell of Albany, N. Y.

The Winchester girls reported a fine time at the school which has an enrollment of about 125 boys from all over the United States.

"HILL BILLYS" SERVING RED CROSS

Among the many units sewing and working for the Red Cross about town is a particularly active group, known among themselves and to close friends as the "Hill Billy Workers" of the Westland avenue district.

The unit was instigated by Mrs. Ray Manger and meets each Friday at homes of the members, all of whom are residents of that neighborhood. The group is functioning well from the Red Cross angle and apparently the members are getting a lot of fun out of their sessions together.

SNOWBIRDS OF CANADA

FROM the young men who used to spend their winter weekends skiing on the snow-covered hills of Canada, the Dominion has created a body of ski troops who are second to none. Long experience in this popular sport made it easy for these men to adapt themselves to the conversion of skiing from a pastime to the sterner purposes of war. Already they have proved their value in Iceland and many thousands of them are ready to demonstrate their merits in other theatres of war if necessary. The photographs show a platoon of ski troops on manoeuvres and a sniper who would be very difficult to spot.

HOSPITAL SUPERVISOR JOINS ARMY

Miss Genevieve Wade, night supervisor at the Winchester Hospital, has enlisted in the Army as a nurse and reports Monday for active duty at Fort Devens with the rank of second lieutenant.

Miss Wade, a native of New Brunswick and graduate of a hospital training school at Brunswick, Me., has been a member of the Winchester Hospital nursing staff for nine years, serving for the past three years as night supervisor. Her ability, cooperation and pleasing personality have endeared her alike to hospital patients and to her associates on the staff who regret her leaving the institution while wishing her every success in her new and vital field.

FORTNIGHTLY NOTES

Peru and Ecuador are the next ports of call in the literary tour of South America, sponsored by the Literature Class. At their meeting on Monday, March 2, in Fortnightly Hall, Mrs. Theodore A. Dissell will discuss the culture and literature of Peru, and Mrs. Frank S. Evans will speak on Ecuador. Their papers will be followed by a class exchange of current events in these countries.

WINCHESTER COLLEGE CLUB

The second half of the study course on "Education in Wartime" begins on Thursday, March 5 and has as its theme the training for citizenship, which is received by our children. The public seems to be entirely unaware of the changes which will be forced on our schools by this acute crisis in which we are. Some of them can perhaps be foreseen and prepared for. The group will meet in the reading room of the Public Library at 10:15 sharp. Mrs. Van Atta will be chairman and Miss Lewis will speak.

Notice

The members of the History Study Group are reminded that there will be no meeting on Monday, March 2.

BARTA CAMP REUNION

Last Saturday afternoon the Winchester Country Club was once again the meeting place for a merry camp reunion.

Miss Elinor C. Barta, director of the Barta Camp in Casco, Me., had her annual gathering. Through the moving picture camera the girls looked back on last summer's work and fun and from the babel of voices afterward it sounded as though they were making many plans for next summer.

Refreshments in the pleasant sunroom made the usual happy ending to the afternoon.

ENSIGN KITCHIN WINS "WINGS"

Ensign Donald W. Kitchin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald W. Kitchin of Winthrop street, received the wings of a Naval Aviator on Tuesday at the Jacksonville Naval Station in Florida.

Ensign Kitchin graduated from Newton High school. He attended Chauncey Hall Preparatory School in Boston, Middlebury College and the Engineering School at Tufts College for two years. He received his first training after enlisting in Naval Aviation at Squantum. He is expected home the end of this week for a two weeks' furlough before reporting for duty.

Pupil of Eye Not Black

The round opening in the center of the eye (called the pupil) is really not black at all, as it appears, but is absolutely without color, asserts a writer in Pearson's London Weekly. The reason it looks black is that you look through it into the dark chamber of the eye. It is just like looking into a dark room through an open door—the doorway is not black; neither is the pupil of the eye. The iris is like a camera, and the pupil like the shutter that opens into the camera. A round muscle, the iris, surrounds the pupil and opens and closes it to regulate the amount of light entering the eye.

Oxalic Acid in Plants

Oxalic acid is found in a wide variety of American plants, but seldom in quantities sufficient to cause illness. Leaves, not stems, of the garden rhubarb occasionally cause enough of it to cause trouble. The most important oxalic acid plant, economically, in the United States is the greasewood that grows abundantly in the arid regions of the West. Sheep often are injured by it.

Thunder is the violent expansion and contraction of air caused by the heat of lightning passing through it.

Monroe, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth Potter Monroe, 6 Commonwealth avenue, Boston, and formerly of Winchester, and Robert Wilson Goelet, Jr., of New York, son of Duchess of Villa Rosa, Florida, and Robert Wilson Goelet of New York.

The ceremony, which will take place in the Lady Chapel of the church of the Advent at 4 o'clock on Saturday, March 7, will be a quiet one, since neither Miss Monroe's brother, an ensign on duty in the Pacific, nor Mr. Goelet's mother, who is in Italy, can attend. The ceremony will be followed by a small reception at the Ritz-Carlton.

Miss Hope Tuck of Winchester will be one of the bridesmaids, and Miss Monro attended the National Park Seminary in Washington and the Académie Moderne.

Sixteen women, 12 of whom are residents of Winchester, make up this first class which has just completed a seven weeks course of intensive study at the Winchester Hospital under Miss Laura Krueger, R.N.

Completion of the course makes the graduates eligible to serve as nurses' aides in any hospital. The local group will commence service in March and must give 150 hours service each year for three years.

Besides local women two from Wilmington and two from Malden will be graduates this afternoon. Local graduates include: Mrs. George W. Johnston, Mrs. Chester Day, Miss Barbara Barry, Mrs. Brody, Mrs. Fred Herson, Mrs. George Budd, Mrs. Marion Waugh, Mrs. John Isaac, Mrs. Robinson, Mrs. Ruth Porter, Mrs. Tongren, and Mrs. Wade L. TANSEY LOST SCHOOL FIGHT McCORMICK BEAT CLARKE FOR TREASURER

Nichols Re-Elected, Monroe Unopposed for Selectman

Despite the absence of contest for Selectman Winchester cast a larger

JAMES C. MCCORMICK Elected Treasurer

vote in this year's town election Monday than it did in 1941, a total of 4672 votes being cast, or 273 more than last year's 4397. In 1941 the total was 4686. This year about 57 per cent of the registered voters cast ballots.

CHRISTINE E. GREENE
Elected to School Committee

Interest this year was chiefly centered in the contest for School Committee where Neil H. Borden, Christine E. Greene and J. Joseph Tansey were competing for two vacancies. Professor Borden, a Harvard Business School faculty member, and Mrs. Greene, former president of the Mothers' Association, were elected, the former polling 2924 votes and the latter, 2732.

PROF. NEIL H. BORDEN
New School Committeeman

Mr. Tansey, head of the English Department at Wentworth Institute and a Winchester man, born and bred, polled 1943, his votes in Precincts 1 and 6 being somewhat less than his friends had hoped for. Neither of these precincts cast their ballots as were expected while Precincts 4 and 5, where intensive work was done for Professor Borden and Mrs. Greene, voted more heavily than usual. Considerable interest was manifested in Mrs. Greene's candidacy because of the fact that one of the two women on the School Board was going off this year and those who feel that there should be two women members were eager to elect another to succeed her. Not for several years have those especially interested in school matters been so active.

Running the School Committee contest a close second in general interest was that for Treasurer where a four-way fight had developed among James C. McCormick, who had been appointed Treasurer by the Selectmen to fill a vacancy, T. Parker Clarke, former Superintendent of Streets, Thomas F. Fallon, former Selectman, and Ralph D. Joslin, Adjutant of Winchester Post, A. L.

WINCHESTER BOY WINS PURPLE HEART

Angelo Marchesi Wounded in Hawaii Action

Private Angelo F. Marchesi, son of Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore Marchesi of Holland street, has been awarded the Purple Heart Medal for meritorious service at Schofield Barracks, Hawaii, during the Japanese attack last December. Serving under Brig. Gen. D. S. Wilson, who recently announced the award to Marchesi and two other enlisted men of his command, Angelo, or "Flump," as he is better known, is a member of Headquarters Battery, 32nd Field Artillery Battalion.

The citation for Private Marchesi reads: "for a singularly meritorious act of essential service in action at Schofield Barracks, Territory of Hawaii and vicinity, on Dec. 7, 1941. During the air attack by Japanese forces on Schofield Barracks and vicinity, he received a machine gun bullet wound on the left cheek when a Japanese plane strafed the 52nd Field Artillery Battalion Quadrangle. After receiving medical treatment, despite his wound, Private Marchesi joined his organization and assisted with preparatory work of moving in to the field, and performed duties of line man in the fire. The meritorious conduct of Private Marchesi, on this occasion, reflects great credit upon himself and the military service."

Private Marchesi enlisted in the Army for four years, Feb. 4, 1941, and after a brief training period in a New York camp was sent to Hawaii, where he has been ever since. He has written his parents that he is none the worse for his thrilling experience except for the scar on his face where the machine gun bullet entered. Strangely enough the scar is in the shape of an "N" which Private Marchesi says will serve as a permanent reminder of the Nipponese.

Private Marchesi attended Winchester High School and before his enlistment conducted a fruit and vegetable peddling business in Winchester. He is a member of the Sons of Italy and has five brothers and five sisters, all very proud of the fact that he is, so far as is known, the first Winchester boy to win a military decoration during the present war.

The Purple Heart medal is one of the oldest, if not the oldest military decoration in the United States, going back to the days of George Washington and the Continental Army. It is awarded to soldiers who are wounded while performing some especially meritorious service. White-lane Wright and Harry Goodwin are among Winchester boys who won this decoration in the First World War.

ANNOUNCE ENGAGEMENT OF MISS DORIS MILEY

Mr. and Mrs. J. Henry Miley of Mystic Valley Parkway announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Doris Seaver Miley, to Mr. Norman Hatch Larabee, son of Mrs. Esther Larabee of Reading.

Miss Miley attended Tufts College, where she was a member of Alpha Xi Delta sorority, and was graduated from Tufts University, College of Practical Arts and Letters in 1940. Mr. Larabee attended Massachusetts Television Institute.

There are no immediate plans for the wedding.

WINCHESTER BOY WITH MAC- ARTHUR HEARD FROM

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony (Jack) Duquette of Dix terrace heard on Sunday through the Pei Cors that up to Feb. 15, their son, Anthony Jr., now in the thick of the fighting with General MacArthur's gallant band in the Philippines, was alive and well. This was great news for the Duquettes who have naturally been anxious about the fate of their son, and to the young soldier's many friends who have been eager to hear from him.

WINCHESTER WOMEN'S REPUBLICAN CLUB

March 11 to be Republican Day

What can we people of Winchester do to protect ourselves during the war period in regard to shortages, hoarding, and inflation? This question is so vital and pertinent, that the Winchester Women's Republican Club has invited Prof. John J. Murray of Boston University, to discuss it during the morning session at its roll day meeting, March 11, from 10:30 a. m. to 4 p. m. Professor Mahoney has been on a six months leave from his duties at the University making a comprehensive study of the consumer's situation and speaks at a time coincident with the forming in Winchester of a Committee on Conservation headed by Raymond Wilkins, whose work is closely allied with that of Professor Mahoney.

Also, during the luncheon period, Robert Bushnell will evaluate the Republican Party during the present emergency. And at the afternoon session, the question of international reconstruction and post-war planning will be discussed under "Victory After the War" by Prof. W. Barton Leach of the Harvard Law School. Although there are those who do not think this is the time to discuss how to win the peace, we shall, however, have to lay the basis now for winning the peace, for if we do not we shall not win the war. It is not enough to fight a thing; we must give the people something to fight for.

Since this is a regular meeting day of the Club, the Executive Board agreed to have it take the place of the usual luncheon at the Country Club with its guest speakers, Mrs. Philip W. Leach, chairman of the Education Committee is in charge of the program while the Ways and Means Committee, Mrs. Adele Emery, chairman, and the Social Committee, Mrs. Fred Chamberlain, chairman, are working together making the necessary arrangements for the luncheon. Mrs. Jos. Ryan, president of the Winchester Women's Republican Club has invited the presidents of the Arlington, Medford and Melrose Clubs, Mrs. Louise N. Callahan, Mrs. Geo. J. Fitzgerald, chairman of the Executive Board, Mrs. Addie Brown, respectively, as well as Mrs. Addison Greene, vice-chairman of the State Committee and Mrs. Joseph L. Roberts, State Committeewoman of the Sixth Congressional District to be present.

ZONING HEARING LARGELY ATTENDED

Eighty persons attended the hearing Tuesday evening at the Town Hall when the Planning Board considered proposed changes in the town's zoning by-laws. Chairman William L. Parsons of the Planning Board presided and the meeting lasted 8 o'clock until 11 p. m.

Interest was chiefly centered in the proposal to change the zoning laws of the town to impose a restriction on business and industrial districts so that within 50 feet of a residence area they cannot be used for certain business or industrial purposes, including places of amusement, and within 100 feet of a residence area they cannot be so used without the assent of the Board of Appeal.

The attempt of Rosari Marchesi of 6 Holland street to operate a bowling alley in a business district which also includes private dwellings is generally credited with the proposal to change the zoning laws. Arthur Thad Smith, who represented a group of protesters to the granting of the bowling alley permit, appeared at the hearing to oppose the change, and others who spoke in favor included Mr. McCarron, Susan McGonigle, Henry E. Moffett, Mary Foley, Katherine Foley, Mary O'Melia, Catherine O'Melia, Ann Sullivan, Annie Higgins, Mary Quigley, Ellen J. O'Brien, Della Higgins, Margarette McCarron, Margaret C. McKenney, Helen O'Brien, Anna E. O'Melia, John McGuerty, Terrance McGovern and Frank Dattilo.

Those who opposed the proposed change were Frank P. Hurley, who represented Mr. Marchesi in his efforts to secure a bowling alley permit; Selectman James A. Cullen, James J. Fitzgerald, William J. Murray, Charles A. Gleason, Sidney Blanchard, Ralph Bonnell, Albert Seller, Carl Larson, Helen Cullen, John P. Fitzgerald, Thomas Quigley, Alfred Elliott, Ruth C. Porter, Ralph Marchesi, Mrs. Ralph Marchesi, Robert J. Winton and P. T. Foley. Speaking in addition to those listed above were George J. Barabaro and William C. Cusack.

COMMANDER OF ILL-FATED DESTROYER WINCHESTER RESIDENT

Memorial Service for Lieutenant-Commander Black Held Wednesday

A memorial service for Lt.-Comdr. Hugh David Black, skipper of the ill-fated United States destroyer Jacob Jones, who lost his life when his ship was torpedoed by a German submarine off Cape May, N. J., last Saturday morning, Feb. 28, was held at his late residence, 41 Lloyd street, Wednesday evening, Rev. Paul Harmon Chapman, minister of the Unitarian Church, conducted the service which was private and attended only by members of the family and a few intimate friends.

It is believed by Naval experts that Lt.-Comdr. Black was killed when the first of two German torpedoes struck the bow of the 1200-ton destroyer, blowing it to bits. The Jones, first American warship ever attacked and sunk in home waters, may have carried as many as 145 officers and men. How many were lost is not known, but no officer was among the survivors who included 11 enlisted men, four of whom are from New England.

Lt.-Comdr. and Mrs. Black came to Winchester about three months ago, occupying the Thwing house on Lloyd street. Lt.-Comdr. Black was 38 and a native of New Jersey. He entered the United States Naval Academy from that state in 1912, graduating in 1916 and subsequently serving with surface craft of the scouting fleet, battle fleet and Asiatic fleet. His first command was the minesweeper Lark, which was attached to the minelayer battle force based at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii.

From 1935 to January 1938, he captained that vessel, subsequently serving in the Bureau of Navigation in Boston from March to June 1938, when he was assigned to Harvard for two years as professor of naval sciences and practices. In 1940 he was executive officer of the U. S. S. Benson, cruising to French and Dutch Guinea and making an inspection of the famous prison of Devil's Island.

The following years, while still attached to the Benson, his ship acted as escort destroyer to the U. S. S. Albatross, a present-day cruiser in the Atlantic. He took command of the Jacob Jones April 14, 1941.

Lt.-Comdr. Black had been in Winchester but little during his family's residence here. He did, however, spend a short time here with his wife and children last month, his last trip home.

Mrs. Black is the former Frances Forchuck, nee Black, married to Lt.-Comdr. Black 12 years ago shortly after her graduation from the University of Washington. They have three children, Barbara, 9, who was born in Honolulu, and two sons, David, aged 15 months. Lt.-Comdr. Black's father, Howard D. Black, makes his home in Oradell, N. J., and it was from there that Mrs. Black heard of her husband's tragic fate. A brother, Malcolm Black, came to Winchester from Florida to attend the memorial service.

TOWN MEETING NEXT THURSDAY

With town election a thing of the past for another year the decks are now cleared for the annual town meeting which will be called to order by Moderator Raymond S. Wilkins next Thursday evening, March 12, in the Town Hall commencing at 7 p. m. Those who have been elected to the town meeting are: Mr. and Mrs. Winchester's present town meeting is the limited form, under which delegates are elected to represent the town's six precincts at the meeting. Only those precinct members, and members of the town meeting at large can present motions at the meeting or vote upon matters to be decided, but the public can attend the meetings and can speak upon any subject.

Warrants and town reports have been distributed throughout town and a glance through them will disclose several articles over which there is likely to be some debate. Sizeable appropriations are likely to receive rather close scrutiny by taxpayers this year, especially in view of the recent tax prophecies from Washington, and necessity is likely to be made more of a yardstick in measuring costs than heretofore.

The Finance Committee predicts a reduction in tax rate from $27.20 to $26.50 if its recommendations are followed. Those who have not yet waited until town meeting to learn what most of its recommendations are, since few are appended to the annual town report. The words, "Recommendation deferred pending investigation" appear after 20 of the 39 articles, for what most followers of town politics regard as a new high.

Of the 72 accepted, 71 came from the Winchester district, the nearest being draftees from out of state who registered here.

DANIEL W. LANGILL

Daniel W. Langill, 67, a resident of Winchester for the past 40 years, died Friday, Feb. 27, at the Winchester Hospital, of injuries received at the Kean and Bedell Leather Company plant on Main street in Woburn the day previous.

Mr. Langill was a stationary fireman and was at work in the boiler room of Kean and Bedell plant when he was badly scalded by escaping steam and water. He was able to go to his home, but late in the afternoon was in such pain that he was removed in the Police Ambulance to the Winchester Hospital.

He was severely burned about the lower body and legs, and his name was placed upon the hospital danger list, all efforts to save his life proving unavailing.

Mr. Langill was a native of Nova Scotia, but had spent the greater part of his life in this country. He had lived in Winchester for 40 years and previous to the death of his wife, Mrs. Mary (Kennedy) Langill, made his home on Mt. Vernon street.

He had recently been making his home with his daughter, Mrs. Daniel Pearson at 253 Swanton street. She survives with five grandchildren and nine great grandchildren.

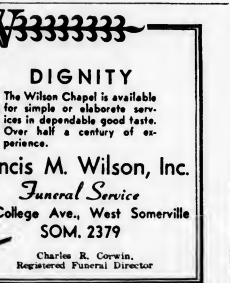

The funeral was held Monday morning from the late residence with high mass of requiem celebrated at the Immaculate Conception Church. Interment was in Wildwood Cemetery.

FLORENCE CRITTENTON LUNCHEON

At a recent meeting of the Ways and Means Committee of the Florence Crittenton Circle, Mrs. Percy Bugbee and her efficient helpers made plans for that gay social highlight of the early spring season, the annual Florence Crittenton luncheon bridge. The party will take place earlier than usual this year, on Wednesday, March 25, at the Winchester Unitarian Church. Sprightly spring decorations, a delicious and appetizing luncheon, the usual tempting food sale will make this an event that should not be missed. Above all, this affair will give you the opportunity to see your friends over a friendly bridge game with no feeling of a guilty conscience at taking time out from First Aid Classes or British Relief. This great charity, the Florence Crittenton League, which helps underprivileged teen-age girls, as well as unfortunate mothers and helpless babies demand support now more than ever.

Assisting Mrs. Bugbee on her committee are Mrs. W. Campbell Rose, co-chairman, Mrs. Franklin Lane, tickets, Mrs. A. Allen Kimball, Mrs. Kingman Case, Mrs. Walter S. E. Dickson, food sale, Mrs. Woodford Wilcox, Mrs. Loring P. Nichols, Mrs. E. Ober Priddy, Mrs. Chandler Symmes, Mrs. Fred Ritchie and Mrs. Edward McDavitt Jr.

VOLUNTEER NURSES' AIDS GRADUATE

First Red Cross Class Has "Capping Ceremony" at Winchester Hospital

Seventeen women who have successfully completed the Red Cross training as Nurses' Aids received their caps and pins in an impressive ceremony at the Winchester Hospital last Friday afternoon.

In an 80 hour course spread over seven weeks of both study and practice in actual hospitalization work, these women, under the instruction of Miss Laura M. Krueger, R. N., have learned to be competent helpers in cases of sickness or accident.

Pledged to Volunteer Work Moreover, when they accepted this opportunity for training, each candidate pledged herself to give at least 150 hours of work per year after the course was completed. She also agreed, in time of war or other national emergencies, to serve whenever and for whatever period of time she might be needed.

The Red Cross requires that the first 150 hours shall be spent in hospital wards and many of the graduates are already giving valuable aid to the staff at the Winchester Hospital. So many trained nurses have been called by the Army and Navy, that there is even now a real need of competent assistance at home.

The graduation ceremony began with a brief talk by Mr. Elliott Cameron, Chairman of the Winchester Chapter of the Red Cross. He spoke of the high standard of work that the Red Cross gives and expects.

Miss Jean McLeod, Superintendent of the Hospital, without whose sincere interest and fine co-operation the project would not be possible, presented their caps to the new Nurses' Aids.

Miss Laura M. Krueger, instructor of the class, presided so well abreast of the demand. In one Greater Boston community some friends of ours signed up last November for a year's service in May!

A social hour followed and delicious refreshments were served by the Hospital.

Many who have been waiting for an opportunity to take the Red Cross First Aid Course will be glad to know that new classes are being formed now. Telephone Win. 2563 and place your application immediately.

The Winchester Chapter deserves great credit for keeping so well abreast of the demand. In one Greater Boston community some friends of ours signed up last November for a year's service in May!

WINCHESTER ART ASSOCIATION TEA

David McCord, well known poet and critic, was the speaker last Sunday at the Winchester Art Association tea. The tea, held as usual in the Public Library Gallery, opened the March exhibition of book illustrations, national advertisements and examples of art work from the Boston Art Schools.

Mr. McCord read some of his humorous poetry, making the reading doubly interesting with his accompanying short explanations of where and why each was written.

Mrs. Raymond Dickman and Mrs. Hollis Nickerson were hostesses for the afternoon.

President John Lobinger announced that the next meeting, Monday evening, April 6, will be the annual business meeting at which new officers will be elected and will open the local talent exhibition. Mr. Lobinger also extended the invitation to the Association received from the Winchester Committee of Safety to attend the Tozier Lecture on "Masterpieces of Nature," on March 16.

Tea was poured by Mrs. Fulton Brown and Miss Mary Studley at an attractive tea table decorated with calla lilies.

During the week between the present exhibit and the Local Talent exhibit, from March 26 to April 4, there will be display of present day posters collected and loaned by Mrs. Dunbar Shanklin.

EXHIBITION OF ILLUSTRATIONS AT LIBRARY

In accordance with its policy of showing as many as possible of the various branches of art, the Winchester Art Association is exhibiting this month in the gallery at the Public Library a group of paintings and drawings of a strictly commercial nature.

Most of the work shown in the exhibition has been used to illustrate books, but there are also paintings for book jackets, and commercial paintings and drawings for advertising and display purposes. Also on display is work from several of the Boston Art Schools, many of which is of a commercial nature.

Of particular interest are two displays which show the process by which artists make drawings for color plates in book illustration, from the original black and white sketch to the finished plate in two or more colors.

A painting that would grace any art exhibit is that by N. C. Wyeth in oils for the story, Ramona. Depicted are a young girl in a close fitting red basque and voluminous green skirt, leaning against a long table, on which is an open jewel casket, and facing a seated elderly woman, clad in black silk and wearing a Spanish mantle. At the rear is a life-size statue of the Virgin standing in a niche.

The hostility of the old lady the defiance of the young, the fresh tones of the texture of the clothing, the dark wood of the table and chairs, the beamed ceiling and the opalescent coloring of the plaster where the sun's rays strike the walls is well done.

Also by Mr. Wyeth is another illustration for the same story, showing an Indian leading a pony, carrying a young woman, over a trail leading through jagged mountain peaks.

There are two interesting book advertising plates in color by Paul Hawthorne, one showing printers of Colonial days preparing an edition of the Book of Psalms and the other, the First Market in Boston, also a Colonial subject.

The drawings suggests the period and the colors are appropriately subdued, while the attention to, and grasp of detail are remarkable.

Two charming little studies are those by Frank Duff, one of a tractor at work on a farm and the other of an attractively appointed room. There are also two excellent pictures in watercolor and ink, one advertising depicting an imaginary town meeting for printers in the Colonial days and the other, an illustration for an Economics text book, showing the entrance to a tunnel building against a background of skyscrapers. The latter study is a fine example of the artistic handling of a subject essential to architecture.

There are a very sharp black and white studies by Richard Bartlett, and a third by Paul Hawthorne, showing Washington taking command of the Continental Army at a candle which suggests an old woodcut.

Two strictly commercial pictures by Link Hannah, both for shoe illustration, are full of action and well drawn, and there are also some well done illustrations of children by William M. Prince.

In the exhibition of students' works in painting and drawings from the Vesper George School, the New England School of Art, Massachusetts School of Art and the School of the Museum of Fine Arts.

Included are a familiar illustration for a well known soap advertisement and the dash of an automobile that is very well done technically. Clyde Anderson of the New England School shows a pencil sketch of the Wheeler Dam that is excellent in its sharpness, light and shade, perspective and attention to detail. There is also a very strongly painted study of Army tanks in a ruined town by Robert H. Marden of Vesper George.

Outstanding is a charcoal portrait head of a young man, serene and well drawn, and there are also some well done illustrations of children by William M. Prince.

The exhibit will remain at the library through March and is open to the public.

BOOKS FROM HOME

People have asked if the name should be removed from the fly leaf of a book before it is handed in to support the book drive for soldiers and sailors. The answer is that the name does not matter. The value of the book but rather enhances it. The readers into whose hands the book will fall like to see where it came from. If they are overseas, it is an extra link with home. If they are in camp somewhere in the United States it emphasizes the unifying character of this war, and is therefore a source of comfort and delight. It may read in quick succession books that have been sent for their entertainment from Massachusetts, Texas and Oregon.

Some book-senders have added their address to the fly leaf and have invited correspondence. It may be that the soldier or sailor doesn't get many letters from home. In this way his circle of correspondence is enlarged. He is given something else to think about besides war. He is cheered. This practice has limitless possibilities of surprise and delight. The book that is handed in at the Library may bring a letter with an Australian or an African postmark. Before this war is over our men are going to find themselves in every corner of the globe. It is our job to provide them with the books that relieve boredom.

John Dunbar, recently returned from London, says that boredom is a worse enemy than bombs. If, in helping them through the tedium of an idle hour, we find ourselves getting bored, we are not doing our job. We have heard of before, we shall be doubly rewarded.

Keep Food Values In Vegetables
THE vitality in vegetables—their health-giving cargo of vitamins and minerals—is retained or lost through cooking methods. The following simple rules for cooking by boiling will preserve a maximum of their food values:
1. Cook vegetable in small amount of water; a general rule is 1/2 inch.
Too much water dissolves out nutrients. 2. Use utensil with tight-fitting lid to keep steam inside; it shortens cooking time, prevents evaporation of water. 3. Start vegetable in boiling water; resume boiling quickly, then lower flame. The slimmer unit of top gas burner is ideal for this. 4. Cook amount needed for the meal. Do not peel, dice or shred vegetable too long before cooking, and never soak; exposure to air and soaking in water reduces vitamin content. 5. Cook vegetable until "tender crisp." And do not reheat quantity for another meal. Utilize in salad instead. Reheating adds up to over-cooking. 6. Avoid stirring; it lets in air; follow directions above, and 10. Serve vegetables immediately.

NEW PRO AT COUNTRY CLUB

Thomas H. Howe, 33, and married, Wednesday night became the fourth pro in 30 years at the Winchester Country Club. Harry McGrath, chairman of the golf committee, made the announcement. Howe succeeds Harold "Jug" McSpaden, now pro at the Philadelphia Country Club.

The new pro is a member of the P. G. A., qualifying for the national in 1940. He most recently was pro at Carmel, N. Y., but had served at Lakewood, Tarleton, Pike, N. H., and Crawford Notch and for 12 years was assistant to his father, Walter Howe, at Wellesley.

The Star has a limited number of Ernest Dudley Chase's fine "Battle Map of the Pacific," a must for those who really want to follow the news. Don't confuse these with ordinary maps, 50 cents while they last.

STONEHAM HERE TONIGHT

Winchester High School plays its last interscholastic basketball game of the current season tonight in the local gymnasium, meeting Stoneham High in a Middlesex League contest, first and second teams, commencing at 7:30.

Neither Winchester nor Stoneham is going to win the Middlesex title this season, but that doesn't mean that their game tonight won't be a good one to watch. The locals, on paper a much better team than Stoneham, had plenty of trouble squeaking by the boys from the hockey town in their previous game, and they won't be able to take it easy tonight if they want to win.

Stoneham is always tough for Winchester and nothing would please the visitors more than to upset the local apple cart in the last game of the season tonight. Coach Bartlett's charges on the other hand are out to show that their close shave at Stoneham was "one of those things" and that they are a lot better than the score would indicate.

The Winchester seconds will be out to close an undefeated season against the Stoneham scrubs this evening and this game should prove of equal interest to the varsity contest.

The fiery local seconds have built up a big following by their aggressive and speedy play through the season and all their friends will be on hand for a last look at their favorites.

The seconds have another very potent reason for wanting to garner tonight's game. Their coach through the season, Frankie Provinzano, was recently inducted into military service and the boys want to win this last one for "the Ref."

As usual seats will be reserved for adults until game time. Basketball has drawn well here this season and another big crowd is expected for this closing game here tonight.

WINCHESTER BOY SCORED FOR HARVARD AGAINST YALE

Marcus Beebe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold B. Beebe of Everett avenue, was one of Harvard's heroes in the Crimson's hockey game with Eli Yale at the Boston Arena last Saturday evening.

Harvard did everything but outscore the Yales, and it was Beebe, who tied the game at two pieces for the Crimson after 10:32 seconds of the third period had elapsed.

The Winchester boy, a Harvard alternate but one of the outstanding Crimson players last Saturday, took a pass from Earl Acker from behind the Blue net and shot a hard one down the alley between the Yale defencemen from about 20 feet out directly in front of the uprights. Cord Meyer, star Yale goalkeeper, was completely fooled on the shot.

Yale then turned on the heat and scored two goals to win, but underdog Harvard made a game of it and than his share in keeping the Johnnie in the running.

WINCHESTER SKI CLUB

The Winchester Ski Club enjoyed good skiing at several out-of-town places this last week-end to usher in the traditionally best skiing month of March.

Harry Bean and Conrad Larson with several others left on Friday to spend the week-end in Northern Vermont where they found excellent running in deep powder snow on Mt. Mansfield.

Another group consisting of Allston and Carol Danford, Harry and Marion Wood, and Fred and Mae Whitney went to Guilford, N. H., on Saturday where they found one of those rare days at the recreation center when there was a surface of new-fallen snow on an ample base to provide excellent running on the Tryms Trail. The fair weather, moderate temperature and absence of crowds combined with the luxury of the chair lift to form one of the best skiing days of the year.

The next regular meeting of the club will be held on Wednesday, March 11, at 8 o'clock at the club room at 4 Blackhorse terrace. At this meeting important decisions will be made regarding all future plans of the club. Members who are unable to attend this meeting should contact an officer of the club by telephone sometime before the meeting.

WINCHESTER TO START TRACK WORK INDOORS

With the resumption of classes at Winchester High this week, after the mid-winter vacation, Coach Stanley Smith expected to get out his varsity track aspirants for preliminary conditioning work in the school gymnasium.

The locals' showing on the track last year, from the won and lost standpoint was not too good, but Winchester met some good teams and was only outclassed once, by Beverly, winning from Woburn High among others.

The loss of boys like Dick Palsen, star middle distance runner; Dick Merrow, capable quarter-mile and relay runner; and big Ed Cummings, weight man, will be keenly felt this year, but Dick Briggs showed enough in cross country last fall to make the distance outlook fairly bright while Johnny Murray, football half-back, ought to hold his own in the sprints.

It is expected that Coach Smith will be assisted again this season by Lou Goddu, former Winchester High track star, whose help with past track teams has been invaluable.

WINCHESTER GUARDSMEN INSPECTED BY U. S. ARMY

Company G, 23rd Infantry, Massachusetts State Guard, was inspected at their Woburn Armory last Friday night by Major Louis Schaefer, Infantry, U. S. Army, acting for the Federal authorities. The company officers, Capt. Frank D. Graham and 2nd Lt. John A. Reddy, Jr., of Woburn, and 1st Lt. Kingman P. Cass of Winchester, entertained the visitors at dinner before the inspection. Cooke Minard Stogdole and Charles White prepared a fine clam chowder for the main dish, and those present as guests, in addition to Major Schaefer, were Col. C. D. Berg, commanding the 23rd Infantry, Adjutant Capt. J. J. Walsh, Major Ireland and Lt. Rubin from Battalion Headquarters in Stoneham, and Capt. Tinker of a Company, Somerville.

The program included rifle inspection, close order and physical drill, guard mount, interior guard, rifle marksmanship, bayonet drill and riot formations by company, platoons and squads. Winchester men participating included 1st Sgt. Robert S. Baylies, Platoon Sergeant, A. Allen Kimball, Corp. Henry Deliker, and Privates Gainey, Howe, Gouthro, Millett, Gurney, McLeod, Moore, Tauro and Ware. It was announced that the company indoor rifle team had just completed a score of 1450 out of a possible 1500 in the regimental matches, also that the Woburn company stood among the four top companies of the entire State Guard in the previous State official inspections.

MEDFORD GRANDFATHER
JOINING COLORS

Former Winchester Man

Arthur B. Colgate, 43-year old Medford caterer who enlisted in the Navy last week-end despite the fact that he is a father and a grandfather, made his home as a boy on Lloyd street in Winchester and was educated in the Winchester schools.

Later he was a member of the firm of Arnold and Colgate who ran a catering business on Main street in the center. He entered the Navy as a cook, second class. He is brother of Kenneth M. Colgate, well known local filling station operator and member of Winchester Post, A. L., and his grandfather was William Christopher Columbus Colgate, at the time of his death the oldest Civil War veteran in Woburn.

ELKS' NOTES

Nomination of officers was made at Tuesday evening's meeting and the annual election will be held on Tuesday, March 17. There are several contests this year and rather more excitement than usual is attendant upon the outcome.

The Lodge is planning a Ladies' night to be held after Lent and already arrangements are being made by the Lodge Activities Committee, headed by E. L. K. Leo P. Garvey, to make this a real red letter affair.

Winchester Lodge is keeping in as close touch as possible with its members in the United States service. They include Edward Bennett, Albert MacDonnell, Charles A. Farrar, Jr., William H. Holland, William J. Grant, Daniel Cosg and Frederick McCormack. Cards have been sent all these members.

Cards have been received by the Lodge from two members in far-flung lands, Mr. Joseph Marone in Puerto Rico and Mr. B. Howard Brownell in Northern Ireland.

UNUSUAL MISCHIEF

The Police get all sorts of unusual calls for assistance in the course of a year, but Patrolman John J. Dolan who answered a call from the residence of Mr. Francis R. Henderson at 208 State street last Friday afternoon found the trouble there especially out of the ordinary.

Mr. Henderson is an old carriage maker, and in his yard are many examples of the by-gone carriage maker's art. Others left his barn to overflow.

On Friday Mr. Henderson was concerned because a group of Arlington boys was nulling the carriages from his yard and rolling them down a steep hill at the rear of his place into a deep valley.

The boys when they caught sight of Officer Dolan, took to their heels and scattered into the woods. They had a good start and got away cleanly.

The carriages they were doing their best to smash include many interesting specimens one of which was made to sell for $1500 and another for $1000. Also included in the Henderson collection is an old Chelsea police "hurry-up," several fine Victorias and two interesting old "Tug-wagons" used for itinerant selling of tea.

JUNIOR DANCE AT CLUB

Last Saturday the Winchester Junior Dance Group enjoyed an evening of dancing at the Country Club. The decorations were in charge of the ushers, and the theme of patriotism was appropriately used.

Professor and Mrs. Harold Blanchard and Mr. and Mrs. Martin Swanson acted as host and hostesses.

The ushers, led by Frank Horne were Messrs. Robert Conn, Robert Ellis, Crosby Grindle, Richard Hall, Donald Marchant, John Maynard, William Mooney, Kings Moore, Andre Redding, Parker Symmes and Everett Twombly.

ON DEAN'S LIST AT TUFTS

Dorothy E. Weber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Weber of Allen road, was among those recently announced by the deans of Tufts College who held the highest average grades in the honor and privileges of membership on the Dean's List. Miss Weber, senior in the Biology Department of the School of Liberal Arts, has held this high Dean's List average from her sophomore year.

A youngster had a narrow escape from possible death Wednesday morning while playing along the tracks between the center and Winchester Station. Children are accustomed to place pennies on the rails for trains to run over them at that point and the Police are constantly driving them away to prevent accidents. Whether this boy and his chum were engaged in this practice is not known, but with an outboard train passing at the Station he was on the inbound tracks, totally oblivious of an inbound express tearing down upon him. The train couldn't have been more than 50 yards from the boys when he saw it and as he started to scramble from the tracks he slipped and fell. His chum dragged him from the tracks in time, but it was a close thing. The best place for youngsters to play. Far from it!

We quote a Boston newspaper correspondent:

"What we all need today is to forget bad blunders about which nothing can be done, and be sure our criticism is constructive."

Which leads to an interesting train of thought. On the face of it the advice is good. Pearl Harbor for instance is a blunder gone and past. It can do no good now to continue to bewail it. To be sure the blame is laid at the door of the American people, whose indolence and apathy is said to be responsible, but it is done and gone—and may well be forgotten. The destruction of the Normandy seems to be past and complete. It is no use to criticize and blame. In fact we need to lay the blame, for the American people have not been charged, at least, with this. There are other similar instances which may well be forgotten, even though it might be hard to find constructive excuse or criticism. But what about those other things, which if not blunders, at least cannot be said to contribute to the making of them, which continue uninterrupted? Are we to forget these items? Are we to dismiss all thought of them and give our utmost efforts to supporting those who persist in continuing them? Since 1932 the ultimate effort of our Washington rulers, as we see it, has been to remake America. The effort is still continuing, war or no war. America, which has grown under the (old) Democratic way and government to be the leading nation on the earth, is now making over. Whether it is to be accomplished by a Dictatorship, Communism or a new-fangled Socialism, no one knows other than our rulers—provided even they themselves know. And war or no war, this scheme is being continued. Is this something to be forgotten and supported without a murmur? In our opinion it is leading to confusion and fear. It is being continued by political methods even in war times. Votes and prestige are still being as eagerly sought as during the past 10 years. In contrast to this, however, we are urged to do, our defense effort has, in our opinion, been seeped in if not fattened by Union strikes. These strikes have been entered by our rulers. They are continuing. They are not stopped. In our case we do not feel they should be dismissed and forgotten. They are a blunder or through patriotism. No one shall work over 40 hours without time and a half and double time pay! We are urged to work around the clock by our rulers, yet one group does it to great financial advantage and another does it to great detriment. The inequality is upheld. Where is the constructive criticism?

An employer pays about 4% on every dollar he gives to labor. Labor pays 1%. Again we wonder why this should be accepted and urged. The employer is urged and urged to—again we do not need to enumerate. We can well see the futility of continuing to lament MacArthur's plight, or the fall of Singapore (after Hongkong), the sinking of the two great battleships, or numerous other incidents which may be called blunders. But working under the slogan "We Shall Not Abandon Our Social Gains," if that means anything other than collecting votes by our politicians, certainly calls for criticism in our opinion. As we recollect it, our Colonial history taught us nothing about overtime pay, 40-hour weeks, sympathy for strikes, fun and frolic in the forts, or paying Unions for the privilege of working for our Government. No, we cannot see eye to eye with the lady correspondent who sees plenty to criticize. If these things are not blunders they are in our opinion worse. And we don't like an "Hail To Our Social Gains" slogan. And when this slogan is accompanied by the statement that we are in for a "much lower standard of living," we would like to see some sort of a standard set up which may be copied by our Washington rulers. We suppose the lady correspondent is willing to accept all this in the name of criticism, and at some future date lay it all to blunders and forget it. We hope she can. We are one of the eleven supporting a paid Government worker.

May I, through the Star, express my sincere gratitude and appreciation to all who in any way supported my candidacy for Collector of Taxes. The vote accorded me was most gratifying.

CARD OF THANKS

To the Editor of the Star:

THANKS VOTERS

To the Editor of the Star:
I wish to express my sincere thanks to the 1435 good friends who voted for me for the position of Town Treasurer.

Owing to my long absence on a business trip, I had only two weeks for "campaigning" prior to the election, and I am pleased with the general results as well as delighted in finding many new friends.

My congratulations and best wishes have been expressed to the new Treasurer, Mr. McCormick.

Sincerely,
T. Parker Clarke

THANKS TO VOTERS AND WORKERS

To the Voters of Winchester:
I thank you sincerely for giving me the privilege of serving on the School Committee during the coming year. I will strive to justify the confidence which you have placed in me and, as one of the Committee, I will do my best to assure our having the kind of schools which we all desire.

I wish to thank particularly the many friends throughout the Town who devoted much time and effort to my candidacy. I am deeply indebted to them. I realize, however, that this is not a personal indebtedness I owe, but a public indebtedness which I can repay only by being a good School Committeeman.

To Mrs. Greene and to Mr. Tansey I wish to express my appreciation for their part in making the contest a friendly and pleasant one.

Sincerely,
Neil H. Borden

"MANY THANKS TO THE STAR"

To the Editor of the Star:
It has often been said and is decidedly true, Winchester couldn't get along without its "Star." The Winchester League of Women Voters wishes to extend the thanks of all its members to the "Star" for its generous help and at all times co-operative spirit. This was evidenced by the notices given in the Star to the Candidate's Meeting and by the publication of the League's answers to the questionnaire on qualifications submitted to them by the Winchester League of Women Voters.

The League is a non-partisan group. At election time as at all others its aim is to support and encourage good government. Its meetings are held to promote participation of its members in government, primarily to learn how to practice citizenship. Action by informed voters is the primary interest of the group. The League of Women Voters does not endorse or oppose candidates for public office. It is interested in informing the public who the candidates are and what they stand for.

The securing of the Candidate's views through questionnaires and interviews such as the recently held Candidate's Meeting has this purpose.

The Winchester League also wishes to thank the Candidates for their co-operation and fine attendance at the meeting held in the high school auditorium last week. The success of this meeting rested on the shoulders of the worthy candidates themselves.

The town's response to the urge to get out and vote was splendid. This is proved by the fact that, although most towns had a very light vote cast Monday, Winchester showed quite an increase over last year's vote. We can do still better another year in support of our principle, "to preserve democracy for the world, or we must practice it at home."

Ruth L. Nichols,
President of Winchester
League of Women Voters

Dear Mr. Coverdale:
Your splendid case of 310 articles arrived yesterday and came at a most opportune moment as we have been asked by the American Embassy to help an American unit of Airmen serving with our own forces in a very cold part of England. As they were chiefly from California they were feeling our climate very severe, and it gave us the greatest pleasure to be able to do some little thing for the men of your country, who have done so much and so wonderfully for us. Though we have tried from time to time to help some of the Americans over here until now they have all been so extremely well cared for that it was unnecessary.

We have asked the Embassy to let us know of any more who need our help, which we shall give with much pleasure.

Thank you very much for your continual thought and generosity towards us. I think it is wonderful now that you are on the line yourself you should continue to send things to us, because you must have many demands at home. However, as we well know, the generosity of America is a very great and noble thing.

Believe me,
Yours sincerely,

TO CORRECT AN ERROR

Through an error in typing mention of the accompaniments played by Lucy Wilcox Cushman was omitted from the review of the Fortnightly Pageant. So this is Winchester's, which appears in the Star. Mrs. Cushman's always artistic playing was not only helpful to the performers, but was also greatly enjoyed by the audience while her co-operation and faithfulness to rehearsal was deeply appreciated by all in any way connected with the pageant.

THE JESUS OF DEEDS

Paul Harman Chapman

Have you ever thought of the fact that Jesus actually spent most of his time going about doing good? All his recorded sayings would take but a few hours of speech. He insisted on only three beliefs: the Fatherhood of God, the Brotherhood of man, and Neighborliness toward all. His greatest power was his example, in which he showed "The Way" in which men should follow.

He was humanitarian; he was concerned with the weak in body and mind; he urged men to do as they would be done by and said simply

"The Christian Church has been more ready to follow the 'Christ of the Deeds' than the 'Jesus of the Deeds'." It has always been easier to follow certain rituals and creeds than to go about doing the deeds of Jesus. Yet, the "Christ of the Deeds" divides and the "Jesus of the Deeds" unites his followers of the "Jesus of Nazareth."

BOSTON UNIVERSITY SEMINARY SINGERS

The Boston University Seminary Singers, who will appear in the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church, under the auspices of that church, on Tuesday evening, March 10 at 8:15 p. m., have traveled over 7500 miles in concert tours of the last two seasons. The "Singing preachers" have appeared in concert in many of the large cities of the United States, including New York, Buffalo, Cleveland, St. Louis, Kansas City, Atlanta, Miami, Atlantic City, and Washington, D. C.

In the Spring of 1939 the Seminary Singers were featured at the United Conference of the Methodist Church in Kansas City, singing three or four times daily, for the three weeks of the conference. Climaxing this cross-country tour the Singers appeared in the Hall of Religion at the New York World's Fair, May 12, 1939. Because of their excellent performances they were invited to appear again at the final year of the Fair. This outstanding group has had the pleasure of singing before four consecutive General Conferences of the Methodist Church.

This organization is unique in that it is the only large group of any Diocese in the world to take extensive concert tours. When is borne in mind that these young men are not vocal students but do this work only as incidental to their seminary training, the tone and quality of their performance is remarkable. The group is carefully selected by the director, Dr. James R. Houghton, the concert

"SO THIS IS AMERICA"

How far away is the American frontier? How long ago did the pioneer vanish over the northwest horizon? Is the adventuring all done and over for American women and is nothing left but routine? If the yesterday of pioneering and adventuring had seemed far off and faint, it came to hand and to life on Tuesday for women of the First Congregational Church, as a flesh and blood woman stood before them and told them of life as she herself has known it.

The speaker was Mrs. N. E. Hannant, representing to New England just now the state of Montana, which she has known well for more than thirty-five years.

There was work to do out there among scattered white men far from churches and with red men, who had many reasons for being puzzled at what little they had heard of the so-called good news of Christianity, but had not always seen lived out by the white men whose lives it was supposed to shape and to rule. The work in Montana called aloud to two young Christians forty years ago.

When her Winchester hearers faced their first dress-rehearsal blackout Wednesday night, some of them undoubtedly thought of Mrs. Hannant's first blackout, which was no mere dress-rehearsal. The lights of the train moved off up the westward track and Mrs. Hannant with her baggage and her two tiny boys stood on the empty platform. Empty of the face they expected there, the young clergyman husband who had gone ahead to find their place of work in vast Montana, seemed to have left three Indians. They came forward to tell her that her husband was sick and they had come to take her to him.

The little station was black and empty; the railroad had no agent there at night. She had a swift choice to make. She could be afraid and suspicious and risk the night of storm. She went. She joined the long line, stretching back to Abraham and including Columbus and the seekers of the Northwest Passage, the line of people who have gone forth in faith not knowing whither and have been brought to a wide and fruitful land.

The two missionary pioneers found Montana spiritually a fruitful country, rich for themselves. Any woman might almost covet the home this pioneer had, the houses she had built; she helped build; the house, one room; the seven rooms, really Art Deco.

Any woman in these days can heartily desire for her energy as this pioneer found. She mothered a family of four boys. She traveled over and over the two hundred miles that separated the string of churches that constituted their Montana parishes.

But one busy day she had to find time to look a word up in the dictionary. That was when a letter came from a Mission Union group in New York saying that they were sending her a layette for the expected baby. Her babies had always had clothes, but a layette was a new word. Young mothers who sat there listening, even if they had always been rich, could imagine what the young missionary in Montana felt as she opened up each daintily-wrapped pretty and practical little garment. She thanked the givers in the very next way a woman can: she let them name the baby and so they did. They took as a middle name the post-office which they had sent the layette, and for a first name they chose one of proper association and of good omen. They named the baby David Shaw.

Women facing what war must mean all must want for themselves what sustained this pioneer woman when she lived such keen and generous sharing of other women's pain and bereavement and when three times death came into her own household.

It came very dramatically that last time. The hearts of even God's workmen are made of mortal dust, and they wear out. Two years ago, as the missionary clergyman was about to start out on a parish journey, he fell dead beside his car. "If I have really meant what I have been saying to other women, I can take this," said the wife. And so she has, and she is bringing a timely help to other women: timely for blackouts, and for scarcity, and for the day when bad news shall come from the seas or from lands on the other side of the world to my neighbor's house or to my own—the firm foundation of her faith. "The times that I am afraid I will trust in Thee."

The Mission Union owes this most interesting meeting to Miss Helen Hall and her committee that arranges the monthly program. Mrs. George F. Nardin, president of the Mission Union, presided.

The Star has a limited number of Ernest Dudley Chase's fine "Battle Map of the Pacific," a must for those who really want to follow the news. Don't confuse these with ordinary maps. 50 cents while they last.

NEW DEFENSE BOND WORKERS ADDED

Forty-one more volunteer workers were added this week to those who are adding to the house-to-house canvass of the Winchester Defense Bond Staff, seeking to enroll every house in the town in regular purchases of U. S. Defense Bonds and U. S. Defense Savings Stamps.

Vice Chairman Howard M. Stillman of the Defense Bond Staff said this week that workers are out in five of the six precincts of the town and he declared there is a great deal of enthusiasm among them.

The last meeting for precinct organizations was held last Tuesday night in the "barn" of the Morrison's at 12 Glen Road. The 41 new workers were present at this meeting, being led by Joseph W. Worthen and Mrs. Howard A. Morrison.

Introductory remarks were made by Maurice C. Bird, Chairman of the Defense Bond Staff, following which Mr. Stillman, who is actively directing the house-to-house canvass, with the aid of the 12 co-chairmen, addressed the workers concerning the task allotted to them, explaining the meaning of the canvass and the forms which are to be used in making visits.

The 41 new workers are as follows: Mrs. R. G. Abbott, C. W. Butts, Mrs. J. Coulson, Jr., Mrs. H. M. Farnsworth, H. A. Delcker, Mrs. E. O. Horner, R. J. Holmes, R. J. Johnston, Mrs. J. J. McGovern, M. R. Pihl, H. F. Pike, H. E. Reeves, Mrs. H. B. Richmond, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Tapley, T. M. Godfrey, Miss Blanche Eaton, E. C. Greiner, Harold Hovey, Mrs. H. F. Meyer, Robert Guild, E. Y. Neale, Philip Wadsworth, Earle Spencer, Raymond Dexter, George Leshorn, P. Stewart Newton, Richard Bernard, Theodore Browne, Arthur W. Pratt, Robert M. Stone, E. Ober Prid, Frederick B. Taylor, Leslie J. Scott, Stephen Nelly, Arthur Thad Smith, Frank Hurley, Arthur Rogge, H. Kelsea Moore, Jr., Leo Twombly, Harlow Russell and Mrs. J. A. Newman.

JUNIOR FLORENCE CRITTENTON CIRCLE

Mrs. John Ghirardini, of Bacon Street, opened her home on Tuesday evening, March 10th for the Spring Meeting of the Junior Florence Crittenton Circle. Mrs. John L. Coon, president of the Circle presided. Following the business meeting at which committee reports were read, Frederick B. Rice, Ways and Means, Chairman, announced plans for the Annual Spring Supper Dance. The party always anticipated with pleasure by the Circle's many Winchester friends, promises to be a very gay one this year, as it is to be held in the Sheraton Room of the Copple Plaza Hotel, Boston, on Wednesday evening, April 15th.

Ruby Newman's Orchestra, led by Ruby in person, will provide music for dancing during the evening. At eleven o'clock the Hotel will present the "Ice Show," which has been received so enthusiastically during the last month.

Now is the time when we must not forget that our home charities need our support. The work carried on by Welcome House in preventative work is more essential than ever. This fact was expressed most sincerely and urgently by Mrs. Mary P. Chute, Spurt of Welcome House, who was the guest speaker.

At the close of the meeting, coffee was served by Mrs. Lester R. Moulton and her committee.

The Isle of Pines

The Isle of Pines has an area of 1,180 square miles and a population of 5,000. It is located about 50 miles south of Cuba, of which it is a part. The land is virtually all owned by Americans. The chief towns are Nueva, Gerona and Santa Fe. The island produces citrus fruits, pineapples and potatoes. Cattle raising is the chief industry.

GUILD OF THE INFANT SAVIOUR

The Annual Bridge and Fashion Show of the Winchester Chapter, will be held on Wednesday, April 15, at Hotel Continental, Cambridge, at 2 o'clock. Preceding bridge and the show, there will be a luncheon at 1 o'clock. Those who desire to attend the luncheon as well as the bridge, should make reservations early.

A First Aid course under the direction of the Red Cross, is offered to all members of the Guild at Emmanuel House, Boston. There is also an instructive course in sewing. These courses are sponsored by the Guild of Boston.

The Irish Night which will be held on next Thursday, March 19, in Lyceum Hall, promises to be an affair of great pleasure to old and young. The evening will open with a lecture at 8:15, by the noted Mr. Peter Mahan who will illustrate his subject "A Trip to Ireland" with moving pictures. This is to be followed by a concert, and refreshments. Among the names of entertainers is that of Dr. Thomas Caulfield of Woburn. Be sure to order your table in advance. Tickets are reasonably priced and may be procured from members of the Guild.

During the coming week every lady of this organization will be contacted by members of the board, in regard to work she is doing for National Defense. These questionnaires will be filled out, kept on file, and consulted from time to time. Practically every member of the Guild is busily engaged in some branch of war work, and those who for any reason have been unable to take part, should now become busy in some definite line of Civilian Defense.

On last Tuesday, March 10, it was voted at the meeting that the Winchester Chapter of the Guild be financed and authorized to sell bonds and stamps at the regular meetings held twice each month. Mrs. Virgil Ghirardini is chairman and will have stamps of all denominations on sale for our convenience. Every member who is investing in bonds and stamps to aid our country, should try to buy one or more at each meeting. Last Tuesday, Mrs. Ghirardini sold every stamp on hand, and could have disposed of many more.

In the recent successful drive of bonds and stamps sold at the two local B. & M. stations, Mrs. Virgil Ghirardini, Mrs. James Clark and Mrs. Daniel Murray were given a rising vote of thanks for the splendid work they accomplished with the aid of their committees. This sale of bonds, as well as those sold at the meetings, will be listed in Town, State and National records.

Many new members were greeted at the meeting on Tuesday of this week, and a very large attendance of older members was noted by President Mrs. Michael Hintlian, who personally greeted everyone. Mrs. Hintlian graciously and earnestly asked each member to do everything in her power to assist her, Mrs. Hintlian, during these difficult days. Attending the meetings faithfully will be one way of showing our loyalty.

Members do not forget the Bridge and Fashion Show sponsored by the Boston Chapter of the Guild. This party will be on April 11, in the ballroom of Hotel Statler, and we are all asked to attend, if possible.

A St. Patrick's Tea, with its promise of spring, was a feature attraction after the business session on last Tuesday. The table was beautifully decorated in green and white, with shamrocks, green candles, and a beautiful centerpiece of fish design. Mrs. John Lennon was assisted by the following hostesses: Mrs. Robert Cavanaugh, Mrs. Clarence Dunham, Mrs. Harry Doughton, Mrs. Thomas Riley, Pouring were Mrs. Thomas Feeney and Mrs. Edward MacDonald.

ON BINTAN ISLAND JAPAN WILL CONTROL CHIEF ALUMINUM ORE

Moving south and east after the fall of Singapore, Japanese forces were in a position to take over the chief Netherlands Indies source of bauxite (aluminum ore) on Bintan and adjoining islands of the Riuw group between Singapore and Sumatra, points out a bulletin from the National Geographic Society. On the way to Singapore the Japanese had already overrun another area of bauxite production on the Malaysian Peninsula.

There was a picturesque character to the many operations on the Riuw islands, continues the bulletin. The main workings were on Bintan, and the ore from adjoining islets of Kojan and Angket was transported to the central island in buckets on cables swung over the sea.

Power Plant for Ore Reduction The Bintan bauxite will not be a new material to the Japanese. Four-fifths of the ore has been going to Japan right along; and when the sea lanes were open, most of the remainder went to Germany. Dutch industry was about to change this situation. A local company recently began work on a hydroelectric power plant on the Asahan River, near Toba Lake, on the island of Sumatra, and had planned to use the power at an aluminum reduction plant nearby. Bintan Island is the largest on the south side of Singapore Strait, which it faces for a distance of about 25 miles. It has an area of more than 400 square miles.

The bauxite deposits were not mined until 1935, when 11,000 tons were produced. This figure increased to 220,000 tons in 1938. War stepped up production; the 1939 figure of 240,000 tons increased to some 270,000 tons in 1940, about six per cent of world output.

Fresh Water in Jamaica Unlike some of the islands in other parts of the West Indies, Jamaica is plentifully supplied with fresh water. The Spanish term from which the name Jamaica is derived means "Island of Springs," and fresh water springs abound throughout the island.

Small matter? Yes — and no. An operator takes only 21 seconds extra to correct a customer's calling error. But in the present war emergency we are a bit embarrassed handling 117,544 such errors per day!

Figure it out... 21 seconds multiplied by 117,544 equals 2,468,424 seconds... 41,140 minutes... 685 hours of equipment time and operator time tied up. And we can't get raw material shortages!

After all, telephoning correctly isn't so difficult. And most people's numbers are right in the Directory.

JOTTINGS FROM THE EN KA SCRAPBOOK

These are busy days for everyone. Red Cross sewing, First Aid courses, Canteen and Nutrition classes. In fact, an all out for victory keeps Winchester on the jump. Fully mindful of the fact that charity begins at home, the En Ka Society members are now laying the ground work for an all out for Winchester charity on May 23.

Plans were announced previously for the "Funfair" and now, with spring approaching, committee managers and their helpers are working at top speed for the success of the 1942 Street Fair. It is always of great interest and truly amazing in these busy days to see the amount of beautiful hand sewn articles the sewing committee can turn out. Already many dollars worth of aprons, luncheon sets, and many other novelties have been sold to help raise the total needed by En Ka to carry on their Winchester charities.

Working at sewing meeting every Wednesday since December, Miss Dorothy Hall with Miss Eleanor Dow as co-chairman have had many helpers. On the committee of workers are Mrs. Harold Bates, Mrs. Francis Booth, Mrs. E. Ober Pride, Mrs. Fred Oliver, Miss Roland Fletcher, Mrs. Edwin Hall and Mrs. Warren Goddard. Also helping are Mrs. Mann, Mrs. Chase, Mrs. Moskier, and Mrs. Boutwell. It is a grand committee and they have already done a prodigious amount of work but, "many hands make light work" and your presence would be appreciated any Wednesday between 10 a. m. and 3 p. m.

FIREMEN CALLED TO AID DOGS FROM POND

Last Sunday afternoon, shortly after 3:30 police headquarters was notified by a resident of Wedge Pond road that some dogs had broken through the ice on Wedge Pond and seemed unable to get out of the water.

Police headquarters notified the Fire department and Deputy Chief John J. Gorman went to the pond with Firemen Walter Carroll and Walter Skerry and several lengths of ladders. The dogs, three in number, had succeeded in extricating themselves from the pond before the firemen arrived, but they were still frolicking about on the ice. The firemen drove them off the pond and saw them out of sight before returning to quarters.

Besides Sunday's run the Fire department answered two alarms Saturday. The first came at 11:45 a. m. for a chimney fire at the home of Miss Helen T. Taylor, 93 Willowood street, and the second was at 5:05 for a flooded oil burner at the home of Mrs. Mary Serika, 785 Main street.

Sunday afternoon at 3:47 there was a grass fire in the town's well field off Carter street and at 3:53 Box 33 came in for a grass fire on Brookside avenue set by an incinerator.

SPELLMAN—IRWIN

In a setting of palms, ferns and cut flowers, at the West Medford Baptist Church on Thursday evening, March 5, the 71st birthday of her father, Miss Eleanor Irwin, daughter of Mr. John H. Irwin of Ridge street, became the bride of Ralph J. Spellman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Spellman of Springfield avenue, Everett. Rev. Eugene Doloff, pastor of the church, performed the double ring ceremony and the bridal music was played by Miss Edna Dorreen of Milton. Edson Hoeg of Somerville sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly."

Miss Irwin was given in marriage by her father and had for her honor attendant, her sister, Mrs. Margaret Goodwin. Miss Barbara Leavitt and Miss Grace Irwin, nieces of the bride, were bridesmaids and Miss Dolly Leavitt, small niece of the bride, was flower girl. Thomas Spellman, the bridegroom's nephew, was ring-bearer.

Among the pre-nuptial parties given for the bride was a miscellaneous shower given in her honor by a group of associates at the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company at the home of Miss Gladys Geiger in Allston.

GOELET—MONROE

A marriage of Winchester interest was that which took place in the Lady Chapel of the Church of the Advent on Saturday, March 7, when Miss Jane Potter Monroe, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth P. Monroe of Commonwealth avenue, Boston, formerly of Lagrange street, became the bride of Robert Goelet, Jr., son of Mr. Robert Goelet of Park avenue, N. Y., and the Duchess de Villarsosa of Florence, Italy. Rev. Whitney Hale read the marriage service, and the bride's brother, Richard Monroe, was co-officiant. After the ceremony a reception was held at the Hotel Ritz-Carlton.

The bride wore a gown of white lace, having a full ruffled skirt. Her veil was of lace and tulle and she carried a bouquet of gardenias with white lilies. Miss Hope Tuck of Winchester was maid of honor. She wore a deep rose tulle gown with a full tulle and tulle skirt, and a head-dress of matching bows. Her bouquet was of delphinium and shaded wine carnations. The two bridesmaids wore similar costumes and carried the same flowers. They were Miss Evelyn Gould of Boston and Miss Janet Goldman of Woburn, N. Y.

Mrs. Monroe was gowned in beige faille and wore a fuchsia hat and a corsage of orchids.

Thomas Long of Forest Hills, L. I., was best man for Mr. Goelet, and the ushers were Frank Martin and Fletcher Godfrey of New York.

After a wedding trip to Florida, Mr. and Mrs. Goelet will make their home in New York. Mrs. Goelet was graduated from National Park Junior College. Mr. Goelet is a graduate of Avon Old Farms and Leicester Junior College.

BIKES STOLEN AT THEATRE

Two Medford Hillside girls, Marilyn Jones of 37 Capen street and Mary Robas of 15 Hampton street arrived at Police Headquarters shortly before 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon, reporting that their bicycles had been stolen from the theatre where they had left them at the Winchester Theatre.

Officer William E. Cassidy went out on a scouting expedition and at 5 o'clock found two Winchester boys whom he found riding the machines on Main street. One of the boys was 14 and the other 12. With them was another Winchester boy whose police say had stolen the bicycle he was riding.

The trio was taken to Headquarters and given a stern warning, after which they were taken home and their parents notified. The bicycles were returned to their owners.

NO PURPLE HEART FOR GOODWIN

We had a visit last Saturday morning from our good friend Harry Goodwin, loyal Legionnaire and more recently chief of the town's Auxiliary Police. Harry was mildly curious concerning the source of our information to the effect that he had been awarded the Purple Heart Medal during the First World War. "Twain's so, averted Harry. He didn't get any Purple Heart."

That seemed to be that, until we did a bit of investigating and discovered that although Harry didn't get the Purple Heart he did win the Silver Star medal, which is awarded to soldiers commended for gallantry in the orders of commanding officers.

So we were wrong about the Purple Heart and we offer our apologies to all and sundry. However, the error was not entirely unfortunate since it brought to light the fact that "Chief" Goodwin won an award fully as important as the Purple Heart which we credited him. The late John J. Regan, former police officer and Commander of Aberjona Post, V. F. W., was another Winchester man who won the Silver Star medal in the first World War.

VETERANS TO HOLD WHIST

Aberjona Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will hold a whist on Wednesday evening, March 18, in the Recreation Hall on Mt. Vernon street. A good time is promised all who attend, and as a special feature the Post's new colors will be on display. A most interesting program was presented at the recent Patriotic Party held by the Veterans' Auxiliary with Mrs. Frances T. Conlon as mistress of ceremonies. It opened with "taps" blown by Junior Donette of John J. Regan, late commander of Aberjona Post, and included the following:

Community Singing World War Songs
Solo - "Remember Pearl Harbor" Mrs. Mary LeDuc
Carnet Solo - "Remember Pearl Harbor" Freddie Fitzgerald
Solo - "Blue Birds Over the White Cliffs of Dover" Mrs. Edward D. Fitzgerald Restaurant Skit Mrs. Mary Molen, Mrs. John O'Melia
Solo - "My Buddy" Mrs. Josephine McKell
Railroad Skit Mrs. Elizabeth Fitzgerald, Mrs. Betty Bulard, Mrs. Mary Carroll
Solo - "Ducktown Strutters' Ball" Mrs. Edward D. Fitzgerald
Community Singing World War Songs
Finale - "The Star Spangled Banner" Mrs. Edward D. Fitzgerald

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY

The March meeting of the Auxiliary was held on Tuesday evening, March 3, at the Legion Home. President Mrs. Mae Dunbury opened the meeting and all present sang our National Anthem. After a short business session, Miss Mabel Cots sang "The White Cliffs of Dover," accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Catherine Welsh. Stangroom is an American citizen but had lived in England during the German Blitz and told just what she experienced in night bombings and of the evacuation of children, also how they were fed and cared for.

She advised each and every one to learn all they could on Civilian Defense and how to treat incendiary bombs, as it would be most helpful to us if and when war comes to us.

About 100 members and their friends were present.

At the close Mrs. Cots again rendered the selection "Madeline." Both selections were most appropriate for the occasion. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses of the evening, Mrs. Ellen LeDuc, Mrs. Esther Lawson, Mrs. Katherine McMillin and Mrs. Josephine McElhinney.

SILVER STAR

The Silver Star is awarded to each person who, while an officer or enlisted man in the Army of the United States is cited for gallantry in action and the citation was published in orders issued from the headquarters of a force commanded by, or which is the appropriate command of a general officer or issued by the War Department, which citation does not warrant the award of the Medal of Honor or Distinguished Service Cross. A bronze star in the center thereof a raised silver star, the center lines of all rays of both stars coinciding. The reverse to have the inscription "For gallantry in action" and a space for the name of the recipient. It is suspended by a silk moire ribbon in stripes of blue, white and red.

INSTRUCTOR HARROLD HONORED

He may be Sgt. Charles J. Harrold, or even just "Charlie" Harrold to you, a big good natured looking chap with gold chevrons on the sleeves of his Police uniform, but to the members of Winchester first aid classes who have experienced his teaching he is one of the finest instructors they have met anywhere, a man with a thorough knowledge of his subject and the ability to pass along his knowledge to others.

The men's A. R. P. First Aid Class that was conducted last Friday evening decided to do something to express the appreciation of Sergeant Harrold's instruction, felt by all the members of the class. At the session, on behalf of the class, Principal Wade L. Grindle of Winchester High School, presented "Charlie" with a fine radio as a permanent reminder of the esteem in which he is held by his instructors.

As another feature of the informal evening, a poem, originally written for the occasion by Ray V. Hayward of the high school English Department, was read by "the Professor" and so much enjoyed by all present that it was voted to publish it in this week's Star.

Here it is, in Ray's best vein:

TO THE SERGEANT

Ten weeks seems like a long, long time. But everyone here can remember The Sergeant's hard-boiled words to us That first night back in December.

Well, gentlemen, see he to us. With a grin on his handsome map. We got a job of work to do. And it ain't goin' to be no snap.

This first aid stuff is downright tough. So you'd better pay attention. You'll either pass or flunk this course. There ain't no honorable mention.

You gotta learn about fractured bones, Abrasions, contusions, and shock. That's drowned get up and walk.

You gotta learn all the pressure points. And bandages by the score: There ain't no pair of a pair of skis Or a stretcher out of a door.

You'll learn about burns of three degrees. And bleedin' from inside out. You gotta know what you're about.

You gotta know all the causes As well as all the results: Over and over again, You gotta stop that pulse!

Forget what you know about iodine: It ain't worth a hot in hell. If you got any whiskey, drink it yourself; It won't make your victim well.

If you gotta use a stimulant, let me advise: A dose of hot buttered rum! When you put on a palm-pressure bandage, Don't forget to scrape the thumb.

You may find yourself with a victim Who looks like a total wreck; And before we get through, you'll know how to move.

A guy with a broken neck. Remember you ain't no doctor. And you ain't no miracle man. But you gotta tackle some pretty tough jobs Over and over again.

If you find a victim unconscious, I've just one recommendation: Don't flatten his ribs with a hundred pounds Of mechanical respiration.

If a guy is bleedin' somewhere inside, And you don't know where you're at, All you gotta remember is this: That R-A-T spells "rat."

Whatever you do the Sergeant growled Just try to use your head; And don't give up on your victim Till a doctor swears he's dead.

Now after ten weeks with the Sergeant, There's one thing we'd like to do, Give a toast to Charlie Harrold, A gentleman through and through.

"R-A-T is the symbol for internal bleeding. R for restlessness, A for anxiety, and T for thirst."

WINCHESTER SKI CLUB

The Winchester Ski Club enjoyed some of the best skiing of the season this past week-end combined with unusually fine Spring weather.

Some of the members went on Saturday to the Belknap Mountain region where they found plenty of snow of all varieties including dry powder on the upper sections. They enjoyed good skiing on the slopes, Fletcher Hale, Ridge, and Stonerail trails.

On Sunday they went to Cannon Mountain where they ran the Tram Ravine, Handicraftable Cannon Mountain, and Richard Tait trails.

A special business meeting of the club was held this week Wednesday for the purpose of deciding on future plans of the club.

A special ski trip for all members of the club is planned for next Sunday, March 15, on the Snow Train to North Conway. All members wishing to go on this trip should telephone to an officer of the club Friday evening (tonight) for detailed instructions.

FINE ICE BOATING THIS WINTER

Despite the fact that ice boating on Mystic Lakes stopped Sunday, March 1, for its earliest closing, the past winter has been a fine one for this frost-bitten sport, 40 days of sailing having been enjoyed by local devotees.

There were 24 days of consecutive sailing during February which is considered remarkable by no less an authority than Frank C. Trott of Mystic Lake himself. The scarcity of snow and the high winds combined to make the sailing unusually good during that time.

On Sunday, March 1, however, even the most venturesome found the ice getting too thin for safety and the work of dismantling the craft was begun. In 1941 the skippers sailed until March 24.

NEW HAVEN R. R. EXECUTIVE WINCHESTER MAN

Appointment of Russell M. Wilson as General Real Estate Agent of The New Haven Railroad, succeeding the late Gilbert R. Kent, was announced recently by H. W. Dorigan, Executive Assistant. Mr. Wilson, a native of Winchester, and a graduate of Brown University, started with the New Haven Railroad July 12, 1915 as Chairman in the Valuation Department. He has been continuously employed in the Valuation and Real Estate Department since that time as Recorder, Junior Land Appraiser, Senior Land Appraiser, Real Estate Agent at Boston, and on May 16, 1929 was appointed Assistant General Real Estate Agent at New Haven.

GATES BROKEN IN CENTER

Three Medford boys, going through the center last Sunday evening had the bright idea of hanging on the gate at the southeast end of the railroad crossing to see if they could prevent it from being raised.

They succeeded in breaking off the gate and immediately took to their heels. One of them was grabbed by the center by Patrolman John H. Boyle, and the other two were caught by Patrolman John E. Hanlon and Joseph L. Quigley in the patrol car as they tried to get away on their bicycles.

Their names were taken by the police and turned over to the Boston & Maine Railroad.

BREAK AT INTERNATIONAL COOPERAGE

Some time over the past week-end the office of the International Cooperation plant of Swanton street was entered and two small sums of money stolen.

Patrolman William E. Cassidy, who investigated, found that access was gained by forcing back an outer door until a lock bar could be pushed up. The office door was unlocked with a key, since there were no signs of break, and a lock on a cabinet forced.

From the cabinet two boxes were taken containing money realized from the sale of gloves to employees. Nothing else in the office was touched.

WINCHESTER WON FINAL FROM STONEHAM

Seconds Lost First Game of Season, 30-25

The Winchester High School varsity basketball team closed its inter-scholastic season last Friday evening by beating Stoneham High, 31-18, in a Middlesex League game in the local gymnasium. The first team win was more than offset by the second team's loss of its first game in 17 starts, 25-30.

Both varsity and seconds showed the affects of their week's layoff, but the varsity was much more relaxed than the seconds, who were very eager to win, not only to have an unbroken season, but because of their coach, Frankie Provinzano, who was called to the colors before the close of the schedule.

As a consequence the local boys were very tight and trying away too hard, missing shots that during their aggressive devil-may-care mid-season form they would have made good.

The Winchester seconds led at the half, 14-13, but were outscored the second half 17-11. Minghella of Stoneham led both teams with 10 points.

In the varsity game Winchester led at the end of the free scoring first quarter 13-10. The score at the half was 18-13, and with the resumption of play the locals gradually removed all element of doubt from the contest.

Pete Provinzano of Winchester and Mahakian of Stoneham had a thrilling duel for individual scoring honors with Pete finally pulling out in front 13-12.

This country seems amply fed with propaganda, and it appears that the reported 1000 correspondents now working for Washington are hoping to it profusely if it accurately. We can read anything and everything about the War except accurate information as to whether we are getting anywhere in it or not. As one of our friends remarks, it might be well to take the fighting and planning out of the hands of the military altogether and let the communists fight it out along their own lines. And through all this welter of information and advice comes the slogan, "hold to our social gains." They are all united in that respect if not in any other. As one of the privileged few we think we have had a War on here at the home front since the opening attack by the famous coalition known as the NRA. Now that we have the WPA, the 40-hour week, the labor unions and our Social Gains, we are rapidly leaving the home front added billions behind and entering the realm of trillions. What is it wins a war anyhow? We are told continually it is work and more work—and in the next column we are told that labor must not work too hard or it will tire itself out, that vacations and amusements and recreation must be maintained. In other words it's follows like us, who never had a forty-hour week, who cannot get overtime nor double time pay and who are urged to buy bonds and sold to our social gains. We are expected to win the war. Not being on the Government payroll we can express our opinion in the freedom of our own convictions, though we do think the average man can see silliness of all the drive so continuously put forth by our Washington rulers. If there is anything in this competition for Washington urging the nation to get behind the administration in its war efforts, there has got to be some indication that Washington is really conducting a war and not continuing a political campaign.

ARE YOU A PARASITE?

President Roosevelt has asked the citizens of Washington: "Are You a Parasite?" He's got something there. The nation will back him up, never mind, now, who's to blame, "Keep 'em moving." Let's everyone start a list, of who's non-essential in Washington to "war effort?" Social reforms and most New Deal agencies certainly are non-essential to war. No "social agencies as usual" must be paid for during this crisis of total defense of our Democracy. We need the money for patriotic war. The President said that those unneeded, with 20 rooms, should move. Well, what about so-called "needed" if any, with 20 rooms? There certainly is no such thing as non-essential business in America, if non-essential to war effort agencies are allowed to continue. They will ruin that social New Deal agencies are needed to keep up the morale of the "Home Front."

What morale, if millions having domestic jobs are called non-essential?

The nation can't all move to Washington and get a "white collar job" reeking the alphabet.

"Keep 'em moving!" Socrates

ECONOMIC CONDITIONS

It is possible that economic conditions in the United States, during this war, may be just the reverse of World War No. 1.

We entered this war on the heels of a depression, gradually growing worse, due to government spending, and because our national debt is enormously larger.

In the last war we had the help of England and France for munitions, etc. In this war we must help supply all our allies.

During the last war there was little dislocation of industry. The largest part of the production of this country was consumed by this country. There was little or no curb on domestic spending. Taxes did not lower spending power. Government loans did not detract from circulation of the amounts that will be required this time and "ceiling" horizons were not known. For instance, America had $100,000,000,000 income in 1941, the last year, 1929, about $85,000,000,000.

The attempts to curb customers spending, through taxes, bonds, stamps, and other restrictions, price ceilings, and such plans, will not be offset by the war workers' wages on the consumer articles available to be purchased.

The psychology being built up, desirable or otherwise, will induce people at first to buy, then not to buy. This may temporarily be effective but it can and perhaps will depress most domestic business. This plan can work for a while, but it will not stop eventual inflation; and it can cause small national income for so-called domestic businesses of all kinds. Perhaps this is wise for total war but it can go too far, for those with large inventories. The slogan should be "Business as Usual as Possible as Usual," then tax them.

Total war must not mean totalitarian peace and it must not be "planned" that way.

SUN SPOTS ON THE FACULTY GAME

Characteristic nip-and-tuck, give-and-take, free-swinging, good-natured free-for-all contest with the advantage of weight and officiating properly with the "old men."

A packed house—some 500 partisan high school and junior high students with a sprinkling of adults crowded every available corner of the gym, overflowing the playing surface.

Preliminary game between High School freshmen and a Junior High team almost as exciting as the main feature, with the Junior High displaying a lot of individual talent and threatening to take the decision throughout.

Joe Tansey's officiating, Joe, by the way, went to the trouble of securing a substitute for his last afternoon assignment at Wentworth, drove out here to Winchester and donated his services to the school. While Joe may have leaned slightly toward the faculty team in calling fouls, you must remember that he himself is a member of a faculty and appreciated the older men were up against. Joe's work was appropriate to the nature of the occasion and highly appreciated.

John Stevens' pants. Yes the same ones that have made the headlines for the past many years. John takes them off the moth balls once each year, and then puts them back again. John played his usual gentlemanly game, taking three shots at the basket.

Al Pennell covered the floor and most of the high school players like a tent. Al's long arms reached up time after time to pull the ball back out of the faculty basket. He covered so much ground he could discover the whole high school team up.

Bart played his usual flashy, subtle, game, sinking several spectacular shots and missing other even more spectacular ones.

Hennie, cool, calm and collected, contributed many Shore-like rushes down the ice, back-checking in the devastating manner, leaving windrows of victims in his wake and tossed in his share of baskets without ruffling a hair.

Bill Brannley, rugged basket-banger, was a thorn in the side of the varsity all afternoon until he retired with a kink in his side near the end of the game.

Charlie Jordan, light-weight, supplied much of the rough stuff of the encounter. Smilingly Charlie ploughed into every tangle he could discover and usually came up with the ball.

Willie Rodgers floating hither and yon, got his fingers on the ball two or three times and then mistook it for a bowling ball and let it fly across general direction of the basket. Bill's score was insignificant.

Stanley Smith, southpaw stylist, revealed a smooth floor game and an elusive touch. Smith was the only player who seemed dazed after shooting two in a row and wasn't good for much afterwards.

There were no major casualties.

Willie Hodge made a name for himself as referee of the preliminary game. The boys knew that Hodge was head man.

TOWN MEETING

ed a raise in pay for the employee. Mr. Neely replied that it was merely a nominal increase, whereupon, Mr. Volpe asked the difference between a nominal increase and a pay raise, without, however, getting anything very definite in the way of an answer.

Cuts were effected in the Water and Sewer Department's budgets, at the request of Chairman E. C. Sanderson and there was another saving in the snow and ice item which was reduced $10,000. The town has spent thus far this year $14,000 over the head. The town hall appropriation was raised to provide a fire escape to obviate a dangerous condition which now exists on the third floor which is much used by the Red Cross.

An appropriation of $10,100 was made under the heading of Civilian Defense, to be expended by the Selectmen with no definite directions for what the money shall be spent.

The sum of $12,000 was appropriated, in consideration of other sums being appropriated by the State or County, or both, to relocate and improve Main street from Mt. Vernon street to the Woburn line. The layouts of Blossom Hill road and New Meadows road as proposed by the Selectmen were accepted and the sum of $7,600.00 appropriated for necessary expenses.

Under Article 16 the sum of $4390 was appropriated for recreational purposes and the promotion of sports and physical education, to be expended by the Park Board, and was also voted to accept the new legislation relating to the control of bicycle riding on the highways, an appropriation of $3000 being made to provide registration plates which will be distributed by the Police. The sum of $750 was voted to indemnify Fire Chief David H. McCourey for damages incurred by him in the defense settlement of a claim against him arising out of the operation of a motor vehicle owned by the town.

Charles E. Eschbach was elected director to represent Winchester in cooperation with the Middlesex County Trustees for County Aid to Agriculture, $50 being appropriated for the purpose. The number of measurers of wood and bark was fixed at eight.

Under the article dealing with committees it was voted to retain and amend the Committee on Public School Accommodations with instructions to further study this question and make recommendations before Jan. 1 next. A member of the Planning Board was added to the original membership and $500 was appropriated for the committee's use.

Certain changes in the building laws relating to pipe connections for heaters and vent pipes for gas stoves and ranges were adopted without debate, or we would hazard many knowledges of anything about them. Certain other changes, in the Zoning Laws, were voted upon the explanation of Mr. Parsons that they merely clarified the existing laws of brought them up to date.

This brought the meeting to consideration of the articles proposing to change the Zoning Laws affecting business and industrial districts so as to prevent portions of them from being used for such purposes as are now provided for by law in such districts. In effect a strip 50 feet wide in a business district could not be used under the proposed change for business purposes, if it adjoined a residence district, and an additional strip 50 feet wide in a residential district could not be used for the purpose of the Board of Appeal.

Mr. Parsons explained the proposed change in his usual lucid manner and offered the Planning Board's opposition to the proposed changes. Mr. Smith, speaking for the proposed changes, explained that they were asked to prepare owners of property living in or next to business or industrial districts from the possibility of having an objectionable business enterprise such as a theatre, bowling alley, bakery, roller skating rink, etc. put up beside their homes. He did not ask the adoption of the proposed changes to the zoning laws but he did move that the subject matter be referred to the Planning Board for consideration and a possible solution of the problem.

Mr. Hurley opposed the motion, so did Mr. Cullen and so did Mr. Gleason, who warned that if the proposed zoning changes were adopted all business property assessments would have to be reduced. He characterized the whole matter as the outgrowth of a neighborhood feud over a bowling alley, despite Mr. Smith's objection.

Mr. Gallagher favored Mr. Smith's motion and asked for fair consideration

SUPPORTED PLANNING BOARD

To the Editor of the Star:
I desire to most heartily thank, through the columns of the Star, the chairman of the Planning Board for the masterful manner in which he presented facts in regard to the zoning law on Swanton street at last night's town meeting.

I was one of several persons who were in favor of changing the law, but when I listened to Mr. William L. Parsons present facts, I am resident of Swanton street for more than 70 years, certainly supported the Planning Board.

Very truly yours,
Patrick H. Cragwell

Lenten Thoughts

By Rev. C. L. Noyes

"Behold I make all things new" (Rev. 21:5). It is one thing to dream of a better world, it is another thing to resolve and work steadily for it. Common sense dictates that we consider the present before we build for the future. Justice, tolerance, good-will—these can only become the possession of the race as they are embodied in individuals. Should not the followers of Christ lead the way? Have we courage enough to resolve to live our lives in terms of the Kingdom? Do we dare to be precursors of the nobler race for which we pray?

Then sing with me, noble race
Than o'er the world has known shall rise
With a face of freedom in their souls,
And light of knowledge in their eyes.

Nation with nation, land with land,
Unarmed shall live as comrades free:
In every heart and brain shall dwell
The justice of our Father.

MUSIC GARDEN

Members of the Music Garden Club meeting Monday evening, March 9, at the home of Mrs. T. B. Wheeler in Arlington, had the good fortune to hear the composition which, more than fifty years ago, won first award in a great musical contest as the best American concerto.

To be highlighted in this musical event, the composer himself Mr. Joshua Phippen of Winchester first told the story of his Concerto and read the letter he had received from Antonin Dvorak praising it, then played one of the two pianos used in its rendition.

The composition is "Concerto for Piano and Orchestra" in three movements, and Mr. Phippen told how he had dedicated it to Dvorak and how that Czech master of music on his American tour, had conducted the symphony orchestra at which Mr. Phippen played the Concerto.

The first movement, Adagio, Allegro Moderato, was played by Mrs. Wheeler, the orchestral accompaniment being played by Mr. Phippen on the second piano. The second movement, Andante Sostenuto and the third movement, Allegro, were played by Mr. Phippen with Mrs. Wheeler accompanying on the second piano. SEMINARY SINGERS PLEASED

LARGE AUDIENCE

The Crawford Memorial Church was well filled for the concert given Tuesday evening by the Seminary Singers of Boston University, a male chorus directed by Dr. James R. Houghton. The program was largely devoted to sacred music, including Latin compositions, Russian liturgical selections and negro spirituals. The chorus sang this music reverently, with a nice appreciation of the lines and with a tone that was uniformly agreeable throughout the entire program. The group showed fine balance and skilled training, their attacks and releases being notably sharp while their entrances were precise even in the most difficult scores. There was no deviation from pitch apparent even in the many unaccompanied solos, including the spectacular "Elegy" by Moussorgsky.

Trumpet solos were played by a member of the chorus who inclined in his group the lovely Ave Maria by Schubert. Dr. Houghton, himself, sang an outstanding group of baritone solos, including the spectacular "Elegy" by Moussorgsky. The committee in charge of arrangements for the concert was headed by Co-Chairmen Frank C. Herriek and William C. Seaton. Included on it were Dr. Arthur C. Fay, L. K. Moore, Mrs. Harris LeRoy, Mrs. Frank Marshall, Miss Ruth Williams and Mrs. Vincent P. Clark.

BROOKLINE SPEAKER AT EPIPHANY LUNCHEON

Mrs. W. M. Parker Mitchell of Brookline generously took the place of the speaker who had been previously announced for the luncheon of the Epiphany Church Service League, Tuesday, March 10, and spoke on "A Tour of Alaskan Missions." In the summer of 1940 Mrs. Mitchell was one of the Episcopalians from various parts of the United States who from Seattle went by boat through the world-famous scenery of the inner passage to see such bits of the Episcopal Church as have been planted on or near the coast, and could not be reached by boat or by short inland journeys. The work of the church in the vast reaches inland and northward the Fourth tour could not show them, but it gave them some knowledge of this work through two personages who were with them for some time in the Alaskan days, Mrs. Stuck, whose husband had directed the medical mission at Fort Yukon, and Bishop Rowe, still active and influential in Alaska in spite of his 80 years. Now the airplane has come to his aid, but long before that era he made his way by little boat in summer and by snowshoes and dog sleigh in winter, to his far away hospitals and churches. Then, as the autumn came on, he used to afford his small world the diverting sight of a bishop jumping rope. That was one of his exercises to get summer muscles into training for the long winter snowshoe journeys keeping pace with his dog team. Mrs. Merton E. Grush presided and introduced Mrs. Mitchell.

BOY SCOUT NOTES

More Men Needed in Scouting

Clarence L. Thompson, Scout Commissioner of Fellsland Council, Boy Scouts of America, announces that the armed forces and defense work have depleted the ranks of the Scout Leaders to such an extent that many of the Troop, Cub Packs, and Sea Scout Ships are not functioning properly due to lack of adult leaders.

Mr. Thompson invites all men who are interested in working with boys to write or call him at the Scout office, South Border road, Winchester, and he will be glad to tell them about the Scout program.

NEW VOLPE CONSTRUCTION COMPANY

John A. Volpe of 65 Highland avenue, for the past nine years treasurer and general manager of Grande and Volpe, 54 Eastern avenue, Malden, recently announced the organization of his own general contracting firm known as Volpe Construction Company with offices at the same address.

He becomes the sole owner of a business which he started nine years ago as a partnership, their first project being a small contract for $1300. The past few years, the firm has built millions of dollars of structures throughout New England, only recently having completed a million-dollar postal garage in South Boston.

Mr. Volpe has also supervised the erection of numerous municipal buildings, churches, hospitals, and industrial plants, and more recently has been engaged in contracts both for the Army and Navy.

He is Vice President of the Associated General Contractors of Massachusetts, and also President of the Winchester Men's Lodge of the Order Sons of Men in America.

TO ART ASSOCIATION MEMBERS

The lecture by Dr. Tozier on, "Masterpieces of Nature," scheduled for March 16 will be held on March 23 at 8 o'clock in the Public Library gallery. This event is sponsored by the Committee of Safety Chapter, D. A. R.

WINCHESTER CIVILIAN DEFENSE SCHOOLS

The awarding of certificates to those who have satisfactorily completed the second A. R. P. course will take place in the high school auditorium Wednesday evening, March 18, at 8 p. m. Red Cross certificates will also be presented at that time to members of the First Aid classes who have passed the examinations for the twenty hour course. Pins will be awarded to graduates of A. R. P. and First Aid classes who have satisfactorily completed both courses of study. In order to qualify for the Winchester A. R. P. pin it is, of course, necessary to also have completed the requirements for fingerprinting and health certificates. The fingerprinting can be taken care of by appointment at the police station.

It is planned to also present on this occasion, badges to the Auxiliary Firemen who have completed their required course and have regularly attended meeting and drills. The guest speaker at these exercises will be Mr. H. Wendell Endicott of Dedham. Mr. Endicott has recently completed some U. S. Government missions to England and his address will undoubtedly be one of major interest.

Although the program will be of special importance to members of the various defense schools, the public is invited to attend. No tickets will be required. The program will be conducted by R. H. B. Smith, Director of the Protection Division, Winchester Civilian Defense Committee.

FELLS HAS BIG PLUMBING CONTRACT

Mr. John Doherty of the Fells Plumbing & Heating Company told the Star that his firm has already commenced work on the contract in its own shop. He expects to commence at Portland in about two weeks, and at New London in three weeks.

Popular Perfume Center

In Grasse, France, popular perfume center, 2,300,000 pounds of perfumed flowers are collected each season to keep the industry going. The flowers grow lavishly along the Cote d'Azur and on the mountainsides.

RED CROSS NOTES

American soldiers and sailors are alive today at Pearl Harbor because Bostonians gave blood to the Red Cross blood bank.

A young Navy surgeon's letter that reached Boston a few days ago contained the first positive news that plasma from Boston blood had served as the life-saving medium for seriously burned and wounded soldiers, sailors and marines.

Because plasma is typeless and the product of pooled donations, this was gratifying news to hundreds of Greater Bostonians and residents of eastern Massachusetts, each of whom may feel rightly that he or she had a genuine part in restoring some fighting man to health, and an equivalent part in winning the war.

The plasma used came from blood donated at the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, where the Boston Chapter of the Red Cross first operated its blood donor center before doubled and redoubled requirements compelled a removal to present large quarters at 691 Boylston street.

Plasma, the new weapon of mercy and life itself, has been placed in the hands of army and navy medical units by a growing stream of donors, 7000 at the Boston center already.

The simple answer is that army and navy leaders want banks of plasma, reserve supplies. But immediate needs are eating it up as fast as it reaches the world's war-fostered areas. For a greater personal share in American victory, call KENmore 9060 and make an appointment to do your part to save American lives and keep America free.

MAPLE LEAF CLOSES

The Massachusetts Branch of the Maple Leaf Fund is about to close its office in Boston. The Winchester Committee which has been operating as a production committee of the Massachusetts Branch since October, last, will also close its work at the Unitarian Church, April 1.

The New York office, however, will continue to work in cooperation with the American Red Cross.

The Winchester Committee wishes to express again its grateful thanks to all its members, contributors, sewers and knitters.

Girl Scouts—1912 and 1942

In 1912, when the first troops were organized by Juliette Low, the Girl Scouts were proud to wear dark blue uniforms like the one on the left. Today nearly 700,000 Girl Scouts in every part of the country wear the modern forest green uniform of their organization, which will celebrate its thirtieth anniversary on March 12.

THIRTY YEARS OF GIRL SCOUTING

Every war produces many new civilian organizations. Most of them spring up to meet current needs and disband as soon as their immediate purpose is served.

Every war also acts as a proving ground for established organizations. Those that are not prepared for emergencies soon find themselves forgotten by a public that demands action and efficiency. Those that are prepared go on to wider usefulness and greater service to the nation.

All this by way of pointing out that the Girl Scouts of the United States this month celebrate 30 years of service, service that proved its worth in the last war, and is proving it again now. Before this war was declared, the Girl Scouts of Winchester, already had established Service Bureau to co-ordinate Girl Scout activities with those of other groups. They had also a Red Cross Aids and First Aid classes.

The Scout motto is "Be Prepared." The Girl Scouts of Winchester have certainly lived up to it. They might be pardoned for stopping for a moment to point with pride to their record. Instead Mrs. Donald Heath, Commissioner, says, "We could do a lot more if more women and men too, would realize that democracy's future depends upon the proper training of its youth. If America is to win the peace as well as the war, today's boys and girls must 'Be Prepared' to do the job."

The Scouts need women to serve on committees and to act as advisers as well as to lead troops. They can use lots of volunteers to help them start the next 30 years off right!

GIRL SCOUT NOTES

Owing to the epidemic of Measles now present in town, it was thought best to postpone the Rally, which was to have been held Thursday, March 12. Several of the girls taking leading parts are ill. Both adults and Girl Scouts who have worked hard to make the Rally a big success were disappointed, but will carry on, and try to do an even better job when it is held at an early date in April.

At the monthly meeting of the Girl Scout Council, plans were discussed for the enlargement of the "Cabin", in preparation for the summer Day Camp. Mrs. Harrison Lyman of the building committee gave details of the changes to be made, and estimates on the same. Additional toilets and bowls, an enlarged kitchen, and more porches will be appreciated by campers and counselors next summer.

A "Day Camp" conference will be held in the American Legion Hall in Wellesley on Thursday, March 19. Anyone interested in camp work is cordially invited.

The final Leaders' meeting of the season was held last Thursday at the home of Mrs. Wm. Davis of Centru green. Coffee was served. Mrs. Donald Heath, Commissioner, presiding. Present were: Mrs. Bailey, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Morrison, Mrs. Tracy, Mrs. Zinn, Mrs. Caldwell, Mrs. Neigs, Mrs. Symmes, Mrs. Ebbens, Mrs. Oliver, Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Tapley and Mrs. Sherman, director.

SELECTMEN'S NOTES

Patrolman Robert A. Elliott has resigned from the Police Department for the purpose of serving in the Naval force of the United States.

The Board has received word that dogs have in the past been poisoned by the arsenate of lead spray that the Tree Department uses in the spring from May to the middle of July. The Inspector of Animals reports that it is possible that some dogs may have become sick from eating grass directly after trees had been treated. The Board will endeavor to have notices in the local papers later on warning dog owners to keep their pets at least partially restrained and to see that they do not run in the area being treated at the time.

Discovered Lake Michigan
Jean Nicolet is credited with being the first white man to navigate Lake Michigan. Sent west by Champlain on a voyage of exploration, he threaded his way in a birch canoe from Georgian bay through the Straits of Mackinac and thus discovered Lake Michigan in the summer of 1634.

THE FLAG OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA—HOW TO RESPECT AND DISPLAY IT

- 1—When flags of states or cities or pennants of societies are flown on the same halyard with the flag of the United States of America, the latter should always be at the peak. When flown from adjacent staffs the flag of the United States should be hoisted first and lowered last.
- 2—When displayed with another flag against a wall from crossed staffs, the Flag of the United States should be on the right (the flag's own right), and its staff should be in front of the staff of the other flag.
- 3—When used on a speaker's platform, whether indoors or out, the flag should never be reduced to the role of a mere decoration by being tied into knots or draped over the stand. For this purpose bunting should be used. The flag, if displayed, should be either on a staff secured to the wall or back curtain behind the speaker with the union to the flag's right.
- 4—When flags of two or more nations are displayed together they should be flown from separate staffs of the same height and the flags should be of approximately equal size.
- 5—When the flag is displayed in a manner other than by being flown from a staff, it should be displayed flat, whether indoors or out. When displayed either horizontally or vertically against a wall, the union should be uppermost and to the flag's own right, that is, to the observer's left.
- 6—Whenever a number of flags of states or cities or pennants of societies are to be arranged in a group and displayed from staffs with the flag of the United States the latter should be placed at the center of that group and on a staff slightly higher than any of the others.
- 7—When the flag is displayed in the body of the church, it should be from a staff placed in the position of honor at the congregation's right as they face the clergyman. The service flag, the state flag or other flag should be at the left of the congregation. If in the chancel or on the platform, the flag of the United States should be placed on the clergyman's right as he faces the congregation and the other flags at his left.
- 8—When the flag is displayed from a staff projecting horizontally or at an angle from a window sill, balcony or front of a building, the union of the flag should go to the peak of the staff (unless the flag is to be displayed at half-staff).
- 9—Whenever the flag of the United States is carried in a procession in company with other flags, it should occupy a position in front of the center of the line of flags or on the right of the marching line.

COLONEL NORMAN S. MARSHALL

Col. Norman S. Marshall, chief secretary and second in command in the 11 eastern states for the Salvation Army, will be the guest speaker at a district dinner-meeting of men and women who sponsor the work of the Army, on Wednesday evening, March 18. It will be conducted at the First Parish in Concord, where the ladies of that Unitarian congregation will serve dinner to members of sponsoring committees from Acton, Arlington, Bedford, Belmont, Concord, Lexington, Hudson, Littleton, Lincoln, Maynard, Watertown, Wayland, Woburn, Wilmington, Winchester, and their guests.

Burleigh Pratt, chairman of the Concord Sponsoring Committee, now conducting an annual appeal for $1,000, will provide as representatives from each of the communities will report on the work accomplished by the Salvation Army Local Emergency Funds and Army officials will tell of the work now going on to meet the needs of Uncle Sam's fighting forces, as well as those on the Home Front effected by our country's participation in the world war.

Colonel Marshall who is one of the Army's outstanding speakers will take time out of his New England inspection tour to be present at one of the new phases of Salvation Army work—the meeting of district sponsoring groups and reports of work done through the now active and important emergency funds.

If you see a man totting books around town, stop him and buy one. It's the Rev. George Hale Reed of Winchester and he's on his way to the library with books for buddies. Give him some of yours. Or if you haven't any hand, drop into a Drug Store and buy a couple of those 25 cent thrillers.

Big spiral notebooks. Just the thing for that A. R. P. First Aid or Nursery training course. At the Star Office.

ROTARY CLUB NOTES

Nine members were absent from the meeting of March 12.

There was a most unusual situation at this meeting in that our pianist was present but the piano was not. How does that fit in with conservation of rubber and gasoline?

President Mal Bennett had an out-of-town engagement today but we had that Vice President John McLean qualifies effectively as a gavelman. This, however, will not serve as an excuse for further absences on the part of Mal.

"Too much is enough" in the opinion of our eminent connoisseur of cheese foods. For details we refer you to proceedings of the council at noon on Thursdays before the great fireplace at the Country Club.

Members have been saddened because of the recently announced serious illness of our popular senior member, Pat Walsh.

Appropos of the recent observations of "China Day" generally undertaken by Rotary Clubs in Canada and the United States, the following radiogram has been received at Chicago:

Chungking, 19 February
Rotary International, Chicago:

Changing Rotary Club expresses hearty thanks and appreciation for your encouragement of the Chinese government and people in the common struggle against aggression, by sponsoring China Day programs throughout the United States and Canada.

Peter Kiang, President

Guest speaker at our current meeting was Mr. E. J. McGrath, executive of the Firestone Rubber Company. Mr. McGrath gave us an intimate insight into the causes of the present shortage of rubber, the measures being taken to overcome the difficulty and various suggestions to motorists for avoiding unnecessary wear on their tires.

He also discussed the development and present status of the synthetic rubber industry. From his exposition of the conditions now prevailing it is not difficult to arrive at the conclusion that the time for bringing the available supply of rubber up to consumption demands is all too short for comforting contemplation. Members evinced their lively interest in his address during a period of brisk questioning from the floor. And now we know that to "Keep 'em Rolling" calls for something more than advice from an address by theorists.

Next week, March 19, we shall listen to an address by Mrs. Irving Brackett, wife of an American Army officer stationed at Pearl Harbor on that memorable seventh day of December, 1941. Those who come to this meeting are going to get inside facts about proceedings in that history-making engagement. Rotarians should make every effort to be present and bring their friends.

Percentage of Attendance, March 5, 1942—81.08 percent.

ART ASSOCIATION TO SHOW WAR POSTERS

A most unusual exhibit of present day war posters is to be held at the Public Library Art Gallery between March 26 and April 4.

Collected and loaned by Mrs. Dun-bar Shanklin of Everett avenue, these posters should prove interesting to all townpeople. They are not the unpleasant, sensational type of war poster but, on the contrary, are color-ful, attractive and generally fascinat-ing.

Mrs. Shanklin has British, Cana-dian and French-Canadian posters as well as the Army, Navy, Coast Guard and Recruiting posters of this coun-try. She has received a promise from England that her collection will be kept up to date.

Those who wish to see this re-markable display should remember they are to be hung for only a short period of time.

FLORENCE CRITTENTON LUNCHEON

Plans are practically complete for that important spring function, the Florence Crittenton luncheon, bridge, Next Wednesday, March 25, at 1:15 p. m. the Metcalf Hall of the Unit-arian Church will be a gay and flow-er garden, with lavender tulips blooming everywhere.

Mrs. Percy Bugbee, chairman of the luncheon, and her co-chairman, Mr. Campbell Ross, have been busily working with their committee on the many details necessary to make an affair of this kind go smoothly. They are planning several pleasant surprises, and patrons can be certain their tickets will buy them a festive social experience as well as helping that worthy charity the Florence Crittenton League.

You buy relaxation for your for-tunate self, and you buy rehabili-tation for some unfortunate girl — all on the same investment.

Mrs. Franklin Lane is the able ticket chairman for this affair. She reports that much interest is being shown, and that reservations have been gratifying.

An added feature will be the Food Table, laden with home-made dainties, in charge of Mrs. Walter S. Dickson and her efficient helpers.

The Junior Circle of the Florence Crittenton will supply attractive waitresses, thus helping to coop-erate in the project of the Senior Circle.

Mrs. Francis E. Booth of Lakeview road entertains the contest, at tea on Monday afternoon, and busy fingers fashioned colorful table de-corations for next Wednesday's party. Her guests included Mrs. Percy Bug-bee, Mrs. W. Campbell Ross, Mrs. Kingman P. Cass, Mrs. Walter S. Dickson, Mrs. Woodford Wilcox, Mrs. Loring P. Nichols, Mrs. E. Ober Prid-ge, Mrs. Franklin Lane, Mrs. Charles Symmes, Mrs. Fred Ritchie, Mrs. Edward McDevitt, Jr., and Mrs. Har-old H. Blanchard.

She brought to the meet-ing several books from her personal collection which she graciously loaned to the members. Miss Mead recom-mended the following books, all of which may be borrowed from the Winchester Library: "The Practical Cat Book" by Ida M. Miller, "Dog Training Made Easy for You and Your Dog" by Duncan, "Training Your Dog" by Carl Spitz, and "Dog Owners' Manual by Kine." FORTNIGHTLY NOTES

Outstanding among this year's ex-cellent programs is that planned for the next meeting on Monday, March 23, at 2 o'clock in Fortnightly Hall, Franklin Lacey, a monologist with a rich imagination, will produce a series of original sketches and one-man characterizations. Mr. Lacey, who writes his own scripts, music and lyrics, has been enthusiastically re-ceived by many notable audiences.

Undeniably a genius in character delineations, "he portrays human na-ture at its best and also at its most vividly dramatic. His dialogue is apt and true, and his comedy touches are clever and never trite."

Talented and versatile, gifted with a rich imagination, he produces a wide variety of characters, amaz-ingly true-to-life."

While you are busy saving paper, rubber, metal, etc., do not forget to save April 23 and 24, and some mon-ey, for the annual Sale for the Blind. POST OFFICE BOWLERS LOSE

The Winchester Post Office's newly organized bowling team tried out their wings against the strong Reading Post Office team who proved to be easy masters of the situation by getting a total pinfall of 1410 which was away beyond Winchester's efforts. Batheled with 105 and 110, Carl with 119, and Dick Shann with 100, 111, and 105 led the Reading team while Nelson and Chamberland did their bit for Winchester.

TENTH VAUDEVILLE SHOW

Tops in Variety and Quality

Two Evening Performances

On Friday and Saturday evenings, March 27 and 28, the tenth annual production of the Winchester High School Vaudeville Show will offer an unusually attractive program of entertainment at the High School Auditorium. In addition to the two evening performances, a matinee performance of the show will be presented on Friday afternoon, March 27, at 3:45.

The decision to present two evening performances this year comes as the result of the popularity of this annual spring production in past years.

Rehearsals for the show have been going on for the past month with Courtney Crandall working out the musical details with each act and Bill Orr and his stage committee taking care of the lighting and property problems well in advance of the show. Each afternoon four or five acts will work out on the stage under the supervision of Mr. Hayward, Mr. Knowlton and Miss Fenton of the planning board. Besides these regular rehearsals three dance groups have been receiving instruction from Mrs. John T. Phelps at her home. Supplementing the activity of the actors themselves, an active committee is working hard on handling the sale of tickets under the supervision of Ted Barrett.

There are persistent rumors floating around that this year's show is going to be somewhat more finished and professional in its character than any preceding production.

Courtney Crandall's Orchestra will provide the music for the show.

While we shall not print the actual program of the show until next week, we have succeeded in digging up a few hints as to the nature of some of the acts.

Those who have thoroughly enjoyed the Pony Chorus and Tap Chorus numbers coached by Mrs. John T. Phelps will be further delighted by a third dance number which we understand appears in the rehearsal program as the Beauty Chorus, and which will appear in the show with a roof garden setting and appropriate "floor show."

Another new feature and one which promises delightful entertainment to hundreds of Winchester's adult citizens is an Air Raid Act about which we could scarcely vouch for details, but which, under the capable supervision of Sam Graves, Principal of the Winchester Defense School, promises to tickle the ribs of every individual who has attended the Defense School this past winter.

Those who are in the know say that one of the best new features of the 1942 show will be a Jude Ranch number, featuring a variety of talented and a colorful group of cowboys and cowgirls, dudes and duds, not to mention cow ponies. At this act itself, we understand is a whole vaudeville show in miniature and worth the price of admission.

Two years ago one of the outstanding members of the vaudeville show was Robert Elliott. Upon graduation, Bob went to New York to study radio broadcasting. His success was unusual in his chosen field, and for the past year he has been broadcasting daily from Station WHDH in Boston. Bob has volunteered his services in coaching a novel act on this year's program, a radio skill written by himself and entitled, "The Academy Award." When we mention that Willie Hodge is one of the principal members of the act, we have guaranteed its success.

Few of last year's audience have forgotten Leo Treacy's spectacular boxing exhibition of last year's show. Leo is on again this year, but in a different act.

While it is not our intention to present here a complete resume of the show or a complete list of the members of the entire cast, we can guarantee the appearance of such well-known favorites of past performances as Yvonne Clennon, Sidney Blanchard, Sue Burr, Helen Giuliani, Ruthie Horn, and Cosmo Simonetta and Al Tibaud. Supporting these is an enthusiastic group of new comers.

Tickets for both evening performances are on sale at the high school and at McCormack's Pharmacy. Tickets for the matinee will be sold only at the door. Prices for admission to the matinee are 11c for grade and Junior High students and 28c for all others. For the evening performance prices are 50 cents for students and 75 cents for all others. This price includes the federal tax. All seats are reserved for the evening production.

Overhead in the Library. "I've brought 10 books for the Victory Book Campaign but one of them is rather Hemingway. Do you think we ought to send it?" If it didn't make you swoon, madam, the top sergeant can probably take it.

WINCHESTER SKI CLUB

The Winchester Ski Club had one of its most successful ski parties this last Sunday in the form of a club-sponsored trip on the Snow Train to North Conway.

The 24 members that turned out for the trip were rewarded by the snow storm of the night before which left a blanket of new snow all the way from Winchester to North Conway. Cranmore Mountain had its share with about six inches of powder on a frozen granular base. It continued snowing lightly all day. Conditions were particularly good on the upper half of the mountain which provided good running in dry powder.

It is gratifying to report that there were no accidents and no injuries suffered by any of the members other than minor bruises and tired muscles. This may be taken as evidence that the members of this club are exponents of the principles of "controlled skiing."

The club president attended a luncheon meeting of the directors of the White Mountain Ski Runners on Monday for the purpose of discussing problems confronting all ski clubs for the duration of the War. A report of this discussion will be made at the next meeting.

The next meeting of the club originally scheduled for April 1, has been postponed.

Notice of the meeting will be posted in a later edition of this paper.

MODEL AIRPLANE CONTEST CLOSÉS

Andre Redding of 91 Pond street was the Senior first prize winner and Russell Harris of 144 Cambridge street, Junior first prize winner in the second annual Model Airplane contest sponsored by the Hobby and Crafts Nook at 43 Thompson street.

Miss Gertrude L. Davis, proprietor of the "Nook" who conducted the contest had 106 entries. Due to the epidemic of measles and the Saturday storm, many were prevented from bringing their planes in, as Saturday was the final day.

Mr. Edward Nelson, Boy Scout executive and Mr. William Brantly of the Junior High woodworking department were the judges. Mr. Brantly served as judge last year also.

Competition was especially close in the second prize class. Noticeable was the remarkable improvement in the workmanship over that of last year.

This year Miss Davis had two groups mentioned above — Juniors, ages 6 to 13 and Seniors, ages 13 to 17 years.

It is interesting to note that Andre Redding, Senior first prize winner won second prize last year. Robert Bolivar, second Senior prize won 8th prize last year.

Those who came to see the planes were given a treat because the Senior first four prize winners certainly made their planes a work of art.

Andre Redding had entered a Bell Pursuit with retractable landing gear and rudder control painted in black and yellow. Robert Bolivar did an excellent piece of work on the papering and doping of his white and orange Stinson S. R.

Other prizes were awarded as follows:

Junior Group—1. Russell Harris, 144 Cambridge street, Comet Mercury Gas Kit, 2. David Merrow, 19 Glangarry, Clipper Junior Kit; 3. David Eldridge, 13 Winthrop street, Comet Pursuit Kit; 4. John Allen, Boeing pursuit Kit; John Wallace, 7 Edgehill road, Stinson S. R.; 6. Bill Dingwell, 88 Hillcrest Parkway, Comet P.

Senior Group—1. Andre Redding, 91 Pond street, Comet Zipper Gas Model Kit; 2. Robert Bolivar, Clodhopper Kit; 3. Eugene Crovo, 76 Arlington street, Woburn Ryan S. T. Kit; 4. Robert Tucker, 26 Prince avenue, Monocoupe Kit; 5. Dean Tolman, 1 Wedge Pond road, Phantom Fury; 6. T. S. and 9th prizes, Comet Airplane Pins. Robert Kneetner, 5 Sachem road; Harold Blankenhorn, 81 Woodside road, James McDermott, 18 Bacon street, Woburn, Parker Flagg, 2 Wyman court.

Many out of town boys entered the contest and two Woburn boys won prizes.

WINCHESTER K. OF C. TO DINE

The Council's annual communion breakfast will be held Sunday morning, March 29, with former Mayor Lawrence J. Quigley Chelsea, now Commandant of the Soldiers' Home in that city, as guest speaker.

BRONZE MEDAL AWARDED TO CAMP ZAKOLO BY BOSTON
FLOWER SHOW

Winchester friends of Camp Zakolo will be pleased to learn that the Horticultural Society of Massachusetts honored Camp Zakolo by presenting it a bronze medal at the Boston Flower Show at Mechanics Hall this week. This medal is in recognition of the soil conservation and beautification project which the campers, as well as the camp staff, brought about through their combined efforts over a period of years, and was illustrated by means of a miniature replica, or model, of the camp at Harrison, Me.
This model was made by Al Schell, a counselor, and an architect, under the supervision of Director Zarakov, and submitted at the Show upon the request of the committee.

Unprecedented recognition of this sort encourages the continued instruction in these fields by especially trained men this summer.

Police Chief William H. Rogers has asked the Star to remind the owners that night parking on the streets of the town is prohibited. According to law "no vehicle except those of physicians, nurses or clergymen while in actual attendance upon the sick, shall be parked on any street for a period of time longer than one hour between 1 a. m. to 7 a. m. any day." Chief Rogers states that his department did not make this law, but is charged with its enforcement. Dissatisfaction with it should not be voiced to him, but failure to observe its provisions will be answerable to him—and how!

The Star has been solicited to take up the defense bond racket. This scheme, along with "get your picture in the paper," is another idea to fill newspaper columns at the expense of small advertisers. The idea is to print a page, blazoned with advice to buy defense bonds and paid for collectively by such advertisers as can be coerced into buying space. Anyone who fails to buy such space is unpatriotic—to put it mildly. It is one of the hundred or more schemes to make money at someone else's expense. The Star likes to see the sale of defense bonds. It urges its advertisers and readers alike to make purchases. It does not lend itself to any scheme to fill its own pocket at their expense.

According to Wednesday's paper President Roosevelt has cautioned Congress against any labor legislation, declaring there was no strike problem today and that things were going along pretty good! He said Congress could not say that it would make a man turn out more work! He told his press conference that he favored continuance of the 40 hour week and time and a half pay! He decreed a strike should be a national blunder, blamed in part on newspapers and irresponsible speeches in Congress. He cited a letter from a professional engineer who wrote that his conclusion that Japan would not have declared war and the United States would not have lost the Philippines or the Dutch East Indies if there had not been 30,000,000 men lost by strikes in the first 14 years of the defense program. The President said with a smile that he had replied with even worse news—if it hadn't been for the common cold, we would be in Berlin today, for that had caused a loss of 60,000,000 men in the same period! Of course we are all well, and the President is worth in advocating the abandoning of the slogan of the day: "Remember Pearl Harbor," and replacing it with "Remember France." He quote extracts from the paper, perceiving the President's views wherein Edson Smith writes: "In the field of labor wages in organized manufacturing have advanced 20 per cent, although the cost of living has advanced only half that amount." . . . It is obvious that the groups in the community which have been able to exert the greatest financial pressure have benefited from the war at the expense of the community as a whole. . . . "The New Deal came into office with the intention of farm and labor votes and it came of kept in power by this same combination." So keep on buying your goods and just as another Edson we give you "Politics Forever."

We experienced the pleasure of our second black-out over the weekend, when we aided the Cape in its test on Sunday night. We use the word pleasure, advisedly, for as during our earlier black-out here at home, we were not lacking in pleasant company, good advice and a united determination to make "the affair" a complete success. The Cape try-out was very successful, and in a way more interesting than our earlier Winchester test. Clarence, who is now a member of the auxiliary police, was early on the ground. Art, who is an island air raid warden, was not far behind and Horace, a full fledged member of the Mashpee police force (if not the whole force itself) was present in a resplendent new uniform and his badge of office. He even carried his trusty six-gun, although when quizzed he admitted it was not loaded. He felt, however, that his persuasive hilly, he could take care of any emergency. Just why our camp seemed to automatically become the headquarters for the occasion, we could not determine. It is true that during the evening hours all the rest of the island put together, but we were hoping the gathering was wholly in the nature of friendly co-operation and a desire to make us feel perfectly at home. Clarence came before dinner, and shared some fine rib chops, broiled over the living room fire; along with a later cup of warming coffee. Art informed us that there were no less than five families to be supervised on the island, and the general consensus of opinion was that everything was securely tilted provided Charlie Piper agreed to "did not kick up." Piper agreed to put his light out, but there was some suspicion that he might put it on again before the allotted time. Not hearing any shooting, we presume he behaved himself. Although we failed to hear any air raid signal, we found solace in watching the Vineyard lights go out at ten as though turned off by one giant hand, leaving the green and yellow of East and West Chop shining out like two great eyes. We found a universal agreement on the island regarding the black-out: "Put out the lights and go to bed." There was, naturally, no place of shelter, although we found that Summer Crosby, the Cape lawyer, had made a roomy and comfortable dark room in his fine old Falmouth kitchen—by far the most comfortable place we have yet encountered, and not lacking in any necessities to regulate the inner man and provide ease for a pleasant evening. Our island came through 100 per cent, and although we were surprised to find our yard full of cars at its close, we never did learn how they got there. From our observation of the two black-outs the complete co-operation of Winchester and Cape Cod. With twelve guests here at home and a goodly gathering at the Cape, both episodes were not far behind assuming standing in the social department of civilian defense—unofficial of course. In common with all our friends and guests we can look forward with further pleasure to the coming regional, State and New England tests.

WHAT IS THE MATTER WITH THE FINANCE COMMITTEE?

To the Editor of the Star:
At the first session of the town meeting, Mr. E. C. Sanderson, Chairman of the Water Board, offered a motion not only once, but twice, that the Water Department be appropriated as recommended by the Finance Committee be reduced.

Now if the Water Department could get along with less money, why didn't the Finance Committee discover this fact and so recommend this saving? That was their job. I have been told that if the Water Department, which everyone knows is in Sanderson, desires any money, all it has to do is to go before the Finance Committee and ask for the same and state, "No money, no water." Such a statement as this is swallowed by the Finance Committee hook, line and sinker and the money is immediately forth-coming, while other town departments like the Assessors Department are forced to get along with such meager appropriations that it is impossible to run their departments efficiently. I ask you is this fair, business-like or sensible?

The Finance Committee is not infallible. It does and has made mistakes and the town meeting members should not feel duty bound to follow their recommendations 100%, but should use their own judgment in these matters.

Yours truly,
Harry T. Winn

CUB-PACK 3 TO SEE FOOTBALL PICTURES

At 7 o'clock next Tuesday evening, March 24, at the First Congregational Church, Cub-Pack 3 will see "The Football Highlights of 1941" through the kindness of John J. Ward, treasurer of the City of Medford, who has so generously treated the boys and their movies for several years past. He will also bring with him the "Ice Follies of 1942" which he will show if "Cubmaster Alfred Pennell can squeeze out time and the schedule as will be a regular Pack Night and plans are being hatched for the "Derby Race" and "Pack Fair" both of which are going to be held on Sunday, March 28.

As usual, the interested parents and friends of the Cubs will be there to enjoy the fun of watching their boys on a Pack Night. Now that there is a slight lull in the "goings-on" in town, perhaps some of the parents who "haven't had the time" will be able to take advantage of this last Pack Night of the year.

DEN 4 OF PACK 3 HAVING A BUSY YEAR

Mrs. Waldon B. Hersey, Den Mother, reporting.
The activities of Den 4 to date says the biggest item has been a brand new den for their use only, with secret entrance open only to those who know the knock. Besides work benches and stools, there are shelves, book racks and magazines, a reading lamp and morris chair where boys can come to work or read whenever the spirit moves. Already it has started going. We are showing a lot of enthusiasm. We are sorry no admittance to anyone but members and their immediate families unless by vote of the Den. The boys decorated the den with streamers and painted the den themselves and are now collecting papers and junk to sell to earn enough money to buy curtains for greater privacy. Several Derby racers are in progress of completion and already we have started to make things for the stunt and fair on March 28. Books for soldiers are coming in, good ones to and a fine variety.

MR. MONROE THANKS VOTERS

To the Editor of the Star:
May I through your columns extend my sincere thanks to all those who expressed their interest in me by voting for me for the office of Selectman at the recent election. The fact that I was unopposed made the size of the vote recorded me especially gratifying, and I very much appreciate it.

HOBBY SHOW

The Washington-Highland Mothers' Association were the sponsors of a most interesting Hobby Show which was held in the auditorium of the Washington School on Tuesday afternoon before a large gathering of mothers. Due to the interest shown by members and their friends, the hall was well filled with many interesting and inspiring subjects, which had been cleverly arranged under the direction of Mrs. K. Foster Cleaves.

On entering the hall, one was held spell-bound by the many beautiful hooked rugs, done in shadings of soft colors, which were most pleasing; the needle point and pett-point work, crocheted bed spread, beautiful linen scarfs and table covers which came from Sweden, having been woven in the home there, all were very interesting. Also from Sweden were exquisite pieces of pottery, silver and a copper coffee set.

One collection which proved to be of great interest, was "The Lamp Collection," some of the lamps dating back to the first ones originally used. For those who are interested in dogs, one would have no trouble in picking out a favorite, from the large assortment which had been collected. The same is true for the collection of stuffed birds and some of their nests, which had been the hobbies of some of the children. Other children's hobbies shown were those of the model planes, a lovely collection of shells, and miniature tea sets which were very beautiful and dainty. Hand painted pictures, the coin and jewelry tables, and the collection of the "Handkerchief Club" was most interesting, this being a collection of handkerchiefs from all over the world, and from many famous people.

During the show, Mrs. Neil Borden, president of the Association gave a very instructive and interesting talk on the "Hand Loom," at the same time displaying several beautiful samples of her work. Mrs. D. Bradford Hill, Jr., an authority on Doll House Dolls, and who had her dolls sold throughout the entire country, gave a brief talk on how she happened to start making Doll House Dolls, and how her work had expanded.

Miss Frances Hatch, Principal of the George Washington School held the attention of everyone while she demonstrated the working of her "Pottery Wheel" also displaying many lovely samples of pottery. Other outstanding collections were those from Hawaii, showing the kind of evening dress worn there, and modern styles for men's shirts, all of which was brightly colored and embroidered.

On display was exquisite hand painted china, including a set of miniature Japanese flower gardens, and also two lovely live bunnies, which could easily have spent a whole day admiring the gorgeous displays. Refreshments of coffee and appetizing sandwiches were served by Mrs. Ernest Parker and her efficient committee. Have you a hobby? Why not start one, and see how fascinating it can be.

GREATER EFFORT NEEDED

Four or five generous gifts of recently published books, in addition to the daily but lesser flow that reaches the Library, enabled Winchester to swell to ten the 6000 mark in the Victory Book Campaign. This places Winchester second in leadership among Massachusetts towns. There is no local goal, the campaign is not being run on a competitive basis. There is only the national mark which has been set at ten million books. After deducting those books which have been added to the library since the sweepings of old attics, for instance, the campaign organizers are still about seven million books short of their requirements.

This places a heavier load of responsibility on such book towns as Winchester. It is unthinkable that the reading public should fail the soldiers and sailors in this respect. It is not a question of money. On every bookshelf there are good books that will never be read again. Many Winchester residents have supported the campaign generously. Many others have meant to support it but have not yet got around to the job of picking their books out and sending them to the library. Or of telephoning for somebody to call for them. It is as simple as that. The need is still very great. No town in the United States is better qualified than Winchester to help fill it. Let's give, or give again, or give for even a third time.

K. OF C'S IRISH NITE BIG SUCCESS

Railway Express Singers Featured Program

The Railway Express Glee Club of Boston, a chorus of 20 male voices under the direction of Warren Moulton, featured the "Irish Nite" program presented by Winchester Council, 210, Knights of Columbus, on the evening of St. Patrick's Day in Waterfield Hall.

A large gathering greeted the singers and enthusiastically applauded their group of selections which included favorite Irish songs as well as standard and classical music. The chorus gave a very finished performance under Mr. Moulton, singing with an agreeable tone and technical competence. Miss Bernice Carroll was the accompanist and it is of local interest that James F. McClellan of this town was a member of the Glee Club's tenor section. Besides the Glee Club there were exhibitions by two girl tap dancers, vocal solos by P. G. K. Dana Kelly and Everett Kimball, Jr., jig and reel dancing by Selectman and Mrs. James A. Cullen and selections by a group of instrumentalists from St. Mary's Band under the direction of Prof. Frank Barone.

Soloists were Patricia Maher, saxophone, Carline Malloy, clarinet, and Dominic Rotundi, trumpet. Additional selections were played by a saxophone sextette, the members of which were Marie Colucci, Patricia Maher, James Maguire, Joseph Nash, James McLaughlin and John Pietrangolo.

Following the entertainment dancing was enjoyed to the strains of Jack Hennessy's Band. Frank Higgins was chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements.

CAPTAIN RODGERS HITS SKIDS

Pushed Out of First Place

After leading the Teachers' Bowling League from the beginning of the season, Capt. Bill Rodgers' gallant team suffered a devastating defeat last Monday at the hands of the inspired quartet led by Bill Branley. Four big points were snared by the winners, enough to enable them to leap past their opponents. Captain Branley himself personally took charge of the affair, rolling impressive strings of 97, 104, and 101. It begins to look as if the Branley aggregation were going pretty and will be a hard nut to crack from here in. Captain Rodgers and his able lieutenant Mr. Smith have by no means given up the struggle and there may be some fireworks before the final string is rolled.

WINCHESTER HAS AMPLE WATER SUPPLY

Following the abundant rain this section has received during the several past weeks, Winchester is now assured an ample supply of water for the coming year according to the report made by Chairman Edmund C. Sanderson of the Water Board. Not only are our reservoirs full, but the ground wells show the highest level of water yet recorded since their installation.

MYSTIC GLEE CLUB FETED BILL ELMER

At last week's rehearsal of the Mystic Glee Club, held at the home of President Carl Wood on High Street, a farewell party was held for Bill Elmer, who has served as accompanist since the inception of the club, and who is now leaving to accept a business position in Pennsylvania.

Many nice things were said about Bill's playing and his value to the chorus in its earlier and more formative days. He was presented with a handsome and appropriate gift as a token of the esteem in which he will always be held by his Mystic Glee Club friends.

Appropos of Bill's bowing out, it was announced that the Club has been fortunate to secure as accompanist Kenneth Moffatt, formerly for several years organist at the Unitarian Church and now filling the position of organist and choirmaster at an Episcopal Church in Belmont. "Ken" is too well known here to need further introduction and his sound musicianship will mean much to the future of the club.

MUSIC is already being long in rehearsal for the club's second concert of the current season, to be held on the evening of Friday, May 15, at the high school auditorium for the benefit of the American Red Cross. Further and more definite announcements may be expected shortly with the name of a popular vocalist who it is expected will be the guest soloist.

53 LEAVE FOR WAR

Great Crowd Sees Boys Off to War

A crowd which filled the Winchester station platform and adjoining Common street, bid goodbye to a group of 53 boys who left Winchester Wednesday morning for war service. There was no enthusiasm—a marked difference from the last war—and the crowd stood silent, with what small conversation there was, conducted in low tones. The group left on the 7:42 train, two extra cars being attached for their special convenience.

Of the 53 boys who left 27 were from Winchester and 26 from Stoneham, the division oddly being almost exactly even.

The Winchester boys who left were:

EDWARD FITZGERALD

Edward Fitzgerald of 20 Winchester place, known to Boston and Maine commuters for many years as baggage-master at Winchester Station, died Monday night, March 25, at the Winchester Hospital. He had been in poor health for two weeks previous to March 13, but had recovered sufficiently to return to work on that morning, being stricken suddenly ill while at the station. He was removed to the hospital where for a time his condition showed improvement, only to take another turn for the worse over the past week-end.

Mr. Fitzgerald was the son of Edward and Johanna (Barry) Fitzgerald. He was born Jan. 6, 1870, in County Waterford, Ireland, and spent his youth in his native land, coming to this country as a young man and settling in Winchester.

Shortly afterward he entered the employ of the Boston and Maine Railroad, where he continued for half a century, nearly all of which time was spent at Winchester Station, first as assistant baggage-master and later for 20 years, as baggage-master. His faithfulness to his duties, courtesy and friendly smile won him many friends among Boston and Maine patrons who learned of his passing with regret.

Mr. Fitzgerald was one of the senior members of the Fire Department, which he joined as a call fireman 35 years ago. At the time of his death he was call captain of the 1st engine. He was frequently assigned to duty at social functions in the town hall, being widely known and universally liked by those who came in contact with him in this capacity.

He was a member of the Winchester Fireman's Relief Association, of the Massachusetts State Fireman's Relief Association and of the Holy Name Society of St. Mary's Parish.

On Jan. 29, 1895, Mr. Fitzgerald married Elizabeth Dowell, who survives him, with two daughters, Mrs. Royal Langdon of Lowell and Miss Elizabeth F. Fitzgerald of Winchester; three sons, Edward D., a member of the permanent Fire Department, James H. of Winchester, and Pfc. Harold J. Fitzgerald, now in the United States Army; a brother, Michael Fitzgerald of Brighton; two sisters, Mrs. Michael J. Drohan of Winchester and Mrs. Julia Piccolo of Tyngsboro; and eight grandchildren.

The funeral was held this Friday morning from the late residence with solemn requiem high mass celebrated in St. Mary's Church at 9:30 o'clock. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery.

CHASE-MOULTON

Miss Barbara Moulton, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Bryant E. Moulton of Symmes road, and Richard Carlisle Chase of Portland, Me., son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold B. Chase of Dedham, were married on Saturday afternoon, March 21, in Ripley Memorial Chapel of the First Congregational Church. The pastor, Rev. Howard J. Childley, officiated at the 4 o'clock ceremony and a small reception followed at the home of the bride's parents.

Miss Moulton was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of ivory satin having a heart-shaped neckline, long sleeves and a full train. Her matching veil of tulle was caught to a cap and coronet of old lace, and she carried a bouquet of white orchids combined with freesia and stephanotis.

Miss Betty Moulton of Winchester was her sister's honor attendant, wearing light blue tulle with matching coronet and carrying a bouquet of white and light pink sweet peas. The bridesmaids, wearing powder blue tulle and carrying bouquets similar to that of the honor maid, were Miss Eleanor Moulton, sister of the bride, Miss Louise Willard and Miss Mary Louise Collier, all of Winchester, and Miss Barbara Eldredge of Quincy.

"CRUCIFIXION" SUNDAY

The presentation of Stainer's "Crucifixion" on Sunday afternoon at 5:00 o'clock will be the climax to a series of Lenten Vesper Hours at the Cravens Memorial Methodist Church, corner of Church and Dix streets. The sacred cantata will be given by the members of the Senior Choir of the church under the direction of Mr. Harold H. Blundell, organist and choir director. The tenor role will be sung by Mr. Carl E. Nelson of Wollaston, while the bass part will be rendered by Mr. Kenneth McLeod of this community. Both are excellent musicians, and their work comprises an important part of the cantata.

The music of the "Crucifixion" is a very colorful, a perfect setting of the story of Jesus' Passion and Death on the Cross. The choral numbers depict a variety of moods; the excitement of the crowds in the "Processional to Calvary"; the beauty of the sacrifice in "God So Loved the World"; and Jesus' dramatic entrance to the throne in the "Appeal of the Crucified."

Chorists and soloists, in their interpretations, unite to recreate the composer's dramatic conception of the Master's Divine Passion. The "Crucifixion" is undoubtedly Stainer's most outstanding composition.

EASTER BOXES FOR SERVICE MEN

The Service Men's Committee of the First Congregational Church has been busy this week packing 50 large Easter boxes of "goodies" which are to be sent to men connected with the church who are in the armed services of the country, some as far distant from Winchester as Africa, Canal Zone, and Australia. The committee called Marjorie Mills of Rangely, widely known for expert of the press and radio, and learned that snack favorites of boys in the service are home made doughnuts and cookies.

Generous supplies of these are included in each box with other tasty tempters, and tucked in along with the food are a letter and a prayer-book sent by the pastor of the church, Dr. Howard J. Childley.

Little personal touches, including signed cards are being sent by the committee members of which are Mrs. Howard J. Childley, chairman, Mrs. Donald Kitchen, Mrs. Clifford Cunningham, Mrs. James Newman, Mrs. George Brayley, Mrs. Carl Zimmerman, Mrs. Charles Foster, Mr. Howard Morrison, Mrs. John Bellev and Mrs. Edward Grosvenor.

W. H. S. VAUDEVILLE SHOW

OFFERS NOVEL ENTERTAINMENT

After the matinee performance this afternoon for grade children, the High School Vaudeville Show will present its 10th annual production to two big audiences in the school auditorium this evening and tomorrow evening. Although the demand for tickets has been greater than ever, there will still be a few good seats available at the door on both nights.

During the past week the show has been thoroughly advertised by student posters throughout the business center of the town. In addition the Publicity Committee has made up one of the big windows at McCormack's Pharmacy, where they have displayed enlarged photographs of many members of the cast. These pictures are taken and enlarged by George Gould of the school during the afternoon rehearsals of the past two weeks. The show has been well publicized in the local papers, the Boston papers, and in several of the high schools of neighboring towns.

Edward McDewitt, chairman of the Publicity Committee, has done a competent piece of work in making the general public vaudeville show conspicuous.

This vaudeville show has gradually developed into the biggest single project of the entertainment program on the school schedule. Over 150 students will appear in the various acts on the program. And behind the scenes as many more have been active working on committees for the success of the undertaking. Members of the high school faculty have contributed a generous portion of their spare time to supervise the work of the committees and to directing the actual show.

This year's program promises to surpass all previous vaudeville show programs in variety, color, and entertainment value. There will be funny acts, clever acts, novel acts, and artistic acts. "Rainbow Rhythms," featuring a group of the prettiest girls in the school and the best looking boys as well, is something to remember. Bob Elliott's original radio skit, "Academy Awards," will be a riot of fun and clever dialogue. Bob has spent several afternoons working with the cast and the members of the cast themselves think it is funny even after rehearsing it many times.

Something about "Cowboys" that is mighty attractive to the dweller in more prosaic environments. There will be cowboys and cowgirls in the "Ranch Act." Also there will be some realistic "Cow Girls." This act will combine a variety of Western atmosphere which could make it a favorite with the entire audience.

SMITH COLLEGE CLUB

"Only as united nations can we win the war and the peace afterwards," declared Dr. Hans Kohn, professor of modern European history at Smith College, in his lecture, "Chances of Victory" given last Friday evening, March 20, at the Winchester High School auditorium. This was the concluding lecture in the Winchester Smith College Club's 14-day as History series which is given for the benefit of the scholarship fund.

Mrs. Geoffrey C. Neiley, president of the club, in introducing the speaker to the large audience, said that his publishers are soon to bring out his latest book entitled "World Order." He is the author of several books on international relations and political science.

Professor Kohn stated that the survival of the Russians is due to the fact that they do not believe the Nazi propaganda and the invincibility of the German army. In his opinion, the crucial front in the months to come will be the Russian, as Hitler owes it to his prestige to defeat Russia this summer. However, the Russians may be able to hold off as their army has shown in retreat as spirit unequalled in history.

At the close of the lecture, Dr. Kohn answered several questions by members of the audience.

WINCHESTER ART EXHIBITION

The fifth exhibition of Art by members of the Winchester Art Association and other residents of Winchester will be held in the Public Library Gallery from April 8 to April 29. As the Association is observing its tenth anniversary in April it is hoped that this year's show will be exceptionally fine.

Art Association members will be allowed to submit their work without charge, while all other Winchester residents over 18 years of age will be charged an entry fee of $1. Each person may submit three things provided they are not copies and have not been shown here before. These are entered at his own risk and he must understand that only one and possibly not even one may be hung.

The types of work accepted are: oil and water colors, pencil, pen or crayon drawings; block prints, pastels, etchings or air brush drawings; and small pieces of sculpture and wood carving.

Entries must be presented at the Library between 10 a. m. and 8 p. m. on Saturday, April 4, where they will be promptly judged, hung, and opened to the public on Wednesday, April 8.

FORTNIGHTLY NOTES

The visit to the Winchester Public Library Art Gallery and Historical Room, originally planned by the Fortnightly Art Committee for Friday, April 3, has been postponed to Friday, April 10. This change in date makes it possible to have a much more interesting program.

GROUP THEATRE TO PRESENT "SKYLARK"

The annual Spring production of the Winchester Group Theatre is always one of the highlights of the amateur dramatic season in Winchester. That the Group proposes to maintain its high record of offering plays of real merit and entertainment value is clear from the announcement that the play selected for 1942 is "Skylark" by Samson Raphaelson.

This delightful and sparkling comedy was performed in Boston just a season or two ago with Gertrude Lawrence in the leading feminine role, and has recently been on the screen starring Claudette Colbert. Built around the trials and tribulations of a small Long Island couple who must cater to the husband's clients, the situations and dialogue clearly picture what goes on "behind the scenes" in business, and the social obligations surrounding it.

"Skylark" will be presented by the Group Theatre in the auditorium of the Winchester High School on Thursday night only, Saturday, May 8. There will be a special arrangement for ticket sales to those who are interested, whether or not they have been in the Group Theatre production before.

Rosalind H. Lynch (Mrs. John I. Lynch) is production chairman, and Robert M. Campbell is coach. Tryouts for the cast will be held at the home of Mrs. Lynch, 6 Curtis street on Monday, April 6. In the cast there are parts for four women and six men, and anyone who wishes to try a part will be welcome, whether or not they are Group Theatre members, and whether or not they have even been in a Group Theatre production before.

This amateur production of "Skylark" will be one of the first by an amateur group in this vicinity and it will undoubtedly create a great deal of interest. Arrangements for production rights were the result of special negotiation by the Group Theatre's play selection committee.

President James Woolley of the Group Theatre as well as Mrs. Lynch also extend an invitation to any who would be interested in becoming connected with the production in stage management and scenery construction, properties, or other department. Call Mrs. Lynch at Win. 2875 or Mr. Woolley at Win. 0540.

IMPROMPTU REUNION

Several members of the Winchester High School, Class of 1941, augmented by a guest or two, staged an impromptu reunion last Saturday evening that proved to be fun and may be the forerunner of other similar affairs.

Commencing at the home of Miss Rosanna Fay on Fells road, the group decided upon a program of bowling, followed by roller skating. After "strikes" and near "strikes" on out-of-town alleys, the group looked in at a roller skating rink which was deemed to crowd for the figure work envisioned by the reunionists.

As a consequence the party returned to Miss Fay's home where a social hour ended with reminiscences of the "old days" was much enjoyed. Besides Miss Fay those in the party included Miss Eleanor Randall, Miss Priscilla Flagg, Miss Anne Cole, Miss Bonnie Wilson, Miss Craig Greiner, Sam Keyes, Jimmy Conn, Bob Morrison, Lane McGovern, Arnold Smith, Ted Mauer, John Spaulding, Walter Howland, Steve Smalley, and Mason Smith of Bronxville, N. Y.

THE DEEP SOUTH

Dr. and Mrs. Charles H. Toner of Ridgefield have just returned from a long automobile trip through the "Deep South." On this trip they visited the great gardens and historic homes of Mobile, New Orleans, New Iberia the Evangeline Country, and followed up the Mississippi River to the Kentucky border.

The doctor visited many of the great plantations where he was able to photograph the interior of the wonderful houses in natural color.

In Natchez especially he was given entrance to the great estates where the hostesses, dressed in all the splendor of Ante-Bellum days were photographed both in the home and outside in formal gardens surrounded by azaleas and camellias in full bloom. Some time in the future this collection of pictures will be shown in Winchester and you will be given an opportunity to see the "Old South" as it is now and it will give you some idea of the life of the people before the Civil War.

JUNIOR DANCE GROUP CLOSES

The dance at the Winchester Country Club last Saturday night brought to a close the series of dances given for the Junior Dance Group. In many ways it has been a most successful season. One of the aims of the committee is to be able to present to some member of the Winchester High School senior class a substantial sum of money as a scholarship fund. This goal has been reached again this year, and the gift will be announced in a few weeks.

The patroness and patronesses for this final dance were Mr. and Mrs. John Coulson and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Worthen. Mrs. Harold Blanchard arranged two unusual dance numbers for the young people to enjoy. The ushers were the following gentlemen, in charge of Mr. William West: David Connors, Robert Ellis, Richard Downes, Noble Lundan, Ford Manning, Alec Monroe, Frances Perrier, Dean Squires, Richard Tourtellot and Richard Williams.

CUNNINGHAM-BEAN

There is Winchester interest in the marriage which took place at Union Church in Waban Saturday, March 14, when Miss Eleanor Elledge Bean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold R. Bean of Waban, became the bride of Sgt. Clifford Hayner Cunningham, Jr., U. S. A., son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford H. Cunningham of Manchester road. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Joseph Cony MacDonald, and the church was decorated with white lilies and snapdragons against a background of ferns. A reception was held after the ceremony in the church vestry.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white satin and a finger-tip veil caught to a coronet of white net flowers. She carried yellow fuchsia lilies and orchids. Her twin sister, Miss Barbara M. Bean, was her maid of honor and wore a gown of orchid taffeta with a matching headpiece of net. She carried yellow fuchsia, iris and violets. In similar gowns of yellow taffeta with old-fashioned bouquets of white and yellow fuchsia, the bridesmaids were Miss Margaret C. Wilson of Newton, Miss Patricia N. Marshall, cousin of the bride, and Miss Louise P. Dargin, both of Malden.

Sgt. A. William Beegio, Jr. of Chestnut Hill was best man for Sgt. Cunningham, and the ushers were Pvt. Willard H. Loud, Jr., of Waban, Corp. Peter J. McGroarty of Brookline, Corp. Leonard H. Dowse of Weston, Pvt. Robert E. Snelling of Concord and Corp. Christopher Gifford and Corp. John S. May of West Newton. The bride attended Stoneleigh College and Sgt. Cunningham attended Kents Hill School and Duke University. They went to Connecticut and New York on their wedding trip.

MISS CALLAHAN SHOWERED

Miss Anna Esther Callahan, daughter of Mrs. Catherine Callahan of Loring avenue, was given a lingerie shower Sunday evening at the home of Mrs. John Turner, 8 Church street. Wo-lurn, in honor of her Easter marriage to Mr. Thomas DeMarco of Wakefield.

The house was attractively decorated with pastel pink and blue combined with bridal white. Following the presentation of the gifts and opening of the packages, a social hour was enjoyed and a buffet luncheon served by Mrs. L. Stanley and Miss Ellen McPartland poured and the table centerpiece was a tiered bride's cake.

FACULTY AND STUDENTS JOIN IN HEARTY SEND-OFF TO WADE GRINDLE

On Wednesday morning at the special assembly in the high school auditorium, Principal Wade L. Grindle, who was ordered to report for active military duty at the First Corps Area in Boston the same day, received a spontaneous and heart-warming expression of friendship, good wishes and admiration from the members of his faculty and the entire student body as he stepped onto the platform to receive a beautiful bouquet of flowers presented by the Mothers' Association to "The Colonel and his wife."

Richard Murphy, president of the senior class presented the flowers after reading a letter to Mr. Grindle from the school. Mr. Grindle responded briefly and expressed his deep regret at leaving the school with which he has been identified for so many years. His parting message to the students was an earnest plea that they should set as their constant goal good American citizenship through being good active citizens. The brief ceremony was brought to a conclusion with a salute to the American Flag.

Mr. Grindle upon returning to the office room which he was leaving was pleasantly surprised to find waiting on his desk a gift from the school faculty, a beautiful traveling bag. Before the school day had started, Colonel Wade Grindle had left the school and was on his way to report for service.

W. H. S. BASEBALL DATES ANNOUNCED

Team to Play Several Twilight Games

Winchester High School will play seven twilight baseball games out of 12 contests according to the schedule made public this week by Faculty Manager Ray V. Hayward. The decision to play evening ball was made by the local authorities to permit more of the townspeople to see the high school games, thus increasing interest in baseball in Winchester. No Saturday games have been scheduled, the increasing number of high school boys who work on Saturday making it unwise to do so.

Winchester's home games this spring will be played on the Shore Road Athletic Field instead of at Manchester Field. With Pete Provanzo, one of the best pitchers in the schoolboy ranks, and several other veteran players available Winchester should not fare too badly this season and it is hoped that the change to the new Shore road diamond will attract more "customers" to the games.

The local boys will once again compete in the Middlesex League, playing only the customary games with Woburn besides their circuit dates. Following is the schedule:

April

May

WINCHESTER HIGH HAD FAIRLY GOOD BASKETBALL SEASON

Winchester High School's recently concluded basketball season turned out fairly successful, the first team winning 11 out of 18 games while the battling seconds just missed a grand slam when they lost to the Stoneham jay-vees in their last game to give them 16 wins and a single reverse. One of the varsity defeats was that handed out by the faculty in an exhibition game at the end of the schedule in which the schoolboys played every one on the squad against the surging professionals. There is probably no doubt that a strictly varsity squad could have taken that one.

Coach Edward A. Bartlett of the high school faculty once again coached the varsity and once more did a splendid job with mediocre material. Winchester was the best coached team in the Middlesex League, even though it could finish no better than third in the circuit's final standing. The local boys had the plays, they controlled the ball in every game their full share of the time and they generally had more setup shots than their opponents. They lost to teams like Lexington and Belmont and Woburn because they could not make their successful shots count. That is, they were not naturally good enough basketball players to go out there and get the ones they should get. Just one real "natural" on the local team would have handed Winchester the league championship on a platter and would have enabled Coach Bartlett's charges to have broken at least even with Woburn. Winchester outplayed the tanners in the second game of their two game series at Winchester, but they couldn't shoot with relaxed, experienced players like "Cheepie" Doherty and Downey and so lost a game they should have won, a game they deserved to win.

The locals got a bad break at the start of the league season, when they had to play their opening game with Lexington away instead of as originally scheduled at home. They lost by six points. They might have lost anyhow, but the home court would have meant plenty in that first game, and had the locals won, they would have been one of the teams to beat for league honors instead of just another club that had to win them all to stay in the running.

Again later in the season, with a chance for a three way top tie with Lexington and Belmont, Winchester had to face the ultimate champion, Lexington, without Bill West, rugged defense man, who was out of town that night. They lost again, this time by three points. With this game went any possibility of championship rating.

There really wasn't what you could call an outstanding basketball player on the Winchester team, a player like Doherty or a relaxed, experienced Bridgman of Stoneham, Bulluck and Busa of Lexington, Fitzgerald of Reading or Donahue of Belmont. There isn't going to be in Winchester, except very rarely, until we play a lot more basketball here than is now the case. Most of these out-of-town stars have been playing competitive basketball since their junior high days and play a lot aside from their high school teams. They react automatically and naturally, they are relaxed and they get the easy ones all the time, the hard ones as often as they should.

Winchester won its games the hard way, by outfighting and outspeeding the opposition, and because it was better drilled and more soundly coached. Pete Provanzo was Winchester's ace scorer, and his 18 points against Wakefield was one of the high scoring marks of the Middlesex season. Without playing against the Alumni or North Attleboro Pete rolled up 141 points, averaging 8 and 13-16 points per game. His game average for Belmont, Lexington and Woburn contests is 6-1-3. Aside from him there was no really high scorer. Bill Mooney and Capt. Dean Derby were probably the next best, and the latter was in the game every minute. Bill West improved greatly through the season and was an effective defensive player toward the end of the campaign. The veterans, Bert Callanan and Don Drew, flashed good basketball at times, but were hardly as consistent as had been expected. Paul Rallo and Captain-elect Pete Twombly were aggressive, hard-working players. Willie Hodge would certainly rank with the more colorful managers in recent years.

The battling seconds, coached by Frankie Provanzo, went all the way to the final game before losing, and lost them that one. Far from a finished team, the jay-vees made up in fight what they lacked in finesse and always gave the crowd, with whom they were prime favorites, a real run for their money. Jack Errico, high scoring forward, and "Fatty" Buzotta, hard working back, were elected co-captains of this group and with Gordon McGovern and Bob Maynard, were the stars of the outfit.

Other second team players were Ted Atkinson, Bert Moore, Francis Poirier and Manager Charlie Murphy.

This year's program features three separate group numbers coached by Mrs. M. H. Phelps, a Tap Chorus of 11 girls, and a Beauty Chorus of eight girls and eight boys, together with a special additional group of six diminutive charming night club waitresses, whose appearance will delight the least responsive member in the audience, if there be such a member.

Twelve boys will comprise the tumbling act and they have prepared a somewhat different routine from that of previous years, and one designed to add a thrill to the fathers and mothers in the audience.

The Misses Helen Guiliani, Ruth Horn, Sally McCarron, and Doris McKee are appearing in an original version of a tap dance number, which combines a delightful bit of mimicry and originality with some really good singing and dancing. These clever girls may cheer, scream, they sing and dance, but you'll like them just the same.

Big Bob Jackson is flirting with the idea of offering an open challenge to anyone in the audience to a catch-as-catch-can wrestling match on the platform. Bob weighs 200-odd pounds and anticipates a quiet evening.

One of the most artistic numbers on the program will undoubtedly be presented by Miss Yvonne Clennon and Miss Muriel Watkins in their dance duet. This attractive dance number and Miss Clennon's solo dance later on the program are both presented under the direction of Mrs. John T. Phelps.

Considerable curiosity has been heard about town in connection with the Air Raid Skit which opens the second half of the show. Those who have seen the rehearsals of this act say that all of Winchester's official air raid wardens will receive a liberal education not to mention several brand new ideas about proper air raid procedures in case of an emergency. Mr. Graves, the sponsor of this number, wishes to go on record that he has not to be held personally responsible for anything that may happen in the course of this act.

Winchester High School possesses two really fine vocalists in Sue Burr and Sidney Blanchard. They will appear this year in a number of their own which will be appreciated by every lover of music in the audience. Both Sidney and Sue will appear in two or three other acts on the program.

Those who enjoyed the silvered statues on last year's program will again be delighted with a repeat of this number in new and effective designs.

Among the solo numbers on the program are a variety of offerings by Bert Mahony, T. Phelps, Leonard, and Pauline Ferro. A duologue act will be presented by Stearns Ellis and Parker Symmes, and Virginia Wallace and Virginia Terhune.

The show will be formally opened by Miss Shirley Brackett as "Miss 1942." The finale will feature the Pony Chorus and an additional feature about which considerable secrecy has been maintained.

Those who wish to see this show and who have not secured their tickets are urged to do so at once, either at the school or at McCormack's Pharmacy.

SET FIRE TO PINE STREET HOME

The Police received an unusual call for assistance last Saturday evening when a resident of Pine street reported that boys had poured either gasoline or kerosene on his front porch and set the inflammable fluid ablaze.

Fortunately the porch was of brick and the house was not ignited. The Police made haste to the neighborhood, but the authors of this foolish and dangerous piece of mischief had left before their arrival.

The announcement that High School Principal Wade Grindle left Wednesday to join the Army, in which he has held the rank of Lieut.-Colonel in the officers' reserve corps since February, 1939, will be received with mingled emotions, chief of which is regret. Not regret that he has joined the Army. There can be only satisfaction in the reflection that there are in the service, men such as he! And not regret for him as an individual. Only admiration is aroused by his decision to accept cheerfully his obligation to the Army and his Country. But still there is regret, and a profound regret, which we are sure is generally felt that our high school is to be deprived of his wise guidance during these critical times, and that the town is to lose temporarily an outstandingly good citizen. Colonel Grindle's influence has been reaching in Winchester. Many civic and social institutions have benefited from his interest in and work for them. His administration of the high school has meant much to both the school and the town, winning for him the affection and respect of the pupils as well as the esteem and co-operation of the faculty. Educators such as Colonel Grindle, who can carry on their school duties efficiently and still retain in so large measure their popularity with all the elements of their communities, are all too rare. Winchester High has greatly benefited from his stewardship. May his return to the town be so ably filled by not too far distant.

WE SHALL HOLD TO OUR SOCIAL GAINS

With the smoke screen of drawing into discussion and making an issue of double time pay, thus beclouding the broad term of "social gains," which is the real root of the present situation, Washington seems to be continuing along the ten-year political line so consistently adhered to. The double time pay issue, one of the many points under discussion. The 40-hour week will be held and the time and a half will be held and those who object to it, even to the slow-down, reported prevalent all over the country, will be augmented if anything is done about it. Certainly a lot of it might be lost. That is important matter in fighting a war. We have said more than once that France, before she was Germany, and who copied our great New Deal with enthusiasm, is as good an illustration as people could ask for of present conditions here. There are many features slowing up business both in war production and civilian industry. Higher wages and hours, although most of them apply to labor. Strikes and difficulties placed in the path of civilian business are doing much to keep things in a turmoil and cutting down America's war effort—if only in shrinking and eliminating it. We know our great President has a small opinion of the matter, and probably a still lesser opinion of this weekly press, but we'd like to win the war and are willing to close our business if it would do so, even to building another flight of stairs. We would like to be assured of food and clothing and if heat is considered necessary in our particular case, we'd like a little of that, too. More than anything else is a little co-operation out of Washington and some indication that the war comes ahead of politics. We print two extracts from last week's Saturday Evening Post, published under its heading "We See By the Papers":

Harrisburg: Dorothy Parker, her husband, Alan Campbell, and S. J. Perelman, all film writer and playwrights in the $1000-$3000-a-week bracket, and members of the Bucks County, Pennsylvania, literary and art colony, claim California unemployment benefits when not working. California pays a maximum of eighty-one dollars a week for twenty-five weeks and does not require that the beneficiary be a resident. A writer living in Pennsylvania notifies his claim through the Pennsylvania unemployment compensation bureau, which transmits the claim to Sacramento. Investigation in Hollywood discloses that it is common for stars and their limousines to claim their eighteen dollars weekly between contracts. Their point of view is that the money is theirs, paid to them by the studios and their earnings under compulsion, and why should they collect between jobs?

Charlotte, N. C.: Willie Massey, Negro, was arrested in a Second Street cafe, charged with being drunk and disorderly and firing a pistol. It turned out that Willie was supposed to be in the county jail serving a two-year term for murder. It was his "day off," he explained, and reporters learned that he told the truth. He was one of some twenty Negro trustees and it is the jail policy to give them an occasional day off, if for no other reason, to collect their unemployment compensation.

"Do you mean that prisoners actually draw unemployment compensation while serving prison terms?" the astonished reporters asked Jailer Starnes.

"Well, I don't know how much they draw, but some of them draw some money while they're here—those who have cards," he explained. "You see, some of them had jobs before they came here and they have to report to the compensation office to get their checks."

We Shall Hold to Our Social Gains.
WATER AND SEWER BOARD NOT FAVORED

To the Editor of the Star:
I note in the last issue of the Star the following letter from Mr. Harry T. Winn, member of our Board of Assessors:

To the Editor of the Star:
At the first session of the town meeting, Mr. E. C. Sanderson, Chairman of the Water Board, offered a motion, not only once, but twice, that the Water Department appropriation as recommended by the Finance Committee be reduced.

Now if the Water Department could get along with less money, why didn't the Finance Committee discover this fact and so recommend this saving? That was their job. I have been told that if the fair Department, which everyone knows is Mr. Sanderson, desires any money, all it has to do is to go before the Finance Committee and ask for the same amount and state, "No money, no water." Such a statement as this is swallowed by the Finance Committee hook, line and sinker and the money is immediately forth-coming. I ask you is this fair, business-like or sensible?

The Finance Committee is not infallible. It does and has made mistakes and the town meeting members should not feel duty bound to follow their recommendations 100%, but should use their own judgment in these matters.

Yours truly,
Harry T. Winn

Mr. Harry Winn, former Chairman of the Assessors, seems somewhat disturbed because the Finance Committee and the Town Meeting members did not see the reason for increasing the pay of the assessors' clerks, which would make that salary out of line with the recommendations of the last Wage Scale Committee, and blames Mr. Sanderson for the trouble. It is far from my desire to pass on the individual merits of any clerk in the Town Hall office, but I am vitally interested in making the salary of the clerk and equitable wage scale for all employees.

Before the first Wage Scale Committee was appointed, a number of the town meeting members (including Mr. Winn) attempted to correct the salary inequalities which were causing so much dissatisfaction among clerks. We were all satisfied with the McCormick Committee's recommendations and accepted the report without a protest.

In 1936 the Assessors raised their junior clerk (now called a Second Clerk) from $20.00 to $22.00, as recommended by the report, to $22.00, without the necessary funds being appropriated. They asked for the raise the next year and it was denied as it would cost too much work which had been accomplished. A new wage scale committee was appointed at the 1940 Town Meeting to redress any inequalities in ratings and pay.

This committee reported in 1941. They recommended, among other things, that the junior clerk's maximum salary be raised from $20.00 to $24.00, to be a $1.00 raise per week in yearly steps. This did not suit the Assessors and they tried to have the Finance Committee recommend to the Town an increase for the junior clerk more than this schedule recommended.

Evidently the Finance Committee saw the injustice which would be caused to the other clerks having the same rating, and denied the request. It appears that the matter of additional pay for extra clerks was not sufficiently stressed by the Assessors, and the Finance Committee did not recommend the appropriation as asked for.

The Assessors then appealed to the Town Meeting for more money, which was not granted.

I believe that the Assessors, the Treasurer, and the Collector, who are paid for their services, take the place of head clerks. The head of these departments carries the responsibilities. In the case of the Assessors and Collector's offices, an assistant is needed, whose pay should be adjusted to the requirements of the position.

If any more help is needed in any of the offices, I know the Finance Committee will be very willing to recommend the needed appropriation to the Town, if they have the proper information to help their decision. I appreciate that an experienced clerk is worth more than an inexperienced one and that is the reason for the step-rate increase. It costs anyone at least $5.00 more per week to work in Boston than in Winchester and, when there is a college graduate in the Town Hall clerks, many applications are made for the position by competent persons. Wages should be properly governed by supply and demand.

Mr. Winn seems to think that the Water and Sewer Board is being favored by the Finance Committee. In this he is very wrong. The Finance Committee consists of 15 intelligent citizens, representing all parts of the Town. They pass on the requested appropriations by the different departments and advise the Town Meeting so that the Town Meeting members may intelligently vote money to carry on the departments. They also have charge of the Reserve Fund. The department heads must know their business in order to sell their requirements to the Committee. Otherwise, they do not get the desired recommendations.

Last year was a very hard one to operate the Water and Sewer Department. It was called on to do a great deal more work than was anticipated when the appropriations were made at Town Meeting. More money was needed so that water and sewer could be supplied to many new houses that were being built.

After many conferences and much investigation on the part of the Finance Committee, this department was allowed money from the Reserve Fund as it was an unforeseen expense, and the Committee thought it was good business to supply our citizens with the water, sewer, and sewer services ("No money—no water").

The very dry year of 1941 was unexpected but, fortunately, through the foresight of the Water Board and the co-operation of the Finance Committee, the Town was ready to meet this emergency by the completion of the new water main, the Water Softener, avoiding the necessity of entering the Metropolitan Water District, which would have meant the doubling of our water rate. Money was granted from the Reserve Fund to the Water Maintenance Account to care for the added charges for power for pumping and water treatment. This was an unforeseen expense as the emergency did not develop until after Town Meeting. The reason that the Water Department's requests for funds usually granted is that the requests come within the purpose for which the Reserve Fund is set up.

Mr. Winn accuses the Finance Committee of being very lax in its analysis of the Water and Sewer Department's budgets for 1942, because we asked to have the recommended budget reduced at the Town Meeting. I appreciate the fact that it was rather an unusual procedure for a department head to ask to have a budget reduced, but war conditions are affecting all requests for funds.

This year's Finance Committee started its work much earlier than usual and the departments were requested to submit tentative budgets for the more time that was given to their analysis. When the Water and Sewer Construction Account was made up, it was based on the theory that there would be as many houses built as usual and about half of last year's appropriation was asked, which seemed reasonable at that time. But, after three months of experience and the last before Town Meeting, another survey was made and it was found that very little building would probably be done this year, and it was safe to further reduce the appropriations. The Town Meeting votes had all been drawn covering original recommendations and it was a sad mistake to have the Water and Sewer Board reducing the recommended budget.

No accusation of lax methods can be made against the Finance Committee. This criticism was made by the lack of proper information on the part of Mr. Winn. I was very much surprised that anyone would think that the Water and Sewer Board was controlled by any one member. The facts are that members of this Board have very pleasant relations with each other. Each man is a specialist in his line.

Mr. Clarence P. Whorf is a graduate of Harvard College and is a successful business man. Through his business training, his advice is very valuable to the Board. He has been a member of the Board for 18 years. Mr. Elwell R. Butterworth is a graduate of Massachusetts Institute of Technology and is an engineer of ability. He is General Manager of a large manufacturing concern. His advice and experience in practical engineering, having 30 years training in the electrical construction business.

I have been able, through my experience, to save the Town a great deal of money for engineering services and in designing and superintending the construction of four booster pumping stations, two treatment plants, and the auxiliary water supply system.

This I have gladly done without compensation for the benefit of the citizens of the Town, and have been fortunate in being able to devote a great deal of time to the Water and Sewer Department and have thoroughly enjoyed doing the work. I have been a member of the Board for 26 years.

We all work together for the benefit of Winchester, which, in my opinion, is the best governed town in the country.

CRITICISM NOT JUSTIFIED

To the Editor of the Star:
On page 4 of your March 20th issue is an item by Mr. Harry T. Winn in which he criticizes the matter with the Finance Committee? Mr. Winn states that the Finance Committee is not infallible, and to this I believe that the Finance Committee would heartily agree. Perhaps, with equal fairness, Mr. Winn might admit that he is not infallible.

Now criticism, if constructive, and based on intelligent fact, is welcomed by any Finance Committee. It helps to make our town affairs more interesting. In this case, however, I cannot see that Mr. Winn made an attempt to find out the facts about those things of which he complains.

The Finance Committee is made up of a cross section of the citizenry of our town. Only those who have served on such a committee realize the tremendous amount of work involved. Every item of our budget is given the most careful consideration. To say that our Finance Committee would give any town department whatever sums they might request is pure nonsense. Yet Mr. Winn says this.

His complaint of deductions made by the Water Department at last Town Meeting are easy to explain. Such changes were occasioned by last-minute circumstances which are very apt to present themselves in these quickly-shifting times.

To sum up, Mr. Winn criticized before he obtained the facts.

Sincerely yours,
A. Russell Ellis

FROM MR. CRAUGHWELL

On Our Reservoirs

To the Editor of the Star:
Your humble servant certainly was surprised when he learned that there was no opposition in providing money for the protection of our reservoirs. Now then, I believe the inhabitants of the Town of Winchester that were incorporated a town in the year 1850 are greatly indebted to our pioneer water commissioners, namely Messrs. David N. Skillings, James F. Dwinell, and Moses F. Herrick for their foresight in planning a water system for the past and future generations. It certainly was a progressive movement when they developed the turkey swamp into what is now called the First Reservoir.

They suffered much criticism. In my opinion, it was not constructive criticism, it was constructive planning on the part of our pioneer water board. We are now blessed with an abundance of water thanks to our pioneer and present Water Commissioners.

In scrutinizing the comprehensive 1941 report of the water board, I observe that the water works cost the taxpayers from 1874 to 1941 $1,378,163.76. Now listen, I believe you will concur that the pioneer water board planned wisely. The total construction cost was $1,378,163.76 and the town received for the water sold from 1874 to 1941, $1,984,121.82.

I believe the inhabitants are indebted to our planning board and water board for the early and improvements. They certainly brightened several corners in the Town of Winchester.

Perhaps there are several persons who reside in Winchester who formerly resided in Boston would like to be informed in regard to the City of Boston when it was in its infancy in regard to a water system.

Prior to the election of John Phillips, the first Mayor of the City of Boston in the year 1822 only a small part of the city received water from Jamaica Pond through four main pipes of pitch pine logs under the administration of Josiah Quincy, Jr., 1840-47-48. Mr. Quincy and Mr. Loammi Baldwin, the eminent engineer of Woburn, planned and constructed the Cochituate supply system which cost $5,000,000 but brought water to every street in Boston. The Mayor, aided by his father, and the Venerable John Quincy Adams brought ground for the work at long pond August 20, 1846. A banquet followed at which the Mayor suggested that as the name Long Pond was without distinction it should be changed to Cochituate, the Indian name. The suggestion was adopted and so this source of supply has been known as Cochituate.

The tumult of 160 guns and the ringing of all the church bells greeted the rising of the sun on the day of the opening of the supply Oct. 25, 1848. A procession marched to the Common where children sang an ode written by James Russell Lowell.

Major Quincy and Edward E. Hale, Chairman of the Water Commission, made speeches and the citizens were asked if it was their pleasure that water should be introduced. After a great roar of affirmation, a gate was thrown open and a column of water six inches across leaped 80 feet into the air. Bells again rang, cannons were fired and in the evening a display of fireworks occurred.

I have endeavored to be as brief as possible and I trust that I have pointed out the reason we all should be grateful to the early pioneer planners.

Perhaps some person will inform me through the columns of the Star what it cost to construct the Metropolitan water system and how much money is derived from the water system.

Very truly yours,
Patrick H. Craughwell

RUB TWO THOUGHTS TOGETHER

To the Editor of the Star:
"Loveliness needs not the foreign aid of ornament," so writes the poet. Spring is here, the green grass is all around. Does this seem to be the opportune time to remove the German field piece from the emplacement facing the Baptist Church (a bit of subtle humor there) and convert it into needed scrap? The unadorned grass plot would add loveliness to the town; incidentally, it would give the En Ka Society a little more hair for the fanfare of their Fun Fair.

"THE ART OF BEING KIND"

To the Editor of the Star:
It is with grateful appreciation that I mention my experience of last week.

While walking down town I was taken ill and by happy chance it was just in front of the Winchester Home for the Aged.

Miss Wolff, to whom I was completely strange happened to see me and insisted that I come in and rest. She established me in her own room where I stayed for an hour or more until I was able to be taken home.

To the gentleman who helped me in reaching the steps of the home, and to Miss Wolff I wish to extend my deepest thanks for their courtesy and hospitality.

BOND SALE ENCOURAGING

House to House Effort Near End

A report on the results of the house-to-house canvass of Winchester homes in the interest of obtaining pledges for the regular purchase of United States Defense Bonds and U. S. Defense Savings Stamps for the duration of the war, now being completed by the Winchester Defense Bond Staff may be expected in 10 days to two weeks, according to an announcement this week by Chairman Maurice C. Bird.

The volunteer staff, under the direction of Howell M. Stillman, vice chairman of the Defense Bond Staff, are engaged in visiting those homes which were missed for one reason or another, in the first weeks of the canvass. The work has progressed so well in the town, Vice Chairman Stillman stated that Winchester will, without doubt, be the first community in the entire country to report results to National Headquarters at Washington.

Chairman Bird said this week that reception of volunteer workers at most Winchester homes has been excellent during the week of the sale. Residents where volunteers found that residents were already pledged to regular purchases of Defense Bonds and Stamps, they reported that additional pledges were made.

Leslie J. Scott of the Defense Bond Staff reported that in the past 13 weeks residents of Winchester had purchased Defense Bonds and Defense Stamps to the amount of $408,206.45, an average of $31,400 per week. The largest weekly sales occurred during the week of Feb. 28, when $74,025 in bonds and $1,368.60 in stamps were sold by Winchester Banks and at the Winchester post-office.

An all-out spirit in the pledge to purchase bonds and stamps is indicated in the early reports from volunteer workers in Precinct 6. Each canvasser there has been covering his (or her) own neighborhood and has found pledgers eager to record their promises to buy regularly. The chairman reports that it is apparent that a substantial number of Winchester residents have already become enrolled under payroll savings plans effective in their offices and other places of employment.

Precinct 6 was captained by Clarence N. Eddy and Miss Susan B. McGonigle. The volunteer canvassers are: Joseph D. Dineen, Ruth Nelson, Margaret K. McCarron, Archibald J. MacDonald, Mary Donovan, Mary H. Doherty, Hugh J. Erskine, Jr., James E. Dewar, Frank J. Higgins, Victoria Capone, Henry Murray, Ruth E. Enstrom, Harry Boodakian, Margaret L. King, Eugene H. Reddy, Marion C. Noonan, Joan Luongo, Ellen Murphy, Mrs. Frank J. Higgins, Jeannette Garbino, Hilda Shea, Mrs. John D. Sullivan, Marjorie I. Kendrick, John D. Smyer, Mrs. Verne T. Carson, Mrs. Hugh J. Doherty, Margaret M. McElhiney, Mary G. Keady, and Mrs. William C. Regan.

Precinct 3, Section 1, directed by Dr. Captain N. Rolfe, had the following volunteers: Mrs. Bertha Barrett, James N. Jones, George A. Wilson, Wendell Carson, Mrs. Elizabeth H. Tard and volunteers Everett A. Hise and Warren Jenny.

Suppose just one subscriber in fifty served by this company takes such an attitude on any given day. That's 28,000 dailies, because we're serving 1,400,000 telephones. Even a 5-second delay multiplied by 28,000 means 140,000 seconds... 2,333 minutes... 38 hours of equipment time and operator time literally thrown away every 24 hours.

Bad enough ordinarily. Really serious now that Defense needs all the service we can furnish, and additional telephone equipment is harder and harder to get!

TO LECTURE ON ORCHIDS

Dr. Louis O. Williams of 16 Park road is giving an illustrated lecture on "Orchids" on Tuesday evening, April 14, at 8 o'clock at the Mt. Vernon Church, 6 Massachusetts avenue, Boston, under the auspices of the Mt. Vernon Guild.

Dr. Williams, who is research associate at Harvard's Botanical Museum, is an authority on orchids and is editor of the American Orchid Society Bulletin.

Section 3, Captain A. Russell Ellis, and volunteers Gardner Bradlee, William C. Ross, Warren W. Goodhue, Chandler Symmes, Frank Olmstead, Alfred Hildreth and Richard Wyman.

Section 4, Captain Donald Wyman and volunteers Sheldon Root, Kenneth P. Pond, Carl A. Goddard, Edwin C. Whittehouse and Forrest F. Bursley. Section 5, Captains Edward J. and Marjorie McDevitt, John H. Foley, Clinton W. Bennett, Forrest W. Orr, John A. Rutherford, Henry W. Hildreth, Lt.-Com. George C. Manning, G. William Apsey and John A. Tarbell. Section 6, Captains Charles M. and Eleanor R. Vanner with volunteers Mrs. Herbert F. Ross, Thomas W. Bradshaw, L. Henry Miley, Alfred N. Denley, Rupert F. Jones, Archibald T. Martin and P. Everett Hamblly. Section 7, Captains Florence F. and Kathryn O. Sullivan with volunteers Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Gordon, Mrs. John I. Donovan, Kathryn Sullivan, Mrs. Everett Littlefield, Mrs. John Ghirardini and Mrs. M. Walker Jones.

Railroad station sales for the first two weeks in March, as reported by Mrs. Maurice C. Bird held up well. At the Winchester station of the Boston and Maine during that period stamp sales totalled $288.40 and a single $25 bond was sold. Volunteers during the first two weeks at this station were Mrs. Arthur P. Irving, Mrs. Herbert L. Baldwin, Mrs. Don H. Simonds, Mrs. William Martin, Mrs. John S. and Walter Dickson, Mrs. John S. Stevens, Mrs. Charles J. Kellogg, Mrs. Thad A. Smith, Miss Natalie Jewett, Mrs. Frederick S. Hatch and Mrs. Richard T. Morry.

At the Wedgemere station sales of stamps for the two-week period totalled $191.30 and bonds totalled $225.00. Under the direction of Mrs. Marshall R. Pihl as group chairman, the women volunteers there were Mrs. Lawrence Plowman, Mrs. Lawrence Hawkins, Mrs. A. Kelsey Moore, Mrs. Philip Woodward, Mr. George Brayley, Mrs. Frank Knight, Mrs. Addison R. Pike, Mrs. William J. Spaulding and Mrs. Maxwell McCrory.

Members of the Guild of the Infant Saviour introduced a new note at club meetings when Mrs. Virgil Ghirardini, president, sold stamps and bonds at their bi-monthly meeting. Over $30 in stamps and one bond were sold and orders taken for over $400 worth of additional bonds. Other clubs are to be urged to sell stamps and bonds at their meetings.

Defense stamp sales among the pupils at the Winchester High School are being pushed vigorously. An editorial in the school paper "Red and Black," written by Jean Stillman, editor of the publication read as follows:

"On well — what good does it do if I buy a ten cent Defense Stamp — it's the bonds that really count."

"This is a feeling which might be expressed everywhere. It's natural for us to feel that it doesn't really help to buy just stamps — but they count up, too!"

"There are 734 students in the high school at the present time, and there are approximately 40 weeks in the school year. If each student bought a 10 cent stamp once every week during the whole year, it would give a total of $2,936.00 to the U. S. Government, which is not exactly what you would call small change."

"For this amount of money the Army could buy enough Grand rifles to supply three squads of soldiers, or they could purchase six machine guns. And even then, if each student bought a 25 cent stamp every week, it would bring in a total of $7,340.00 with which 91 Grand rifles could be bought to equip our armed forces."

"Remember — every stamp that you buy helps to insure a quicker victory for the United States."

EDUCATION IN WARTIME

The study group sponsored by the League of Women Voters and the United States Citizenship League met in the Conference Room of the Public Library at 10:15 sharp on Thursday, April 2, Mrs. F. S. Hatch will lead a discussion of the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Winchester Recreation Center and summer camps in regard to their contributions to training for citizenship of our boys and girls and also to their direct or indirect contribution to the war effort. All women are welcome.

A new Red Cross sewing day will begin Thursday, April 2, at 10:30 a. m. and each Thursday, thereafter at the Unitarian Church.

SPRING LUNCHEON OF FLORENCE CRITTENTON LEAGUE

Metcalf Hall at the Unitarian Church bloomed like a flower garden with many pots of lavender tulips for the annual spring luncheon bridge at the Florence Crittenton Circle. Bouquets went to Mrs. Percy Bugbee, chairman, and all her fellow workers for achieving one of the most successful parties in the annals of the Winchester Circle.

A number of the waitresses, in their gay spring costumes, were members of the Junior Circle: Mrs. Francis E. Felt, Mrs. John Page, Mrs. John Ghirardini, Mrs. Carrie Kennedy, Mrs. Alvin Hitchcock, Mrs. John P. Embich, Mrs. Lester R. Moulton, Mrs. Albert Dicker.

The food sale sent many people away laden with homemade cakes and pies, with cookies and cranberry tarts and thousands of home-made bread. Assisting Mrs. Walter S. Dickson, who was in charge of this table was Mrs. Fred W. Aseltine, Mrs. J. Henry Miley and Mrs. Harold E. Fife.

On behalf of the Circle Mrs. Harold H. Blanchard, president thanked the Ways and Means Committee and all the many others who co-operated to make the luncheon so successful. She also announced the spring project of the Winchester Junior Circle which is a dance on April 15 at the Copley Plaza.

In charge of the handsome decorations which turned the stage of the hall into a garden of flowers were Mrs. Fred Ritchie. The arrangement of these flowers, with palms and lemon trees on Italian wrought iron tables was a tribute to Mrs. Ritchie's ability with growing things.

The menu was carefully planned and greatly appreciated for the fine attention sought out the Chairman with requests for the recipe of the delicious turkey mousse.

The Chippendale tray, a gift to the Ways and Means Committee from the President was won by Mrs. E. Craig Greiner. Mrs. Francis E. Booth was the able chairman of chances.

In these difficult times it is more necessary than ever to acknowledge the efficient work of the ticket chairman, responsible for the fine attention which made Metcalf Hall so comfortably full. This ticket chairman was Mrs. Franklin Lane and the many happy guests of the Circle pay tribute to her ability.

The members of the Ways and Means Committee to whom go the heartfelt thanks of the Board and the Circle were Mrs. P. Campbell Ross as co-chairman; Mrs. Kingman P. Cass, Mrs. Walter S. Dickson, Mrs. Woodford Wilcox, Mrs. Loring P. Nichols, Mrs. Ober Pridie, Mrs. Franklin Lane, Mrs. Fred Ritchie, Mrs. Chandler Symmes, Mrs. Arthur T. Rodge, Mrs. Edward McDevitt, Jr.

COMMITTEE OF SAFETY CHAPTER, D. A. R.

March Meeting and Guest Night

The Committee of Safety Chapter, D. A. R., entertained, as guests, members of the Winchester Historical Society and the Winchester Art Association at its March meeting held in the Art Room of the Public Library on the evening of March 25.

Prior to the entertainment, a business meeting was held. Miss Clara R. Russell, the Regent, announced a change in the evening of March 25. At eight o'clock, Miss Russell presented Dr. Charles H. Tozier who furnished a most enjoyable entertainment by displaying a collection of remarkably beautiful still and moving pictures, entitled "Masterpieces of Nature," showing scenes in the Canadian Rockies, Yucatan, and other parts of the world, as well as some very interesting films obtained for scientific research.

WEDGEMERE TO HAVE BICYCLE RACK

A rack for parking bicycles will be installed at the Wedgemere Station of the Boston and Maine Railroad sometime during next week, it was announced this week by J. W. Rimmer, Vice President in charge of traffic of the railroad.

Winchester has the first of such racks in the country, when the Boston and Maine introduced the wartime convenience for commuters by placing a rack at the Winchester Station. More and more Winchester residents are conserving their automobile tires by pedaling to and from the station. As many as 15 bicycles have been parked on the rack at the Winchester station at one time recently.

Requests from commuters who use the Wedgemere Station resulted in a decision by the Boston and Maine to place a similar rack in the southwest corner of the Wedgemere waiting room.

A photograph of commuters at the Winchester station parking their bicycles there appeared on the front page of the Travel Section of the New York Times last week. Winchester residents in the photo included "Al" Sweet, secretary of the local Draft Board and Miss Elizabeth Boudreau of a local place.

Other railroads throughout the country are now adopting the idea. The Boston and Maine has already completed bicycle rack installations at more than a dozen suburban stations.

WINCHESTER HISTORICAL SOCIETY

The annual meeting of the Society will take place in the High School Library, at 8 p. m., on April 2. Mr. C. A. Maine of Wollaston will give an illustrated talk on "An Old Covered Bridge."

There is much interest in the old covered bridges of New England and Mr. Maine's talk is sure to be intriguing. The public is cordially invited to hear him.

It was interesting to note this week that the sugar maples on the Russell Symmes property have been tapped. It takes 40 gallons of sap to make one gallon of syrup.

ROTARY CLUB NOTES

Seven members were absent from the meeting of March 26. The club carried on today without its sergeant-at-arms and its president; therefore it may be considered fortunate that it has Aram and John to substitute in an entirely adequate fashion.

We have the unpleasant duty of announcing the resignation of Warren Hersey from our club, due to a change in business connections which removes him from our jurisdiction. In addition to other official responsibilities Warren has served as Vice President and President of the club and has had a well earned reputation as a hard-hitting, highly efficient Rotarian, greatly esteemed by us all. He leaves with our sincere wishes for every success in his new field of endeavor.

The call of Pinehurst, as usual, has been quite irresistible for Past President Ralph. Oh yes, there is a golf course at Pinehurst.

And it was good to greet "Jim" Quinn again after his sojourn in New York.

Dick Sheehy reports that he has received a letter from Past President George Welch who is in Chicago recuperating from his recent illness. George has been distinguishing himself as a pedestrian of late and vows that he will be back in Winchester or in due season, though he did not promise to do so in a walk.

The club has been debating what further activities may be feasible in the matter of supporting national defense in general and especially the activities of the local Defense Bond staff. We expect to announce shortly a lecture by a prominent newsman. Needless to say, this world-wide campaign for the preservation of an enlightened mode of living will require a maximum of continuous effort if it is to overcome the highly organized opposition which, for the past two and one half years, has apparently left no stone unturned to carry us all back to barbarism. Local Rotarians will make every effort to offer a presentation which will meet with the substantial approval of our fellow citizens.

Again an address by one of our members and again it was Billy Beggs who stood before us. Billy's versatility as an after-dinner speaker is never in question in this club which he has addressed so often and in such happy vein. Today he chose to speak in history of the great crisis of world revival, and he clearly demonstrated the reason for his prominence in the organization and proceedings of the Winchester Historical Society. Billy possesses in a notable degree the art of speaking to his audience in simple, direct and unadorned language; he carefully avoids the use of polysyllabic monstrosities.

(God save the mark). What we mean is this—when he talks, one knows what he is saying. From Thermopylae to Hitler in 20 minutes is an easy stunt for Billy and we surely liked it. Come again, Billy. Percentage of attendance, March 19, 97.14 per cent.

Miss Marilyn Howe of this town, who was graduated from Gould Academy in Bethel, Me., in 1940, attended the organization meeting of the Greater Boston Gould Club, alumni organization for Gould Academy, which was held this week at the Hotel Statler in Boston.
